

VARSITY SHOWS CLASS RUNNING THROUGH DRILL

First String Exhibits Fire In Scrimmage With Frosh, Nubbins.

WEAK ON PASS DEFENSE

Sauer and Staab Feature Attack as Huskers Score Handily.

BY BOB GLOVER.

Watch out Kansas! If Wednesday afternoon's scrimmage is an indication of the kind of ballplaying the Cornhuskers are going to exhibit Saturday, the Hargiss outfit had better wire to the Hessians for aid. The only weakness the regulars displayed was in breaking up passes and that was soon remedied.

Practically every man on the varsity squad was given an opportunity to work out against either the nubbins or the freshmen. In the first period the first string, composed of Ely, center; Rhea and Gilbert, tackles; Justice and Koster, guards; Joy and Durkee, ends; with Bauer, Sauer, Masterson and Kreizinger in the backfield, played havoc with the nubbins. The nubbins fumbled the ball on the kickoff, the varsity recovered, and in a short time Sauer hit off tackle for the first touchdown of the first day. Masterson was successful in kicking the goal for the extra point.

Nubbins Forced to Kick.

On the next kickoff, the nubbins were soon forced to kick. The kick was high and against the wind, and the varsity came into possession of the ball near the center of the field. After an exchange of kicks which cost the nubbins several yards, the varsity, by means of two line plunges and three end runs, scored again. Sauer cut off tackle for the score. The last few minutes of the quarter brought little animation outside of a good bit of running by Yorke, a nubbins backfield man.

Staab Shows Speed.

In the next period, a second varsity team proved to be too much opposition for the hard-fighting freshmen. On this varsity team McPherson was at center, Adam and DeBus at guards, Schmit and O'Brien at tackles, Kibourne and Nesmith at ends, with Paul, Penny, Staab and Brown in the backfield. With King doing the passing, the freshmen started out with an aerial attack which looked threatening, but it was soon stopped by the varsity. The varsity got the ball on downs, and Staab, with a first-class exhibition of speed, carried the ball for two long runs. On the second run he outran the opposition and did not stop until the goal line was crossed. Staab would have scored

Jayhawk Guard

OTTO ROST

One of the Jayhawk forward wall who will be depended upon for much heavy action against the Kansas Aggies at Lawrence, Oct. 27, is Otto Rost, 205 pound two letter guard from St. Louis. Otto is an aggressive player and was rated among the best of the conference last season. This year he is going better than ever at guard, but last year he was used mostly at tackle.

On the first of those runs had not one of the freshman backs, Scholl by name, spilled him with a shoestring tackle.

The two varsity teams were again sent in after their first two tries and were successful in putting over another score.

Press dispatches from Lawrence indicate that the Jayhawkers will be supported by a large delegation of fans when the game is called here Saturday. In spite of the fact that Kansas is no longer given a chance in the conference race, fans there are pulling for a win over Nebraska.

TWO-MILE TEAM WILL RUN

To Make Second Appearance Saturday Between Halves Game.

Coach Schulte's two mile team which started the conference season by a win over Oklahoma two weeks ago, is set for its second appearance before Nebraska fans when it meets Kansas between halves Saturday.

The men to run this week include Ayres, Story, Morrow, Selger, Sumke and Blazier. Kansas is sending a strong two mile team down to meet these men and if weather conditions are right the race should be run off in good time.

HOLD PHARMACY ELECTION

New Officers Plan Activity Program for Rest Of Year.

The Pharmaceutical club starts the year with the idea of making the most of the activity possibilities in this college, according to Charles Bryant, newly elected president. Thru this club it is hoped to bring to the students of the school a bigger insight of the possibilities in pharmacy.

At the meeting, Monday, Charles Bryant was elected president with Carl Wieland serving as vice president. Mildred Baer and Nina Goldstein will act as secretary and treasurer respectively.

A freshman picnic has been planned for 4 o'clock, Thursday at Antelope park.

IOWA STATE PLAYS MISSOURI SATURDAY

Cyclone Coach Shifts Squad With Mizou Battle Next on Slate.

AMES, Oct. 20.—Coach George F. Veenker began today his final preparation for the Homecoming game Saturday with the University of Missouri Tigers by going over his entire team in an attempt to smoothe over individual defects.

In Saturday's scrimmage game with the yearlings, Veenker saw his varsity roll up seven touchdowns while the preps were held scoreless. Veenker expressed himself as especially pleased with the playing of Ed Schafroth, a sophomore, who was shifted to fullback to take over Duesenberg's place. Duesenberg was injured in the Detroit game and it is doubtful as to whether he will see much action against the Tigers. Schafroth's passing Saturday was one of the highlights of the scrimmage.

Wendell Johnson, who will likely take over the right halfback post, also turned in a good performance against the freshmen, running back a kickoff eighty yards for a touchdown and otherwise giving a good account of himself.

A good portion of the drills this week will be given over to perfecting a defense against Missouri passes and line drives. The men who will get first call to start the Homecoming game which will be Iowa State's first conference game were very much a question in Veenker's mind Monday.

The backfield will probably be composed of Bowen, Greig, Schafroth and Johnson of Swoboda, but the personnel of the forward wall will depend largely on the showing the men make this week.

JOURNALISM PETE IS PLANNED FOR NEXT THURSDAY

to the United States by describing Columbus looking for America. "What Will Become of the World?" will be discussed by Arthur Wolf as he tells of the era of depression represented by Joseph Pulitzer looking for a prize. A note of hope will be struck in the concluding toast by Bill McGaffin entitled "Better Times are Coming." McGaffin will describe, in connection with his subject, the spectacle of Sidney Smith looking for a job.

Awards Announced.

During the evening the awards for various journalistic achievements, including the writing of the best news story for which Sigma Delta Chi presents a cup, and the writing of the best feature stories, will be made by Gayle C. Walker, head of the school of journalism. These awards are made each semester for the preceding semester's work. Jack Ericsson and Rex Wagner won the news story and feature story awards respectively last semester.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale now at the Daily Nebraskan office and by members of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic sorority, which is sponsoring the banquet. The banquet is given for all students of journalism and those interested in news writing.

THIRD MUSICALE RENDERED

School of Music Presents Convocation Program Wednesday.

The University School of Music presented the third musical convocation of the 1931-32 season at the Temple theater Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The program was rendered by Herbert Schmidt, pianist, and Herman T. Decker, haritone. Jean E. Decker accompanied Mr. Decker at the piano. The program was: Bach-Busoni, Toccata, adagio and fugue, C major, by Mr. Schmidt; Handel, "O Rudder Than the Cherry" from "Acis and Galatea"; Legrenzi, "The Fiero Costume"; and "Down Among the Dead Men" (seventeenth century Jacobite song), by Mr. Decker; Rachmaninoff, "Prelude, D major," Op. 23, No. 4; Godowsky, "Wienerisch," from the "Walzermasken"; Debussy, General Lavine, "Audience on the Moonlit Terrace" and "Fireworks," by Mr. Schmidt; Scott, "From Afar"; Zay, "A Vision" and Korbay, "Had a Horse," by Mr. Decker; Liszt, "Polonaise in E," by Mr. Schmidt.

THE GROWLER

The assertions of "I. Protest" in the Morning Mail as to the injustice of the student activities office and John K. Selleck in particular, for not offering a reduction in student athletic books and not devising a scheme to take care of those students who care to see only the football contests was the theme of a tirade of the growler several weeks ago. I agree wholeheartedly with this expression of student opinion and wish to endorse any plan whereby a special football season ticket may be purchased by the student body.

The Daily Nebraskan's campaign for student economy is a good idea, but why not make the change in apparel revolutionary and adopt the garb of Mahatma Gandhi? Wouldn't Hugh Rhea look stunning?

The Avogadro's "Oil," a study in lines and mass, is modernistic but I can think of much better substitutes for such a study, can't you? By this I mean, you know I would, something like the doghouse annex or "U" hall or maybe even the interior of the "Moon."

Cal. W. H. Oury made a big slash of fifty cents in the price of

"let me in" to the Military ball. Clothes and other necessities have come down to almost half price but the military department is still holding out on us. We will thank him for that fifty cent reduction, however, it will give us another meal to masticate.

Another rally is scheduled for Friday night. We hope that it won't be similar to that last lullabying contest that was held in the armory. Rallies might as well be held in Ellen Smith hall if they are to be as devoid of spirit as they have been. Emily Post is the last word in parlor manners but Joe Brown, mouth and all, is too reserved for a good college rally. Exhale mighty blasts from masculine lungs, shriek shrill screams from feminine throats and raise a bedlam that would make a World War veteran go berserk. In other words, raise h—l. We need spirit, we need noise in vast volumes, we need a pep reawakening. The sophisticated and the dignitaries must remain at home and
