COMPLETE PLANS SATURDAY PARTY FOR HOMECOMING

Innocents Announce Stage Set for Event in Coliseum.

EXPECT RECORD CROWD

Two Bands Will Play From Opposite Ends of Field House.

Arrangements are complete for Nebraska all-university party which will wind up the annual homecoming festivities in the coliseum tomorrow night. Although no definite check is available on the advanced ticket sale, those in charge expect the event to draw the largest crowd ever to attend an all-university party on this campus, as the night has been devoted to fraternity and sorority parties.

Wally Morrow's twelve piece band and revue company and Leo Beck's eleven piece orchestra will furnish music for the dance. The two orchestras will play alternately from opposite sides of the coliseum.

An elaborate decoration scheme planned by the Barb Council, to which the decoration contract was let, calls for a mile and a half of crepe paper strung over the dance floor of the coliseum. The paper will be strung in fan-shaped blocks of red and white streamers hung from the top of the field house.

K. U. Faculty Invited. Chaparrones for the party are Coach and Mrs. Henry F. Schulte, Dr. and Mrs. George Condra, Professor and Mrs. C. J. Frankforter and Professor E. F. Schramm, all faculty members closely associated with campus extra-curricular activities. Kansas faculty members who accompany the student migration to Lincoln for the Husker-Jayhawk game Saturday afternoon have also been invited to act jointly with the Nebraska chaparrones.

Tickets for the event are being sold by the Corn Cobs, campus pep group. The price is one dollar per couple. Stag tickets will be on sale at the door at fifty cents. Marvin Schmidt, president of Corn Cobs reports that the advance ticket sale indicates a record breaking attendance at the affair.

The two orchestras will play alternately from opposite ends of the coliseum. Morrow's band will be on the stage at the north end of the field house, where the review troupe will entertain during intermission. Beck's orchestra will be placed on a decorated platform.

Tassels Will Free Cloud of Red, White Balloons on First Nebraska Touchdown Against K. U. Saturday

BY ABIE LOON. Let it rain, let it pour! No matter. Let the sky be as gray as the yellow-jackets at an election and no one will care—no one will even know. The time is Saturday afternoon, somewhere between what color of 2 and 4. Fact is that it makes no difference what color the sky is for it will be invisible. Ah!

An artificial canopy will limit sky visibility. Scarlet and cream! What a sight it will be when the varsity men after scrambling in and over the sod for a spectacular touchdown, gaze up and observe a sky of balloons. "Strange as it may seem" such will be the case, so say the tassels.

It is a pleasure for me to add my expression of welcome to the "Old Grads." I should be pleased to make it a personal welcome if you can find time to come to my office in Administration building 104; and I know that other university professors will be equally glad to see you.

You will find your younger undergraduate brothers just as alert and capable as you were in either avoiding work or doing work as the case may be. They are a good looking, wholesome lot, don't you think? They will make just as fine contributions to civilization as you are making. The difference is they are our raw product, you are our finished product. The university is proud of you both.

Welcome home! We're for you!
T. J. THOMPSON,
Dean of Student Affairs.

INNOCENTS PLAN SIX STUNTS FOR ROOTERS

Von Seggern Announces New Ideas for Cheering Section.

WILL USE K. U. COLORS

Six stunts will be executed by the cheering section during the Kansas-Nebraska Homecoming football game, it was announced by Marvin von Seggern who has charge of that feature which takes place between halves of each home encounter. Special plans have been prepared for this game, it was intimated, largely because of the fact that the stunts could not be put on during the Oklahoma game when rain interfered.

The stunts will be in both Husker and K. U. colors, according to arrangements with the athletic department. One stunt, von Seggern revealed will read "Rock Chalk" on the first count by the cheer leader and "Jay Hawk" as the cards are turned.

"We plan to produce a picture of a Jayhawk by means of the cards," the head of the cheering section remarked, "but it seems rather difficult since the section is quite small for those purposes. One or two artists are attempting to devise a method, however."

Emphasizing the importance of everyone working together when the stunts are put into motion, von Seggern suggested that each person make a special effort to know what is expected of him as soon as what is expected before the start of the game Saturday. The stunts must go off rapidly, he suggested, and all students holding seats in the cheering section must know what is expected of them.

Church affiliation Sunday will be observed by students at the First Baptist church, 14th and K streets, with a special service at 10:45. Dr. J. A. Cooper of the Missionary Board of Co-operation, New York City, will deliver the sermon. A section of the church will be reserved for students.

Following the morning service the university student class will meet at noon for a short discussion period with Dr. Cooper. A short devotional service will be led by Ray Brady.

At 6 the social half hour will be held, followed by the regular young people's service at 6:30. Everett Rockhold will lead an open forum discussion on phases of courtship. The Baptist student orchestra will play.

DR. COOPER WILL DISCUSS BOOK AT BAPTIST MEETING

Saturday evening from 7:30 to 9 p. m. Dr. J. A. STUDENT COUNCIL COMMITTEE SITS ON KOSMET CASE

Judiciary Group Meets for Investigation of Laws' Protest Today.

QUESTION IS A PARADOX Body Delegated to Judge Facts Is Controlled by Women Members.

BY THE OBSERVER. What shall be done with the law student demand that Kosmet Klub's election for Nebraska Sweetheart be cast out shall be partially decided by the Student council judiciary committee which meets this afternoon.

At present the question has twisted itself into something resembling a political paradox. For while it is the men who elect the sweetheart and while it is a body of men who are behind the law action, the committee which shall investigate the matter and make recommendations to the Student council is controlled by women.

Committee Will Recommend. President Edwin Faulkner instructed that the matter of the validity of Kosmet Klub's action in declaring a candidate for Nebraska Sweetheart ineligible be delegated to the Student council judiciary committee at that body's Wednesday meeting. This committee, which was organized to have a final say on matters similar to this one, will in this case merely investigate the problem thoroughly and next Wednesday make recommendation for disposal of the question to the Student council in special meeting.

This committee is composed of Berenice Hoffman, chairman, Edwin Faulkner, Gretchen Fee, Julia Simanek and Walter Huber. Also Faulkner is a member of Kosmet Klub and Huber is a law student, both men declare that they shall be sitting as Student council members and will impartially investigate the problem on its own merits. Their interests in the other groups will be subordinated they declare.

At Wednesday's council meeting the law college, speaking through a representative, John C. Jensen, presented a petition signed by students in every college of the university. The petition, which asks that the Student council either set the sweetheart election aside or else call a student mass meeting, follows:

PETITION TO THE STUDENT COUNCIL, UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA. Whereas: Under the provisions of the Student Council Constitution adopted by vote of the student body, May 14, 1929, the Student Council is authorized to receive and act upon any proposal or grievance in person or by any representative; and Whereas: under the provisions of the aforesaid constitution, Article III, (Continued on Page 5.)

JUDGES TO VIEW DECORATIONS AT HOUSES TONIGHT

Fifty Greek Associations Declare Intentions to Compete.

COST LIMITED TO $25 Committee Will Announce Cup Winners Late This Evening.

All fraternities and sororities which decorate for Homecoming are to bring statements of their expenditures to the office of The Daily Nebraskan before noon today in order to be eligible in the judging, it was announced yesterday by Art Wolf, chairman of the Homecoming committee for the Innocents society.

Latest reports indicate that fifty fraternity and sorority houses will enter the competition this year. Almost all decorations will carry out the theme of welcoming grads and Kansas university visitors. Decorations will be lighted.

Judging, according to Prof. Harry F. Cunningham head of the judging team, will begin about 7 o'clock in the evening. Winners will be announced in the Sunday papers.

Special emphasis is being placed on the expense rule this year. Wolf said, and any house which spends more than the allotted $25 will be thrown out of the competition. Another rule which must be adhered to is the one which states that all decorations will be lighted.

Cups will be awarded to the winners as soon after the announcement as possible. The tradition of decorating the houses is an old one at Nebraska, this being the sixth year for it. Last year Kappa Delta won the sorority competition. Winners in other years were Alpha Delta Theta in 1925 and 1926, Gamma Phi Beta in 1927, Kappa Delta in 1928 and Zeta Tau Alpha in 1929.

Awarding of the cup to fraternities has been done only for three years. Last year Delta Tau Delta received the award and in 1929 Alpha Theta Chi won it. The year before that was Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the cup.

The other judges are Mrs. Elery Davis and Oz Black.

Wesleyan Teacher Was Part Time Student at Nebraska.

DISAPPEARS WEDNESDAY

The body of Prof. Claude Kinnick, Nebraska Wesleyan journalism instructor and part time student in the university, who had been missing since Wednesday morning was found in a water-filled pit near Sae City, Ia., a long distance telephone call from the coroner at Sae City informed Professor Kinnick's family yesterday.

Professor Kinnick taught an 8 o'clock class at Wesleyan Wednesday morning. He dismissed his class as usual, but is reported to have said he would not be back for his 11 o'clock. He had a 9 and a 10 o'clock class on the Nebraska campus each Wednesday. Wednesday he did not appear for either of these classes.

Mrs. Kinnick became alarmed when he did not appear to meet her for a 5 o'clock appointment Wednesday afternoon. A police search was started at once, but no traces of the missing professor had been found when the telephone call yesterday informed his family that his body had been found at Sae City.

According to the report from Sae City, Professor Kinnick's body was found in a shallow pit, partly submerged by water. His abandoned car was seen by persons living near the pit. Upon investigation they found the body.

No clue as to the reason for the disappearance had proved fruitful late Thursday, but police were tracing a report that a heavy set, well dressed man had asked for Professor Kinnick at Wesleyan some time after 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Choosing as the topic of his talk to Nebraska faculty, alumni and students, "The Spirit of Homecoming," DuTeau will stress the importance of the day to the graduate and undergraduate alike, feeling of the thrill that comes to the Nebraskan in returning to the old familiar scenes and seeing his team triumph over worthy opponents. AWGWAN SALES FALL BELOW SPRING MARK

Business Manager States Houses Buy Fewer Subscriptions.

EDITOR WANTS POETRY

A checkup of the sales of the Celebrity Number of the Awgwan revealed that the amount was below that of last spring. More individual subscriptions were sold than last year, Bob Lau, business manager of the publication, stated. In addition more copies have been put out for newstands, but block sales fell off.

This issue, the Celebrity number, includes contributions from many men who have achieved fame in the field of humor. Herbert Johnson, Lynn J. Montross, Fred Ballard and Dwight Kirsch are some of the contributors of material that appeared in this number.

Material for the November issue must be in within the next few days. The plans for this number, to be known as the Renaissance number, or awakening number, will be completed within a few days. The Awgwan staff urges all students who can furnish material for this issue to bring it to the Awgwan office in University hall at once.

"We would like to get the poetry page started in the magazine again, and urge all students who can write short poetry to help us get this page into existence," Editor Robinson says. Some of the material for the November Awgwan is now in the hands of the printers, and other work on the magazine is being whipped into shape by the staff, for a good start on the next issue.

Russia, Coached by Stalin, One of Greatest Football Teams of Modern Era Coach Schulte Tells Omaha Club

BY JACK ERIKSON. Coach Henry "Indian" Schulte, long the tutor of Nebraska track teams, has discovered the greatest football team of recent times. It is the old German Empire!

Speaking before an Omaha Engineers club luncheon, Wednesday, Coach Schulte also picked the greatest present team; that of Russia, coached by Stalin, successor to Lenin. Coach Schulte declared that it has built up the spirit of competition tremendously, but he lamented the fact that the spirit has been built up on the basis of hatred.

Coach Schulte's reason for interpreting nations as football teams is that he believes the spirit to compete and win is what makes a great football team. Referring to Germany he said: "Through philosophy, literature, music, and national pride, the old German empire built up a tremendously great fighter. It made a stand on its own goal line for four years."

At another luncheon Coach Schulte spoke of the things seen during the past summer, which he spent in Germany, Czechoslovakia and France.

Germany, he related, has developed athletics to a point where rivalries that in the United States, he said, "In all European countries with the possible exception of England, they pay too much attention to form, overlooking the most important thing—competition."

Turning to football, Schulte told the luncheon listeners: "You can have a lot of faith in Dana K. Bible. He's not self-centered or egotistical. Some day soon he'll have a team that you'll all glory in."
