KLUB REVUE IN MORNING OPENS DAD DAY EVENTS

McHenry, Marjorie Pope and Blanche Bartos.

In previous years, the custom has been for the Sweetheart of the preceding year to return to preside over the court as queen, but this year, Miss Carruthers, queen last year, and Sweetheart two years ago, has been asked to serve owing to the resignation of Audrey Gregory. Miss Gregory resigned because she declared "the discriminatory action of the Klub in declaring Miss Steinmeier ineligible had robbed the post of its honor."

The show tomorrow morning starts at 9, and doors of the Lincoln high auditorium at 22nd and J streets, will open at 8:30. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 1,200.

Sample musical numbers from the revue were broadcast over radio station KFAB and the program service system last night. The program consisted of numbers which will appear in the show tomorrow, sung by members of the skit casts.

Dress Rehearsal Tonight.

Dress rehearsal tonight concludes a week of final preparations for the show. All numbers were reviewed Wednesday night, and necessary changes were made at that time.

"There is a wide variety of talent, and there will be no duplications in the presentation of the numbers," Kosmet members promise.

The complete program for the annual fall revue tomorrow:

- (1) Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Kappa Psi, "Chaperon Picnic."
- (2) Delta Sigma Lambda, "Radio Skit."
- (3) Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Nu, "Revue of the Blues."
- (4) Dramatic Club, "Take off on Journey's End."
- (5) Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Upsilon, "Song and Dance."
- (6) Piano duet, "Kittens on the Keys."
- (7) Delta Tau Delta, "This and That."
- (8) Alpha Theta Chi, "Rhythm Boys."
- (9) Sigma Alpha Epsilon, "Four Bark Brothers."
- (10) Alpha Tau Omega, "Good Morning Teacher."
- (11) Delta Gamma, Sigma Chi, "Around the World."
- (12) Presentation of the Nebraska Sweetheart and the grand finale.

In previous years the revue has been traditionally a Thanksgiving morning affair, but plans were changed this year to make the show come at what Kosmet members felt would be a more convenient time for the students. Additional attractions for Dad's day tomorrow lead Klub members to expect an unusually large attendance at the opening program for the day.

nual have come to the ears of the editors. Detrick says, but students themselves are indirectly responsible for them, he charges, by their failure to have pictures taken in sufficient time to avoid hurry and dangerous bustle.

"If the individual picture sections are delayed and hurry results," the editor said, "it either makes it impossible to give as much time to these sections as they should have, or else other sections must be slighted."

"Requirements for a better yearbook make it absolutely necessary that pictures be taken without further delay," he warned.

These three sophomore lads have been making things tough for all Nebraska opponents this year, wrecking havoc with goal lines and scoring columns in general. All three are Lincoln high men and all three were mentioned on all state selections.

George Henry Sauer is a triple threat man, running, passing, and kicking equally as well. He first began his tearing in the Northwestern game where he was practically the whole show. In the Oklahoma game he galloped away for two long runs for the Huskers' margin of victory and again in the Kansas game he scored the Huskers' lone tally.

Henry George Bauer is also a versatile and proficient back. His running and passing throw many a fear into opposing teams and his runbacks of punts make that an almost useless weapon to the other teams.

Bernie Masterson, the lank ball hawk of the Scarlet, has extremely sticky fingers and a ball in his vicinity is a completed pass or an intercepted one. At Columbia last Saturday, Masterson had a big day and sports writers are pointing watchful glances in his direction in tomorrow's game.

These three seem to be headed for quite a career in the football world and with two more years of competition, Nebraska followers may be sure of more successful teams.

Washington U Paper Comments on Contention That World Is Doomed

Besides having a depression to worry about two scientists are frightening the world with the admonition that the universe is doomed; that because it is expanding so prodigiously fast its days are numbered; even down to a billion years.

Why should these two savants discuss matters of this caliber when everyone is in a state of fright, as it is. What do we care whether the nebulae are scattering so tremendously fast, and are running away from each other so fast.

Our main concern today is to know where the next meal is coming from, and not to worry when the next nebulae is going to play hide and seek with its neighbor.

However, we don't want to be too narrow minded and refute everything that these two eminent scientists have told the world, for there might be some truth to it. Let's investigate.

Nebulae Running Away. According to Sir James Jeans and Sir Arthur Eddington, best known of the British physicists, the nebulae in distant space are running away from each other so fast they "cannot have been running away from each other for long." And the entire time scale of astronomy must be scrapped.

New discoveries have thrown the whole problem of the evolution of stars into complete chaos, and instead of being billions and trillions of years the life of the universe is reduced to a matter of 1,000 million years at the most." But, the thing that is most alarming, is that Sir Eddington says we must accept this theory; that is "the alarmingly rapid dispersion of nebulae with its important consequences in limiting the time available for evolution."

Although the two British scientists agreed with each other, they were not supported by all who took part with them in a memorable discussion before the British Association for the Advancement of Science. Professor Robert A. Millikan of California, discover of cosmic rays, took especial exception of the theory of the annihilation of matter on which Jeans and Eddington based their contentions.

"From my point of view the evidence that cosmic rays furnish for annihilation is not worth a whoop," he said.

Other criticisms flowed upon these two scientists until Sir Jeans said he had been discussing the physical universe, and had not climbed to those loftier heights where the whole universe has been brought under survey.

In view of these contentions, and even in spite of our being proverbial neophytes, we will stick to the old epigram which is common in our environments. "We're from Missouri, you've got to show us."—Student Life, Washington University, St. Louis.

STUDENTS OF NATION CUT SOCIAL EXPENSES

Dispatch From Minnesota Daily Reveals Action Taken There.

From the Minnesota Daily.

Wholehearted co-operation of student organizations in following the requests of President Lotus D. Coffman asking economy of social expenditures was predicted yesterday by student leaders.

President Coffman's requests, contained in a letter written by him before he left for his trip to Australia, were mailed to the heads of undergraduate organizations yesterday.

Louis Finger, president of the Pan-Hellenic council; Dan Feldt, president of the interfraternity council; Jane Affeldt, president of the Women's Self Government association; Weston Grimes, president of the all-university council; E. E. Nicholson, dean of student affairs, and Miss J. M. Dudley Blitt, dean of women, expressed the belief that campus groups would comply with the president's wishes.

Asks Economy. The text of the letter follows: "One needs hardly call your attention to the fact that we are in the midst of one of the most far-reaching economic depressions the world has ever experienced. It is affecting the life and temper and spirit of people everywhere. Great care should be exercised by individuals and institutions to avoid unreasonable or unnecessary expenditures. The university must scrutinize its expenditures with extra care at such a time, and student organizations are called upon to exercise corresponding care in determining their expenditures.

"There is no reason why the social life of the institution should be abandoned. The good sense, and sound judgment of the students in this matter will dictate to them what it is proper to expend for such occasions in a year when restraint and self-sacrifice must prevail in every other situation."

Already many fraternities and sororities have curtailed their social costs by planning for but one party during a quarter, instead of one each five or six weeks during the school year.

Parties Decreased. Other groups have given "Depression Parties," with typewritten sheets of scratch paper serving as dance programs. Small groups of students have banded together to fight depression by playing bridge on Saturday nights instead of attending theaters and public dances.

Open houses on Saturdays after football games have been few thus far, although several sororities will entertain before the end of the grid season.

The Panhellenic ball probably will be cancelled this year, although a charity ball may take its place, Miss Finger said. W.S.G.A. will survey its projects to determine if any cut in the budget may be made, Miss Affeldt stated.

Dean Nicholson said yesterday that he believed President Coffman's request would meet with hearty approval of all fathers and mothers and the general citizenry of the state.

Postman in Bathing Suit. During the recent flood in Selby, Eng., caused by the overflowing of four rivers, water submerged the principal streets and caused heavy damage. One postman donned a bathing suit and made his regular rounds as soon as the flood peak had passed.

GISH APPEARS BEFORE LION'S CLUB MEETING

Husker Athletic Director Presents Films Taken in South Africa.

Herb Gish, athletic director of the university was the main speaker at a meeting of the Lion's club yesterday. He presented motion pictures of the South African big game country and various scenes ground out en route from New York to Southampton and to Cape Town. These scenes which he flashed were "shot" during his three months' vacation, most of which time he spent managing athletic stars in Africa.

A great number of the scenes which Gish screened were of his American athletes and their performances. The picture also included the liner Bremen as she steamed into the New York harbor area. On this trip two aviators who were delegated to fly the mail into New York ahead of the liner, were lost.

The meeting of the club was held at the chamber of commerce.
