MANAGERS MEET STUDENT DEMAND

Hotel Officials, Orchestra Leaders Reach Agreement With Representatives of Greek Councils And Professor Schramm Friday.

RETROACTIVE RATE SLASH PLAN IS APPROVED

Twelve-Piece Bands Will Book for $100; Ballrooms Lower Rentals 20 Percent With Agreement To Apply on Present Contracts.

Lincoln hotel managers and orchestra leaders acquiesced to the student demand for a reduction in ballroom and orchestra prices for downtown parties in a conference with Prof. E. F. Schramm, faculty adviser to the Interfraternity council, Friday morning.

Orchestra leaders Leo Beck and Eddie Jungbluth agreed to furnish a twelve piece orchestra for $100, the agreement to be retroactive and apply to all contracts already made by fraternities and sororities or other university groups. Wally Marrow, third orchestra leader, did not attend the conference but in a statement to the Nebraska later in the day said that he would also book engagements at the $100 rate.

A. Q. Schimmel, manager of the Hotel Cornhusker, and Carl Huebmann, manager of the Lincoln hotel, agreed to a twenty percent cut in prices on their large ballroom for downtown student events. This agreement was also made retroactive to cover contracts already made.

To fraternities and sororities who have already made contracts for ballrooms and ballrooms a rebate of approximately $35 will be made under the agreement reached Friday.

Greeks Accept Offer. Following the conference with the orchestra leaders and hotel managers, a joint meeting of the Panhellenic and Interfraternity council committees investigating the cost of student parties accepted the agreement reached. The committees reported that they were pleased with the amicable settlement of the controversy between student organizations and the hotel and orchestra managements.

Professor Schramm, in a note reporting the agreement to the Nebraska, stated that the hotel managers and orchestra leaders with whom he held conferences (Continued on Page 2.)

CHARTER SPECIAL TRAIN TO KANSAS

Union Pacific Announces a University Special to Manhattan.

600 EXPECTED TO GO

University students will be provided a special train to Manhattan, Neb., Saturday, according to Edwin Faulkner, president of the Student council. It will leave Lincoln early next Saturday morning and will return at 7 o'clock the same evening. Arrangements for it have been made by the Union Pacific system and price of a round trip ticket is $2.75.

From a conservative estimate it appears that at least 600 students will board the special to the Cornhusker-Kaggle game which will virtually decide the Big Six championship.

The entire band and the Tassels and Corn Cobs societies have definitely decided to make the trip. One thousand tickets in the Nebraska section of the Kansas State stadium have been sent John K. Selleck from Manhattan. These are now on sale at the student activities office in the coliseum for $2.50. This office will also handle the round trip tickets.

Leaves Saturday Morning. The special will leave Lincoln precisely at 7:15 next Saturday morning, arriving in Manhattan shortly before noon. The return trip will begin at 7 the same evening and the train will reach Lincoln shortly before midnight.

Distance to Manhattan by auto is 150 miles. The road is gravelled the entire distance by way of Beatrice, Wymore, Marysville, Blue Rapids and Irving.

Supervision of student conduct on the special train will be under the charge of Student council members. Under its new constitution the Student council has charge of all undergraduate matters. Two official delegates, Edwin Faulkner and Dorothy Weaver, will represent the council.

Pep organizations on the campus urge students to make arrangements for the Kaggle trip if possible for the necessity of undergraduate support of the team should do much toward turning the tide of the game, they say.

REVUE PRESENTS WILLA M'HENRY AS SWEETHEART

'Nebraska' Girl Revealed to Big Crowd at Kosmet Show Saturday.

KAPPA-D. U. WIN TROPHY

Second Place Skit Award Goes to Delta G.-Sig Chi Presentation.

Miss Willa McHenry, junior in teachers college and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was presented as Nebraska's Sweetheart for 1931 at the annual morning revue of Kosmet Klub, held yesterday morning in the auditorium of Lincoln high school.

Miss McHenry was elected by popular vote of the men of the university at an election several weeks ago. Frank Roehl, Alpha Tau Omega, presided as king of the court, and Miss Lucille Carrothers, member of Kappa Alpha Theta, and Nebraska's Sweetheart two years ago, presided as queen of the court, taking the place of Audrey Gregory, last year's sweetheart, who resigned.

The Lincoln high school auditorium was packed for the show, at which Ray Ramsey, secretary of the alumni association, acted as master of ceremonies. Eleven skits were presented by campus organizations, and the Nebraska Sweetheart was presented in the finale.

Magee Trophy Presented. The Magee Kosmet Klub trophy, which is presented every year to the organization or organizations putting on the best skit, was presented by Dick Devereaux, president of Kosmet Klub, to Kappa Gamma sorority and Delta Upsilon fraternity, for their skit entitled "Radio Revue." Delta Gamma sorority and Sigma Chi fraternity played second in the show with their presentation "Around the World."

The first skit of the show was the Phi Kappa Psi-Kappa Alpha Theta interpretation of "A Chaparron Picnic." Eddie Jungbluth's orchestra played for the group. Delta Sigma Lambda presented Harold Turner and Lee Bennett in "Not So Bad," singing and playing songs of the day.

The Pi Beta Phi-Sigma Nu skit, entitled "Revue of the Blues," presented group singing and dancing. Miss Calista Cooper, Humboldt, (Continued on Page 4.)

INGLIS TALKS TO 150 AT FRIENDSHIP DINNER

Lincoln Minister Headlines Program at Annual Banquet Friday.

HONOR FOREIGN GUESTS

Rev. Ervine Inglis of the Vine Congregational church spoke before one hundred and fifty faculty members, students and their foreign guests at the fourth annual International Friendship banquet Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church. Dr. C. H. Patterson acted as toastmaster.

Rev. Inglis made a challenge to these groups which talk peace, but do not make their demands sufficiently strong so that the diplomats who settle world problems, act by the will of these who cry for peace. He stated that there is a triple threat. With peace as an football, there are those who can kick, and there are those who can pass, but where in peace are those who will hit the line with their demands, declared Rev. Inglis.

Cuneo Speaks. J. A. Cuneo of the economics department told of friendly internationalism, but declared that if nations are going to succeed in this policy they must have a definite goal. The World Court is the aim which Mr. Cuneo would have the nations aspire to accept.

"It is meetings such as this International Friendship dinner which cement world peace and foster international good will," declared the speaker. "War is a crime against civilization, and it is necessary that the nations learn to settle their disputes in other ways," said Mr. Cuneo.

Dramatic Group Announces Special Dollar Seats For Balcony.

PLAY IS BASED ON WAR

Special rates of one dollar for all seats in the balcony are being offered to students for "The Unknown Warrior" to be presented here at the Temple theatre Nov. 14 under the auspices of the University Players.

Maurice Browne plays the leading role with Rosalinde Fuller and Daniel Reed in the supporting cast. The play is a highly dramatic war tragedy considered by some critics superior to "Journey's End," the famous war play which Mr. Browne first produced.

Is War Story. "The Unknown Warrior" is the story of an intelligent young soldier, disillusioned by the war, who obtains a reprieve by volunteering for a dangerous raid into the enemy's lines as soon as he returns. His fiancée and his father await him in his own chateau. The father still believes the war (Continued on Page 3.)

OVER 200 DADS ATTEND ANNUAL NEBRASKA EVENT

Program Features Surprise Initiation of Fathers And Mothers.

DR. CONDRA GIVES OATH

Devereaux Is Toastmaster At Affair Sponsored by Innocents.

Over two hundred dads attended the tenth annual Dad's Day luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce with their sons and daughters yesterday noon. Five hundred people were in attendance at the affair. Initiation of all of the dads into Delta Alpha Delta and the mothers into Mu Alpha featured the program. Dean G. E. Condra gave the oath to the new members of the fraternities. Members of the Innocents society which sponsored the affair passed out ribbons and insignia for the dads to wear.

Burnett Welcomes Parents. The program opened with several numbers by Wally Marrow's orchestra after which Dick Devereaux, president of the Innocents, as toastmaster, introduced Chancellor E. A. Burnett, who welcomed the dads and mothers to the university. "The university is yours," he said. "Come and visit it often."

John Agee, president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, was the next speaker and he welcomed the dads to the city in behalf of the Chamber.

Kirkbride Speaks.

Walt Kirkbride, Roberts dairy executive, next spoke from the standpoint of the university student. "The kind of a dad we want," he said, "is the one who is interested in our work, our play, our companions, our books, and everything we do." That is the kind of a dad that will make a good dad and a good citizen.

Robert Joyce then spoke for the dads. After Mr. Joyce spoke, Dean Condra administered the oath of allegiance to Delta Alpha Delta and Mu Alpha.

After the luncheon all of the dads lined up in front of the Chamber of Commerce and a picture of them was taken after the Iowa-Nebraska game at the stadium.

FRESHMEN TRIUMPH IN TUG-OF-WAR FIGHT

Frosh Win First Two Trials Of Contest Conducted Between Halves.

YEARLINGS ARE HAPPY

Snatching scarlet and crimson caps from their heads, first year men yesterday hurled them high into the air and proclaimed victory over the sophomores at the conclusion of their tug-of-war.

The tug-of-war, which was held between halves of the Hawkeye Nebraska tilt, was instituted this year to replace the former Olympics as a means of determining when the freshmen may lay aside their caps.

Each team was made up of twelve men. Led by Harold Sorlund, captain of the team and president of the freshman class, the frosh dragged their opponents twice over the goal line and thru the stream in a highly systematized fight. The winners were determined by two out of three trials.

Card Stunts Halted. The contest halted all cheering card stunts and the directors of the card stunts were forced to wait until the contest was finished before they could finish their presentation for movie cameras and occupants of the west stadium.

When Referee Lewis blew his whistle, indicative of the take off, all eyes focused on the event. Freshmen resorted to their high school tactics in cheering and leading their team on. When the freshmen pulled their opponents thru the stream of water for the second time, their classmates in the stands heaved high their headgear and shouted their victory.

PAUL GOES OVER FOR LONE SCORE

Nebraska Reverts to Power Plays to Chalk Up Victory Over Invaders; Fumble, Penalty Halts Offensive Drives in First and Third Quarters.

IOWANS DECISIVELY OUTPLAYED BY SCARLET

Ely, Rhea and Koster Play Bangup Game in Husker Line While Paul, Penney, Kreizinger Make Long Gains Thru Old Gold Team.

BY MURLIN SPENCER.

Nebraska fans were taken back to the old power play days Saturday afternoon in Memorial stadium as the Cornhuskers repelled the Iowa invasion by the score of 7 to 0. A sustained march of 62 yards on straight line plays with Marvin Paul, game captain, going over from the 7-yard line gave the Huskers their lone tally. Koster came back from guard position to kick the goal for the extra point.

There was no deception in the play as the Huskers marched down the field. Iowa knew what was coming next, but they were powerless to stop the terrific charging of the Husker line and the plunging of Paul and Kreizinger. Convincing Victory.

Nebraska's victory was much more convincing than the score indicates, the Huskers piling up a total of sixteen first downs to five for the Hawkeyes. The Nebraska line went on a rampage, tearing huge holes in the Iowa forward wall and stopping the famed plunging of Hickman and Sansen dead.

Although Nebraska found the weak spot in the Iowa line early in the game, it was not until the third period that they were able to score. The Huskers threw away one chance early in the first quarter after a pass, Bauer to Penny, put the ball on the Iowa 1-foot line. On the next play Paul fumbled and the Hawkeyes recovered to stop the threat.

Paul Intercepts Pass. Paul brought the 20,000 spectators to their feet in the third quarter when he intercepted an Iowa pass and ran fifty yards to put the ball on the Hawkeye 21-yard line. The Husker threat was stopped by a 15-yard penalty for holding.

At no time during the game did Iowa make a serious threat to score. Her passes were knocked down by the Nebraska backs and her line plays were stopped cold by the Husker line. This forward wall of the Cornhuskers again proved its worth. Rhea, Koster and Ely distinguished themselves, spending most of the afternoon (Continued on Page 4.)

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW DORMITORY WILL BEGIN SOON

Bids Will Be Opened Dec. 1 According to Notice Issued Saturday.

READY FALL OF 1932

Announcement Ends Ten Year Struggle for Girls' Housing Units.

Actual construction work on the women's dormitories at University of Nebraska will start within a short time. Bids for construction of the new $269,000 dormitory unit will be opened at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 1, according to legal notices ordered today. Under the terms of the advertisement for bids, contractors will bid on furnishing the labor and material necessary to complete the general contract and the plumbing, heating, and electrical contracts in accordance with the plans and specifications. According to the notice to bidders, the contract will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, with the proviso reserving the right to reject all bids.

The last obstacle to this project was overcome recently when the board of educational lands and funds approved the request of university authorities for a loan of $175,000 to help pay for the new building. The 1929 legislature made an appropriation of $200,000 for land and partial construction of the building; the unexpected balance of which, $83,700, was re-appropriated by the 1931 special session.

Advertising for bids on this new dormitory marks the culmination of more than ten years' work by interested parties, especially women, for university dormitories. Plan started in 1920.

The first women's dormitories were put into use in 1920 when six cottages, most of them located on R street between Twelfth and Thirteenth, were converted into dormitories. These buildings were private residences that had been (Continued on Page 3.)

LAWS WILL CONTINUE ANTI-KOSMET ACTIONS

Have Not Abandoned Idea of Petitioning Faculty Committee.

ARE WAITING A WEEK

Although the law college dissenters made no effort to impede the Kosmet Klub from presenting the morning revue, yesterday, they have not abandoned their petition to the university faculty senate questioning the Klub's rights to pass a restrictive rule on the eligibility of candidates for Nebraska Sweetheart.

The petition is now in the hands of several of the leaders of the movement in the law college, including the presidents of the respective law classes. It will come before one of the regular meetings of the faculty committee on student affairs which is the committee of the senate delegated with the power to make final decisions on appeals from rulings of the Student Council.

This committee meets regularly every Monday, but since the petition is not yet in the hands of the committee members, its consideration of the dispute will be held off for another week so that members may have time to previously study the merits of the controversy before the meeting convenes. According to Dean T. J. Thompson, chairman of the committee, the petition to get consideration even at the meeting a week from tomorrow, must be available for study early this week.

McKinney Makes Statement. Glenn McKinney, president of the senior law class, said that the petition would be ready to be presented during the fore part of the week.

Enough concern over the law college attitude toward the show was manifested in campus rumors last week to induce Dean Thompson to call in one of the law leaders to find whether any movement was on foot to try to hinder the orderly presentation of the show. Dean Thompson received the assurance of the law representative that no conspiracy existed and that rumors to that effect were idle talk.
