HAGGERTY TELLS OF CHANGES IN TEACHING FIELD

"The present system in the majority of universities is somewhat chaotic," the doctor said, in citing the results of a number of investigations conducted into the examination systems of American colleges and universities. "Changes are coming and we shall see a gradual expansion of our present examination programs."

In continuation, Dean Haggerty pointed to the quickening of American intellectual life and the mounting demand for accurate evaluations in the business and professions.

"The movement toward expansion and rearrangement comes as naturally as the changes in business life. It is nothing accidental but is part of America's altering civilization."

STATE SCHOOL HEADS APPROVE CONFERENCE

Four Presidents Express Sympathy With Coming Disarmament Meet.

BURNETT FAVORS MOVE

Presidents of four colleges in Nebraska have signified their approval and interest in the statewide student disarmament conference to be held Nov. 21 and 22 in Ellen Smith hall. Delegations from all Nebraska institutions for higher learning have been invited to participate at the meetings.

Chancellor E. A. Burnett in a note to the chairman of the conference said, "It goes without saying that the University of Nebraska favors disarmament to the greatest degree which is consistent with national safety. We can surely follow the president of the United States in this matter."

Z. R. Overmiller who is president of York college was very enthusiastic with the project and vouched the support of a York delegation. In a letter he said "I want to assure you that York college is vitally interested in the movement for disarmament and is desirous of co-operating to its fullest possible ability in stimulating interest in the study of this great question. Our Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. are giving this subject match attention and will no doubt have a good representation at the conference in Lincoln."

Hastings Head Approves. President Calvin H. French of Hastings college stated that if it were possible he would like very much to attend the session himself. He gave assurance of his sympathy with the effort being made and expressed his interest in the objectives.

J. E. Taylor, who is dean of Doane college at Crete, spoke for President Dean of that institution, in a letter to the disarmament committee. "I am sure I reflect President Dean's feelings when I say that we are heartily in sympathy with the peace movement in all its respects and are eager to co-operate in any way we can in promoting the student disarmament conference. I understand that a student delegation from Doane will be present at the convention, and I think you can count on Doane college to co-operate fully in any such movement."

BURNETT TELLS OF PLANS FOR NEW DORMITORY

(Continued from Page 1.) to do so and it is expected by university authorities that perhaps one-third of the building will be occupied by upper classmen. It is not proposed to abandon the three cottage dormitories where women may room under proper supervision, providing there is a demand for them.

"Word that we have received from many parents who have daughters in the university and others who desire to send their daughters here indicate that the dormitory project will be favorably received by parents and that the space available will be filled as soon as the dormitory is open," reported the university head.

He explained that efforts will be made to divide the girls occupying the dormitory into relatively small groups under supervision which will make their life attractive and interesting. The supervision and the opportunity for study will be better than in private boarding houses.

"We feel that the slight criticisms which have come from the outside as to the erection of this new dormitory will disappear as soon as it is in actual use," he stated.

BURNETT EXPLAINS PLAN

In summarizing some of the items of expense in the new dormitory unit, Chancellor Burnett reviewed the facilities to be offered in the building, the dining rooms and kitchens that will be adequate for the entire dormitory project and the necessary administrative offices. This central unit, he continued, will contain parlors, recreation rooms, and a party room that will provide facilities for the larger dormitory plan as well as providing a meeting place for unorganized groups of students.

The annual charges for the dormitory will of necessity cover more than the cost of operation and depreciation, he pointed out, due to the fact that the earnings of the dormitory have been pledged toward the redemption of the $175,000 worth of bonds that will be purchased by the board of educational lands and funds. These bonds will be amortized at the rate of $11,800 per year, all of which must be earned by the dormitory plant.

Manager Grand Hotel Dining Room Discusses Origin of World Forum

Reminiscing about the first days of the World Forum, Mrs. Locke, manager of the dining room at the Grand hotel, said that it was first organized in 1924 by Dr. Harry Huntington, student pastor of the Methodist church; Miss Appleby, secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; and Mr. Joergensen, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Their purpose in organizing it was that students working their way through school might have an opportunity to hear good lectures and at the same time have an inexpensive luncheon. Since Mrs. Locke has arranged for the meetings every year except 1930-1931, she is well acquainted with the work of the organization.

W. E. Hardy of the Hardy Furniture company was the first speaker. His subject was "A Journey Through the Art Galleries of Europe." Several women have talked to the Forum, as have

TIGERS POINT FOR HOMECOMING GAME

Gwinn Henry in Hospital As Missouri Meets Oklahoma.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—With Coach Gwinn Henry still in the university hospital, Harry Lansing and Jack Crangle, assistant coaches, sent their squad thru another long mock scrimmage in preparation for the coming of the Oklahoma Sooners, homecoming foe of the Tigers, Saturday afternoon.

Hal Austin went back to his position at left guard fully recovered from his injury, but Grant Morgan is still nursing an injured shoulder. His position was taken by Noble Noblitt.

The task of filling Morgan's tackle position is the only problem confronting the coaches, and the remaining positions will be in the hands of the same men that started against Nebraska two weeks ago.

Coach Henry, in the hospital attempting to check a malady which has harassed him thruout the season, is resting comfortably and may be able to see the game from a car along the sidelines. He will not be allowed to direct his team from the bench or from the press box by field phone as he did in the Drake game at Des Moines last week.

With almost all of the men in good physical trim, the Tiger is confident of breaking into the win column of the Big Six. The steady improvement shown by the team in each succeeding game is the basis for the optimism. Missouri again expects to make their passing attack their main form of offense for the afternoon play against the Sooners.
