RAY RAMSAY TO SPEAK AT GRID RALLY TONIGHT

Pep Talk Program Features Alumni Secretary and Professor Scott.

SLATED FOR COLISEUM

Urge All Students Attend Meeting; Need Spirit For Ames Battle.

Ray Ramsay, Nebraska alumni secretary, was announced Thursday afternoon as second speaker at Friday night's rally in the coliseum, set for 7:30.

The alumni secretary, whose reputation as a speaker is known in all parts of the state, will make his first appearance at a rally this year in front of his parents, whom he says have never seen a football rally or a football game.

Scott on Program. The other speaker will be Prof. R. D. Scott, chairman of the university's athletic committee. The program likely will include one or two visitors from Iowa State college, whose Cyclone grid team clashes with the Nebraska Cornhuskers Saturday in a championship tilt.

The rally will be preceded by a parade led by the university R. O. T. C. band, starting from the Temple theater at 7:15. The route of march will be up R street to 16th, north on 16th to Vine, and on Vine to the coliseum.

Ask Student Support.

All students have been urged to attend the rally, inasmuch as the Saturday game will decide the winner of the Big Six championship for this year. E. J. Faulkner, jr., president of the Student council; Arthur Mitchell, rally chairman, and many others have pointed out that the Nebraska team needs all possible inspiration the students can give in order to combat the spirit that Iowa State has shown in its first drive for the conference championship since the inception of the Big Six loop.

Last night members of Corn Cobs and Tassels staged rallies at all fraternity and sorority houses, announcing the Friday night affair. Their program included music, songs and yells in addition to the announcement.

STATE SCOUTS MEET HERE THIS WEEKEND

Pershing Rifles Marshal Troops at Nebraska Convention.

Members of Pershing Rifles will act as marshals at the Nebraska State Boy Scout convention in Lincoln this week end. Approximately two thousand boy scouts will attend the convention, according to the military department.

Pershing Rifles will form the group Saturday noon after the banquet at the coliseum and march them to the stadium for the football game. The scouts are to be the guests of the university at the game.

Members of Pershing Rifles will assemble at the coliseum at 12 o'clock noon, it was announced at the meeting of the group Tuesday night by J. K. McGeachin, captain. Members are to wear white shirts with their uniforms, he stated.

K-Aggie Military Ball is Conducted

Much Like Nebraska Opening Formal Event Says Letter to Cadet Leader

Finance is considered as the item of prime importance in planning the military ball at the Kansas Aggie school, according to a letter received recently by Col. Albert Lucke from Al Reed, cadet colonel of the R. O. T. C. unit at Manhattan.

The procedure at the military ball at Manhattan is very similar to that at Nebraska, according to the writer. The only feature at that school's ball which Nebraska does not have is a reception line at the opening of the affair.

Within two weeks of the date of the military ball, ten candidates for honorary field officers are nominated by the advanced course members. The votes are cast by written ballots, which are handed out in the recitation classes.

Elect Honorary Officers.

The ten girls having the most votes are declared nominees for honorary field officers, and at some later date every cadet in the unit, both basic and advanced, casts a ballot for four of the ten nominees. The votes are counted by the cadet colonel and the adjutant of the military instruction staff.

LAW STUDENTS SHELVE KOSMET CASE FOR TIME

Future Barristers Plan to Present Petition at Later Date.

'NO HURRY NECESSARY' Leaders Say No Need to Press Matter Busy With Books.

Because of the lack of action on the part of the law college in connection with the petition which the student leaders have planned to present to the university faculty senate, a Nebraskan reporter interviewed several of the leaders to determine whether the matter had been dropped. The opinions expressed were unanimously in favor of carrying the appeal to the senate though most of those interviewed agreed that inasmuch as the Kosmet Klub show is over for this year, there need be no hurry in presenting the petition.

The appeal was planned following an adverse decision of the student council to the law college petition asking that the Kosmet Klub eligibility ruling for candidates for Nebraska Sweetheart be invalidated. From a decision of the council an appeal may be carried for final adjudication to the (Continued on Page 3.)

R. O. T. C. RECEIVES RIFLES

Military Department Reports New Arms Being Used By Rifles Team.

The balance of the rifles for the military department have been received and are now being used by the rifle team, according to Mr. Kidwell, in charge of military stores.

The department now has enough equipment for the entire R. O. T. C. unit including both the .32 and .30 calibre rifles. There is now more equipment than has been available at any time in the history of the department, says Mr. Kidwell.

NEBRASKANS WRITE IN PRAIRIE SCHOONER

Literary Magazine Includes Student and Faculty Contributions.

A number of Nebraska students, alumni, and faculty members are contributors to the newly released number of the Prairie Schooner, literary magazine published by the Nebraska Wordsmith chapter of Sigma Upsilon, national literary fraternity. The student contributors to the magazine are Jim Thompson, John Suessens, William F. Thompson, and Edson H. Fichter, Jr.

William F. Thompson presents under his usual heading "Dog In The Manger," a sketch in which he describes the favors heaped upon those individuals who possess what is known as a magnetic personality. Mr. Thompson is a graduate student in the English department.

Suessens Pens Sketch. A senior in the college of arts and sciences, John Suessens, has a sketch on the writings of Ben Hecht. This is one of a series of sketches on prominent midwestern writers. Mr. Suessens wrote a brief sketch of J. E. Lerossignol, dean of the Business Administration college and writer, in an article in one of the preceding issues of the magazine in the same series.

Contributors to the poetry section include Margaret Deming who has a poem entitled "The Intruder." Loren C. Eiseley who wrote "Death Song for Two," and Edson Fichter, Jr. who is the author of a poem called "Autumn Sketch." All three are seniors in the college of Arts and Sciences.

STUDENT MEET OPENS SATURDAY ON CITY CAMPUS

Complete Final Plans for First Disarmament Conference.

NELSON WILL PRESIDE

Program Provides for Four Plenary Sessions on Arms Problem.

Final arrangements of the program for the first statewide student disarmament conference Saturday have been completed, and accommodations for all delegates have been secured, according to the committee in charge. Recent reports have greatly increased the number of delegates from colleges out in the state.

Opens at 9 O'clock. Opening formally at 9 o'clock Saturday, the conference will be presided over by Meredith Nelson. After formal introductions an official delegate will be elected to take charge of the remainder of the meetings. The first plenary session will begin immediately. One delegate from each school represented will take his place at the conference and defend the point of view of the country assigned to him. Security is the first subject of discussion. A round table discussion will follow the formal presentations.

At noon the conference will adjourn until 1:15 when the second plenary session is announced. This meeting will also have as its subject, security. Following the discussion there will be an informal social when delegates may talk with the authorities present, and become acquainted with other delegates. Refreshments will be served.

At dinner groups interested in various phases of the conference, or in certain aspects of campus life will be organized to dine together so that they may discuss problems.

Eichelberger Speaks. In the evening the third plenary session will be held, as well as an informal discussion. The climax of the program will be an address by Clark Eichelberger, executive secretary of the national League of Nations association, at 9 o'clock.

A social hour with dancing will follow this talk. At 9 o'clock Sunday morning the conference will again convene in Ellen Smith hall for the last plenary session on the budgetary system. At 12 o'clock after the final round table discussion, the convention will formally close.

STUDENTS TAKE PART IN BRIDGE CEREMONY

Nebraska Sweetheart, Band Aid Road Opening at Ashland.

Miss Willa McHenry, Nelson, recently elected Nebraska Sweetheart, will be one of the officials of the ribbon ceremonies at the opening of the new Ashland bridge today. Formal and actual opening of the Platte river bridge will be the final step in the linking highway between Lincoln and Omaha.

Twenty-seven members of the university R. O. T. C. band will play concert numbers at noon before the dedication of the structure. The band will go to Ashland in buses and will attend a dinner given by the Chamber of Commerce of that city. Billy Quick will lead the band.

Miss McHenry is one of five Nebraska girls who will perform the ribbon ceremonies at each approach of the bridge. Many notables will be introduced from Lincoln and Omaha and thousands of people are expected to attend.

The official program, over which Dr. B. H. Baer, Ashland, will preside, will begin at 12:30. John H. Agee, president of Lincoln Chamber of Commerce will introduce Lincoln notables and Glen Eastburn, Chamber of Commerce secretary, will present Omaha guests, including King and Queen of the Ak-Sar-Ben.

John Aldrich, representing Woods Brothers company, will present the bridge to State Engineer Cochran who in turn will give it to Governor Bryan.

The city of Ashland is co-operating with the Lincoln and Omaha Chambers of Commerce in taking charge of the day's events.

PLAN 'FORMAL' AWGWAN

Robinson Announces Theme For December Number Campus Comic.

The December issue of the Awgwan is going to be known as the "Formal Number" according to Marvin Robinson, editor. The formal theme will be carried out in the articles and cartoons Robinson stated.

The new issue will carry a feature page by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism sorority and will be continued in future editions. Robinson also indicated that both art and editorial contributions in harmony with the formal motif are needed and the Awgwan will welcome any suggestions or material that students might have.

The cover designed by Robinson has already been sent to the engravers and the plate is now being made.

STUDENTS COMPLAIN ON ANNUAL DEADLINE

Detrick Thinks New Plan Fair; Limits Number In Sections.

According to Otis Detrick, editor of the Cornhusker, there are still a number of students who are complaining about the deadline number. They declare that it is unfair to limit the number of students who will have their pictures in the 1932 book, and that it does not give all of them a chance to be represented, he says.

"I cannot see that there is any injustice to any of the students by setting a deadline number. The pictures have been open for a number of weeks and numerous warnings have been given to get them to have their pictures taken. Each one has had plenty of time for a sitting, and if they fail to get in under the deadline it is their own hard luck," he said.

When the deadline is reached there will be only three days in which to return the proofs to the photographers. The Cornhusker staff would appreciate it if the students who have had their pictures taken and have not returned their proofs would get them back to the photographer as soon as possible, said the editor.

"I would like to call the attention of the students to the fact that during the week end there will be three days, when no announcement of the number of pictures left to be taken can be made. This is due to the fact that after this issue, there will be none until Sunday morning. During this time the deadline may be reached, so it would be a good idea to have your pictures taken this week or you may find that you have waited too long," Detrick stated.

"If you belong to any organizations watch the column in the Daily Nebraskan known as 'At The Studio' for announcements of appointments for organization pictures, and be ready when your time comes," he concluded.

LITERARY MEETS TONIGHT

Delian-Union Entertains at Session in Temple Building.

The Delian-Union literary society will entertain at an open meeting Friday evening at 8:30, in room 303, Temple. An hour's program is planned followed by a social hour. An instrumental trio from the university school of music will present a group of selections. Miss Mildred Putney will play a piano solo and Clarence Laub will give a humorous reading. Leonard Cook and Phil Ehrenhard will give a short mystery skit while Alvin Kleebe and Albert Hanson will present an original musical and vaudeville number.

Two new pledges were taken into the society last week. They are Ruth Louise Wolfe and Albert Hanson.

SATURDAY'S GAME TO DECIDE TITLE

Cornhuskers Meet Powerful Team in Iowa State Gridsters Who Will Be Fighting for First Championship in School's History.

ELEVEN NEBRASKA MEN PLAY LAST HOME GAME

Injury Will Keep Game Captain Nelson from Starting In Fray; Dope Favors Scarlet and Cream But Ames Plays Best as Underdog.

Saturday will see a raging, whirling, powerful Cyclone come out of Iowa in an attempt to pick up a mighty Cornhusker eleven, and claim a Big Six championship. It will be the task of these Huskers to turn this Cyclone into a puff of wind, send it back to Ames and win the title for themselves. It is the last chance, a case of win or lose. The winner of the game between Iowa State and Nebraska will be crowned Big Six champion.

Iowa State has long looked forward to this chance. It is their first chance at a conference championship, and they are prepared to shoot the works in their attempt to win it. A championship will be no new thing for the Huskers, but it will be no less coveted for this reason. With two hard games remaining on their schedule, Nebraska must take this game in her stride.

Teams on Edge. Both teams are set. Both coaches, Dana X. Bible of Nebraska and George F. Veenker of Iowa State will have all of their material at their disposal. Both teams have been given light workouts all of this week, injuries have been given time to heal and no eleven will enter the field handicapped in any way.

Coach Bible will put his strongest eleven on the field Saturday. Lewis Brown will probably get the call at the quarterback position because of his work at Manhattan last Saturday against the Aggies. Kreizinger, Masterson and Sauer are men likely to make up the remainder of the backfield. In the line, Ely will probably start at center, Justice and Koster at the guard positions, Rhea and Gilbert, tackles; and Joy and Durkee, ends.

Nelson Out. Clarence Nelson will captain the Huskers against Iowa State. An injury will keep Nelson out of actual play, but he will toss the coin at the start of the game.

BRYAN ESSAY PRIZE OFFERED THIS YEAR

Political Science Award Will Be Given for Article.

Competition for the annual Bryan prize essay contest has been reopened again this year, according to an announcement made recently by the political science department. A twenty-five dollar prize is given to the student writing the best essay on chosen subjects.

The contest is made possible by a sum of money left to the university several years ago by the late William Jennings Bryan, former representative from Nebraska and several times candidate for the presidency. He expressed the hope that the contest would promote an active interest in the study of political science.

The contest is open to all students in the college of arts and sciences who have taken courses in political science. The essay, which is not to exceed four thousand words, is due on Friday, November 27.

Miss Catherine Dunn of the sociology department spoke before a meeting of Kappa Phi, Methodist girls' club, Thursday evening at the Wesley Foundation parsonage. Miss Dunn told of social work being done in Lincoln and advised the girls as to preparation requisite to social work. An informal discussion followed the talk.

Jane Forney gave a vocal solo, and Rachel Baker led the devotional portion of the meeting. Eileen Moore presided at the meeting.

Pointing to the necessity for the United States to assume its original place as leader of world affairs, Dr. F. M. Fling, professor of European history yesterday discussed the Manchurian situation as the immediate menace to world peace at a noon meeting of the Lions club at the chamber of commerce.

He described the system existing in China today and explained the significance it holds for the rest of the world powers. Manchuria, according to Dr. Fling, is infested with bandit gangs that make it necessary for Japan to interfere to protect its interests. Dean Ferguson, Chairman Nebraska Section Hoover Committee, Tells Of Plans to Mitigate Depression

By DICK MORAN.

"An intimate study of local conditions all over the state will be made by the state engineer's committee on unemployment," Dean O. J. Ferguson of the college of engineering said in an interview yesterday afternoon. Mr. Ferguson was recently appointed chairman of the Nebraska committee of the American Engineering council. That organization is to work with the national committee on unemployment relief.

"The engineering council will enlist the aid of more than 100,000 engineers from all parts of the country to increase and stabilize employment from all parts of the country and to prevent adoption of unwise legislation. The council will co-operate with the national organization for the relief of unemployment, of which Mr. Walter Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, is chairman. The committee was authorized and appointed by President Hoover.

Co-Ordinate Activities. "We will co-ordinate with the national committee as far as it is feasible, but the plan is to have as much of our work done locally as is practicable," Mr. Ferguson (Continued on Page 3.)
