

WESLEYAN TAKES 'B' BASKETEERS IN CLOSE GAME

Methodists Triumph 26-24 In Second Squad's First Tilt.

TEAM WORK IS RAGGED

Winners Score First and Lead at Half-Time, 16 to 9.

BY OLIVER DEWOLF.

The Nebraska "B" basketball team lost its first game of the season to Nebraska Wesleyan by a close score of 26 to 24, Tuesday night in the Wesleyan gym. Both teams were somewhat ragged on offense and defense, with Wesleyan displaying a little better team work, and smoother floor-work.

Wesleyan took the lead in the first minutes of play when Parker hit the hoop for two points. Levinson of the Nebraska "B" squad followed with a gift counter, and it was followed by a basket by Letts. Parker of Wesleyan tied the score at 3 all with a gift shot. Levinson scored two baskets in quick succession to put Nebraska in the lead. Gibb scored for Wesleyan, and Letts dropped in two free throws for Nebraska. Parker and Gibb followed with two free throws for Wesleyan, and Max Barrett tied the score at 9 all with a field goal. From that time Wesleyan held the lead.

Barrett developed a hot streak for the remainder of the first half and boosted Wesleyan's total to 16 with three field goals and a gift shot. All of Barrett's were set-ups close in under the basket. Nebraska failed to tally and the half ended with Wesleyan on the long end of a 16 to 9 score.

Norton Opens Second.

Norton, "B" team center, opened the second half with a follow thru shot. Fellers of Wesleyan sank a free counter, and Norton again hit the basket for two points. Gibb of Wesleyan countered with a field goal. Boswell of Nebraska caught the Wesleyan guards flat footed and dribbled in under the basket for a setup. Scheinost boosted Nebraska's total to 17 with a side shot. Burke of Wesleyan snagged a nice overhead shot, bringing the Methodists' total to 21. Norton bagged a gift shot, and Fellers of Wesleyan counted with one a minute later. M. Smith, Wesleyan center, found the hoop for two points. Crum, B team forward, broke thru for a nice side shot, and Fellers ended the Wesleyan scoring with an under the basket shot. Yordy scored a nice under the basket goal but missed his free throw on a foul during the same play. Crum sank two gifts and Wesleyan stalled the remaining half minute to end the game.

For Nebraska Norton, center, played a nice floor game, and sank two field goals and a gift to tie Levinson for Nebraska scoring honors. Levinson's play was outstanding during the opening moments of the game, and Letts, guard, showed plenty of stuff during the entire fracas. The game was rough thruout with ten fouls being called on Nebraska and six on Wesleyan. The boxscore:

Nebraska's first half exhibition against Carleton Monday night was a sorry exhibition of basketball, due probably to the fact that Coach Black has been forced to shift his combinations around due to injuries to members of the squad. The second half was much better, the Huskers showing their superiority in blocking and other football tactics. It was a game that kept most of the crowd on their feet the last half, however, and as long as Nebraska displays the fight throughout the season that it has so far, there will be little kick coming from the fans.

John Bentley in his "I May Be Wrong" column calls attention to my statement in The Nebraskan that Koster was ousted on five personal fouls. Naturally, it only takes four, but I will call on Gregg McBride for my proof for the statement. Both Gregg and I in compiling our figures had five personal fouls for Koster. Of course, when he came to the fourth one, it was hardly for us to say anything to the officials since there is a very good chance that we were wrong. One of the officials Monday night spent most of his time directly in front of me so there is little to say if anything is wrong. Bentley very graciously neglected to point out one more serious error that I made in the story. I said that Nebraska lost her fifth straight game when in reality it was the sixth. Thanks a lot, John.

WALTER HENRION

ONE OF NEBRASKA'S SOPHOMORE SHARPshootERS!

-VERY CLEVER AT HANDLING THE BALL, AND A GOOD FLOOR MAN!

Walt Henrion, tall, rangy, and an accurate shot, is one of the most finished players on the Nebraska cage squad this year. Henrion is a former Wichita university star, having played a year there before donning the Scarlet.

He is a fine floor man and a clever passer. He has the reach and height and Black has been using him at both the center and forward positions thus far this season. With luck on his side he should be one of the outstanding cagesters in the Big Six this season.

He has another year of varsity competition after this one. Thus far this season he is leader of the Husker scorers with a total of 25 points.

The re-appointment of Coach Dana X. Bible as co-coach of the West grid squad for the 1932 season was announced on Tuesday. Coach Bible is becoming recognized more and more over the country for his ability as a grid mentor. His re-appointment as coach for this annual charity game and his appointment as a member of the national football rules committee and as an official in the Football Coaches' association is proof for this statement. Unless I miss my guess, Coach Bible will raise the Cornhuskers back to their former high standing before his contract runs out at the end of five years.

Bib Six basketball seems to be running a poor second to the type of play in the Rocky Mountain conference. Kansas, last year's conference champions, lost the first of their three game series with the University of Colorado. Kansas is the best this conference has to offer this year in basketball, while out in the west it is generally conceded that Colorado Teachers and Wyoming have better teams than C. U. Nebraska lost to Brigham Young and that team isn't even conceded a chance in that conference.

Wyoming, under the tutelage of Dutch Witte, former Nebraska star, is going great guns in basketball. They have one of the fastest scoring teams in the country, one that will compare favorably with

DRAKE COACH PLACES FIVE IRISH ON TEAM

Shows Respect for Notre Dame; Includes One Husker.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 2.—A wholesome respect for Notre Dame is shown by William G. Boelter, assistant Drake university football coach, in his selection of five Irish gridders on his first all-star team made up of players from eleven schools he watched during the season.

Boelter is the chief Drake scout and saw sixteen major contests during the year. He also witnessed the Kansas Aggies in a workout on the Drake field.

Northwestern placed two men on the first team, Nebraska, Kansas Aggies, Grinnell and Fordham one each.

Boelter saw the following teams in action: Simpson, Iowa State, Creighton, Baker, Wyoming, Notre Dame, Northwestern, Drake, Fordham, Boston, Missouri, Colorado, Grinnell, St. Louis, Centre, Washington, Nebraska, Marquette, Washington and Jefferson, Kansas Aggies.

His all-star teams are:

- First Team.
End—Kosky, Notre Dame.
End—Gronkite, Kansas Aggies.
Tackle—Marvill, Northwestern.

STEVE HOKUF IS INJURED

Back Slightly Hurt in Car Accident Monday; Other Occupants Unharmd.

Steve Hokuf, junior in teachers college, suffered slight back injuries when the car in which he was riding collided with a machine driven by Leonard Luedtke, Lincoln. The accident occurred early Monday morning at 18th and O streets.

Hokuf was taken to the Lincoln General hospital where Dr. W. C. Becker and Dr. J. E. M. Thompson attended him. His injuries were not reported as serious, and he will be released from the hospital soon. George Sauer and Robert Raugh, members of Delta Tau Delta with whom Hokuf was riding, escaped without injury.

Snow Plows Replace Regular Variety to Clear Campus Paths

By LAURENCE HALL.
That Nebraska is really nothing but a small midwestern farmer's college would seem to be the conclusion toward which the frequent use of plows on the campus points. Not long ago the "drill field" (already relegated to the past, thus requiring quotation marks as something we hope, dead and gone) north of Social Sciences building was a scene of undoubted agricultural activity. There were plows, and cultivators, and horses, and everything that goes with them. In view of the educational environment, it was most appropriate that the ground be cultivated, and it was, thoroughly and at length.

Since then the fever has spread. Horses and wagons were employed in the tearing up and putting down of sidewalks activity which for so long kept the campus looking so much like a battle front, with trenches where the old sidewalks had been, and fortifications where the piled blocks of cement stolidly stood.

And now the snow has again given the campus mule skinner a chance to show their ability, this time with their prancing chargers hitched to a plow-like contraption which, theoretically, keeps the walks passable.

It is indeed inspiring (and alliterative) to watch the novel contraption bearing majestically down a lane of sidewalk, removing the accumulated snow from it. But it is not without a good deal of profane ejaculation on the part of the drivers that all this is accomplished. This is necessary, though, to keep the plow going straight and true, and to urge the steeds onward, just like on a real farm. Yes, it's an agricultural place, this school of ours, and attempts to prove otherwise will have to include an explanation of the numerous farm activities which go on at this seat of sophistication. The list would not be complete, of course, without mention of the now famous ticket (?) booth once in front of the east stadium. (Courtesy of the Awgwan.)
