PRICE FIVE CENTS

CONTRACT IS LET FOR ADDITION TO NURSES BUILDING

Peter Kiewitz Sons Awarded $60,000 Construction Job in Omaha.

PROGRAM PROGRESSING

Other Projects Continued As Improvement Plan Advances.

Contract for a $60,000 addition to the nurses home at the medical college in Omaha was let yesterday to Peter Kiewitz Sons Construction company, according to L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent of the university. Work on the construction will begin immediately.

Minor contracts for the addition to the nurses home were let as follows: Electrical contract, Geindorf company; plumbing and heating, Hannigan company.

The new buildings of the university now under actual construction are the girls dormitory on 16th street, a $25,000 addition to the Omaha heating plant, two cottages at North Platte costing $15,000, and a new shop at Curtis which will cost approximately $20,000.

Construction of the new girls dormitory by E. Rokahr and Sons has been impeded by the recent snowfall and very little work has been done in the last three weeks. Work will be continued soon if weather permits, it was stated yesterday.

Work at North Platte.

The two cottages which are being built at North Platte are to be used as permanent homes for foremen who are employed at the university experiment station there. $15,000 was appropriated (Continued on Page 3.)

KOSMET KLUB PLAY DEADLINE SATURDAY

Authors Must Turn in Work by Saturday Noon, Says Devereaux.

MUST FILL VACANCIES

With the deadline for Kosmet Klub spring show manuscript set for Saturday noon, Dick Devereaux, president, announced yesterday that only two plays have been turned in to him. He expects at least five or six more plays before deadline is reached, however.

Judges for the contest include Cyril Coombs, instructor in the political science department and author of previous Kosmet Klub shows, Professor E. F. Schramm, Klub advisor, and a committee from Kosmet Klub. The winner of the $50 first prize will be announced in about two weeks.

Two new members will be elected to Kosmet Klub at its meeting next Tuesday to fill vacancies caused by the graduation of LeRoy Jack, Tekamah, and Wallace Frankfurt, West Point, who will not be back in school the second semester.

Edwin Faulkner, business manager of Kosmet Klub, reports that he has been in correspondence with twenty Nebraska towns in regard to bookings for the Klub's spring road trip. Four of this number are considered likely prospects, according to Faulkner.

M'GIMSEY ANNOUNCES RIFLE MEET TONIGHT

Prospects Bright for Good Season With 40 Men Reporting.

Sergeant C. F. McGimsey is calling a meeting of all men who have been out for the rifle team to be held at 5 o'clock tonight. Over forty men have been coming out consistently with prospects for the best team since 1929 according to Capt. H. Y. Lyon, team coach. The meeting will be held on the range with team Capt. Joe F. DeKlotz in charge.

A match was held recently on the range between four ten men teams being won by a team captained by Tom Huddleston, veteran letterman. High individual score was fired by Ted Burgess for first place medal. Second place went to Howard Mixson and third to Kenneth Majors. McAllister was awarded a medal for his high standing score.

The following men have been selected as the rifle team squad from which the two R. O. T. C. teams and the varsity will be chosen: Deklotz, captain, Jewett, manager, Wertman, Dwyer, McAllister, Himes, Schultz, Nicholson, Pirie, Majors, Smith, Kroger, J. B. Douglas, Weller, Turner, Dier, Husted, Metzger, Marty Anderson, E. A. Anderson, Feishman, Isaacson, Davison, Rolfe, Funk, Albert, Leffler, Lanquist, R. B. Douglas, Taylor, Eberly, Burgess, Dann, Barrett, Mueller, Letson, Letson and Carns.

ENGINEERS ELECT OFFICERS

A. I. E. E. Names Heads; Belda, Ferguson Address Meeting.

Officers were elected by the student branch American Institute of Electrical Engineers at its dinner meeting last night at the Annex Cafe, and Dean O. J. Ferguson and James Belda, Omaha, addressed the group.

New officers are: president, Walter Ely, Astoria; vice-president, John Hutchings, Falls City; secretary-treasurer, Arnold L. Coffin, Fairbury. Phil Ehrenhard, Ashland, has been president of the organization for the past year.

Prizes of two slide rules for the men who arranged the best program next year were announced. Dean Ferguson is a member of President Hoover's engineers committee to aid in economic reconstruction. Belda, senior in electrical engineering is a member of Omega Phi Sigma fraternity and past vice president of his class.

COUNCIL GRANTS PERMIT TO HOLD LEAP YEAR FETE

Mortar Board Gets Student Legislature's Consent to Novel Party.

With the permission of Student council granted last night in favorably passing the petition of Mortar Board for the Leap Year party, the last stumbling block in the way of securing complete sanction for the affair was removed, and members of the honor society continued enthusiastic planning to make for the success of the innovation.

Permission had been previously secured from the faculty committee on student affairs subject to the approval of Student council which must pass on all parties scheduled for the entire student body. With the co-operation evinced by the Interfraternity council Tuesday night in granting the petition that the night, Feb. 20, be closed to house parties, it is evident that the campus intends giving the idea its undivided support. A similar favorable resolution was passed earlier by the Panhellenic council.

The sales campaign under the direct supervision of Tassels, girl's pep club, and the chairmanship of Julienne Deetken, president of Tassels and member of Motar Board, was begun yesterday. Tickets to the affair sell for one dollar.

HILL URGES ENTERING WORLD COURT BY U. S.

Political Science Teacher Speaks Wednesday at World Forum.

TALK SECOND OF SERIES

"The advantages of the United States' entrance into the World Court far outweigh any disadvantages which might accrue," stated Prof. N. L. Hill at a gathering of twenty-five at the weekly World Forum luncheon in the Grand hotel Wednesday noon.

The chief beneficial effect to be gained by entrance into the court at this time is the added prestige it will lend to the United States delegates to the Geneva disarmament conference in February.

Hill discussed the indirect association which the United States has had with the court ever since its birth about ten years ago, such as the provision of the building in which the court holds its sessions, given by the Carnegie foundation. In an effort to encourage American good will toward the court, a citizen of the United States has always been included in the council of judges.

In explaining the excuses offered by the United States senate, Professor Hill showed how each of these objections were met in the formula drawn up by Elihu Root, granting special privileges to the United States if she entered the court.

This formula, known as the Root Protocols, provided, among other exemptions, that the United States should have the right to prevent the court from making any advisory decisions on any controversies in which she claimed an interest. Despite the obvious unfairness of these privileges, according to Professor Hill, the World Court feels that the entrance of the United States into that body would add enough power and prestige to its standing that it can even afford to grant such extravagant demands.

Entrance of the United States into the court was expected in December, when President Hoover, early in that month, advised favorable action in his message to congress. However, owing to the pressure of domestic affairs, such action was postponed, and may not be taken up again for one or two months.

Professor Hill's discussion closes the present series concerning the World Court, and the relation of the United States to it. World Forum meetings will be continued after the beginning of next semester, at the usual time, Wednesday noon, in the Grand hotel.

YEARBOOK GREEK SECTION CLOSED REPORTS EDITOR

Student Appointments Made Before Wednesday to Be Kept.

CLASS DIVISIONS OPEN

Cornhusker Junior-Senior Positions Available Until Saturday.

The dead-line for fraternity-sorority pictures in the 1932 Cornhusker definitely went into effect Wednesday. Hauck's and Townsend's studios understand that no further appointments will be made. Those appointments, however, that were made before Wednesday will be kept if they were for any day this week, Editor Otis Detrick said yesterday.

Students who wish to use pictures in the 1932 Cornhusker that were in the fraternity-sorority section of last year's annual may make arrangements to do so this week. According to Detrick the fraternity-sorority section of the year-book will be closed to all pictures Saturday.

The Junior-Senior section will remain open for the rest of the week, contrary to the statement in Wednesday's Daily Nebraskan. The deadline for that section will depend on the number of pictures received by the Cornhusker staff. As soon as the desired number is received, no more pictures will be accepted. The final date will not be known until the day it goes into effect.

Russell Mousel, business manager, wishes to remind students that the third installments on the annual are due the 15th. Many students have not paid the second installment, including the payment due Jan. 15, three dollars should have been paid. Those who have not paid this amount are requested to call at the Cornhusker this week and settle their accounts.

ROBINSON NAMES MONDAY RELEASE DATE FOR COMIC

January Awgwan, Fraternity And Sorority Special, Goes to Press.

RUSH PLAN SUGGESTED

Publication Would Replace Complications With New Method.

Awgwan's "fraternity and sorority special," featuring "How to Pick Your Fraternity," will be delivered to its subscribers and go on street sales Monday morning, Marvin Robinson, editor, announced yesterday.

Altho January's issue of the university's official humor magazine was scheduled to be off the press and delivered Jan. 15, staff members found it impossible to meet this deadline because material was delayed since Christmas vacation cut in on this month's issue. Changes made in the general plan of this issue also necessitated extra time.

New Plan Simple. "How to Pick Your Fraternity," authors unannounced, is a potent, instructive, and entertaining article which reduces to a minimum and practically eliminates all the perplexing rushing problems, evi-

STUDENTS MAY SEEK ATHLETIC BOARD MEMBER

Investigation Possibility Is Approved by Council Wednesday.

REPORT IS PRESENTED

Three Delegates to Toledo Conference Submit Document.

Recommendation for investigation of the feasibility of securing student representation on the athletic board of control was made in the report of the delegates to the National Student Federation association convention, held in Toledo, O., on Dec. 21-31 under the auspices of the University of Toledo, to the Student Council last night. Nebraska was represented at the meeting by Edwin Faulkner, president of the council, Julia Simanek, secretary, and Prof. E. W. Lantz, faculty adviser to the council.

The seventh annual congress of the N. S. F. A. was attended by 235 delegates from more than 165 colleges and universities in all parts of the country. The meeting was taken up with discussions of problems and conditions common to all student government organizations.

The recommendation to investigate the possibility to secure student representation on the athletic board was made by the delegates, who found that most of the schools represented at the convention had some form of representation on the athletic boards of control in their respective schools.

Another recommendation included in the report suggested an informal meeting of presidents of student governing organizations of schools near Nebraska to discuss common problems and interests. Immediately acting upon this suggestion the president to invite the presidents of student governing bodies of Big Six schools to come (Continued on Page 2.)

DR. BENGTSON PUBLISHES

Geographer Writes Article For Current Issue of Magazine.

Dr. Nels A. Bengtson, chairman of the department of geography, has written an article for the geography edition of the magazine, Education, appearing this month. The title of the article is "College Geography."

It presents the growth of geography as a college subject in American institutions of higher learning and shows how geography is developing its scientific aspects in a thorough and comprehensive manner.

THETA NU TAPS MEMBERS

Pre-Med Group Gives Dinner Wednesday Night; New Officers Chosen.

The regular meeting and banquet of Theta Nu, pre-med organization was held at the Grand hotel last night. Dr. J. Stanley Welch, Lincoln physician, was the principal speaker of the evening. New members to Theta Nu, honorary pre-med society, were tapped at the meeting and new officers of the society were elected.

According to Dr. Mantor, of the faculty, the new officers elected last night are: Edward Zeman, president; John Milligan, vice-president; and George Armitage, secretary-treasurer.

Five men were tapped by Theta Nu. They are: Potter, Holmes, Karer and Moulting. Zeman and Milligan are juniors in the college of arts and sciences, both of Scribner. Armitage is a sophomore of Murry, Ia.

HARPER REPORTS 20 FRATERNITIES RULE VIOLATORS

Schramm Is Told 57 Men Initiated Without Approval.

In a letter to Prof. E. F. Schramm, faculty adviser to the Interfraternity council, assistant dean of student affairs, W. C. Harper, told of the initiation by twenty fraternities on the campus of fifty-seven men during the past year and a half without the proper permission.

Dean Harper said that it is not known that these men were not eligible for initiation at the time they were initiated. His letter said only that these men had not been approved by the proper authorities before they were initiated by the fraternities.

According to Marvin Von Seggern, president of the Interfraternity council, the scholarship committee of the council will investigate these fifty-seven cases and later report to the council. Later the judiciary committee will handle the cases.

Ralph Spencer, chairman of the Interfraternity council scholarship committee, made the following statement yesterday regarding the situation:

"In view of the fact that there were some twenty fraternities who violated the initiation rules last year, it is only fair that some elucidation be made upon (Continued on Page 2.)

ALL-REQUEST DANCE ANNOUNCED FOR BALL

Students Asked to Send In Numbers to Chairman Graham.

FIRST DAY SALE HEAVY

An all request dance program for the Interfraternity ball in the Cornhusker hotel Friday, Feb. 6, was announced yesterday by Charles Skade, in charge of music for the event. A heavy first day ticket sale was reported yesterday by Charles Skade who opened his campaign in fraternity houses and at both book stores Wednesday.

"Since two bands have been engaged for the ball," Graham said, "the plan for an all request program will be practical. For the benefit of those who have misunderstood the announced plans I wish to make plain that the bands will not be combined. One will be placed at one end of the dance floor and one at the other. They will play alternately."

Requests for numbers on the program should be sent to Graham at the Cornhusker yearbook office in University hall, he explained. They will be used in the order received until the program is filled, he added.

Altho no definite check was available, both book stores reported many tickets sold while Interfraternity council members said tickets were going rapidly in their houses, Skade reported. He expects a quick sell-out of the available tickets and warned against students delaying their purchases, since sales will be limited to the capacity of the ballroom.

TWELVE JUNIORS NAMED TO POSTS FOR CLASS PROM

Six Men, Six Women Chosen By Council to Plan Final Formal.

WILL ELECT CHAIRMAN

Group Will Meet Soon to Select Head and Decide Date.

Twelve juniors, six men and six women were elected to the Junior-Senior Prom committee at the meeting of the Student council last night. The council voted on twenty-seven students to pick the committee which will make arrangements for the closing event of the formal season.

The members of the prom committee are: Jack Thompson, Howard Alloway, Irving Walker, William Devereaux, Arthur Pinkerton, Charles Skade, Mary Alice Kelley, Gertrude Clarke, Jane Robertson, Jane Axtell, Mary Sutton and Eleanor Dixon. Phil Brownell, the president of the junior class, will act as a member ex officio of the committee.

The committee will meet soon to make arrangements for the prom, which will probably be held late next month. Members of the committee will elect a chairman from one of those in the group and proceed with the plans.

Jack Thompson, Lincoln, is a junior in the college of arts and science and a member of Phi Kappa Psi. Howard Alloway, Homer, a junior in the school of journalism and a member of Sigma Phi Sigma. Irving Walker, Waverly, is a junior in engineering college and a member of Alpha Gamma Rho. William Devereaux, Omaha, is a freshman in Law college and a member of Alpha Tau Omega. JUNIOR STOCK TEAM LEAVES FOR DENVER

Ag Men Have Two Legs on Permanent Holding Of Trophy.

THIRD VICTORY NEEDED

The University of Nebraska junior livestock judging team left Lincoln Wednesday evening for Denver where they compete in the annual collegiate judging contest held Saturday in connection with the Western Livestock show. Prof. M. A. Alexander of the animal husbandry department, the team coach, accompanied the squad.

Members of the junior team making the trip included Laverne Gengrich, Fairfield; Wayne Bishop, Glen LeDoigt, North Platte; Vernon Miller, Allison; Reuben Hecht, Curtis; and Floyd Hedlund, Chappell. Prof. Alexander expected to have his team work out somewhere in Colorado before competing in the contest Saturday. If the Nebraska team wins first this year, they will gain permanent possession of the collegiate judging trophy. Kansas, however, has won two legs on the cup as has Nebraska and also needs but a victory this year to get permanent possession.

MANY ARTISTS WILL SHOW AT EXHIBITION

Nebraska Art Association Lists Displays for Morrill Hall.

Many artists have announced their intention of showing paintings at the annual exhibition of paintings of the Nebraska Art association in Morrill hall, Feb. 11 to March 13, according to trustees of the association.

The list of exhibitors, which includes representatives of practically every contemporary school is the result of personal invitations sent to the artists themselves, and is not the usual type of exhibit assembled by some art center and sent out on a "grand tour" without regard to the tastes and interests of the community to which the group might be sent, state the trustees.

An artist which is of special interest to art lovers of Nebraska is Miss Hildreth Meire. She is the creator of the cartoons for the tile vaults and ceilings in the north vestibule, the foyer, the rotunda and the senate chamber of the new state capitol, in addition to cartoons for the marble mosaic panels in the main floor.

Magonigle Contributes. Dr. H. Van Buren Magonigle, another contributor, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Architecture, the first given in this country, at the last commencement of the University of Nebraska. In addition to his architectural work, represented in this part of the country by the Liberty Memorial in Kansas City and the Plymouth Congregational (Continued on Page 4.)
