SIGMA XI MEETS WITH PHI BETA KAPPA TONIGHT

Dunham Jackson Scheduled As Main Speaker at Joint Session.

DINNER OPENS PROGRAM

Public Invited to Lecture On Development of Science.

Dr. Dunham Jackson, chairman of the department of mathematics at the University of Minnesota, has been secured as the principal speaker for the annual joint meeting Friday evening of the local chapters of Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa, according to an announcement made by Dr. Elda R. Walker, president of the local chapter of Sigma Xi.

The program will consist of a dinner in Dr. Jackson's honor to begin at 6:15 p. m. in the University club. At 8 p. m. the meeting will adjourn to the Temple theater where Dr. Jackson will discuss the subject, "From Pythagoras to Modern Science." It is a non-technical lecture, open to everyone interested in hearing the subject.

Dr. Jackson, a former president of the Mathematical Association of America, is a 1908 graduate of Harvard university. He received his Ph. D. at Gottingen university in Hanover in 1911. From 1911 until 1919 he was a member of the faculty of Harvard university.

On leave of absence, 1917-1918, he served as a captain in the ordnance department of the United States army, where his work consisted of developing long range shells. Since 1919 he has been associated with the University of Minnesota.

Edits Magazine.
As editor of the publication, Transaction, Dr. Jackson has just completed a term of six years. He is the author of the book, "Colloquium on the Theory of Approximations," on which subject he is an outstanding authority. He is a member of both Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa, having served as president of the Minnesota chapter of Sigma Xi last year and as president of Phi Beta Kappa there this year.

More than 200 attended the joint meeting of the two societies last year and an equal number are expected to be present at the dinner in Dr. Jackson's honor this year. With arrangements complete for the lecture at the Temple theater and the public invited, the committee anticipates a capacity audience.

The two organizations share the expense of the meetings and alternate from year to year in assuming the responsibility for the arrangements. Last year Phi Beta Kappa was host, while this year Sigma Xi will be the sponsor.

Dr. Walker invites all the executive committee of Sigma Xi, which is in charge of the arrangements, consists of Dr. Elda Walker, president; Dr. D. C. Hendricks, vice president; Dr. Emma N. Anderson, secretary; Dr. M. G. Gaba, treasurer; and Dr. J. E. Weaver, councillor. Dr. A. R. Congdon, president of Phi Beta Kappa met with the executive committee when they approved the final arrangements.

"The primary purpose of these meetings," Dr. Walker stated, "is to bring a noted lecturer to appear before the university public. For this reason everyone is especially invited."

Teacher Says Students Try To Be Morons

It seems to be popular for students to pretend to be morons, according to instructors in the psychology department who are administering intelligence tests to students in beginning psychology classes. Results of the tests are used in the department to aid students in finding their proper field of work, but for some reason the word seems to have been spread around that if one receives a high intelligence quotient, he will be expected to do an unusual amount of work.

As a result, so the professors claim, some of the sorority upperclassmen, in particular, have been advising their more inexperienced sisters to make a low mark on the exam in order that they won't be obliged to work too hard in the course.

The test which is given each semester to students in the department is known as the Army Alpha Test which was prepared particularly for testing army officers. It presents a number of different kinds of exercises to work out which are designed to reveal an individual's aptitude in various fields of work.

According to W. E. Walton, instructor in the department, the notion that students who get a high score will be overworked is absurd. The only way the tests will be used in connection with the student's work, he claims, is to help the student. Obviously, however, he says, if some student with a high quotient is not getting the work, he may be suspected of sluffing.

When students at Baylor University, Waco, Tex., buy subscriptions to their yearbook they are allowed to cast votes for the most popular coed in proportion to their payment. The contest was prolonged into an extra period when there was a tie for first place.

Business Manager.

GLEN LEDOYT, Of Wakefield, student in the college of agriculture, who has been named business manager of the Cornhusker Countryman for the current semester. He is a member of Farm House fraternity.

KOSMET KLUB PLAY WILL BE SELECTED

Announcement of Winning Comedy to Be Made By Committee.

WILL START PRACTICES

The Kosmet Klub play for 1932 is being chosen from a group of three manuscripts which are being read by the selection committee. The final choice will probably be made Sunday and work on the play that is selected will begin immediately.

The committee that is deciding the play is composed of Cyril Coombs, graduate student in the department of political science and former member of the Klub, Prof. E. F. Schramm, faculty adviser, and Edwin Faulkner and Dick Devereaux, present members of the organization. Coombs wrote the plays that were produced by the Klub in 1923, 1924 and 1925.

As soon as the musical comedy is selected a director will be picked and the music will be called for and arranged. The cast for this year's production will be chosen as soon as possible after the play has definitely been decided.

The Kosmet Klub is seeking permission from the faculty committee on student affairs for an extended road trip this spring which will include the larger towns of the state. Negotiations are being made with Omaha, Hastings, Norfolk, Nebraska City, McCook, North Platte, Grand Island, Fremont, Columbus, Kearney, and other large towns through the state.

April 14 has been set as a tentative date for the opening performance of the 1932 play in Lincoln. It has not been decided where the Kosmet Klub will hold the spring show which will be produced with (Continued on Page 3.)

PETITIONS FOR HER ESTATE

Lenevieve Boyd Files Claim For an Accounting of Her Property.

A petition has been filed in the Douglas county court by Miss Lenevieve Boyd, member of Phi Beta Phi sorority, for an accounting of her property held by her guardian, D. M. Murphy, and asking that this property, estimated at more than 30 thousand dollars, be turned over to her.

Miss Boyd became 21 years old last December 6, and about that time a petition was filed in county court for a continuance of the guardianship on the grounds that she was not yet capable of managing the estate, left her by her father, a former Oxford, Neb., banker.

SORENSEN COMES OUT FOR STATE POLICE IN TALK

Attorney-General Speaks at Pi Sigma Alpha Meet Thursday.

ATTACKS PRESENT PLAN

Political Science Group Hears Theorizing on Enforcement.

"Statistics from some of the larger cities in the country indicate that there are only nine prosecutions for every 100 felonies reported," declared Attorney-General C. A. Sorenson, Thursday evening in an address before Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity at the Lincoln hotel.

"The big problem today," asserted Mr. Sorenson, "is the apprehension of the criminal much more than the conviction of him once he is caught."
Mr. Sorenson discussed a number of theoretical problems of law enforcement and recommended several improvements which he believes should be made in Nebraska to aid in the methods of criminal apprehension. In Nebraska, he claimed, it is seldom that a criminal who is caught is released on account of legal technicalities. It is the system of catching them which he believes needs improvement.

A state police force of at least 100 patrolmen is the chief proposal which the attorney-general suggested. These patrolmen, he believes, should operate in motor vehicles equipped with radio receiving sets controlled from state headquarters on a short wave length system.

This plan which has worked successfully in a number of states and metropolitan areas allows the state headquarters to get in touch with the cruising patrolmen immediately upon receipt of the report of a crime. Officers nearest the scene of the crime are able to arrive in time to be of real assistance.

Advocates Training.

FOSSLER ENDORSES SINCLAIR FOR PRIZE

Professor Advocates Upton Sinclair for Nobel Contest Award.

Dr. Laurence Fossler, professor of Germanic languages on this campus has endorsed the candidacy of Upton Sinclair, author of "Boston," "The Brass Check," and other books, for the Nobel Prize for literature.

Dr. Fossler's signature to a statement of recommendation of Sinclair was one of 770 from "Teachers of esthetic literature and history at university colleges" in fifty-five countries of the world and all the states of the United States.

Terms of the Nobel bequest provide that the award shall be made "to one who has produced in the field of literature the most distinguished work of idealistic tendency," according to a report from the committee endorsing Sinclair's candidacy. The recommendation which Dr. Fossler, along with the 770 other endorsers signed, says in part:

"For thirty years Upton Sinclair has been making contributions to American literature which seem to us to come under this classification. He is the author of some forty volumes... and is unquestionably the most widely read of writers living today. His books... have profoundly affected the thinking of both the masses and the more alert portion of the cultured world. We consider his greatest novels, as 'The Jungle,' 'Love's Pilgrimage,' 'Oil,' 'Boston,' an outstanding achievement in the contemporary fiction of all lands, for their mastery of fact, for their social vision, for consistent, honest and courageous thinking, for humanitarian passion, for originality in the technique of presentation, and for vitality and sweep of creative art."

JENKS ARRIVES FOR REHEARSAL WITH PLAY CAST

"The Critic" Views Campus Authorities' Opinion About "Othello."

"APPEALS TO STUDENTS"

Players Set Final Practice Saturday; Production Opens Monday Eve.

BY THE CRITIC.
Dress rehearsal for the current University Players' production, "Othello," will be held Saturday night, Feb. 6, Hart Jenks, who is to play the title role, has arrived in Lincoln and is rehearsing nightly with the cast. The play will be produced for a week beginning Monday, Feb. 8.

In choosing to present "Othello," which is one of the most sweeping and tremendous of Shakespeare's tragedies as well as one of his most presentable plays, the University Players have again delved into the field of classical drama. In the seventeen years of their existence the Players have presented three Shakespearean dramas. In 1920 they produced "Twelfth Night," in 1926 they attempted one of their most difficult presentations, "Romeo and Juliet," and the 1929 season included "Hamlet," with Hart Jenks as the guest artist.

The Players are particularly fortunate in being able again to secure the services of Hart Jenks for the character of Othello. Mr. Jenks, who for three years has been playing Shakespeare with Walter Hampden on Broadway, is one of the foremost members of the Fritz-Leiber company of the Shakespearean society of Chicago, New York City, and Boston. That society having temporarily disbanded, he was able to return to play Othello with the University Players.

Play Appeals to Students.

MORE DROUTH AREA AID IS REQUESTED

Tax Commissioner Reveals Need for More Goods in Thursday Call.

Another call from the drouth district in northern Nebraska stating that food is being exhausted was revealed Thursday, information from State Tax Commissioner Smith revealed yesterday. Fears are still expressed of a goods shortage because donors have been responding only to recent calls for more feed for livestock.

Only one shipment out of a sixteen car consignment for the suffering area announced Thursday contained food and clothing. Need for more livestock food still exists, however, according to Herman Williams, who recently accompanied a car of grain from Elkhorn to Ewing and reported that farmers there are cutting brush to feed stock.

The consignment announced Thursday by Mr. Smith comes from the following points:
Wayne: Rolfe W. Lay states that the businessmen have purchased four additional car loads of hay which are to be shipped from Cozad.

Ravenna: S. W. Sampson writes that a car load of grain is being assembled by the Nebraska State Grange, to be loaded in part at Litchfield and part at Sweetwater.

Dawson: A car of grain and hay is being assembled by the Legion with John Smith in charge.

Douglas: The Douglas community is assembling a car of corn and oats, according to word from N. W. Dunlap.

Newman Grove: As a result of the activities of the Legion a car load of hay and a car load of straw have been purchased at Kearney for shipment to the drouth district.

Lindsay: Shipment of food and clothing has been assembled by the Legion with E. A. Peterson in charge, consignment weighing 502 pounds.

David City: W. J. Anderson of the Farmers Union oil company reports the purchase of a car load of hay which is being shipped from Lincoln.

Lexington: C. H. Gunn reports the shipment of two additional car loads of hay, and Albert A. Kilar reports like shipments, the latter consignments being loaded at Darr.

AG FUN FEST HEADS SCHEDULE 14 SKITS

Coll-Agri-Fun Plans All Arranged Manager Burton Says.

PRIZE WAITS BEST ACT

Final preparations for the annual Coll-Agri-Fun winter frolic to be held on the college of agriculture campus Feb. 12, have been completed. Manager, Glen Burton announced this morning. Fourteen acts have been scheduled for the evening. Seventeen were submitted and the committee in charge eliminated three.

Practically every organization on the college of agriculture campus has a skit entered in the winter festival. Manuscripts of all acts have been carefully scrutinized by the faculty censors who are co-operating with the students in the annual event.

Glenn Ledoyt, Farm House, is in charge of the ticket sales campaign and announced this morning that an active campaign will be carried on early next week. Reuben Hecht, Alpha Gamma Rho, is to master of ceremonies at the evening show. The curtain rises at eight o'clock.

Since $50 in prizes will be awarded the best skits, those entered are better than ever before, Manager Burton maintains. In past years the students have not been given any cash prizes for their performances and as a result interest in the event was slack.

In announcing that plans for the event have been completed, those in charge also announced that a complete dress rehearsal of all skits will be held in the student activities building Thursday night of next week at seven o'clock.

Hertzler and Morton Express Views Concerning Unemployment Situation; Say Result of Failure to Look Ahead

Two Nebraska university professors expressed themselves recently concerning the job situation and the methods necessary to alleviate or remedy the prevalent conditions of unemployment. Dr. J. O. Hertzler, head of the sociology department, suggests a means for preventing such a situation in the future, while Dr. W. H. S. Morton, in charge of teacher training proposes ways in which those without anything to do can make profitable use of their time.

The present period of depression and unemployment is a result of our own failure to look ahead and plan well, thinks Dr. Hertzler. The complex organization of industry, and the interdependence of all sections and communities in the United States make it necessary to abandon the outgrown system of "rugged individualism," he states.

"What we need to think about now is the next depression," says Dr. Hertzler. "Necessary work on public construction can be planned ahead of time, he believes and reserves can be built up in municipalities, states and in the nation, to loan to government construction agencies in times like the present, to take care of the huge number of unemployed by providing them with essential work to do."

Dr. Morton criticizes the apparent tendency of those who are jobless to ignore their opportunity to improve themselves by utilizing the time which hangs heavy on their hands. "While recognizing that being unemployed is not of desirable, Dr. Morton suggests that those who are in the unhappy

COMPLETE PLANS FOR GREEK BALL ARE ANNOUNCED

Decorations of Modernistic Motif Will Feature Saturday Fete.

BANDS WILL ALTERNATE

Skade Checks Ticket Sale; Plans to Sell at Ballroom Door.

Three hundred couples will dance to two popular fifteen piece Lincoln dance bands at the annual interfraternity ball, second major event of the Nebraska formal season, in the main ballroom of the Hotel Cornhusker Saturday night.

Complete arrangements, including decorations, music and entertainment have been announced by Norman Galleher, chairman of the ball committee.

Eddie Jungbluth and Leo Beck, each with his band augmented to fifteen pieces for the affair, will play alternately from opposite ends of the ballroom through the evening. Jungbluth's will be on the stage at the south end of the room, while Beck's will play from a special platform constructed at the side of the balcony at the north end of the floor.

Entertainers Booked.
The Kvam Sisters, singing trio, and Lyle DeMoss, crooner, will sing all during the dancing, while Harriet Cruise Kemmer will entertain during intermission period.

Ticket sales were checked by Charles Skade at 5 o'clock last night. He reported that approximately three hundred reservations have been made. Tickets will be available at the door Saturday night, he added.

Decorations will carry out a modernistic motif in sober green and black hangings. The wall hangings will be stepped up in strips to the center of each sidewall where a center piece will be placed. Around the entire room at the bottom of the hangings will be stencils of the names of the Greek houses on the campus.

Special food and spot lights will be used against the dark hangings to obtain special effects. Design for the decoration has been worked out by Norman Hoff, graduate of the university with the midyear class this year.

Chaperones Named.
Chaperones for the ball are Prof. E. F. Schramm, Professor and Mrs. C. J. Frankforter, Dean and Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Dean and Mrs. W. C. Harper, Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Colonel and Mrs. W. H. Oury, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Oldfather and Dean Amanda Heppner.

Committee in charge of all arrangements for the ball is headed by Norman Galleher, Bassett. Other members are: Jack Thompson, Lincoln, entertainment; Chalmers Graham, Hastings, orchestra; James Crabb, Red Cloud, chaperone; Charles Skade, Lexington, tickets; John Zehner, David City, decorations; Howard Allaway, Homer, publicity.

Three hundred couples attended the ball played last year in the Hotel Cornhusker by Benny Moten's fourteen piece colored orchestra from Kansas City. Decorations featured "fraternity row" with miniatures of all the Greek houses, not as they looked, but as they "ought to look." Last year's committee, headed by Marvin VonSegger, now president of the Interfraternity council, consisted of Robert Kincaid, Otis Detrick, Art Wolf, Richard Bell, Robert Verner and William Comstock.

One of the features planned for the ball is the request program arranged by the committee. Individuals and organizations on the campus have registered preferences with Chalmers Graham. Both orchestras will be prepared to render popular selections.

"Whether you have a job or are unemployed, make the most of your time," advises Dr. Morton. "Read widely, keep your mind active, and forge ahead."
