Phi Mu Will Entertain at Founders Day Banquet; House Parties Booked

Chi O's Announce Union Depot Hop at Chapter House; A.W.S. Board Tea Scheduled for Sunday; East Lincoln Faculty Club Banquet Friday.

New interest is aroused in the plans for the university week end by the addition to the social calendar of a founders day banquet to be given at the Cornhusker hotel Saturday night by Phi Mu, a union depot party at the Chi Omega house on the same evening, an Alpha Gamma Rho dance at the house and an East Lincoln Faculty club dinner at Ellen Smith hall, both of which occur Friday night, and an A. W. S. board tea which will be given Sunday at Ellen Smith hall.

Founders Day Banquet Is Planned by Phi Mu.

The Cornhusker hotel on Saturday night will be the scene of the annual founders day banquet of Phi Mu. A ship motif in black and white will be carried out in the decorations. The nautical theme will be used also in the toasts, with Miss Alyce M. Dermott, the active president, acting as captain, or toastmistress. The toast for the pledges will be "Sailors," given by Miss Eleanor Filley. The active toast, to be given by Miss Ruth Penney, will be on "Officers." The alumnae toast, which Mrs. Ed Weir will deliver, will be on the subject of "Art the Port." In charge of the banquet are the Misses Betty Sain and Ella Schacht.

Union Depot Party Is Chi O's Novelty.

The Chi Omega house will be transformed into semblance of a union depot Saturday night for the annual dance which the members of that sorority are planning to give. Information and ticket booths, a train-car, and trunks for the guests to sit on, will further the depot idea. About sixty couples will attend the dance, music for which will be furnished by Russell Holmes orchestra.

Engle and Professor and Mrs. Mark Weldon.

A. W. S. Board Tea Announced for Sunday.

DROUTH COUNTIES THANK STUDENTS FOR RECENT HELP

(Continued from Page 1.) chairman of the Orchard local relief committee, Tuesday notified the Daily Nebraskan that the consignment has been received. He explains the local relief organization in his letter which follows:

We wish to thank you good folks for the four boxes of clothing which you so kindly sent to us, thru State Tax Commissioner Smith. These arrived here Feb. 20, and were delivered to our Ladies Relief Organization today.

We have twenty women who have devoted their time every day to mending, repairing and making over donated clothing; they relined coats, put new seats in pants, and generally make cast off clothing wearable. This is then sorted and arranged on racks and tables where it is easily found as to size.

These women have made outright from old pieces of clothing more than 400 mittens; they have entirely clothed seventy-five entire families, and have many on the waiting list all the time. I mention this so you might get a fair idea of the amount which has been needed, and the large amount of effort put forth to do this.

We trust that you folks who have gone to the trouble of assembling the clothing sent to us will feel that you have done a worthwhile thing, and that your efforts are appreciated goes without saying, as many would have been entirely destitute without aid of this kind. Please accept the thanks of the entire community for the generous donation.

Respectfully,
DR. D. L. FLETCHER,
Chairman Local State Drouth Relief.

VESPERS HEAR HICKS TALK ON WASHINGTON

had right opinions on all problems that confronted him. He knew how to take advice from others, and was never content with his own private judgment. Hicks summarized Washington "He was a man of forceful character to be admired and respected by all. The main sidekick of the man is the reason for his attractiveness."

Louise Wallace was leader of Vespers. Special music was given by Marian Stamp. Marjorie Peterson made announcements concerning the "Nebraska in China" week which will begin Saturday.

Dueling, that popular sport of German universities still holds a strong place in the life of student groups. Recently courts upheld the right for university students to engage in friendly duels. To take the place of social fraternities, the German students have duelling corps.

WASHINGTON'S WORK DESCRIBED BY FLING

University Professor Main Speaker on Holiday Civic Program.

"There were three parts to Washington's work. There was the fight for independence, the creation of a constitution, and the successful application of the government therein." This was the description given to the contributions made to our country by Washington, by Prof. F. M. Fling before a Washington day luncheon at the chamber of commerce. "It is unusual for one man to play the entire role," he declared. "Lincoln played the role well during the struggle for unity, but he did not live to reorganize and cement the nation. Woodrow Wilson, when he went to Paris to form the League of Nations, accomplished one of the world's greatest deeds. Yet, Wilson died before he had the opportunity to put the machine into working order."

A letter written by Washington, scolding the proposed "kingship" of the United States, was read by Dr. Fling. "A mountain growing with years, snow capped while all of the valleys are still in shadows," was one of the phrases used in describing Washington.

Professor Fling referred to the present Sino-Japanese situation. "Do you suppose that Washington would do as we are doing?" he asked. "George Washington would first analyze the situation, obtain a clear view as to its significance to the United States and world history, then act. He had no general theory to be applied to every foreign situation."

Deploing the American attitude towards the oriental crisis and the attitude of non-combatants, Professor Fling compared the present situation with that of 1914 when signs of growing animosity appeared upon the European horizon.

PROFESSOR BAER DIES FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

front of the car which was stopped within five steps of where it struck the professor.

The faculty member had attended a dinner at the Scottish Rite temple celebrating Washington's birthday and was leaving the meeting when the accident occurred. The left front fender of McCormick's car struck Mr. Baer and threw him heavily to the pavement, the car driver said.

Possible injuries suffered by the professor included fractures of the skull, deep lacerations across the head and face, a crushed nose, and several fractures of the right clavicle according to Dr. J. C. Mungler, attending physician.

Castle, Roper and Matthews' ambulance took the injured man to the hospital. He never regained consciousness before his death at 2:15 Tuesday morning.

Witnesses to the accident, George Santo and Frank Dutton, both employees of the state capitol, estimated that McCormick's auto was not traveling at greater rate of speed than 20 miles per hour. Police headquarters detained McCormick until Deputy Young released him to appear at the county attorney's office Tuesday morning.

Alva Aldus Baer was born Dec. 22, 1867, near Delphi, Ind., where he attended rural and grade schools. In 1878 the family moved to Western, Kas., where he attended grade schools and later to Belleville, Kas., where he attended high school. He resided on a farm in Kansas and for two years he taught rural schools. He came to Lincoln in 1893 where he attended the university and engaged in the building trades a part of the time. In 1907 he was made instructor in woodwork and manual training at the agricultural college of the University of Nebraska. He graduated from the university in 1912 with an A. B. degree. He published a bulletin of manual of exercises on wood working in 1915, and in 1922 was given rank of assistant professor of agricultural engineering.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Theda M. Baer, Norfolk, and Miss Mildred Baer, living at the home; three brothers, Jacob S., of Lincoln; Francis M., and Charles E., of Salt Lake City; and three cousins, Miss Tina Baer, Lincoln; James N., Lincoln, and H. E. of Cortland. Professor Baer was a life member of Lancaster lodge of No. 54, A. F. & A. M., Scottish Rite, Shrine and Electa chapter No. 8 of the Eastern Star. He also served as worshipful master of the Lancaster lodge from 1922 to 1923. The body is at Hodgman's.
