

SPRING FOOTBALL TO START MARCH 7 IN HUSKERLAND

Bible Expects All Men Not Engaged in Other Sports To Report.

ISSUE EQUIPMENT EARLY

Cornhusker Coach Outlines Plans for Twenty-Four Practice Sessions.

Spring football practice will get under way March 7, Coach Dana X. Bible announced Tuesday following his return from a meeting of the national rules committee at Hanover, N. H.

Equipment will be issued the preceding week, so that the candidates will be all set to go, Bible declared. The Husker mentor plans twenty-four practice sessions for the spring season, the workouts to be interspersed probably with several games of regulation length.

"Every man not already engaged in some other sport is expected to report for the drills," Bible emphasized. "The main purpose of the workouts is to give the men a thorough drill in fundamentals in addition to giving the coaching staff an opportunity of getting acquainted with fresh material," said the Scarlet coach.

Since baseball has been stricken from the program of Husker spring sports, W. H. Browne, diamond coach, will be able to give full time in assisting Bible with the spring practices. Bill Day, Joe Lehman, Ed Weir, and Charley Black complete the list of coaches who will aid in the workouts.

Dr. Kiesselbach Solves Problem Of State Crops

The farm had been rented. That incident twenty-four years ago diverted Dr. Theodore A. Kiesselbach, now professor of agronomy in the University of Nebraska experiment station, from the life of a farmer.

Unable to rent the desired farm in Custer county, Professor Kiesselbach, then just out of college, returned to Lincoln and entered the employ of the college of agriculture. He has worked his way up to his present rank of professor. "My job has been an effort to solve the crop problems of the state," recently declared Dr. Kiesselbach. But he also studies many new methods of research and investigation. Nebraska, being a comparatively new state, is confronted with many crop problems that eventually find their way to the experiment station.

Exemplifies Patience. The patience and resourcefulness of Dr. Kiesselbach is exemplified by his work in breeding corn. This work was taken up under his guidance in 1912. It was started before that time, however, by other agronomists in charge of the experiment station. Dr. Kiesselbach has been breeding and inbreeding corn to this day and finds that the work at present is more promising of results than it has ever been.

The investigations in this work were started for the purpose of finding out how inbreeding would

Davison Hard Luck Cager Husker Squad

"MUTT" DAVISON NEBRASKA'S DIMINUTIVE GUARD THE SQUAD IN SCORING-- BUT HE CONTINUED TO PRACTICE AND IS NOW VERY MUCH BACK IN THE GAME!

A little thing like a fractured hand failed to keep Minot Davison from practicing basketball, and as a result he rejoined the squad three weeks after the accident occurred. Even tho his hand was in a cast for some time it failed to keep him from being one of the leading basket shooters on Coach Charley Black's cage squad. He plays guard. Besides activities on the coliseum maples, "Mutt" played shortstop on Coach Browne's Husker nine.

Farmer's Fair Will Include Pageantry Historical Development of Ag College Planned, Says Meredith.

A pageant depicting the development of a agriculture in Nebraska in connection with the growth of the agricultural college will be one of the big features of the 1932 Farmers Fair to be held on the college of agriculture campus Saturday, May 7, Fred Meredith has announced.

TRI DELTS, KAPPA THIS WIN

Sigma Delta Tau Forfeits; Alpha O's Lose Two; Today's Schedule.

In the Nebraska Ball game Tuesday, Sigma Delta Tau forfeited to the Tri Delt. The Tri Delt are to play another game Thursday and if victorious they will be entered in the semi-finals. In the other scheduled game Tuesday the Kappa Phi won two games from the Alpha O's.

Wednesday: Kappa Delta (1) vs. Hobby club. Delta Gamma (1) vs. Huskerettes and K. B. Bs.

REVENGE will be the inspiration of two Husker athletes when they compete for Nebraska this coming week end.

THE second individual who is pronouncing revenge with a capital "R" is Jerry Adam, heavyweight wrestler for the Huskers. Coach Lehman has promised Jerry a crack at Martin, Iowa State 165 pounder, when the two teams meet Saturday at Ames, Martin, runner-up in the 1931 national intercollegiate, got the nod over Adam last year, and the Plattsmouth strong man hopes to turn the tables in their second meeting.

However, Jerry is slated for a bit of reducing as he weighs 172 pounds at present. His lack of weight for the unlimited class did not prevent him from winning a decision over Theie, 205 pound Kansas State heavyweight last week.

IVE never heard "Bud" Parsons, freshman athlete, called by any other name. After diligent effort, it was discovered that Rollin is a correct moniker. Try it on him some time, but be sure to have the smelling salts handy. He's not used to sudden shocks.

"HANK" KOSMAN, guard on the freshman basketball team, is nursing a badly sprained ankle as the result of blocking an opponent's scoring effort in Monday night's scrimmage. He played at Benson during his prep competition.

FROSH sprinters are both good and abundant this year. Lamoureux of Valentine, Mousel of Cambridge, Froelich of Friend and Williams of Warsaw, Ind., are four dash men who would gladden the eye of any track coach. They all do the 50 yard dash in 5.6 or 5.7 seconds.

AMES TRACKERS TO K.C.A.G. Four Members of Iowa State Indoor Team Expected to Enter Meet.

AMES, Ia.—Four members of the Iowa State College indoor track team will probably enter the Kansas City Athletic club meet Saturday, T. N. Metcalf, director of athletics, has announced.

YALE ALUMNI HAVE INFORMAL DINNER ON MONDAY NIGHT Monday evening six alumni of the undergraduate college of Yale university met for an informal dinner at the University club. TRICOLOR TRACK MEET WILL OPEN TODAY AT 4

All Events Are to Be Run Tuesdays, Wednesdays Of Each Week.

The first of a series of tricolor track meets will get under way Wednesday afternoon in the stadium. There will be a series of six meets through the season, one meet being scheduled every two weeks.

Three teams, with thirty men each, will vie for the five medals given by the athletic department for the best performances during the six meets. Coach Schulte and Jimmy Lewis who selected the men for the meet divided the group into three units, endeavoring to divide the team equally.

At the end of the six meets the total number of points each man has made during the season will determine the winners of the five medals. First place award is a gold medal, second place a silver medal, third, fourth, and fifth places each receive bronze medals.

Meet Two Daves. All events will be run off on Tuesdays and Wednesday of each week thus enabling those who cannot run on Tuesdays may run on Wednesday.

The first event on Wednesday's program is the mile run which will be run at 4 o'clock. Entrants in the 50-yard dash will run at 4:15. The 440-yard run is scheduled for 4:30, the high hurdles at 4:45, the two mile run at 5, the low hurdles at 5:15, the 880-yard run at 5:30, and the relay at 5:45. The pole vault, shot put, and high jump will be run off at 6 o'clock. Broad jumpers will jump at 4:45. The same schedule will be used each day during the six meets.

AMES HOST TO WRESTLERS Nebraska Grapplers and Hi School Tourney Share Sport Spotlight.

AMES, Ia.—An intercollegiate wrestling meet between Iowa State and the University of Nebraska and the Iowa State high school wrestling tournament share the sport spotlight here this weekend.

Eighty high school wrestlers, representing the pick of the state's best in nineteen different schools, are entered in the prep tourney. The preliminaries are scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, with the finals starting at the same time Saturday. Competition will be held in 10 weights, from the 85 pound class to the heavyweight division.

The Cyclones varsity winds up its season of dual meets when it meets Nebraska Friday night. To date Iowa State has won two and dropped one conference match, and has won three exhibition duals, two from Iowa State Teachers and one from Cornell.

FORMER RUSSIAN STUDENT, WORKING FOR MASTER'S DEGREE IN PLANT PATHOLOGY, COMPARES U. S. AND RUSSIAN SCHOOLS.

Corresponding to our college and university is the Russian higher school. Two and even four years of work in the higher school is required before specialization is permitted. The same city may contain a general higher school as well as specialized universities. It is not infrequent to find cities in which there are two or three universities teaching the same subject matter but using different languages. Mitrofan referred chiefly to the Bohemian, Russian and English languages.

Methods of handling examinations differ much from those employed by most universities in America. "Finals assume a greater significance for the student, but also make for a greater amount of individual responsibility. A student may take an examination on the course at any time; at the completion of the lectures, three or four months later or even after a lapse of one or two years. Examinations are conducted by special examining committees from the educational department and must be passed before a grade is given for the course and the student is permitted to continue into special work. A great amount of revenue is collected from these examinations. A student is required to pay a certain fee for the privilege of taking each test regardless of the time or number of examinations required for him to pass.

Afanasio says that the universities in Russia are much poorer than ours. "Where a department here hires ten to fifteen men, the corresponding department in Russia, and Bohemian higher schools hire only one or two." Mitrofan says that most students in the higher school at Brun after the war were older, being largely between the ages of twenty-five and forty. Universities consist mostly of one large building. While there are no organized fraternities, political factions band tightly together, organize rallies, and make a great display. All factions from communists to anarchists can be found on the same campus.

Before coming to America, Afanasio was manager of a large farm in Czechoslovakia. He held this job for three years and then came to the United States to study plant pathology. He does not care to talk of his days in Russia. He says, "I am thru with politics, they no longer concern me."

SIG EPS, BETAS TAKE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Keegling Honors in Leagues III and IV Decided; Bowl High Scores.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon keeglers continued to knock over the pins yesterday afternoon in the intramural bowling matches to win all three games from the Pi Kappa Phi's and clinch the League IV title. In the other scheduled league match, Tau Kappa Epsilon forfeited to Alpha Sigma Phi. This enabled the Alpha Sigs to tie the D. Us for third place in the league standings.

The Alpha Tau Omega trundlers threw a scare into the league leading Beta's, who were able to win but one game, but nevertheless copped the League III title. The Sigma Nu-Phi Gam match was postponed until this afternoon. These two teams are tied for third place in league III and today's battle will determine their final standings.

The high score of the day was turned in by Hirst of the Sig Eps, who rolled games of 236, 212, and 168 for a grand total of 616. The Sig Eps also had the high single game score and the high series score with games of 950, 863, and 872.

'HUAN SEAL' AMUSES WITH AQUATIC STUNTS

Mohawk Gives Entertaining Performance Yesterday In Coliseum Pool.

Ceola Mohawk, nationally famous stunt swimmer, entertained and amused a group of aquatic enthusiasts with a unique swimming exhibition in the coliseum pool Tuesday afternoon. Clarke Powell and Kenneth Sutherland, varsity divers, aided Mohawk in a diving exhibition.

Proving his right to be known as "the human seal," Mohawk astonished the audience by executing such difficult tricks as swimming vertically with head down and feet protruding above the water, sculling feet forward, swimming feet first under the surface, and swimming vertically in a circle using only one hand.

The "Seal" amused the gathering with Egyptian floating, remaining on the surface while his arms and legs assumed various positions. He also exhibited a number of under water turns, and with the aid of varsity swimmers, did some difficult under water maneuvering. Blowing air bubbles underwater, which reached the surface after he had already emerged, was another amusing demonstration.

The exhibition was held for the purpose of raising funds towards Nebraska's contribution to the American Olympic fund.

Iowa Staters Cut Down Overhead of College Functions

AMES, Ia.—The tendency of social life at Iowa State college is toward "simpler, more wholesome" functions, according to Mrs. Iza W. Merchant, director of social affairs. "But students are having just as good times just the same," she says.

Not only has the cost of most of the big all college dances been lowered, she said, but the smaller groups—fraternities and sororities—have put their parties on a less elaborate scale than was the vogue for several years. Dances without favors, once considered essential are common, and there have been this year 120 "exchange parties" in which members of a fraternity visit a sorority to dance in an informal and completely inexpensive manner, Mrs. Merchant points out.
