

Bluejays Eke Out 28 to 26 Win In Last Of Two Game Series

BLACKMEN LEAD 15 TO 13 AT HALFTIME

Failure to Count on Free Throws in Second Stanza Cause of Nebraska Loss; Game Nets $180 For Charity; Van Ackeren High Scorer.

HENRION, DAVISON, MASON FEATURE N. U. PLAY

By OLIVER DEWOLF.
Coach Schabinger's Creighton Bluejays capped the second of the two charity games from the Cornhuskers last night in the University coliseum by 28 to 26 score. Nebraska led at the half, 15 to 13. John Selleck, business manager of athletics, estimated the crowd at 1,500. $180.00 was netted for charity.

Creighton broke into the lead soon after the whistle when Henrion fouled Schmitz. The lanky Bluejay center sank the gift toss, and it was followed a minute later by a 2 point tip in by Van Ackeren. Van Ackeren added another point when fouled by Koster. Paul Mason found the basket for the Husker's first 2 points, and it was nullified a minute later when Collins, Bluejay forward, dribbled in under the basket to boost the Creighton total to 6.

Davison sank a long side archer for 2 points, and Mason followed in close under the basket to give Nebraska a 2 point advantage at the end of the first eight minutes. Kieley, Creighton guard, tied the score with a one handed shot, before Davison dropped in another archer from the side. Nebraska led 10 to 8 at the end of the first twelve minutes.

Van Ackeren Ties Score.
Van Ackeren again tied the score, and Collins put the Bluejays out in front with a gift toss. Miller sank a long one to give Creighton a 3 point lead. Henrion popped in two quick archers from the side to put Nebraska in the lead again, and Paul Mason ended the first half with a gift toss. Score: Nebraska 15, Creighton 13.

"Mutt" Davison opened the second half with a gift, and Collins duplicated with one for Creighton. Miller again found the hoop for a counter on a follow in shot. Henrion cashed in on a gift toss, to put Nebraska in the lead 17 to 16 at the end of seven minutes.

Van Ackeren looped a free throw, and in the next minute of play Henrion and Mason found the hoop in quick succession for two under basket shots. Boswell pushed the total to 23 for the Huskers with a long archer.

The Creighton attack re-opened, and Kieley slipped one through the net, and was followed by two field goals by Van Ackeren. Kieley boosted Creighton's total to 25 with six minutes left to play. Schmitz found the basket again for two points, and again a minute later with a gift. Mason sank a free toss and the score was 28 to 24 in favor of Creighton with two minutes to go.

Creighton Stalls.
Creighton began to stall with a dribbling exhibition, but Walt Henrion broke through to find the hoop for Nebraska's last score with a beautiful archer from the center of the floor. Henrion shot a moment later from the same part of the floor bounced off the rim. The game ended with the ball under Nebraska's goal.

Walt Henrion took high point honors for Nebraska, besides very efficiently guarding the lanky Bluejay center. Paul Mason copped eight points together with an excellent floor game. Minot Davison, registered third with seven points, and Hub Boswell accounted for the remaining two points of Nebraska's total. Outstanding for Nebraska were Henrion, Mason and Davison. Koster and Boswell also turned in nice performances. Lunney played a nice floor game, but had difficulty in finding the basket.

Van Ackeren High Point.
Van Ackeren, Creighton captain besides being high point man of the evening with ten points took first honors on the Bluejay outfit. The Bluejay forward had nice floorwork and a better basket eye. Kieley, Creighton guard, also turned in a nice game. Collins, forward, and lanky Willard Schmitz were too closely guarded to do more than find the basket for four points apiece, although Collins popped in a couple after the referee had blown his whistle. Miller, before being taken out on fouls, also scored four points.

In the matter of free throws Creighton was far superior to Nebraska, sinking 6 out of 10 whereas Nebraska only counted 6 out of 17. Most of Nebraska's misses came in the second half. The box score:

WASHBURN COLLEGE GRANTS NEW DEGREE

(Continued from Page 1.) this university received the degree. They were Judge J. S. Dales, secretary of the board of regents of the university, and William H. Snell.

Judge Dales and Mr. Snell received the degree in 1873. One woman received it in 1873, a man and a woman in 1878, one man in 1880 and another man in 1881. Then it was abandoned, and the degree of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science replaced it, according to Florence McGahey, registrar of the University of Nebraska.

Definite courses were prescribed for those desiring degrees during the first years of the university's existence, Miss McGahey declared. The Bachelor of Philosophy degree was granted to students who had completed a course consisting of subjects of either Latin or Greek and science. When the other two degrees replaced it, the Bachelor of Arts was given to students who completed a classical course and passed an examination in it, and the Bachelor of Science was given to those who had completed a scientific course. Electives were allowed only in the senior year and very few then, according to Miss McGahey.

The degree as offered by Washburn college is much less rigid than when it was offered by Nebraska. The students desiring it there must include one of the nine fields which comprise the group of social science.

HEYE LAMBERTUS has been doing right well in his specialty, the low hurdles. At the Drake meet he ran the 50-yard lows in 5.9 seconds; he was the sensation of the KCAC carnival where he copped both the hurdles and dash, and just last Saturday he skinned the 60-yard low barriers in 6.3 seconds, for which world application will be made. The time is two-tenths of a second under the Big Six indoor record.

BUT THE best part of it all is that Heye isn't taking his feats or himself too seriously. It's like his coach, "Pa" Schulte, puts it: "Heye is the kind of fellow who can smile at himself." He is rather quiet, yet is a good mixer. You can feel quite sure that his small headiness will never affect Heye's performance as an athlete.

ULYSSES SCHLUETER and Ross Luff are two boys who should give the Husker wrestling team plenty of class next season. Schluter, who is from Fremont, has a record of having never lost a bout at Kemper military academy. Luff, a freshman from Palmyra, has been giving grappling lessons to his brother, Earl, a Scarlet mat captain of three years back. Ross weighs 115, while brother Earl weighs in at 135, so figure it out for yourself.

Schluter weighs 190 pounds, and has been wrestling for four years. Luff is considered good enough to be entered in the Midwestern A. A. U. championships at Fort Dodge, Ia., this weekend.

SCHULTE is not waxing enthusiastically concerning Nebraska's chances of repeating a second Big Six indoor track championship at Columbia Saturday. But of course, one can't expect a coach to be telling you how good his boys are and what a fine team he has, either. The Husker cinder mentor says it will be a dog fight between Nebraska and Kansas, with the latter having an edge. There's no getting around it, the Lawrence crew is a tough bunch to beat, but I look for the Huskers to win. Kansas possesses an exceptional athlete in Coffman, pole vaulter, high and broad jumper, as well as a fine hurdler in Gridley. Big Six outdoor low hurdle champ. Then there is Bausch and Thornhill in the weights, and others.

Problem: how to answer a million a day

Users of Bell System service ask "Information" more than 1,000,000 questions every day. Providing facilities for answering them promptly, correctly, was one problem put up to engineers of the Bell System. So effective was their solution that this prodigious task is now a matter of smooth routine. They designed desks which enable each operator to reach quickly the listings of some 15,500,000 telephones. They developed apparatus which automatically routes calls to operators not busy—and should all operators be busy at once, it stores up calls and releases them in the order received! Efficient telephone service depends upon working out interesting problems like this.
