PRICE FIVE CENTS

LARGE AUDIENCE SEES FACULTY IN THREE-ACT PLAY

Mrs. Hertzler Outstanding in Title Role of 'Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh.'

TICKETS ARE SOLD OUT

Proceeds of Production to Go to University Y. W.; Ramsay Directs.

The three-act comedy, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" was presented to a full house at the Temple theater Wednesday night. Mrs. J. O. Hertzler, in the titular role, was the outstanding character in the show which was under the direction of Ray Ramsay.

Proceeds from the play, which was produced by the Faculty Women's club, will be turned over to the university Y. W. C. A. All characters of the cast are members of the faculty or of the Faculty Women's club.

A complete sell-out for the show was indicated early Wednesday afternoon when the few remaining tickets were sold.

Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh had the outstanding part in the play. She is a dominating, stubborn and determined woman who aspires to reach the top in the social world at any cost. She is ambitious for her sister and wants her to marry into a distinguished family. Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh, whose maiden name was DeSalle, is the daughter of a patent medicine salesman who made a fortune out of his stomach elixir.

Confession Chagrins.

Violet DeSalle, the younger sister, falls in love with the younger brother of her fiancé and decides she will confess all to the family of her fiancé, the fact that she is the daughter of the patent medicine salesman. She does this, much to the chagrin of her mother and domineering sister.

The comic element in the drama is supplied by Peter Swallow, played by Prof. R. E. Cochran, who is a tombstone salesman and the former sweetheart of the present Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh.

Hearing of the De Salles and knowing that his old sweetheart had gone to Washington and had changed her name, Swallow decides that he will call on the pseudo aristocrats.

The attempt of Peter Swallow to identify the DeSalles fails and an explosion occurs when Violet, tiring of the lying and pretense, confesses all three of them are impostors and that they are really the daughters and the wife of old Jim Salles.

Oldfather Plays Aristocrat.

Prof. C. H. Oldfather as Justin Rawson the American aristocrat and Miss Gertrude E. Robson, as Mr. Rawson's sister were the hosts of the continental DeSalles during their stay in America. All of the scenes are laid at the Rawson estate on Long Island.

Anthony Rawson, the elder son of Justin Rawson and fiancé of Violet, was played by Dean John D. Hicks. The part called for several amorous scenes.

DRAMATIC CLUB WILL INITIATE 7 THURSDAY

Club Head Announces Plans For Party Honoring New Members.

Initiation of the new Dramatic club members will take place in the Dramatic club room at the Temple Thursday at 8 o'clock, according to Ralph Spencer, president of the organization.

Those who will be initiated are: Reginald Porter, Lucile Reilly, Jane Robertson, Rhona Smith, Lee Young, Charles Owens and Lela-more Taylor. A much larger number than these were pledged by the club last fall but because of University activity rules cannot be initiated this year, most of them being freshmen or new at the university.

Those who cannot be initiated this year but who will be carried over for initiation next fall are: Art Bailey, Fred Frey, Elizabeth Brothwell, Celista Cooper, Lucile Frantz, Russel Herre, Miles E. Hauck, Marjorie Ley, Leo Mossholder, Fred Nicklas, Lola Recknor, Katherine Stephenson, Leonard Van Horn, Zula Warner, Walter Walla, Howard Agee, La Nele Harry Herman Hauptmann, Jean Magill and D. A. Quinn.

Spencer revealed that the club is to have a spring party on Friday evening, March 18, at 9 o'clock. Madeline Westouppal, who is in charge of arrangements for the party, has reported that she has engaged the dining room of the Lincoln hotel for the party.

"The party is being given by the active members of the club in honor of those who are to be initiated tonight and those who will be initiated next fall. Music for the evening will be furnished by William Higdon and his orchestra," Spencer explained.

Chaperones for the party are being chosen now and will be announced in a later issue of the Daily Nebraskan.

NEED THIRD PARTY SAYS LABOR LEADER

Masses Should Organize to Control Government Says Williams.

LEADERS ARE ESSENTIAL

"There is absolutely no hope of ever being able to bring about a reorganization of the two present political parties. A third one must be developed which will take the reins of government from the hands of the public utilities companies, manufacturers and other large companies and put it into the hands of the people," Howard Williams, who is touring the country in an attempt to help the working masses organize themselves to fight capitalism by means of the ballot box, told a group of students in the Temple Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Williams is a representative of the League for Independent Political Action. He is a graduate of Minnesota university and has studied at Columbia. He was a captain in the World war and received commendation for bravery from General Pershing.

The league is attempting to organize the present scattered unorganized labor groups and educate the masses politically, he explained. "We are trying to instill into the people a new philosophy of government. There is absolutely no hope for any success of the masses if they use force. Communism, even (Continued on Page 2.)

DRUGGISTS ABOLISH ANNUAL OPEN 'HOUSE'

College Decides to Retain Picnic and Banquet of Annual Week.

By a unanimous vote the traditional open house night, held during Pharmacy week, will not be held this year, the pharmacy convocation decided at a meeting in Pharmacy hall at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Pharmacy week will be held in the month of May, although the exact date for the event has not been decided on as yet, it was announced.

The reason for the dropping of open house was the small number of students registered in the college. It was decided, however, to continue with the regular pharmacy dinner and picnic.

PALLADIAN WILL MEET

Alums Have Charge Program For Regular Weekly Meeting.

Alumni members of the Palladian literary society will present the program at the regular meeting Friday evening. Mrs. Gordon K. Phillips will sing and a violin solo will be given by Mrs. Bertram Ellsworth. An original skit will be presented by Bess Le Valley, Ida Biore, and Margaret Cannell. A debate will also be featured in which Walter Lundy and William Meyers will uphold the affirmative.

The chairman of the program is Miss Faye Sherwin, the president of the Links society which is made up of former Palladian women. Professor Chauncey Smith is president of the Alumni association. The meeting is open to the public.

Conference Delegates To Reunite at Dinner

Students who attended the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. conference at Estes Park will have a reunion Sunday afternoon at the Farm House fraternity. Contrary to previous announcement, this meeting will not take place until 5 o'clock. Supper will be served and each student will be asked to pay a charge of twenty-five cents for the meal.

Sally Seelye to Lead Ag Y.W.C.A. Cabinet

The College of Agriculture Y. W. C. A. cabinet will meet Thursday at 5 in the Home Economics parlors. Sally Seelye, vice chairman, will preside since Christine Carlson, chairman, is attending school at Merrill-Palmer this year.

PETITION ASKING BOARD MEMBERS REPORTED READY

Regents Will Receive Query On Student Delegates at Next Meeting.

INVESTIGATION IS OVER

Council Committee Closes Intensive Preparation On Document.

Based on the seven points of the plan for student representation on the athletic board of control, the student council committee on athletic relations will present a petition to the board of regents at its next meeting asking for student representation on the board, Art Wolf, chairman of the committee, reported at the council meeting last night.

A tentative petition was presented to the council by Wolf for consideration, and the final copy will be published soon. The petition stresses the close connection between athletic affairs and the students of the university and also includes a statement concerning the investigation made by the committee.

Questionnaires were sent out to 53 representative schools in all parts of the country by the committee requesting information concerning their methods of control of athletic policies and activities. Not all of the schools have answered so far, according to Wolf.

Of the fifty-three schools questioned, twenty-six of them have (Continued on Page 3.)

TICKETS FOR BIZAD PARTY SELL RAPIDLY

Chalmers Graham Reports Prospects Good for Spring Event.

Tickets for the Bizad spring party to be held in the Cornhusker ballroom March 11, are moving rapidly, according to Chalmers Graham, member of the party committee. The price of the tickets is set at one dollar per couple.

The Bizad executive board is sponsoring the affair in an effort to stimulate activity in the Bizad college. It is to be established as an annual event to take the place of the annual Bizad day, which usually took place later in the spring.

"Profits from the party will go towards building up activities within the College of Business Administration," says Graham. Music for the affair will be furnished by Eddie Jungbluth and his orchestra. Lyle De Moss and Harriet Cruise Kemmer will sing during the evening. Mrs. Kemmer will present new arrangements of "That's Why Darkies Were Born," "You're My Everything," and "Rhapsody in Love."

ENGINEERS' WEEK STRUCTURE VICTOR TO GET $5 AWARD

Since it is the mechanical engineers' turn to erect the campus structure for engineer's week, local chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers has voted to give a prize of $5 for the best plan for the structure.

According to rules submitted by the society, the plan must be complete in detail, including dimensions and materials, in order that the structure may be erected directly from the plans; a cost sheet must accompany the plans; the society is to have full title to the plans and they must be presented before noon, March 23.

Jim Ludwickson was elected chairman of the Engineer's Week committee for the mechanical engineering department and Frank Ferguson vice chairman at the meeting Tuesday. All students in the department are asked to see one of these men if they wish to work on the program for the week.

Mousel Wants Tassels To Turn in Sales Books

The sales books used by the Tassels for the spring sales drive of the 1932 Cornhusker are due at noon today, and must be turned in by this time, according to Russell Mousel, business manager of the book. Due to the fact that an official check-up of the sales must be made, the business staff must have the books by 8 a.m.

Hoppert Says Interest In Orchards to Revive

Interest in farm orchards is being revived once more in the opinion of E. H. Hoppert of the Agriculture college faculty. He believes that economic conditions are helping to return the farm fruit orchard to its proper and former place.

CHEMIST SCHEDULED TALK

Hamilton to Speak at Sigma Xi Monthly Meeting Monday, March 14.

Members of the Nebraska chapter of Sigma Xi, professional chemistry fraternity, will hold their regular monthly meeting in Morrill hall Monday, March 14, at 7:30.

A special feature of the meeting will be an address by Clifford Struthers Hamilton, Ph.D., professor of chemistry, on "Arsenicals, Old and New," according to E. N. Anderson, secretary of the local chapter of the fraternity.

His talk will include a discussion of the organo-arsenic compounds now in use as therapeutic agents in addition to some more recently prepared compounds. He will also discuss the relationship between the chemical structures of the compounds and their physiological action.

ORCHESTRAL FINALS SET FOR THURSDAY

Klub Musical Aspirants to Get Last Chance at 7:30 Tryouts.

SHOW WORK PROGRESSES

Final tryouts for the Kosmet Klub orchestra, that will make a road trip with "Jingle Belles" during spring vacation, will be held at Morrill hall at 7:30 Thursday night. This is the second tryout to be held this week and all students interested in making the trip, which will include many of the principle towns in eastern and central Nebraska, are being encouraged to come out.

"We were satisfied with the calibre of the talent that appeared at the Tuesday tryout, but we need to get some trumpet players, a drummer, trombonists and some fiddles before our orchestra will be completed," Dick Devereaux, president of the Klub stated.

The same eligibility requirements to apply to members of the staff apply to the orchestra. The dean's office requires 27 hours credit made in the last two semesters and 12 hours made the preceding semester for participation in student activities, according to the Klub.

The Kosmet Klub desires a 10 or 12-piece band for the musical comedy. The music has already been selected for "Jingle Belles" and the producers of the show are anxious to get an orchestra together that will do it justice.

The business staff is at work on advertising for the program. Bill Devereaux, Omaha, is chairman of the program committee. His address is (Continued on Page 2.)

AG STUDENTS ATTEND FARMERS FAIR RALLY

Large Number Present for Program in Ag Hall to Boost Spirit.

Despite unfavorable weather conditions, several hundred College of Agriculture students crowded into Ag hall Wednesday night to attend the first Farmers Fair rally of the year. Talks by faculty members and students featured the program which was held to instill fair spirit into the students.

Prof. R. D. Scott, head of the English department in the University of Nebraska, told the Ag students that the pageant would be one of the main features of the 1932 fair. He briefly outlined the pageant and told of how it will depict the growth of agriculture in Nebraska. It is to be composed of five episodes. Professor Scott is in general charge of the event and is co-operating with students in presenting the pageant. He said that probably about 400 students would be needed in the production.

KOCH ADVOCATES JUNIOR COLLEGES AT PBK MEETING

In an address to fifty members of Phi Beta Kappa, Dr. H. C. Koch of the Teachers college declared "that the junior college division of universities and college systems is one of the developments inevitable in higher education." The honorary's meeting was held Tuesday evening at the University club.

"Communities adaptable to the establishment of junior colleges," declared Dr. Koch, "should have a population between 10,000 and 40,000. Valuation of land should fall between 10 and 30 million dollars."

Among several advantages of junior colleges listed by the speaker was that of increasing the opportunity of the high school man for at least two years of college. Two years of college are considered sufficient to enter many of the semiprofessional occupations, Dr. Koch said. It was also pointed out that crowded conditions of universities would be removed, permitting greater opportunity for research for students of the professions.

GUNDERSON HEADS CHAMBER'S DRIVE FOR EMPLOYMENT

Finance Secretary Chosen General Chairman of City Campaign.

PLAN THORO CANVASS

All Citizens Back to Work Is Aim of Organized Endeavor.

L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary and commander of the Lincoln post No. 3 of the American Legion, was appointed permanent general chairman of the United Employment campaign at a meeting of the executive committee Wednesday noon at the chamber of commerce.

The campaign is being launched by the American Legion and other civic groups in an attempt to solve the unemployment problem in Lincoln.

"We want to get every citizen in Lincoln back to work," declared Chairman Gunderson, in explaining the campaign. "A thoro canvass of all business houses and residences in the city will be undertaken as soon as the committees complete their preliminary investigations."

Chairmen of the committees were appointed at the Wednesday session, which followed the organization meeting on Tuesday, when Mr. Gunderson was elected temporary chairman. The committees will report to the executive committee at an early date, after (Continued on Page 4.)

FORUM SPEAKER IS DELAYED EN ROUTE

Discussion Meeting Held When Scheduled Talker, Williams, Fails.

Howard Y. Williams who was scheduled to speak Wednesday noon at the World Forum luncheon on "Capitalism, Communism and American Politics," was unable to fulfill his appointment and the meeting was conducted without him. Mr. Williams was to drive by automobile from Topeka and it was thought that bad road conditions were responsible for his delay.

C. D. Hayes, secretary of the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. briefly outlined Mr. Williams' speech, the gist of which was a discussion of our present political party system. It was a suggestion to unite the thinking people of our nation who can see the weaknesses of the old party alignment and effect an adequate remedy.

The remainder of the hour was given over to an open discussion of the party question by those present, and ended with the open question of whether or not political parties were effective mediums through which the will of the people could be expressed.

WEDNESDAY PROGRAM ENDS FACULTY MUSIC

Steckelberg Performance Is Outstanding in Last of Recital Series.

The allegro molto, vivace movement of Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto, Op. 64, played by Carl Steckelberg of the School of Music faculty, struck the high point of the concluding faculty recital of the year at the Temple theater Wednesday afternoon.

Maude Fender Gutzmer's Idyl, by Bantock, was an impressive number, Frances Morley adding color with the flute. Mrs. Gutzmer is a contralto.

A program by advanced students of the School of Music will be presented next Wednesday at the Temple theater, 4 o'clock. Wednesday's program:

Faure, Sonata for violin and piano, allegro molto; Mr. Steckelberg and Mrs. Steckelberg. Messiaen, Aria, from "Werther"; Ferreri, Le Miroir; Schubert, Aufenthal; Mrs. Gutzmer. Mendelssohn, Violin Concerto, Op. 64. Andante, (Allegretto ma non troppo), Allegro molto vivace; Mr. Steckelberg. Bantock, Idyl, (Suite—Frances Morley); Mendelkoff, The Hills of Georgia; Sailer, Last Night I Heard the Nightingale; Mrs. Gutzmer.

TREE SEEDLINGS WANTED

State Farmers Apply Over 700,000 Plants, Says Forester Watkins.

Nebraska farmers have applied for about 700,000 tree seedlings according to an announcement made Wednesday by Clayton W. Watkins, extension forester at the Agricultural college. Trees are distributed by the agricultural extension service.

Among the 700,000, applications for nearly 150,000 Chinese elms have been received at Watkins' office, on the ag campus. Mr. Watkins will go to Halsey before the first of April and supervise the shipping of the evergreen varieties. Among the trees of this variety are Australian, Yellow, Jack, or Scotch pine. In addition a few red cedars are being distributed.

Cadet Officers Will Practice Sabre Drill

Sabre drill will open to all cadet officers in preparation for Spring Compet at 5 o'clock on Thursday, in Nebraska hall, announced Commanding Officer Alden Ault.

FACTION LINEUPS MAY BE CHANGED

State Council Authorizes Appointment Committee To Investigate Possibilities of Different Alignment at Wednesday Meeting.

INNOCENTS REPORT ON ACTIVITIES QUESTION

Honorary Group Recommendation Urges Probe of Problems Raised at Recent General Conference of All Societies.

Authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate possibilities of political realignment and to make a report on some method of rejuvenating student activities, the student council took the second step in the readjustment of politics at the University of Nebraska Wednesday afternoon.

The determination of the student council to take the initiative in party realignment came upon the suggestion of a committee of the Innocents society that has been investigating conditions since the activities conference held two weeks ago.

Arthur Wolf, chairman of the Innocents committee, made the report to the student council and recommended that body take the initiative in launching the investigation.

The committee that will be appointed in the near future will consist of ten persons. It will be composed of three members of the Innocents society, two members of the student council, the three faction presidents and two faculty members.

Lack of organization on the part of the barbs was named as the cause of the lack of non-fraternity participation in student activities. Issuance of a pamphlet for incoming freshmen to acquaint them with activities in the university was recommended in the report. Wolf stated he has corresponded with a number of schools that have such a system. It was also suggested that the informatory material be printed in the N book, issued each year.

An objection was made by Berenice Hoffman to point out that two of the report dealing with women's participation in activities, on the grounds that women have no desire to work in the activities that are dominated by men and that student publications should be open to both men and women.

The result of the investigation will be reported to the student council in the near future. The dawn of a new political era at the University of Nebraska was met as a possibility by members of the student council who feel that politics should be fair and that the factions should have an equal opportunity of electing their men.

Following is the report that Wolf, chairman of the committee appointed by the Innocents, made at the student council meeting. The same report has been sent out in letter form to all of the organizations on the campus.

TO ALL ORGANIZATIONS: At the first meeting called by the Innocents society to discuss the lack of interest in student activities, several points were brought out by the assembly as the principal reasons for this lack of interest.

These points are enumerated as follows: 1. The unbalanced political alignment; 2. Women not represented in the activities which men dominate; 3. Lack of (Continued on Page 3.)

COMIC RELEASE DATE SET NEXT WEDNESDAY

Spring Number of Awgwan More Colorful, Claims Editor Robinson.

The March issue of the Awgwan will appear on the campus about Wednesday of next week, Editor Marvin Robinson said in a statement issued yesterday. "The Spring number will be increased to at least twenty-eight pages and will have a great deal more color than ever before," Robinson stated.

The cover in order to fit in with the Spring theme features a word spritz in colors on a background of solid black. The covers were again printed in New York and were received this week.

With this number the magazine will introduce a number of new features. A new page is included in which several prominent girls on the campus will be featured this month and beginning with this issue it will be a regular feature. The Campus Tempo section is being augmented with illustrations of the material contained in the department.

Special Articles. Among the articles is one written by R. Reeder entitled, "Mush, a Dog Who Died for a Tale." Rosaline Pizer writes "A Pen Profile," a short biography of one of the well known campus personages. The number will contain a great deal more art work than in any previous issue.

Several new contributors are listed this month along with the regular staff members and contributors. Among the contributors are: Leavitt Dearborn, Francis Cunningham, J. T. Coffey, Francis Byron, Katherine Howard and many others.

"We expect to be able to meet the campus demand this month with the increase in the number of copies and also to fill the newsstand quota," Robinson commented.
