TILDEN TROUPE TO SHOW WARES HERE THURSDAY

Racquet Stars' Match Gets Under Way in Coliseum At 8 O'clock.

STUDENT COST REDUCED

Identification Cards Admit With 25-Cent Cut in Ticket Price.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM.

SINGLES.
Albert Burke vs. Roman Najuch.
William T. Tilden vs. Hans Nusslein.

DOUBLES.
Tilden-Burke vs. Nusslein-Najuch.

When William T. Tilden and his troupe of racquet stars present their second tennis exhibition at the coliseum tonight at 8:00, net fans will find "Big Bill's" singles opponent a much stronger player than Karel Kozeluh, who opposed Tilden here last year.

In Hans Nusslein, Tilden faces a man who, although the tour started but three weeks ago, has defeated Tilden more times than did Kozeluh during the entire tour last year.

Nusslein, twenty-two year old European champion scored a 6-3, 7-5 triumph over Tilden at Iowa City Tuesday night, while the German duo of Najuch-Nusslein beat Tilden-Burke in the doubles 8-6, 7-5.

John K. Selleck, in charge of the ticket sale, reports a large out-of-town delegation is expected to view the matches, the size depending upon weather conditions. Tickets are on sale at the student activities office in the coliseum at 75 cents, $1 and $1.50. Students holding identification cards receive a 25-cent reduction from the prices listed above.

In Omaha Wednesday.

Tilden and his party will arrive in Lincoln shortly after 10 a. m., coming here from Omaha where the troupe played an exhibition Wednesday evening.

The green, canvas-covered court which Tilden carries with him on tour will be put down early in the afternoon. Ermet Pare, former national clay courts champion will probably referee.

Burke, who plays Najuch in one of the singles matches is credited with aiding in the development of the "Four Musketeers"—LaCoste, Cochet, Borotra, and Brugnon. He is the Irish "pro" title holder. Najuch is nearing the forty year mark, but is considered one of the best among the professionals. He held the German pro championship for eleven years, until his pupil, Nusslein, came along last year to dispossess him of it at Berlin.

Past Six Days Have Been Coldest Since March Records Kept

The period from March 4 to 9, inclusive, has been the coldest six day period in March since the records of the local weather bureau began, fifty-five years ago, according to report released by Thomas A. Blair, meteorologist in charge of the bureau.

The average temperature for those days has been 10.7 degrees. The previous coldest six day period in March was in 1888, when the average temperature was 12 degrees. The lowest temperature in that period in 1888 was 11 degrees below zero. However the lowest temperature this year was zero, although the average has been lower than in 1888.

The cold period is nearly over, Mr. Blair stated, and warmer weather is expected Thursday afternoon.

AG COLLEGE CONDUCTS FEEDING EXPERIMENTS

Experiments in feeding mixtures of different concentrations of corn have been started at the Nebraska Agriculture college recently, Prof. William Loeffel of the animal husbandry department announces. Loeffel says that the results will be available at the feeders day convention held on the campus in Lincoln in April.

COED BASKET TEAMS OPEN HARD PRACTICE

Girl Intramural Cagers in Tournery Enthusiastic in Preparation.

Much enthusiasm has been manifested by teams which filed for the coed intramural basketball contest. Two scheduled practices must be arranged, and the teams have been putting in some hard hours at the armory.

Practice schedule for the remainder of this week and the remainder of next week is as follows:

- Thursday, March 10, 5 o'clock: Delta Gamma, Delta Zeta, Alpha Delta Theta, Alpha Xi Delta, Rho Chi, Kappa Epsilon, and Gertrude Clarke.
- Friday, March 11, 5 o'clock: I-X-L, Kappa Beta, Kappa Gamma, Alpha Omicron Pi, Rho Chi, Rho Chi, Rho Chi, and Gertrude Clarke.
- Saturday, March 12, 5 o'clock: Phi Beta, Sigma Kappa, Sigma Eta Chi, Kappa Epsilon, Rho Chi, Rho Chi, Rho Chi, and Gertrude Clarke.
- Sunday, March 13, 5 o'clock: Lambda Gamma, Nu Sigma, Huskerettes, Rho Chi, Margaret Reide and Lois Madden.

Other practices may be arranged by the teams by going to the intramural office. Arrangements may be made for any hour the gymnasium floor is empty. Hours the floor is available are Tuesday and Thursday, 2-3, 4-5, 7-9; Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, 9-10 and 1-5.

Each girl must have a certificate of health either from the student health department or from her own doctor unless she is registered in a physical education class.

The tournament will begin the last week in March.

Frosh Grid Managers Must Apply to Sickel

Freshmen interested in football managerships should report at the stadium to Ed Sickel, senior grid manager. It is requested that they see the senior manager before Monday.

SOONERS COUNT ON BROAD JUMP EVENT

Oklahoma Tracksters Feel Certain They'll Win in Big Six Meet.

NORMAN.—Altho the broad jump is the only event that University of Oklahoma track men believe they are sure to win at the fourth annual "Big Six" conference indoor meet Saturday at Columbia, Mo. Coach John Jacobs men will attempt to score heavily in six other events, any of which they may win.

Oklahoma's entries in the broad jump include Capt. Clifford McHewitt and Captain Mell. 52 seconds in the 440, Bob Hild 7.9 seconds in the high hurdles and Bill Newblock and Tom Simms 7.4 seconds in the low hurdles. Oklahoma, however, isn't counting any points in these events because of their uncertainty. Hurdlers frequently trip and fall, starting position is important in the 440, and a fast get-away imperative in the 440 dash.

Moreover, the blonde speedster will not be able to defend his Big Six high jump title won last year. Six high jump titles will be shared by the two events place too much of a strain on the ankles, and Husker coaches do not care to risk repetition of the injury.

Coach Henry Schulte had a fast one pulled on him the other day. A dinner guest at a fraternity house, Schulte espied one of his freshman track hopefuls seated at the table. He reminded the youth in that inimitable way of his that he had not been present at the previous afternoon's workout. At which the boy shot back: "Well, I was out Friday and you weren't there, either."

Orlin Dean, Husker pole vaulter star, suffered an injury to the index finger of his left hand Thursday morning, which might have ended competitive days for the lean vaulter. Dean was planning a board in a manual arts class when the plane slipped over several knots, cutting the finger almost to the first joint.

Luckily for Mr. Dean, the injury occurred to the first finger on the left hand and not to any other, since it is one of the less important fingers to a pole vaulter. The accident is not expected to prevent Dean from competing in the pole vault at Columbia Saturday.

Strong in High Jump.

Three Sooner high-jumpers, Bill Ne Block, Douglass Pratt and Tom Simms, have already cleared 6 feet 2 inches and unless Erlich of Kansas State is in top form, any one of them might be "hot" enough to defeat him. In the shot put Alfred Howell, who has done 45 feet 6 inches in practice, will be a threat.

Jacobs will send Warren "Bus" Moore, diminutive middle-distance runner, into the 880-yard dash and Ralph Dale into the two-mile run. Dale did 10:01 outdoors last week in his first jump over the long route and should do better at Columbia.

The Sooner mile relay team also has a good chance to score with runners like Captain Mell, Hewett, Frank Abbott and Cliff Peery. K. C. A. C. open 440-yard champion, lugging the baton. Oklahoma won this event at Columbia last year.

Dudley, state department; American Legion; A. J. Gillette, Boy Scouts; and Jesse Faes, Lincoln Retailers association.

Jerry Lee ran for the first time in weeks Wednesday afternoon in a trial race against Charles Williams, promising frosh sprinter. Lee beat the Indiana boy in a 50-yard dash, and looked so good that Schulte opined the Bassett star would probably see action Saturday in the Big Six indoor carnival at Columbia.

Lee received an ankle injury high jumping almost two months ago. But said ankle has been stubborn in responding to treatment. Dr. Robert Schrock of Omaha says that there has been a rupture of muscles and ligaments surrounding the ankle, a most unusual case. However, it is too much to expect Jerry to win or even place high due to the long layoff and to the fact that his injury is not completely healed.

Moreover, the blonde speedster will not be able to defend his Big Six high jump title won last year. Six high jump titles will be shared by the two events place too much of a strain on the ankles, and Husker coaches do not care to risk repetition of the injury.

Coach Henry Schulte had a fast one pulled on him the other day. A dinner guest at a fraternity house, Schulte espied one of his freshman track hopefuls seated at the table. JAYHAWK BUILDING GIFTS MOUNT HIGH

Kansas Donations Mount to More Than Million, Says New Survey.

LAWRENCE, Kan.—More than a million and a quarter dollars worth of buildings have been given to the University of Kansas by donors other than the state and federal government, according to a listing in the current issue of the Graduate Magazine, which features the new student hospital, the gift of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Watkins of Lawrence. The list follows:

- 1860-70—$20,000 North college.
- 1890-00—$113,000 Spooner library, chancellor's residence, Fowler shops.
- 1900-10—$106,000 Eleanor Toyler Bell hospital (two buildings).
- 1910-20—$6,000 Oread training school.
- 1920-30—$860,000 stadium, union building, Henley house, Watkins hall.
- 1930-40—$175,000 Watkins hospital.

Total $1,280,000. This listing of gift buildings does not comprise all the gifts that have come to the university. Gifts of land for campus and income, the Thayer art collection, the Green statue, the Summerfield scholarships and scores of other smaller scholarships and loan funds, class funds, and other miscellaneous contributions mount to more than a million dollars in themselves.

Grain Smut Loss Can Be Stopped Says Professor

Though thousands of Nebraska farmers lose thousands of dollars annually on account of smut in small grain, the loss can be almost entirely eliminated by the proper seed treatment, D. L. Owens of the Nebraska Agricultural college declares.

According to Agricultural college tests, various kinds of treatment for smut are available.

THIRTEEN FRESHMEN GET BASKET AWARDS

Several Must Make Up Work To Receive Yearling Cage Numerals.

Thirteen freshmen received basketball numerals for their play during the past season, it was announced yesterday at the athletic office.

To be eligible for numeral awards, freshmen were required to pass twelve hours the first semester and to be up in a like number of hours at the end of the first quarter.

Several frosh recommended for numerals are not included in this list because of ineligibility. As soon as they remove various conditions and incompletes, they also will be granted numerals.

Two agricultural college players are among those who received awards. They are Lloyd Long, Newman Grove, and Louis Schick, Curtis.

Thalman Believes Horse Contests Will Interest

There should be more interest in the big-team hitch this spring than there has been for several years in the opinion of Prof. R. H. Thalman of the Agricultural college. Present economic conditions favor a return to the horse power, he believes.

All-University Swim Tournery Is Postponed

All-University swimming meet has been postponed until March 22 due to a conflict in date with the Nebraska high school swimming championships at the coliseum pool March 19. All non-varsity swimmers are urged to enter. Medals will be awarded first and second places in each event.

Representatives of the Firestone Rubber company will be here April 5 and 6 to interview seniors for positions. There will probably be numerous other companies sending representatives in the near future that have not yet announced their dates.

EIGHTY MEN REPORT OPENING GRID DRILL

Marks Largest Turnout in Bible's Regime; Are Forced Inside.

The largest first day turnout of Husker grid candidates in Coach Dana Bible's regime at Nebraska reported to the Scarlet mentor as spring practice got under way Wednesday. Eighty men responded. Cold weather forced indoors the opening day's drill, and the time was spent reviewing motion pictures of last year's games taken by Ray Ramsay. The coaching staff pointed out mistakes to the players during the showing of the films.

"I am gratified at the number of men that turned out and the enthusiasm they showed," Bible declared.

Spring practice program as outlined by Bible calls for twenty-four practice sessions. A chalk talk at 4 o'clock is on deck each day that inclement weather prevents the Huskers from drilling outside.

Discussing the advantages of spring practice, the Husker chief told the candidates that the early drills play a large part in the success of the fall season.

New football rules will receive the attention of the players at Thursday afternoon's lecture. Following the meeting, approximately twenty-five more suits were checked out, making a total of seventy-eight men to whom equipment has been issued.

Ag Professors Advise Selecting Hardy Seed

Hardiness of alfalfa as determined by the variety and source of seeds is of extreme importance, D. L. Gross and P. H. Stewart of the College of Agriculture tell farmers over the state this week in emphasizing the need of hardy, approved, and certified seed.
