SUSPENSION OF COUNTRY'S ROTC CAMPS ORDERED

Oury Gets Orders Tuesday From Seventh Corps Area Head.

LACK OF APPROPRIATIONS

Congressional Inaction Is Cause of Curtailing Summer Plans.

Suspension of all R. O. T. C. military camps in the seventh corps area until after congressional action on the pending army appropriations bill was ordered Tuesday by Col. J. O. Steger, adjutant general of the Seventh corps area, stationed in Omaha.

A telegram from Omaha was received Tuesday at the military department setting forth this order. The order was made by the war department in Washington. Suspension of R. O. T. C. camps all over the country has been ordered until congress takes action on the appropriations bill.

The reason for the action taken by the war department, according to Col. W. H. Oury, head of the department of military science, is that camp periods will extend into the next fiscal year, although starting in the present one. Consequently, the camps must be postponed until necessary appropriations for the coming year have been made.

"Suspension of R. O. T. C. camps has been ordered all over the country," Colonel Oury stated. "If congress takes action soon and if the turn of legislation is favorable, the camps undoubtedly will be restored this summer."

Orders Quoted.
The order received from Colonel Steger read as follows: "Under instructions just received from the war department, the conduct of R. O. T. C. camps in this corps area is hereby suspended until further orders. No such camps will be conducted until after congress has acted upon the pending army appropriation bill. All orders heretofore issued from this head-

ORIGINAL PLAY IS GIVEN AT VESPERS

Industrial Staff Portrays Conditions Under Which Factory Girls Work.

A clever play written by the members of the Industrial staff of the Y. W. C. A. was the feature of Vespers Tuesday afternoon. The purpose of this original production was to show the undesirable conditions in which girls are forced to work in order to support themselves and sometimes their families. The epilogue of the play gave the girls an idea as to how they could help to remedy the situation by purchasing the hosiery which is on the "white list."

The members of the staff who appeared in the play were Alma Holbein, E. Bash Perkins, Louise Wallace, Eloisa Daddier, Mary Costelloe, Frances Morgan, Margaret Hunter, Irene Wedell, Marguerite Thompson, Irene Marere and Bernice Ward. Mary Annot Lee assisted by Myra Grimes was the property manager.

Devotions were led by Martha Hershey who also had charge of the meeting.

NEW LEADERS NAMED BY SCHOONER EDITOR

Foster and Soderlund Take Over Business Work of Magazine.

Prof. Lowry Charles Wiberly, editor of the Prairie Schooner, yesterday announced that Harry Foster, arts and science junior, and Harold Soderlund, arts and science sophomore, had been appointed business managers of the literary magazine.

The spring issue of the magazine, according to Foster, is on the press now, but due to revision and reorganization of the business staff its appearance will be delayed a few days. It is hoped the staff will be able to have the magazine out by next week.

The Prairie Schooner is issued quarterly and this issue which in the spring number will have an unusual amount of articles, stories and poems by Nebraska writers. Faculty members, graduates and undergraduates have written for this issue. Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the college of business administration, Dr. Wiberly, editor, Prof. Kenneth Forward of the English department and W. Zolley Lerner, assistant instructor in dramatics, are members of the faculty whose articles will be printed.

Contributors Named. Among graduates and undergraduates who have prepared articles for the Prairie Schooner are Harry H. Foster, Margaret Cannon, Clarissa Bucklin and Marie

ORCHESTRAS MEMBERS REHEARSE RECITAL

Dance Drama Promises Well Says Director; To Be Given Wednesday.

The dress rehearsal for the annual dance drama which will be presented Wednesday evening at the coliseum was most successful, according to Miss Charlotte Bergstrom, instructor in the department of physical education for women, who is directing the affair. A large audience is expected to attend.

The program promises to be most interesting entertainment. A combination of German movements and American dance is portrayed in the first part of the performance. Mood choruses and solo dancers depict a number of conflict dances. One cycle works out the entire story of a gypsy girl who finds a scarf and decides to run away with it. Mob psychology is portrayed in one dance and the machine age furnishes the theme for another. Youth and Old Age, with their conflicting ideas is used in the last division of Part I and is worked out with two choruses. Light, fantastic numbers compose the second part of the program. five years ago. Original dances are worked out by individual and group applicants before they are allowed full membership. Weekly meetings are held at which the members practice dif-

SUNDAY PICNIC WILL REUNITE DELEGATES

Past Estes Coi Pence Attendants to Meet at Pioneers.

Students who have attended the Y. M. Y. W. regional conference at Estes Park and those who are interested in attending it will hold a reunion at Pioneers Park Sunday evening. A twenty-five cent picnic supper will be served near the Y. W. C. A. cabin there. Girls interested in going should meet at Ellen Smith hall at 4:30. Willis Norris and Meredith Nelson are in charge of arrangements. Students are now making arrangements to attend the conference this summer. Thirteen girls have already designated their intention of going.

STUDIO THEATER IS PLANNED FOR NEXT SEMESTER

Dramatics Experiment Will Guarantee Experience For Students.

OPENING IS THURSDAY

Four Original Plays to Be Enacted as Starter For Project.

An innovation in the field of dramatics will be introduced here next fall in the form of an experimental theater, according to Miss H. Alice Howell, director of the University Players, and associate professor of dramatics and elocution. A course in "studio theater" will be part of the dramatic curriculum during the next year. The new experiment embodies several features that have not heretofore been available in the department. The new feature is designed to aid dramatic students in all phases of the stage. It is the plan at the present time to present many original and comparatively unknown plays in the new studio. Many of these plays, while they would be of no great interest to the general public, are of value to students.

Thursday evening the first group of plays will be presented in the studio theater. At the formal opening, four original plays will be enacted. Two of the plays to be presented Thursday are the work of E. P. Conkle, who is studying for his masters degree. Mr. Conkle has attended the George

ORGANIST GIVES PROGRAM

Ruth Amen Presents Senior Recital Monday Eve At Church.

Appearing in her senior presentation Ruth Amen, student with Wilbur Chenoweth, was heard at the First Plymouth Congregational church Monday in an evening of organ music. Sweelinck's Fantasia in Echo Style and Harmonies du Soir, by Kang-Ekert, were outstanding in the manner in which the organist treated the various moods of the compositions. Miss Amen's interpretation of the other masters' scores was very pleasing. Her program: Fantasia in Echo Style, Sweelinck; Soeur Monique, Couperin; Prelude and Fugue in A Minor, Ravel; Sonata in D flat, Rheinberger; Minuetto from the suite, "L'Arlesienne," No. 1, Bizet; Carillon, Vierne; Harmonies du Soir, Kang-Ekert; Toccata, "Thou Art the Rock," Mulet.

PLANS TO HELP NEW FRESHMEN MADE BY BOARD

Big Sister Directors Hold Last Official Meet Monday Noon.

The Big Sister board held its final official meeting of the year Monday noon. Extensive plans were made for activities of the summer preparatory to the work of the Big Sisters next fall among new freshman girls on the campus.

Correspondence will be held throughout the summer with girls who have expressed their intentions of entering the university this fall, to inform them of the custom, traditions, activities, etc. carried on here.

Alice Quigle was named as chairman in charge of summer correspondence and Ruth Cherney was made her assistant. Margaret Reedy was placed in charge of plans for the Tuesday party scheduled during the first week of school, which is sponsored by the Big Sisters and the board.

Margaret Upson presented a letter of resignation to the board during the meeting. According to the A. W. S. point system she was overpointed and was forced to drop board membership.

Having been offered the sponsorship of the Hobby clubs next fall, the matter was discussed and it was decided that this work came under the heading of the board's supervision. The offer was accepted and the board plans to make it one of the major projects of the year's work.

For one last get-together, to enable the board to give full instruction to new Big Sisters, a mass meeting of the board and Big Sisters was called for Monday, May 23, at 5 p. m., in Ellen Smith hall.

FRENCH PIANIST PLAYS TUESDAY NIGHT FOR 300

Lincoln Music Lovers Hear Dumesnil Program at Temple Theater.

LISTENERS ENTHRALLED

Informal Manner of Artist Adds Much to Varied Selections.

Music lovers of Lincoln who attended the concert of Maurice Dumesnil, famous French pianist, at the Temple theater Tuesday night, met not only a great artist but one of the finest gentlemen and most lovable personalities to appear in Lincoln. His informal manner won the approval of the entire audience at once.

From the first note of Debussy's "Homage a Rameau" until the last note of his third encore died in the air, he held the 300 hearers under a spell.

Each group was introduced by M. Dumesnil himself with remarks concerning the numbers and their composers.

His versatility is read in the program presented. From the impressionistic pieces of Debussy to the beautiful Sonata in B flat minor of Chopin he showed gifts of interpretation born only of superior intelligence and the poetic

FINANCIAL STABILITY ACT PASSES COUNCIL

Fraternities Must Certify At Close of Semester As to Standing.

SCHRAMM URGES CHANGE

A report at the end of each semester will certify as to fraternity financial standings according to a rule passed at the Interfraternity council meeting Tuesday night. The new rule goes into effect at once.

In addition, the council Tuesday took a step toward financial stability when a motion was passed to require every fraternity renting a house to make a report before contracting for the lease of a residence.

Both actions came on recommendation of Prof. E. F. Schramm, faculty advisor to the council, who brought to the Greek legislators' attention the necessity for assuring fraternity financial stability. Reports from fraternities will be filed with an advisory committee composed of the two council advisors, Schramm and Prof. C. J. Frankforter, and the dean of men and his assistant T. J. Thompson and W. C. Harper.

The Tuesday evening meeting also brought a motion to impose a five-dollar fine on all groups whose representatives have not checked in their Interfraternity banquet money and tickets by Thursday. The motion was passed by unanimous vote.

A rising vote of thanks was also given Frankforter, Thompson and Schramm for their contribution of the new scholarship cup which was presented for the first time at the Interfraternity banquet.

The old cup will be awarded the fraternity which won it the most times. Phi Kappa Psi, who won the trophy three consecutive years, Beta Theta Pi, Zeta Beta Tau and Alpha Sigma Phi each gained possession of the old cup twice.

A new committee on rushing was also named Tuesday night. Robert Thiel, Acacia, is the new chairman of the group. Working with him will be John Gepson, Phi Kappa Psi, Lynn Leonard, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Glen Hampton, Delta Tau Delta.

Irving Walker, Alpha Gamma Rho, was chairman of the committee this year.

MAY AWGWAN GOES ON SALE WEDNESDAY AT 8

Ivy Day Is Theme of Comic This Month; Features New Material.

The May Awgwan is scheduled to make its appearance on the campus at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, Editor Marvin Robinson announced Tuesday. "Covers which have previously delayed the release of the magazine arrived from the New York publishing house early this week," Robinson stated.

The May issue contains principally original material combined with exchange material selected from leading college humor publications. The Awgwan will be on sale at newsstands located in Social Science, Andrews hall, Temple, Moon and various downtown newsstands.

The May number is centered around an Ivy day theme and staff predictions are that it will be one of the most outstanding numbers issued this year. The cover, drawn by Robinson, is printed in colors and pictures two innocents about to tap a student.
