Faculty Vacation Plans Vary With Travel, Work and Study

Courtesy of The Journal and Star. With the close of the spring term of the University of Nebraska less than two weeks away, many members of the faculty have completed their plans for the summer. Some are directing themselves to travel, others to teaching, either in Lincoln or at other universities, while still others look forward ambitiously to completing and publishing books, articles and treatises.

An interesting summer is planned by Gilbert Doane, who has been granted a three months' leave of absence. He will study in the British Museum in London, England, spending a short time as well on the continent, before returning to Lincoln in early September. Dean John D. Hicks, who with Mrs. Hicks and their three daughters will be leaving the university Aug. 31, will teach at the University of West Virginia at Morgantown during the second term of summer school, before going to Madison, where he has accepted a professorship at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. and Mrs. James Sellers will be at Madison during the summer, where Dr. Sellers, following the summer session, will do research work.

Dean and Mrs. J. E. LeRossignol will spend an interesting summer in Canada, where Dean LeRossignol will write. They will leave June 11 for Toronto and Montreal, where they will be joined about two weeks later by their daughter, Miss Helen, who is now a student at the Denver university. From Montreal they will go to Boischatel, near Quebec, on the St. Lawrence.

Colonel and Mrs. W. H. Oury, with their daughter, Miss Katherine Oury, will leave about the first of July for California, where they will vacation for two months.

Another member of the faculty of the military science department who will spend his summer in the west is Serg. Earl DeVaughn, who with his family will leave June 6 to tour by way of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico; San Antonio and Amarillo, Tex.; Santa Fe, N. M.; Denver and Estes park, returning to Lincoln about Aug. 15.

An intriguing summer is planned by Lester B. Orfield, who, for the third time, will be a summer ranger in the national park service, at the Petrified Forest near Holbrook, Ariz.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Weidemann will be at Seattle, Wash., where Dr. Weidemann will be a visiting professor of education during the summer quarter, at the University of Washington. They will return to Lincoln for the fall semester. Altho Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Candy's plans are not complete, they are counting on spending July and August at their summer camp at Piney Ridge, Minn.

R. F. Vogeler will be included in the list of those studying during the summer, for he will take graduate work at the University of Southern California at Los Angeles, also attending the national Recreational congress and the Olympic games during the summer. Mrs. Vogeler will accompany him to the west coast, leaving the first week in June.

Dr. J. O. Hertzler will teach during the summer at the University of Colorado at Boulder, following which he and his family will tour the southwest.

After the summer session, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Worcester will with their family will leave by motor for Vermont, where they will visit Dr. Worcester's boyhood home. They will also be the guests of Mrs. Worcester's brother in Washington, D. C., and plan to be in Vermont the last day of August, for the eclipse of the sun. On Sept. 9 and 10 Dr. Worcester will attend the meeting of the American Psychological association at Ithaca, N. Y.

Jiles Haney will attend the semi-annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, which will be held at Bigwin Inn, Lake of Bays, Ontario, Canada, June 27 to July 1. He is a member of the national committee on local sections, which will also meet at that time. With his family, after the meeting, he will make an extended trip thru the east, visiting Washington, D. C., for the Washington bi-centennial celebration, as well as several eastern universities.

Maurice Merrill plans on spending the greater part of the summer working on the manuscript of his book, "The Law of Notice." During the late summer, however, he and his family plan on vacationing in Oklahoma and the south.

Dr. Leva Walker's plans do not go beyond teaching at summer school. Her sister, Dr. Elda Walker, who has been in the Hawaiian islands on a leave of absence, will return to the western coast about the middle of June, remaining there over the summer.

Miss Kady B. Faulkner will drive to Lake Chelan, Wash., where she will spend the greater part of the summer painting and working on an anatomy book for students, which she hopes to publish.

Miss Louise Austin, an assistant in the department of drawing and painting, will study two months in the Art Students' League in New York City, later touring the New England coast.

Dr. C. H. Oldfather is also a member of the group planning on spending his entire vacation in writing, as well as proof reading another of his books which has gone to press. To further fill his busy summer, he will teach at the summer session.

Dr. T. M. Raysor will spend three weeks in the early part of the summer in Washington, D. C., browsing thru the Folger Shakespeare library, studying new Coleridge marginalia upon Shakespeare. Then, and until the last of July, he will write on his third volume of criticisms of Coleridge, leaving about the first of August for Estes park with Mrs. Raysor.

Prof. and Mrs. N. A. Bengston will return for the fourth time to New York City, where Prof. Bengston will be in charge of the work on economic geography at the Columbia university school of business.

Dr. Otis Wade will teach at the University of Wyoming summer camp in Medicine Bow mountains until July 23, after which he will do private research work thru the west. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Wade.

Dr. H. W. Manter will be one of twelve scientists studying at the Carnegie Marine biological laboratory at Tortugas, Fla. The laboratory is located eighty miles west of Key West, on a small coral island.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Wolcott plan on spending the summer in Lincoln. Dr. Wolcott will work on a zoology text and teach in summer school.

Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Blake have not decided whether they will spend the summer in Maine at Dr. Blake's former home, or in Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hudson will summer at Mr. Hudson's home in South Carolina, stopping a short while en route to Lincoln, at the national museum at Washington, D. C.

Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Whitney will leave July 1 for Vermont, where Mr. Whitney formerly lived. They will also visit the Marine Biological laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass., and attend the International Genetics congress at Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 22 to 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dickey will leave during August for Estes park. Mrs. Dickey will spend summer school working on her masters degree.

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Himmel will be in Iowa City, where Dr. Himmel will teach field botany at the University of Iowa.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Forbes will be at Urbana, where Dr. Forbes will teach at the summer session of the University of Illinois.

Miss Catherine Dunn will be assistant supervisor of field work at the University of Chicago during summer school, when she will also study towards her doctor's degree. Before the opening of summer school, Miss Dunn will visit her parents in northern Michigan.

After the conclusion of summer school, in which she will teach, Miss Letta Clark will go to California, motoring back before the opening of the fall semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kirsch will leave at the close of summer school for New Mexico, where Mr. Kirsch will paint and take photographs.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Decker and their daughter will spend the time after the close of summer school visiting in Zanesville, O., and Chicago.

While C. W. Ackerson will teach during summer school, Mrs. Ackerson, with their daughters Patsy and Peggy, will leave June 1 to visit relatives in Somerset, Mich.

WOMEN MAY SIGN UP FOR ROOMS IN RESIDENCE HALL

potential rates with those already fixed in other universities maintaining residences houses for women, it is discovered that cost of living in Carrie Belle Raymond hall under the proposed rates would be much more expensive than that of other schools.

At the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, room rent per semester ranges from $80 to 105 dollars according to the size and location of the room, and board cost is $7 per week. At the University of Montana, board is $6 per week and $30 to $45 per quarter for room rent. Northwestern university at Evanston has a sliding scale of fixed room and board prices ranging from $300 to $550 per year. Most of the houses charge a flat rate of $550, and lower prices are effected only in co-operative houses for those needing financial aid.

Range of Prices. At Minneapolis in the University of Minnesota prices range from $375 to $405 per year. The University of Illinois at Urbana maintains residences at a cost of $360 to $432 per year, per girl. Two Big Six schools, who also advanced information on their dormitory system expressly for publication in the Daily Nebraskan, the University of Kansas at Lawrence and the University of Iowa, also charge higher rates than those proposed for Nebraska.

At the Iowa city school, rooms range from $109 to $145.50 per semester, and board is $6 per week. At the University of Kansas, nine months' cost of rooms changes from $91 to $136, and board is $5 weekly. Still closer to Nebraska is Doane college at Crete which charges $120 to $180 per year for room and $200 yearly for board.

PALLADIAN SOCIETY SELECTS OFFICERS

Three New Initiates Are Taken Into the Group Saturday Night.

At the regular business meeting of the Palladian Literary society last Monday evening the following officers were elected for the fall term: President, Bill Allington; vice president, Hughina Legge; critic, Dorothy Atkinson; recording secretary, Harry West; corresponding secretary, Evelyn Hallstrom; program secretary, Norma Peterson; historian, Kenneth Millett. These officers will be installed at the business meeting Monday evening.

The summer officers elected were: Chairman, Vernon Filley; secretary, Hughina Legge.

Initiation was held Saturday night for Marjorie Filley, Wilbur Hansen and Stanley Jameson. Ervin Watson presided at the initiation.

University of Wisconsin's Two Halls Accommodate 280 Students; Special Emphasis Placed on Scholarship

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles dealing with women's residence halls in other schools in an attempt to give students a comparative study by which to judge Carrie Belle Raymond hall.)

At the University of Wisconsin in Madison, two halls accommodating a total of 280 students are operated by the university for convenience of women students. Chadbourne hall with a residence capacity of 130 women, is the older of the two buildings and, in earlier days, was known as "Ladies hall." The two halls are located adjacent to each other; both halls provide elevator service.

Individual rooms are furnished with a dresser, a rocker, bookshelves, a study table, lamp and chair, and bed. Emphasis in the Wisconsin system, as is the plan for the Nebraska hall, is placed on the maintenance of high standards of scholarship, not only thru the provision of "quiet hours," but by mutual aid among students themselves thru a sort of proctor system. To those women who are successful in maintaining a grade point average of 1.3, equal probably, to an 80 on this campus, are given preference in the assignment of rooms for the following year.

As Nebraska residents of Carrie Belle Raymond hall will be subject to the rules of the Associated Women's Student's board, Wisconsin women are responsible for their conduct to the Women's Self government association and its regulations. In addition both Bernard and Chadbourne halls have their house organizations with president and other officers whose duty it is to arrange the social program for the halls, see to it that rules are observed, and co-operate with the hostess in stimulating interest in the opportunities afforded by the university. The hostess in each hall is a cultured university trained woman who is in a position to give counsel and help concerning studies or other university activities. The plan followed in having a hostess rather than a house manager is that to which the Nebraska dormitory committee is adhering in its effort to secure a social director who will act in that capacity alone and concern herself entirely with establishing harmonious relations within the building, developing and drawing out personalities, and in teaching young women how to lead fuller, more self-satisfying lives.

Main floor of Chadbourne hall finds four parlors, hostess' suite, serving quarters and a small kitchen. Second, third and fourth floors are composed almost entirely of bedrooms with a reading room on each floor. On the fourth floor is located the dining room. Bardnard hall dining rooms are located in the basement and private student rooms are found on all four floors.

INSTALLATION IS HELD BY MEMBERS OF PHI TAU THETA

Phi Tau Theta, Methodist men's organization at the university, installed the following officers Friday night: president, Bernard Malcolm; vice president, Henry Gemella; secretary, Carroll Wilson; treasurer, Kenneth Miller; corresponding secretary, John Steven; and chaplain, Harold Wilson. The installation took place at an annual dinner at Warren M. E.

A quartet composed of Henry Gemella, Ray Meyers, Lloyd Watt and Harold Pottery with Clarence Scholz as accompanist sang. Rev. R. J. Pool was the principal speaker and toasts were given by Rev. W. C. Fawell, sponsor; Lloyd Watt, Fateullah Mostofi, Clarence Scholz and Marmon Bollman.

Home Economics Board Names Committee Heads

The home economics board held its last meeting for this semester on May 10. At that time the newly installed officers presided. Chairman and assistants for social, program and publicity committees were elected.

Emma Feith is social chairman and Marion White her assistant. Beatrice Donaldson is program chairman with Helen Smrha as assisting. Florence Buxman is publicity chairman and Leona Geiger is her assistant.

ESTES REUNION WILL NOT MEET SUNDAY EVENING

The Estes reunion meeting which was scheduled for Sunday at 6 has been postponed. Instead all girls who are planning to attend the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. conference at Estes in June, or who would like to know more about the plans are asked to meet with Willa Norris at Ellen Smith hall at five o'clock Tuesday.

This is an important meeting as means of transportation will be planned and a list of necessities for the trip will be given each girl. Up to the present time about eighteen girls have signified their intention of going to the conference.

Rembolt New President Of Musical Fraternity

The Upsilon chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, national musical fraternity, elected officers at their last meeting on May 18. The men chosen to lead the local chapter for the coming year are Ray Rembolt, supreme councillor; Marvin Bostrom, president; Charles Ledwith, vice president; Robert Campbell, secretary; Fred Mower, treasurer, and Keith Schroeder, historian and warden.

It was also decided at this meeting that the annual picnic of the organization would be held on Saturday, June 4.
