

Lindsey Succeeds Hargiss as Head Grid Mentor at Kansas

FORMER SOONER COACH MOVES UP IN QUICK CHANGE

Started Season as Aide to Hargiss After Five Years at Norman.

GETTO RETAINS POSITION

Former Pittsburgh Gridster, Now Line Coach, Keeps Job at K. U.

LAWRENCE, Kas.—Coach H. W. Hargiss was deposed Monday as head football coach of the University of Kansas and Adrian Lindsey, his assistant, was moved up to fill the position for the rest of the season.

Hargiss, who was recently appointed head track coach following the resignation of Brutus Hamilton, will retain that post, Dr. Forrest C. Allen, director of athletics, announced. The change involves no reduction in salary.

Decision to relieve Hargiss as head mentor was made after the Jayhawks lost to Oklahoma, 21 to 6, Saturday. The athletic board called to a secret meeting by Chancellor E. H. Lindsey immediately after the game Saturday night, decided to authorize Director Allen to make any changes he desired.

The shakeup does not involve Mike Getto, who will retain his position as line coach.

Lindsey, the new coach, began his first year at Kansas this fall. He had served five years at Oklahoma U. as head coach previously, losing out last year in a departmental shakeup.

IOWA DEAN ADVOCATES VARIETY IN CURRICULA

Friley, New Head Industrial Sciences, Says Plan Education Diet.

AMES, Ia.—Students in American colleges sometimes suffer from "mental indigestion" because they consume too much knowledge or because they are given the wrong variety, Dean Charles E. Friley, assuming his new duties as head of the division of industrial science at Iowa State college, said today. This condition results, Dean Friley said, from failure of colleges to plan courses to meet student needs. "Curricula must be ever-changing and ever-developing if they are to satisfy the requirements of students in an advancing civilization," he declared. "The proper aim of any educational institution is development in its students of well rounded character and ability."

One changing condition, he went on, that has affected curricular problems is the huge increase in collegiate attendance in the last thirty years. At the start of the century, Dean Friley said, only one young person in thirty-five was in college; today one in seven goes to college.

Dean Friley's objectives for his division include a careful study of teaching methods, a survey of educational activities the division may sponsor and "effecting all economies possible without endangering the efficiency or development of the work."

Dean Friley came to Iowa State from Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college.

PRESIDENT DENOUNCES RULE Missouri Uni Head Says Foreigners' Deportation Short-Sighted.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP). Dr. Walter Williams, president of the University of Missouri and former president of the world press congress, denounced as "short sighted" the ruling of the secretary of labor that foreign students attempting to earn expenses in the United States be deported. "The ruling will have regrettable results from the standpoint of international goodwill," said Dr. Williams. "The financial effect will be insignificant and it will be accepted by foreign countries as another evidence of narrow nationalism."

HUSKERS SEE FILMS OF CYCLONE BATTLE MONDAY SESSION

Bible Follows It With Long Blackboard Drill on Minnesota Plays.

Motion pictures of the Iowa State game and a long skull practice kept the varsity busy Monday afternoon. Glaring defects in blocking, running interference and the missed assignments generally, came to life in the reels, and then Coach Bible emphasized the errors still further with a blackboard lecture.

With the Minnesota game at Minneapolis on the boards for Saturday, the Huskers went through an intensive study session of the Gopher offense and defense as used against Purdue last week. Assistant coach Harold Browne scouted the Minnesota team in the Purdue game and has brought back word that Coach Bernie Bierman has a fast, heavy eleven that gave the Boilermakers a grueling struggle all the way.

Manders Really Good.
Jack Manders, the 200 pound all conference fullback is a fast, tough ball carrier, according to Browne, while Francis Lund, sophomore half is the speediest man on the squad. Minnesota made three definite threats against Purdue but lacked the necessary punch to score. Coach Noble Kizer's outfit winning 7 to 0.

The Scarlet players confined their outdoor drill Monday to working the kinks out of sore muscles and in running through several new plays that have been saved especially for Minnesota. As the Huskers will be wearing white jerseys in the Minnesota game, they began the week's preparation in that attire Monday.

KNOTHOLERS COMPOSE THIRD OF ATTENDANCE

Selleck Announces Football Crowd Is Largely High School Students.

Almost a third of the total attendance at the Iowa-Nebraska football game Saturday, was made up of members of the "Knothole Club," according to John K. Selleck, business manager of athletics. The total attendance has been approximated to be between nine and ten thousand, and the "Knotholes" made up a large percent of the total.

A new plan for admission was adopted this year which increased the attendance greatly. Eligibility for membership was advanced to older students by basing it on grades instead of the age of the applicant. Any school student from the 12th grades may become a member after the proper preliminaries. Students wishing to avail themselves of a membership card are required to make application at their school office, where a blank is furnished them to be filled out and countersigned by the principal of the establishment.

Two Groups.
The club also is divided into two groups, Senior Knothole and Junior Knothole. Boys and girls in the tenth to twelfth grades belong to the Senior group, and the smaller students from the fifth to ninth grades are in the Junior division. Senior Knotholes must present twenty-five cents along with their card to be admitted to a game, while Junior members are admitted for ten cents.

The Knothole sections are under supervision of the Boy Scouts and Campfire girls organizations, therefore, it is not necessary for members to have a chaperone to the games. However, should an adult desire to accompany the students, they will be admitted to the Knothole section at the general admission rate of the game.

Apathetic cheering from the student section didn't rouse the Huskers to brilliant heights in the Iowa State game Saturday. If the accented cheering section exhibits an indifferent, don't-give-a-damn spirit, how can they expect the team down on the field to play aggressively? It's an old, old topic, I know, but really the cheering was certainly miserable.

With so little enthusiasm coming from the student section the burden was placed on William F. "Billy" Quick, and the university band. They were overworked during the game, but they did considerable rooting themselves in addition. Even the players admit that a fighting spirit from the stands inspires them to produce their best, so let's get worked up a little when the next game comes around. Well, I finally got that off my chest.

Don Theophilus, 185 pound Ames fullback, was one of the chief reasons why the Nebraska backs could not gain consistently in the second half. It was the duty of one of the Husker halfbacks to block him in one of the plays, but Theophilus who was backing up the line, refused to consider the idea, he made seven straight tackles in one part of the third quarter.

Coach Harold Browne, who scouted the Minnesota-Purdue game at Minneapolis Saturday, declares that Paul Moss, Purdue left end, was the lad who really won the game for Purdue. Moss did most of the punting and much of the passing for his team, and according to Browne set the Minnesota eleven back on their heels persistently with great kicks and fine passing.

MEN TRY FOR PLACES WITH JUDGING TEAM

Nebraska Sends Delegates To Dairy Exposition At Detroit.

Eight University of Nebraska college of agriculture students are trying out for the dairy products judging team which is to compete in the national judging contest in Detroit next week. Prof. P. A. Downs of the dairy department is coaching the team.

Those trying out for the team are Marion Mechem, John Rhodes, P. W. Meredith, Royce Fisher, Bob Berger, Bill Raiston, Paul Swanson and Harold Besack. Practically all of the men are dairy majors in the college of agriculture.

FARMERS AT CORN TEST

Extension Service and Local Crop Bureaus Conduct Experiments.

Several hundred farmers are gathering, this week, to learn more about the variety tests which are being conducted by local farm bureaus and by the extension service of the agriculture college. Among the things that will be inspected and compared, at the meetings, are the probable yield and strength of stalk of the different varieties of corn.

The corn was raised under ordinary conditions, and did not receive any extra attention. The seed from which the corn was raised came from a commercial company and is of the variety which is found in Nebraska and Iowa.

P. H. Stewart and D. L. Gross, extension agronomists, will assist in conducting the meetings.

GEOGRAPHIC REVIEW PUBLISHES ARTICLE

Professor Nels Bengtson Composes Summary From Swedish.

Professor Nels A. Bengtson of the Geographic department is the author of an article entitled "Lop Nor, the Wandering Lake Gobi," which was published in the Geographical Record section of the October Geographical Review. The article is a summary and review of three articles published recently in Swedish by Sven Hedin and Nils G. Horner. These articles are based on field work carried out by the authors in the heart of the Gobi desert in which they discovered one of the most remarkable changes of drainage that has occurred within historic times. A lake known as Lop Nor to the Chinese was in existence in about 300 A. D., since which time it has been non-existent until in 1926 when the stream formerly flowing into it, again began emptying its waters into the old lake basin.

Scores Last Week.
Nebraska 15, Iowa State 6. Oklahoma 15, Kansas 6. Texas 65, Missouri 0. Kansas State 57, Kansas Wesleyan 6.

Featuring the play of Big Six conference eleven last Saturday, was Oklahoma's rather startling 21 to 6 victory over the powerful Kansas Jayhawkers and Missouri's 65 to 0 drubbing at the hands of Texas U. Include also Iowa State's fine grid display against Nebraska and you have something of a size-up of Saturday's opening high spots.

The Huskers gave a dismal exhibition in its first game with Ames, being barely able to hang up a 12 to 6 win. Playing sparkling football the first half, the Cornhuskers offense did an about face in the second to bog down completely. After tallying on a 50-yard pass from Schafer to Impson early in the fourth quarter, the Iowa Staters launched a determined attack which carried the ball once to the Husker 11-yard line, where the Nebraska defense stiffened. Bernie Masterson's fortunate recovery of Grete's fumble in the first of the two Cyclone drives stopped what appeared to be a touchdown march.

Dunlap Sooner Star.

To Bob Dunlap, flashy Oklahoma quarterback and his halfback teammate Bill Pansze go the honors for the Sooner triumph against the heavy Kansas team. The contest which was forecasted as a probable tossup resulted in an easy 21 to 6 win for Coach Lewis Hardage's outfit, the light Oklahoma backs simply outspeeding the ponderous K. U. linemen.

Ralph Graham enjoyed a field day at the expense of Kans & Wesleyan last Friday night, the 190 pound fullback heading an attack that counted eight touchdowns. The final score found Kansas Aggies with 52 points and Kansas Wesleyan 6.

Missouri received a 65 to 0 tramping from Texas U. in one of the worst defeats ever recorded against a Tiger eleven. Oklahoma meets Texas this week which should give conference followers a good line on the strength of the Sooner club. Oklahoma lost 3 to 0 in last year's tilt with the Longhorns.

Play Gophers.

After a thirteen year lapse, the University of Nebraska resumes football relations with the University of Minnesota Saturday. The last game between the two teams was played in 1919 at Minneapolis ending in a 6 to 6 tie. Elmer Schellenburg went over for the Scarlet counter. Previous to this tilt, the Huskers and Gophers had competed in a series of clashes extending over a long period of years, with Minnesota's last exhibition at Lincoln dated 1913. Capt. Leonard Purdy's team won 6 to 0 from the Minneapolis crew that year.

This week's play again finds only two Big Six games scheduled. Kansas plays Iowa State at Ames in what should be a corking good tilt and Kansas State meets Missouri at Manhattan. To date, Coach A. N. "Bo" McMillin's team has displayed the greatest power of any of the conference teams and should have little trouble winning from Missouri.

BOOKS AUCTIONED AT WISCONSIN U

Money Raised to Be Used To Train Students in Library Work.

Seventy-five autographed books by some of America's most widely read authors will be auctioned off to the highest bidder at the annual conference of the Wisconsin Library association, Oct. 5 to 7, in order to provide funds for those who wish to be trained in library science. The books were collected by the library school at the University of Wisconsin.

The title pages of some of the books have been inscribed with interesting paragraphs by the authors.

Among the authors who have donated books to the collection are Edna Ferber, Louis Utermeyer,

FRATERNITY TENNIS TOURNAMENT UNDER WAY

Sigma Chi Team Impresses With Two Wins; Alpha Thets Triumph.

Unexpected strength of Sigma Chi net team and the steady play of the Alpha Theta Chi players have featured the early rounds of the interfraternity tennis tourney.

Sigma Chi with Lester and McKerny in the leading roles turned back both Alpha Gamma Rho and Zeta Beta Tau fraternities in last week's play. Against the A. G. R. team, McKerny was hard pressed to beat Raiston, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1 while Lester had an easier time with Clark, winning 6-1, 6-2. Lester trimmed Levinson of Zeta Beta Tau 6-3, 6-2 in a second round match as McKerny turned back Galtisky by the same score.

The championship Alpha Theta Chi outfit took the measure of the strong Sigma Nu team. Miller defeated French 6-3, 6-4 and Shafer was too brilliant for Johnson, triumphing by a 6-0, 6-2 count. Sigma Alpha Epsilon neatly disposed of Sigma Phi Epsilon, winning all three matches. Bennett beat Hirst, 7-5, 6-3; Sawyer downed Raase, 9-1, 8-6, and Clark won from Askwig, 5-7, 7-5, 6-0.

In the only match that has yet been played between Delta Tau Delta and Tau Kappa Epsilon the team of Tau Delta Delta drubbed Nickel, 6-0, 6-0. McLean Hall succumbed to Phi Alpha Delta, Taylor beating Mayborn, 6-0, 6-2, and Reynolds whipping Cole by the same score.

First round matches that have not been played are the Pi Kappa Alpha-Delta Sigma Lambda match and Phi Kappa-Delta Chi match. Fraternities drawing byes in the initial round include Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Psi, Pi Kappa Phi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Phi Delta Theta, Delta Upsilon and Kappa Sigma.
