FACTIONS MAKE STATEMENTS OF ELECTION ISSUES

Blue Shirts Give Platform; Yellow Jackets Explain Barb Coalition.

HOLD ELECTION TUESDAY

Student Activities Tax and Coliseum Decorations Are Blue Shirt Points.

Pre-election statements were issued by both student political factions Saturday. While the blue-shirts presented a formal platform of points which they favor and pledge themselves to work for thru the influence of their candidates, if elected, the yellow jackets-barb coalition issued merely an informal declaration explaining the coalition of the two heretofore separate factions.

The blueshirt platform follows: Recognizing the need for constructive work in student politics as well as in other fields of extra-curricular endeavor if activities are to be rehabilitated, the Blueshirt faction declares itself for the following planks in its platform for the year:

1. Active and continual work looking toward adoption of a blanket student activities tax.
2. Attempts to secure drapes of a permanent nature for the coliseum to make the building suitable for use for all campus social events, that the proceeds of the junior-senior prom, of which the junior class president will have charge, be devoted to this purpose.
3. Support of the proposal that the swimming pool be made available to swimmers of both sexes at the same time.

The Yellowjacket-Barb statement: It is only fair, under our existing principles of democracy that all students, regardless of fraternal affiliations, be represented in all forms of student activity. Prompted by this motive, the Yellowjacket faction has sought and completed a coalition with the Barbs of this campus. We feel that any separate organization that the Barbs might perfect would net them nothing, and that without joining forces with one of the factions, they would remain unrepresented as they have been in the past.

We are not presenting a meaningless formal platform, feeling that the issues are not of enough merit. We appeal to the student body for support on the strength of our past accomplishments.

The Yellowjacket-Barb coalition candidates are Vernon Filley, Ag college barb for president of the junior class, and Arthur Pinkerton, Yellowjacket, for president of the senior class. Blueshirt candidates are Carlyle Sorenson for junior president and Glen LeDoyt for senior president.

With the withdrawal of Jane Youngson, only three candidates are striving for the post of honorary colonel. They are Helen Baldwin, Jane Axtell, and Grace Nicklas. The identity of the winning candidate will not be made known until the night of the military ball.

MUSICAL CONVOCATION TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Third Presentation Features Lester A. Somers in Violin Recital.

The third musical convocation of the year will be held Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 4 o'clock in the Temple theater with Lester A. Somers presenting a violin recital. Mr. Somers, of the music faculty of Midland college, Fremont, has studied with teachers who, in their turn, are pupils of some of the world's most famous masters of violin playing and teaching, such as Leopold Auer, Hugo Heermann, Henry Marteau, Olakar Sevek, Carl Huber, Lotto Ysaye, Jac Dont, and Joseph Joachim.

As violinist and teacher, Mr. Somers has had valuable experience both as executive and instructor: first violin with the Odeon string orchestra, Canadian tour; first violin with Licour's Symphonic orchestra, national tour; assistant instructor of violin to Carl F. Steckelberg, university school of music, Lincoln; head of the violin department, Midland college, and head of the violin department, Norfolk conservatory of music.

His program follows: Beethoven, "Sonata, No. 9, Op. 47," Adagio sostenuto-presto; Andante con Variazioni, Finale-Presto; Schubert "Ave Maria"; Kreisler, "Romance Violoncello"; Wieniawski, "Romance from D minor"; Burleigh, "Fairy Sailing."

PROGRAM SERIES BEGINS

Kady Faulkner to Discuss Blockprints With Public Illustrations.

Oct. 16 marks the beginning of another series of programs sponsored by the school of fine arts. The program Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock will present Miss Kady Faulkner who will discuss "Blockprints," an informal talk illustrated by examples from the Modern American Blockprint exhibition now on display. The program is scheduled for gallery B in Morrill hall.

The second school of fine arts program is set for Sunday, Oct. 30, at the same hour and will offer an illustrated talk by Dwight Kirsch, chairman of the administration committee of the school of fine arts. He will speak on "The Colorful Southwest."

OFFER PRIZES FOR PRESENTATION IDEA

Military Department Asks For Plans of Revealing Honorary Colonel.

BALL TO BE HELD DEC. 2

A cash prize of $15 will be awarded to the student submitting the most original and workable idea for the presentation of the honorary colonel at the annual Military ball, it was announced yesterday by the military department. The Military ball, which opens the winter formal season, will be held Friday, Dec. 2, in the coliseum.

Novelty and practicality will be the two points given the greatest consideration in the ideas submitted. An effort will be made to use a presentation which is entirely different from those shown in past years. An historical background of a military character will carry weight should any be submitted of that nature.

Sketches Should Accompany. If necessary, pencil sketches of the idea or of decorations necessary for the carrying out of the presentation idea should be submitted with the plan proposed. The idea may be conveyed in the form of a skit or in any manner the contestant desires. All will be given equal consideration.

Ideas are to be mailed or given to Capt. G. W. Sperry, adviser to the committee in charge, at the military department, in a sealed envelope. Envelopes will not be opened until the close of the contest. The deadline for acceptance has been set for Oct. 19.

Any student in the university is eligible to submit as many ideas as he desires in the contest. The announcement of the winner of the $15 prize will not be made until the night of the Military ball.

The military department reserves the right to keep all ideas or manuscripts submitted.

DRAMA CLUB CHOOSES LEE YOUNG PRESIDENT

Arts and Science Junior Who Succeeds Marvin Schmid Active.

Lee Young, arts and science junior and a member of Kappa Sigma, Thursday night was elected president of the University Drama club. He succeeds Marvin Schmid, whose resignation took effect on that date. Young, who has appeared in several University Players' and Kosmet Klub productions since he came to Nebraska, took charge of the meeting immediately following election.

There seems to be an unusual amount of interest in dramatic club work among non-members this year and with this in mind arrangements have been made for fall tryouts for those who desire to become members.

According to the new president try-outs will be held in the club room on the third floor of the Temple theater next Thursday night, starting at 7:30. He pointed out, however, that it will be necessary for candidates to file their applications with the secretary of the club, Reg Porter, before try-outs are held.

Receive Applications. Applications may be filed any time Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock at the Cornhusker office. Young urged that all candidates be asked to bear in mind the seriousness of the try-out. Requirements are that each person shall be able to prove his ability by presenting a short skit or poem from memory of not less than three minutes nor more than five.

The committee in charge of the tryouts is composed of six club members, headed by the president. There will also be one member of the faculty from the dramatics department present next Thursday evening.

Candidates should be careful to get their applications in before the deadline which is Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, as this will be the only time this year that new members will be taken, Young warned.

INCREASE SHOWN IN ENROLLMENT FOR GRADUATES

Recent Check Reveals 545 Register for Work as Post-Grads.

368 WORK FOR DEGREES

Many Are Candidates for M. A. and Ph. D. Titles; Others Seek M. S.

With 545 graduate students enrolled for the first semester at the University of Nebraska, the graduate college shows an increase of almost 10 percent over the corresponding time last year and more than 36 percent increase over the number for 1929, according to figures announced Saturday. The enrollment also shows an increase over the second semester of last year, when 521 students were enrolled in the graduate college.

Of the total 545, 368 students are listed as candidates for advanced degrees, the balance being now listed as taking graduate work but not for a specific degree. There are 265 men and 103 women taking graduate work toward a specific degree.

Master of Arts Popular.

The majority of the candidates for advanced degrees are studying for their Master of Arts degree, 205 in number. The advanced Doctor of Philosophy degree is the goal of 85 persons, 75 men and 10 women. Seventy-two students are working toward the Master of Science degree; five men toward the Master of Architecture degree; and one toward the Master of Engineering degree.

Chemistry is a popular field for graduate students. Seventeen persons are now working for their Ph.D. degree in that field and twenty-two for their M. A. degree. Twenty-nine students are registered in the department of (Continued on Page 3.)

NEW RAYMOND HALL IS RECEPTION SCENE

About Two Hundred Guests Expected at the First Formal Gathering.

Their first formal reception will be given by the residents of the new Carrie Belle Raymond hall Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. About two hundred fifty guests are expected to attend, including the representatives from each of the Greek letter houses, the residents of Howard Hall, and the members of the Barb council.

The guests as they enter will be greeted by Miss Eberence Hoffman, who will introduce them to Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett. Others in the receiving line are Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women; Miss Elsie Ford Piper, assistant dean of women; Dr. Elizabeth Williamson, social director of Raymond hall and assistant dean of women, and the Misses Miriam Kissinger, La Verle Herman, and Delores Deadman.

LUTHERANS GIVE PROGRAM Music, Skit and a Talk Comprise Program of Students.

Music, a skit and a talk on Lutheran activities comprised the program of the student Lutheran club at its first meeting of the year Friday evening in the Temple.

Rev. R. E. Rangelier, pastor of St. James Lutheran church spoke, and a short skit was presented by members of the Grace Lutheran league. Esther Kreucher, DeWitt, sang, and Albert Blair and Emma Vogel of Lincoln played several accordian selections.

Rev. G. A. Elliott of the First Lutheran church was co-sponsor of the meeting with Rev. Mr. Rangelier. Charles DeVore, president of the organization, was in charge of arrangements. He was assisted by Irene Apfelback, Alberta Blair, Marvin Troutwein, Irene Wedell, Elsie Beschoner and Kenneth Broman.

KOSMET KLUB IS ACCEPTING PLANS FOR SHOW SKITS

Deadline for Submitting Ideas Is Wednesday October 19.

With the approach of the deadline for entering skits for the Kosmet Klub Thanksgiving Morning review, several applications have been received and more are expected. Jack Thompson, president of the club, announced yesterday. The deadline is Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Indications point to approximately the same number of skits in the revue as in past years. Thompson stated. It is planned to introduce a greater variety of acts than ever before, he added.

A loving cup will be presented to the organization for combination submitting the best skit in the revue. The trophy will be presented either to a single group or combination which is judged by popular acclaim to have produced the best entertainment.

Winners of the trophy for the best skit in the revue last year were Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Upsilon, who entered a musical revue. The trophy is awarded jointly to the two organizations, which share in its possession.

There is a possibility, it was indicated yesterday by Thompson, that a non-student committee will be appointed to pass judgment upon the acts in the show and select the four best. The winner of this group will be chosen by applause from the audience. The plan is not yet definite, he added.

The deadline for accepting applications for workers for the Seven-C committee—costumes, scenery, business, advertising, production, music, and publicity will be appointed from those applying for work.

Skits to be entered in the show will be judged by the production committee of the Klub on Nov. 1, 2, and 3. Organizations will present their acts to the committee at that time, and the group will decide upon the number to be used in the show. Definite announcement of those selected will be made a few days later.

"Variety of talent and entertainment is the keynote of the production this year," Thompson, who is also chairman of the production committee, declared yesterday. "We will endeavor to present a varied and interesting program."

Election Rules

1. No vote shall be solicited at the polls or in the building in which the election is being held during election day. No money shall be spent on behalf of any candidate. 3. Only students classified as seniors, i. e. having at least eighty-nine credit hours, may vote for senior class president.

4. A student graduated in one college shall be classified according to the number of hours earned in his present college plus the number of hours required for entrance in his present college.

5. All students are eligible to vote for honorary colonel.

6. No student may vote except upon presentation of his identification card bearing the validation stamp of the finance secretary.

7. No student may vote whose identification card has been punched once.

8. No student may vote if his identification card bears evidence of erasure or other signs of change as to the name or classification of that student.

9. Any student whose vote is challenged at the polls for any of these reasons by any of the election officials shall not be permitted to vote unless a written statement from the registrar's office is shown to the election officials indicating that the challenge was not justified.

STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT.

SELECT MEN TO TRY FOR ANNUAL RHODES AWARDS

Scott, Wehn, Nuernberger, Nelson and Allaway Are Candidates.

GO TO STATE COMMITTEE

To Be Eligible Must Be a Sophomore in Degree Granting College.

Five University of Nebraska men have been selected as the eligible candidates for the University of Nebraska for the Rhodes scholarship award according to an announcement Saturday from the chancellor's office.

The five men selected are: Howard G. Allaway, Homer, school of journalism senior; Meredith K. Nelson, Lincoln, arts and sciences senior; Robert E. Nuernberger, Wakefield, graduate student; Philip C. Scott, Lincoln, assistant instructor in philosophy; John W. Wehn, Bridgeport, college of law.

A candidate, to be eligible must be a male citizen of the United States, unmarried, and be between nineteen and twenty-five years of age at the start of the year for which he is elected, and have completed at least his sophomore year at some recognized degree-granting college or university.

Apply to Committee.

Candidates must first secure the written endorsement from this college or university before they may enter the competition in a given state. Such authorized candidates must make application to the state committee, of which Mr. H. A. Gunderson of Fremont is secretary, not later than October 22. This committee will meet on December 19 and nominate two men to enter the district competition.

FARM GIRL'S PLACE IS NOT IN BARNYARD

State Fair Secretary in Favor Ban on Lasses Showing Stock.

Because he thinks the farm girl's place is in the home, not the barnyard, and because 4-H club work is designed to train boys and girls for their life occupation, Secretary George Jackson of the state fair board Thursday evening discussed with county fair managers of seven northwestern Nebraska counties means for discouraging girls from showing livestock at county and state fairs.

"The girls aren't going to be in the hog raising or stock breeding business," said Secretary Jackson. "There are plenty of activities in which the 4-H club girls can engage which will help prepare them for their life work. There are many sewing, home making and other such clubs in which they can take part."

The idea of girls donning overalls and herding around a hog with a litter of pigs or a calf is distasteful to Mr. Jackson, he admitted. "The refined element in women folks" in his belief.

Most of the county fair managers with whom Mr. Jackson discussed the problem were in agreement with him that 4-H club girls should not be permitted to show livestock at fairs. Some of them, however, favored opposition to the practice thru propaganda rather than by barring them outright. Mr. Jackson will take the matter up with the state fair board.

MUSIC MAGAZINE PRAISES BOOK OF LOCAL MUSICIAN

"Music and Romance," a recent book by Gertrude Kinsella, of the Nebraska School of Music, was rated in the October Etude as one of the ten indispensable books for any musician's library. The College of the Pacific, Stockton, Calif., has chosen Miss Kinsella's new "Indian Sketches" as one of the numbers to be played by its faculty ensemble group on the fall faculty series of programs.

AG COLLEGE YWCA MEMBERSHIP DRIVE TO OPEN TUESDAY

The Agricultural college Y. W. C. A. membership drive will be opened at next Tuesday's vesper meeting. Miss Fedde, head of the home economics department will speak on "Membership," and Helen Myers will lead the devotional services. The meeting is at the usual time, 12:20 o'clock in the home economics parlors.

NEBRASKA PUTS UP GREAT FIGHT

SWEEPING WIND PLAYS BIG FACTOR IN GAME

Breeze Raises Havoc With Punts; Penney, Hullbert Both Star; Jack Manders Scores for Minnesota and Kicks Extra Point.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Displaying a hard, alert type of football, the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers fought Minnesota to a standstill Saturday afternoon, only to lose by the narrow margin of 7 to 6 when giant Jack Manders, Gopher fullback, booted the extra point following Minnesota's touchdown in the second period.

NBC WILL BROADCAST POLITICAL PLATFORM

Ritchie and Wilber Devote Hour to Discussion of Party Issues.

APPEAL IS TO STUDENTS

"A Message to University Men and Women of America" is the title of a program to be broadcast thru the facilities of the NBC Monday evening from 9 to 10 o'clock, in an effort to present the issues of the presidential campaign in an educational manner appealing to students of the country.

Gov. Alfred E. Ritchie of Maryland will devote half an hour to an analysis of the program of the democratic party, and Ray Lyman Wilber, secretary of the interior under President Hoover will present the republican case for an equal length of time. President Hoover, in introduction, will express his approval of the program.

Asks Student Consideration. The National Advisory Council on Radio Education, which is sponsoring the program has suggested a serious consideration of the program by students of universities all over the country. In the letter announcing the program, sent to Chancellor Burnett by President Walter Dill Scott, of Northwestern university, it is suggested that the hour following the program be devoted to an analysis of the program as presented, either in small discussion groups of students, alumni, and faculty members, or by an able speaker selected from alumni, faculty, or local statesmen, over a local broadcasting station.

In conformity with the suggestion, Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity, will hold a discussion session following the program, which will be listened to at the home of Prof. J. P. Senning, head of the political science department. This is the first meeting of the organization this year.

The Daily Nebraskan early next week, will publish a prepared analysis of the two political programs as outlined by some members of the political science department. The radio program Monday evening will be used as a basis for this analysis.

TWO JOIN GEOGRAPHY STAFF

Schlesselman and Barton, Graduate Assistants, New This Year.

Two new graduate assistants who have joined the staff of the department of geography this year are George B. Schlesselman and Thomas B. Barton. The former has taught the past three years at Hillsdale college, and prior to that time he attended Clark university at Zurich university, Switzerland.

Barton is a graduate of Illinois Normal university and received his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin where he spent two years in graduate study and served as assistant in geography.

Ruth Bryan Owen in Interview to Daily Nebraskan Reporter Voices Her Interest in Student Affairs

By Mary Quigley.

Ruth Bryan Owen in a special interview to a Daily Nebraskan reporter while dressing for her speaking engagement in Lincoln Friday night, said she was dealing with young people. Each year she conducts a contest in each high school to choose the best citizen and through a series of additional contests thirty-six are chosen to accompany her to Washington where they study first-hand the machinery of government. On their return a reunion is held of all previous winners and the results of their discussions taken home by the participants reach every high school in the district, thus stimulating and encouraging young people's interest in national politics. At this age, she says, their enthusiasm and acceptance of the best principles in government is at the highest point, and the interest instilled in them now will be lasting.

"I feel," added Mrs. Owen, "that my activities at home bring me closer to students than any other group with whom I am in contact. This accounts for my interest in students."

"The interest in Young Democratic Clubs is encouraging and the part taken this year by students in politics is most gratifying. We look after today, but in their rests tomorrow." Mrs. Owen herself has trained and reared the organizer of the National Young Democratic Clubs, Miss Louise Fallinger, who is her protegee; consequently the movement is close to her heart.

lighted to come to Nebraska. "It is like homecoming," she said "and brings me back to my student days on the Nebraska campus. I am more than delighted to have the privilege of being interviewed by my school paper." Mrs. Owen, while a student in the university was active in campus affairs and since has taken a great interest in student activities. In her own Florida district Mrs. Owen spends most of her time.
