STUDENTS AND FACULTY TO CAST STRAW VOTES TODAY; DEBATE ENDS 'CAMPAIGN'

Daily Nebraskan Sponsors Preferential Ballot for President.

INSTRUCTORS SUPERVISE

Polls in Social Sciences Open at 9 O'clock This Morning.

Polls located in Social Sciences open this morning at 9 o'clock for the university to register its opinion of the presidential candidates in the straw vote being taken by the Daily Nebraskan. This vote is taken in co-operation with the Daily Princetonian which is conducting a nation-wide survey of collegiate opinion in regard to the coming presidential election. The polls will be open from 9 until 12 and from 1 until 4. Votes will be counted at 12 and at 4 so that results can be sent to the Princetonian as soon as possible. All students and faculty members are eligible to vote.

Leaders Give Opinions. Opinions of campus political leaders as to the outcome of the straw vote are varied. Robert Harmon, president of the Democratic student club, made a surprising statement when he said, "I believe that the straw vote will go in favor of the socialists. The students of Nebraska are at the reactionary age and will largely vote socialist." Charles Gray, president of the Socialist club, stated that he believed the republicans would poll more votes than the democrats, but that the socialists would come up with a surprising number of votes. "I have no idea as to the outcome of the straw vote," stated John Gepson, president of the Republican club. "The only leader who believes that the democrats would win the straw vote was Howard Holtzendorff who stated: 'I have no doubts that the democrats will win the poll.'"

Faculty to Assist. A group of girls and faculty members will be on duty at all times during the day to conduct the voting and to see that no votes are duplicated or that the ballot box is not stuffed. The faculty men who will be in charge are: G. W. Gray of the history department, who will assist from 9 to 10; Kall Morgan on duty from 10 to 11; and Mr. Satterfield of the political science department will assist from 11 to 12. At 12 o'clock the votes will be counted under the supervision of Dr. J. O. Hertzler, chairman of the sociology department. From 1 to 2 A. E. Jenness of the philosophy department will be in charge of the polls; N. L. Hill will be on duty from 2 to 3 o'clock and R. C. Deiny from 3 to 4 o'clock. At 4 (Continued on Page 3.)

Nebraskan Reporter Gets Interview With Huey Long and His Opinion on Relations of Students to Politics

BY MARY QUIGLEY.

The great "Kingfish," Huey P. Long, in person with all his vim and vigor descended upon the city of Lincoln like a bolt of thunder. Immediately following his public address while autographing numerous cards, pictures, and so forth, I was able to snatch an interview with this illustrious Louisiana statesman.

When asked his opinion of the Young Democratic club Senator Long sort of chuckled and said, "Back in 1912 I was one of the four men who gave birth to the first Young Democratic club in America at the University of Oklahoma so it is not new to me." From this nucleus the entire national organization has sprung.

Prospects Look Fine. He states that prospects look fine in the west and the Dakotas are strong for Roosevelt. He is soon to complete this "stamp" tour following a very strenuous schedule for this particular campaign in addition to participating in numerous other local and state political races. When asked about his relation-

INNOCENTS REFUSE TO RECOGNIZE VIGILANTS

Say Sophomore Committee Might Bring Back Hazing.

The Innocents society announced Tuesday that it refuses to recognize the sophomore Vigilance committee as a university organization. The committee was organized to enforce the wearing of caps by the freshmen. "The Society maintains that this will bring back hazing, making freshman life intolerable. Steps have been taken for the abolition of the vigilants. No such organization will be tolerated on this campus," said Chalmers Graham, who has charge of the enforcement of the wearing of caps.

DEAN URGES BIZADS TO ATTEND BANQUET

LeRossignol Says Faculty And Students Should Come Wednesday.

"All of the faculty and students of the College of Business Administration should attend this dinner, for at least three valid reasons: Firstly, they will enjoy a good meal at a reasonable price; secondly, there will be no extra charge for the excellent program; thirdly, but not necessarily lastly, it will be a chance for all concerned to spend a happy evening together and to show their loyalty to the college," stated Dean J. E. LeRossignol in urging all Bizad students to attend the honor convocation and banquet being held Wednesday evening at 6:15 in the President room of the Lindell hotel.

Over 200 copies of the Bizad News will be distributed to those attending the banquet, and Thursday morning the Bizad News will be left in the class rooms on the third floor of Social Sciences hall so that every student may receive his copy. (Continued on Page 3.)

Political Clubs Have Their Final Clash Tuesday in Word Battle.

NO DECISION IN CONTEST

Shirley-Holtzendorff Team Argues Policies With Gepson-Magee.

Activities of the student political clubs were brought to a climax before the straw vote, to be held today by the Democratic-Republican debate which was argued Tuesday afternoon in Social Science auditorium. The question of the word-combat was, "Resolved the major policies of the Republican party in the last twelve years have been inconsistent with sound principles of government." The affirmative side of the question was upheld by Donald Shirley and Howard Holtzendorff and the negative side by John Gepson and Woodrow Magee. The contest was not judged but was held in order that interested students might have a chance to hear the platforms of the parties discussed. Professor White of the English department acted as chairman of the debate.

Three Points Argued. The Shirley-Holtzendorff team argued on three points. First, the Republicans being in favor of a high tariff, second, that the Republicans did not help the farmers, and third, that the Republicans favor public utilities.

As their main defense, the Gepson-Magee team which took the negative side of the question, stated, "The Democrats have not yet put up any plans whereby we can be relieved of the depression. They have no constructive ideas to replace those of the Republicans which they have destroyed."

Tariff Main Issue. The main issue of the debate was the tariff question. The affirmative side of the question was upheld by the affirmative team. (Continued on Page 3.)

"Follow the Literary Digest straw vote, and pay attention to the Daily Nebraskan poll, if you're interested in the outcome of the election," stated Jean Speiser, Theta Sigma Phi president, "but if you want the first hand inside information on the question, come to the Journalism banquet. For surprising insight into the situation, our reporters will out-Winchell Walter."

All members of the school of Journalism attend the annual banquet, and the public is also invited. The tickets are seventy-five cents apiece and may be bought in all Journalism classes, or from members of Theta Sigma Phi.

INNOCENTS START PURCHASE FUND

Senior Honorary Will Give Proceeds of Homecoming Party to Student Organizations Improvement Chest to Buy Permanent Hangings.

IDEA ENDORSED BY BURNETT AND THOMPSON

Velour Drapes Will Improve Acoustics of Building and Make It Suitable for Military Ball, Prom, Honors Convocation and Graduation.

Under sponsorship of the Innocents society and with the support of Chancellor A. E. Burnett and Dean T. J. Thompson a new project is being launched which looks toward the purchase of permanent decorations of blue velour to cover all the sides and the ceiling of the university Coliseum.

Need for the purchase of such decorations has long been expressed by various groups who according to Jack Thompson, president of the Innocents society. Cost of the installation of such decorations will total approximately $3,000 and the fund, which is to be known as the Student Organization Improvement Chest, will be made from voluntary organization contributions entirely. It was definitely pointed out that individual students would not be expected or required to contribute.

Innocents to Contribute First. The first contribution to the "Chest" will be made by the Innocents society from net proceeds of Saturday's second annual homecoming party. Decorations for the affair will be foregone in order to swell the new fund. Other campus groups have pledged their unanimous support of the drive which will probably continue over a period of two years. Ray Ramsey, secretary of the Alumni association, has volunteered his support for the movement.

The permanent decorations will consist of a wall hanging of dark blue velour which will surround the walls of the Coliseum from the balcony railing to the floor, leaving the stage open. In the event that only two-thirds or one-half of the Coliseum is needed for a particular event the stage ends of the velour will be brought together to enclose the floor on four sides. The entire Coliseum ceiling will be shut out by a canopy of sky blue velour which will join the wall hangings around the edges of the balcony. In the event that the balcony is desired open the ceiling canopy may be raised to permit use of the (Continued on Page 3.)

ATEN SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Nebraska Student Still in Falls City Hospital After Wreck.

Paul Aten, University of Nebraska student who was injured Saturday in an auto accident a few miles from Falls City, Neb., while en route to the Nebraska-Kansas football game, has not, contrary to an earlier statement, been removed from the Falls City hospital to his home in Holdrege. His condition, according to the latest report, shows some improvement, but not enough to warrant his immediate removal. It is now thought that he will remain in the hospital until at least Friday of this week.

Tassels Conduct Campaign to Sell Scarlet Balloons Which Fans Will Release After Nebraska Touchdown

At the precise moment that Nebraska makes its first score (if any) against the Kansas Aggies, on Homecoming day, 2000 scarlet balloons will be released from the hands of loyal Cornhusker supporters. Filled with gas and emblazoned with white N's the balloons will float away to the accompaniment of a Nebraska victory cheer. Continuing the tradition started last year the Tassels will begin the sale of the "sky-flowers" at 2 p. m. the afternoon of the game. The sale will be continued on the campus and in the stadium until game time. The balloons will cost ten cents apiece; extortion of the fee is being made as pleasant as possible by employing the members of the girls pep organization to collect.

Anne Bunting, publicity chairman for the occasion, says that similar plans are in use at Yale, Northwestern, and Southern California universities, and that it has been shown to be a great stimulus to organized pep, particularly in the student cheering section. To Make a Tradition. The plan is being continued in an attempt to make it a tradition on the campus, stated Mar-
