YEAR BOOK OFFERS RECORD LOW PRICE

Initial Cornhusker Drive Opens October 31, Selling Annual at Discount Reduction for $4.25; Special Rate to Last for Week.

STUDENTS MAY USE INSTALLMENT PURCHASE

Charles Skade, Business Manager, Announces Copies Will Be Printed to Correspond With Orders Made; No Extra Books Available.

Offering the lowest price in the history of Nebraska's year book, the 1933 Cornhusker will begin its initial sales campaign Monday morning, October 31 and continue until Saturday, November 5. During the week a discount reduction to those who pay cash will be allowed, which will bring the price down to the figure of $4.25.

Charles Skade, business manager, in commenting on the opening sales drive said, "This year the students of the university will be given the same high grade year book at a new low figure. The price is a special sale price, to be offered only during the coming week, after which time the discount will not be given.

"The $4.25 price includes the discount, as has been done in the sales campaigns during the past several years when a cash payment is made at the time the order is placed."

Use Installment Plan. Another plan is being offered the purchasers. "Realizing that many students will find it hard to dig up the necessary cash, we are going to allow those who wish to purchase their copies of the book on the installment plan. This same idea has been used in the past two years and has been found to work to the advantage of both the Cornhusker and the students."

The idea involves a one dollar down payment, one dollar on December 1, an additional dollar on January 15 and the balance of one dollar and a half when the book is delivered.

Skade pointed out that when the book comes off the press next spring the number of copies printed will be determined by the number of orders taken. In other words, it will be impossible to obtain a 1933 Cornhusker unless an order has been placed for it. Sales will be continued, of course, after the opening sale closes next Saturday, but not with the ten percent reduction.

Skade Urges Purchase. The business manager asserted that inasmuch as the profit-sharing plan that the Cornhusker is inaugurating this year makes it possible for such a low price to be offered the students would do well to take advantage of the possible saving during this week's drive.

Signs announcing the campaign will be placed at various conspicuous places on the campus and a booth will be maintained in Social (Continued on Page 3.)

VARSITY RIFLE TEAM MEMBERS TO COACH

Hold Tryouts, Practices On Range Until Dec. 1.

The rifle range will be open for tryouts and initial practice until Dec. 1, the military department announced yesterday. A new system will be instituted in that all men who register for the team will be assigned to coaching teams under the direction of Sergeant McGimsey assisted by last year's varsity men who are Pirie, Nickolson, Schultz and Mixson.

The teams will fire matches against each other and prizes will be awarded the high individuals and winning teams. Final selection of the varsity team will be made Dec. 1 on the basis of these matches. Several freshman matches have been scheduled with other colleges. The R. O. T. C. regiment plans to have intercompany team matches. Three teams will enter the William Randolph Hearst trophy match.

Prairie Schooner Completes Sixth Year of Publication With Coming Issue Says L. C. Wimberly, Editor

The fall issue of the Prairie Schooner will be published about the second week of November, according to Prof. L. C. Wimberly of the English department who is editor-in-chief. This number will complete the sixth year of publication of the magazine. In all these years the percentage of Nebraska authors represented in the magazine has never been as large as the number whose contributions are in this issue.

Rudolf Umland, a former student of the University of Nebraska, has a story called "Sand Hill Interlude," in the fall issue. An article on "The Current Literary Temper" is written by W. T. Davis, head of a local teachers agency. Another Nebraska contributor is Dora B. Eckles of York who has written a story, "Old Trails." "Brother" is the title of a story written by Lyman Ross, a former student and a resident of Johnston, Nebr. Prof. M. N. Ginsberg of the classics department,

SUBSCRIBERS TO YEAR BOOK WILL VOTE FOR COEDS

Five Who Are Highest in Contest Will Appear in Cornhusker.

Students who subscribe for the Cornhusker this fall during the sales campaign will be entitled to vote for their favorite coeds whose pictures will appear in the feature section of the yearbook, according to an announcement by Charles Skade, business manager.

The five girls who receive the greatest number of votes will be designated as Cornhusker Coeds in this section of the book. Attached to every subscription blank there will be a ballot with places for first, second and third choice for Cornhusker Coeds. The purchaser will fill in the names of his candidates. The one he designates as his first choice will receive five thousand votes, second three thousand and third two thousand.

At the close of the campaign the votes will be counted by the Cornhusker staff and a committee of faculty members. The five girls who receive the most votes will be honored as Cornhusker Coeds and have their pictures in the feature section of the book. These pictures will be full length views.

There are no requirements which will exclude any girl from the contest. "The result of this voting should be truly democratic since every student will be given opportunity to place his three favorites in the contest," Skade said.

This is the first time any similar contest has been tried on this campus and the staff believes that it will create much interest among the students.

TEACHER HEADS SURVEY

Miss Catherine Dunn Directs Charity Welfare Study For Nebraska.

Miss Catherine Dunn, instructor in case work presided at the Iowa-Nebraska conference for welfare work.

"Needing particular care," said Mrs. John M. Glenn of New York, president of the Family Welfare Association of America, "are the young people, just out of the high school and college, who cannot find jobs. Their spirit is broken before they even make a start in life. It is important that we strengthen our character-building agencies for their sake."

Other speakers included Melanice Gaines of the Social Welfare Society, Lincoln, and Ad M. Barker, Family Social Service, Des Moines.

STUDENTS WIN AUDITION

Howard Stark and Charlotte Byars Place in Final Radio Audition.

Howard Stark, twenty-five, of Norfolk, and Charlotte Byars, eighteen, of Valley, were announced as winners of first place in the finals of the sixth Atwater Kent contest in Nebraska. Mr. Stark is a student in the school of music, University of Nebraska, with Howard Kirkpatrick. He is affiliated with the Alpha Sigma Phi social fraternity.

Ferne Misner, Lincoln, and Edward Riatt, North Bend, were judged second in the audition. Miss Misner is a student with Lenore Burkitt VanKirk of the school of music. HOME COMING IS IMPRESSIVE DAY FOR NEBRASKANS

Parades, Rally, and Bands Lend Color to Occasion For Visitors.

GAME ATTRACTS MANY

Homecoming! It was a royal welcome, not only for returning grads, but for visiting mayors, teachers, football enthusiasts, and thousands of other guests of Lincoln who were here for the inauguration of Nebraska day.

Colorful and impressive it was for the throngs who crowded the streets of Lincoln yesterday to witness the celebrations. Flags, bands, crowds of cheering students and a multitude of Lincoln visitors jammed the streets from early in the morning until the time of the game in the afternoon.

Flag is Dedicated. Included among the guests of Lincoln for the celebration were visiting mayors from ninety-eight Nebraska towns and cities, the student delegation from Manhattan, Kas., teachers in Lincoln for the district convention, and a host of grads and football followers.

The ceremonies began with the dedication of the flag at the City hall. The Lincoln high school band, the Pershing Rifles company, and Company M. met at the hall for the dedication ceremonies. After that the parade marched to the Burlington station to welcome the visitors from Kansas. The procession then marched thru the business district of Lincoln.

DANCE ON EVE OF HOME COMING ATTRACTS MANY

About 1,900 Attend Party Given by Innocents on Saturday Night.

PROCEEDS GO TO FUND

Some 1,900 persons, many of them alumni, many others students gathered in the coliseum Saturday evening, where they appropriately observed their Homecoming to dance and sing at the Innocents' society second annual Homecoming party with Thomson Hayes and his orchestra from Kansas City and the Columbia broadcasting system.

Proceeds of the party will go into a permanent decorations fund looking toward velour covered walls and ceiling for the coliseum. In this effort the Innocents society is to be aided by other campus organizations, contributing as groups not individual members. The permanent decorations committee for the coliseum, as announced yesterday by Jack Thompson, the president of the Innocents society, will be Jack Erickson, Newman Grove.

CLARICE HADS REIGNS AS FARMERS' QUEEN

Present Winning Candidate At Ag College Formal Friday Evening.

About one hundred fifty couples witnessed the crowning of Clarice Hads as queen of the 1932 Farmer's Formal, Friday evening at the Ag Student Activities building. Joyce Ayres and his eleven piece band furnished the music for the affair.

Miss Hads is a member of Chi Omega, belongs to the Tassels and is a member of the senior fair board at the College of Agriculture. She also belongs to Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Omicron Nu, both honorary home economics sororities.

The ball room was decorated as a large "Castle Inn." Refreshments were served throughout the evening in the front of the inn. Everyone was dressed in "formal" attire of aprons and overalls. The formal was sponsored by the Ag club and Home Economics club. Chairmen for the event included Dean and Mrs. W. V. Burr, Prof. and H. P. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Keim, Miss Margaret Fedde, Prof. and Mrs. R. T. Prescott, Prof. and Mrs. R. R. Thaiman and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Snipes.

Plans for a conference of bankers, farmers, business men, teachers and students of economics to be held at the University of Nebraska, Thursday, November 17, are being made by Karl M. Arndt, assistant professor of economics, who is acting as general chairman, and F. C. Blood, professor of advertising. The farmers problems will be discussed.

Economists to Speak. Among the outstanding speakers who have accepted invitations to address the conference is Denis P. Hogan, president of the federal land bank of Omaha, who will discuss "The Farm Mortgage Problem."

C. A. Phillips, dean of the college of commerce, University of Iowa, will speak on "Banking and Prices." "Teachings of the Turbulent Twenties." Other speakers on the program are Prof. Karl M. Arndt, Prof. H. C. Filley, and George Woods, state banking commissioner.

SENING ADDRESSES CLUB

Knife and Fork Hears Him Discuss Relief Plans of Major Parties.

At a recent meeting of the Knife and Fork club Prof. J. P. Sening of the political science department outlined and discussed farm relief issues as proposed by the two major political parties. Mr. Sening pointed out that there are two plans, one a modification of the McNary-Haugen bill, known as the allotment plan, and the other an extension of farm credit by federal land banks.

Roosevelt appears to favor both or either of the plans, while Hoover indicated in his Des Moines speech that he preferred the plan for the extension of farm credit.

ENGINEERS GIVE DEMONSTRATIONS AT AG COLLEGE

Two engineering demonstrations were part of a program supervised by the Teachers' College staff Saturday morning in the Agricultural Engineering building. Kansas State students and faculty members were guests.

The first was a method of tempering steel, presented by Prof. W. J. Runnalls while the other, conducted by Prof. C. W. Smith dealt with the field test of a high tension magnet. The outline of a Lewis search problem by E. B. Lewis concluded the program.

Carved Statuettes Now Shown at Morrill Hall

A group of miniature carved figures, representing industries and customs of China were received at Morrill hall last week and are now being placed on display. The carvings are made from white wood and are naturally tinted. Miss Marjorie Shanafelt, curator of visual education, declares that the workmanship on the carvings is of a very superior quality.

NEBRASKA STAGES BRILLIANT RALLY

Boswell Scores With Only 2 Minutes and 30 Seconds To Go After Fahrbruch, Masterson and Mathis Touch Off Great Offensive Drive.

WILDCATS DOMINATE PLAY FOR 3 PERIODS

Russell and Graham Click Off Consistent Gains for Manhattan Team Until Near Goal; Injuries Keep Sauer, Hulbert on Sidelines.

By JOE MILLER. Outplayed for three quarters by a great Kansas State team, the Cornhuskers rallied brilliantly in the final period as they did a year ago, in one of those Frank Merriwell finishes to snatch a 6 to 0 victory before a colorful Homecoming crowd estimated at 20,000 at Memorial stadium Saturday afternoon. Seemingly doomed to a 0 to 0 tie, after Fahrbruch's diagonal pass to Masterson barely eluded the latter's grasp in the end zone with only five minutes left in the fourth quarter, the Huskers drew new life when the lanky Masterson intercepted Graham's pass a minute later to run back twenty-six yards to the K-Aggie 39-yard line.

The crowd, now wild for victory, implored the Nebraska eleven for a touchdown, and how they responded! An end sweep by Chris Mathis gained five yards, and on the next play Steve Hokuf made it a first down on the 28-yard line on a dash around left end. Here a 5-yard penalty for offside imposed on the Manhattan crew was a big help to the Cornhuskers, but Mathis was dumped for a six yard loss on the next play. With the pigskin on the Kansas State 20-yard line, Fahrbruch dropped back and shot a bullet pass to Masterson who went to the 15-yard line before he was stopped.

Boswell Scores. Fighting with their shoulders pressed to the wall, the Kansas State line held Masterson to two yards, but Bernie went through for four on the second down. Hub Boswell, who had just gone in the game, responded with a 4-yard effort through center for a first down on the 4-yard line, and then with only 2 minutes and 30 seconds to play the Ravenna boy swept his left end for the touchdown. Masterson's kick was wide and low.

KIRSCH TO LECTURE ON SOUTHWEST COUNTRY

Gives Illustrated Talk at Morrill Hall Sunday Afternoon.

"The Colorful Southwest," an illustrated lecture by Dwight Kirsch, chairman of the university school of fine arts is to be the feature of the regular Sunday Morrill hall program today. The hour has been set for 4:15 p. m., instead of the usual hour of 4 p. m., according to Miss Marjorie Shanafelt who has arranged the program.

Mr. Kirsch spent some time in New Mexico and Arizona during the past summer and spent a large part of his time producing the colored pictures to be shown Sunday afternoon. The photographs were done with the autochrome process, which enables exact reproduction of the actual colors. Included in the series will be desert scenes, Indian ceremonials, Indian pottery and other related subjects. A few scenes from the Grand Canyon will also be shown.

Children to See Movie. The children's program of which Miss Marjorie Shanafelt has charge is to begin at 2:30 p. m. "The Tail Waggers' Club" is to be subject of the talk which is to be on dogs. Two juvenile films, "Babies in the Woods" and "Eagles of the Sea," are to be shown.

In connection with Mr. Kirsch's program will be the opening of the monthly art exhibit, which for November will concern itself with the southwest. Included in the exhibit will be a collection of Navajo rugs and pottery, which have been obtained through the courtesy of the laboratory of anthropology at Santa Fe. Paintings of New Mexico, Arizona and Utah landscapes and similar topics, done by Raymond Hendry Williams of the school of fine arts, and William L. Younkian are to be on display.
