

SOCIETY

Student Interest in Iowa Game Is Cause of Social "Lull" This Week

Phi Mu Pledges Schedule House Party Friday Night Honoring Actives of Chapter; Pi Beta Phis Honor Faculty Members Sunday.

Phi Mu Pledges Honor Actives.

Phi Mu pledges are entertaining the active members of the sorority at a dance Friday, Nov. 4. Roger Wilkinson's orchestra will furnish the music. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Condon, and Mrs. Codington, housemother, will act as chaperons.

Pi Phi's Preside At Faculty Tea.

Pi Phi has issued 500 invitations to the second annual tea to be given in honor of faculty members from 3 to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon. In the receiving line will be Mrs. Earl Kline, Mrs. Grace Simons and Florence L. McGahey. Mrs. Forman will pour. Lincoln alumni members will assist the active chapter. All faculty members and their wives are invited.

Alumnae Entertain Alpha Phi Pledges.

The Alpha Phi alumnae entertained the freshmen of the active group at a dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. T. Gardner. Mrs. Gardner was assisted by Miss Dorothy Holcomb, Helen Drake Prouty, Mrs. Farke Keays, Mrs. Harry Pecha, Mrs. Milton Blankenship, Mrs. Russell Joynt and Mrs. D. E. DePutron. After dinner, a program was given consisting of musical reading and motion pictures of various university events. The group meets again Dec. 7 for another dinner.

Tanksterettes Plan Fun Swim.

The Tanksterettes society, girls' swimming club, will hold a "fun swim" Saturday, Nov. 5, from 11 to 1 at the swimming pool in the Coliseum. It will be followed by a luncheon. Reservations may be made with Dorothy Davis, Delta Delta Delta. Old and new members are invited, as well as anyone else who may be interested.

Irma Baker Passes Candy October 24.

Irma Baker, Alpha Phi, and Carl Olson, Sigma Phi Sigma, announced their engagement Oct. 24 when they passed the candy and cigars at their respective houses. Miss Baker is a senior this year and Mr. Olson was graduated from the College of Engineering in 1931. He is now employed by the

The Misner Players

Appearing in The Music Master NOV. 7-8:15 Lincoln High School Auditorium TICKETS AT WALT'S SEASON TICKET (3 Plays)—$1.00

Out of the Air—Onto the Screen

"THE BIG BROADCAST" with BING CROSBY, BONNIE FISHER, ERIC LINDEN, Kate Smith, Burns & Allen. Added—Special Paramount News Pictures of Nebraska—Kansas Apple Football Game, Saturday, October 29th.

STUART

For the First Time You Will See Love Stripped of All Shame.

"LIFE BEGINS"

with LORETTA YOUNG, ERIC LINDEN. Added—News—BETTY BOOP "PICKING A WINNER"

LINCOLN

Six Hours to Love and Fulfill a Lifetime's Hopes and Dreams!

WARNER BAXTER

"Six Hours to Live" with MIRIAM JORDAN. Added—TRAVELOG "Here Prince"—Fox News

ORPHEUM

MAT. 10-20—EVE. 10-20

All Hands will be on Deck AND DANCING TO DAN MURPHY AND HIS MUSICAL SKIPPERS Hotel Cornhusker Ballroom TONIGHT 8:30 to 11:30 Adm. $1.00 the Couple Plus Tax

Co-ed Clothes

Priscilla Herrick is being highly complimented on a pebbled white satin, with the material twisted thru three rings on one side. She wears it with an outfit all black except for white gloves with little black puffs set in at the wrists. And while we're speaking of turbans, the Band Box Millinery can fulfill your expectations of the right hat for every occasion. New things are shown there each day, and if you can't find exactly what you want you can order it or have it made especially for you. The Band Box Millinery is located in the Lindell Hotel building.

Near-sports materials such as jerseys, spongy woollens like home-spuns, and wool crepes, are being used for some of the smartest of the winter formals. A beige jersey and a radically cut maroon one are shown as models by Vogue, and dresses of the other materials have already been worn in Lincoln. One good looking model seen down town was a high necked white wool crepe with a black buckle and bands of soft black fur encircling the armholes.

Another innovation for those who dare to be different, is a sort of bustle, a padding that juts out like a little shelf just below a square cut décolletage. And evening skirts slashed to the knee are advanced again.

A number of girls have adopted the brown and grey combination, among them Jean Campbell and Hester Mary Duth. Jean wears a grey dress of rough silk crepe, trimmed with bands of brown fur around the lower ends of the sleeves, with brown tan turban, gloves and shoes. Hester Mary's outfit also consists of a grey silk dress, with buttons down the front, and a brown velvet turban with other accessories to match.

Mildred Romberg has an ankle length informal that we like a lot. It is black wool crepe with a white wool jacket buttoning up to the neck and broad bands of black fur on the shoulders. Then Mary Margaret Palmer has a cobalt blue dress with big metal buttons down the front, puffed sleeves and a long skirt, which she got in Kansas City while there for the K. U. game. Another dress that we have heard about is Ruby Schwemby's wine red velvet with an all around cape, finished by a two-inch band of brown fur.

Cornhusker pictures are now being taken at Hauck's studio, 1216 O street.—Adv.

RAYMOND HALL GIRLS ANNOUNCE PLAY CASTS

CONVICT IS CHARGED WITH STUDENT DEATH Dramatics Sponsor Directs Rehearsals of Three Short Dramas.

Complete casts for the three one act plays soon to be given by residents of Carrie Belle Raymond hall have been announced by Miriam Kissenger, sponsor of dramatics at the hall. These plays are now in rehearsal and are being directed by Miss Kissenger with the assistance of Virginia Jones.

"In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy" is the title of one play. The cast: Young Man.....Mae Svaboda Julia.....Doris Erickson Jean.....Margaret Johnson Janet.....Gene Kurtz Jacqueline.....Nois Swenson Joe.....Marie Wood Marie.....Olive Jack Mrs. Jack.....Betty Gilley The cast of "The Japanese Wife," another of the plays: Chicka Sam.....Alpha Catania Eliza.....Bobbie Burnett Mr. Hallenburgh.....Gladys Klapp Mrs. Gordon.....Irene Geist James.....Edwina McConkie "Sally's Hat Shop," the third of the plays, has the following characters: Sally Genevieve.....Genevieve Olson Marion, the proprietor.....Gertrude Hemphill Blondie Lady.....Elaine Woodruff Mother.....Marion Jelenc Daughter.....Bernice Reiskoff Business Woman.....Mona Arnold

PROFESSOR CALLS OZARKS "HEAVEN;" NO DEPRESSION The Ozark region of southern Missouri and northern Arkansas is a "depressionless heaven," according to G. T. Renner, professor of geography, University of Washington, who lived in the Ozarks for a month this summer gathering material for a book on the geography of North America. Mr. Renner said the settlers shear their own sheep, weave some of their clothing and grow their own food. Religion and dogs are the two

NEWS WRITING AWARDS ANNOUNCED THURSDAY

Hall Wins First for News Story; Harry Foster For Feature.

Sigma Delta Chi awards for the best news and feature stories written during the second semester of last year were announced Thursday night at the annual journalism banquet held at the University club, which was sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, journalism sorority. The awards are announced by Prof. Gayle C. Walker, director of the school of journalism are: For the best feature story the first prize was awarded to Harry Foster for his story on "Spring Arriens." The second award went to George Round who wrote a story on the arrival of triplets among the lab colony at the agricultural college. Miss Ruth Schill was awarded the third prize for her story on the financial worries of a coed.

'Y' MAKES PLANS FOR FATHER AND SON WEEK

Nov. 11-18 Set Aside for Special Programs and Entertainment.

Arrangements for annual Father and Son week, scheduled for Nov. 11 to 18 which is sponsored by the city Y. M. C. A., have been extended this year to include activities thruout the whole county. Judge E. B. Chappell, chairman of the executive committee has announced. Churches and schools in every town of the county will be urged to participate in the activities, which will begin with civic day Nov. 11 and recreation day Nov. 12. Fathers thruout the county will be urged to join their sons in attending Dad's day activities sponsored by the Innocents society of the university.

Sunday is Church Day.

Church day is set for Sunday, and Monday night various churches of the city and county will hold father-son banquets. Tuesday has been designated as home day, and Wednesday, vocational day, will be over to the study of boys' vocational problems. Thursday and Friday fathers will be urged to visit their sons in their classes at school.

Rev. Ray E. Hunt will have charge of church day. Civic day activities are under the direction of Herman Heitkotter and George Santo. L. C. Oberlies will organize the home day program and C. A. Fulmer the vocational activities. Banquet arrangements will be in charge of Ward M. Gray and Jesse Cornell. School visitation is to be organized by Mrs. J. O. Schon and C. L. Culler.

Boy Scouts activities are in the hands of A. J. Gillette. Stunts and hobbies will be directed by E. R. Colvert. John F. Ayres and Earl Middlekamp have charge of entertaining song leaders. Organization of programs by civic clubs and patriotic societies will be taken care of by John Curtis. W. A. Robbins has charge of the speaking bureau. Ray Ramsay directs radio programs. Recreation will be under the direction of Earl Johnson and James Lewis.

Former Students at Cambridge and Oxford Say That English Students Are More Individual Than American

"English students are more individual than American," is the statement of Dr. G. W. Stafford, an Oxford graduate and a recent appointee to the pastorate of the University Temple in Seattle. Dr. Stafford feels that any advantage of a British college system over ours is owing to the closer coordination between major and minor subjects. Non-compulsory classes, English "pass, fail and honors" system of graduating, and the social and athletic activities within each college all contribute to creating individuality, greater degree of scholastic success, and greater student efficiency. War-time broke Dr. Stafford's Oxford career into two two-year pieces. After graduation in 1921 with degrees in arts and divinity, he came to the United States and headed the theology department at Rockford in Illinois.

O. C. Collins, instructor of mathematics, an Oxford graduate, when interviewed stated, "I suppose the statement is true. The situation is due to a different system operating the colleges, however, students here would develop in the same manner if given the same treatment. One cause lies in the fact that high schools of England are of high standards for preparing students for university, thus effecting a greater maturity in those entering college. However, I am not suggesting that these methods would necessarily be satisfactory in this country, for a workable theory in one country might easily be unsuccessful in another."

Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, Hitchcock Foundation lecturer from the University of Cambridge, visiting in Berkeley, Calif., recently told a reporter there that "people in England would be very shocked if they saw college men and women living in the same house as they do here at the International house." Examinations Longer. Commenting on his first impressions of college life at the campus of the University of California, Prof. Haldane stated that the rules of the university seemed more lenient than those at Cambridge. Our examination systems differ a great deal in that here the examinations are given quite frequently and are short in length; while in England they come with far less frequency but quite often last for several days. Instead of a theoretical honor system as there is in America the proctor system prevails at Cambridge and other large England educational institutions.

Another distinction between American and English colleges is that not so much stress is laid upon the co-educational system in England as in America. Only four of the twenty-one colleges there allow women to enter their classrooms.

DANCE TONIGHT SILVER BALLROOM HOTEL LINDELL Admission 25c Per Person Couples Only FEATURING LUDLAM AND HIS MUSIC DANCING EVERY WED.—FRI.—SAT.

FIFTY ATTEND PRACTICE Monday Night Rehearsal Is Held for Those Unable To Come Daily.

Fifty persons attended practice for the Messiah oratorio last Monday evening. Howard Kirkpatrick, the director, expects a larger attendance next Monday. Anyone interested in singing in the chorus is invited. The Messiah, under the direction of Mr. Kirkpatrick, will probably be presented Dec. 18. The place of presentation has not been definitely decided upon. Several soloists have been selected but the list is not fully completed.

Hall Wins First for News Story; Harry Foster For Feature.

The awards are announced by Prof. Gayle C. Walker, director of the school of journalism are: For the best feature story the first prize was awarded to Harry Foster for his story on "Spring Arriens." The second award went to George Round who wrote a story on the arrival of triplets among the lab colony at the agricultural college. Miss Ruth Schill was awarded the third prize for her story on the financial worries of a coed.

Honorable mention was awarded to Harry Foster, Howard Von-Holtzendorff, Oliver DeWolf, Ruth Schill and George Round. In the news writing contest Laurence Hall was awarded first prize with his story entitled "University Must Make Budget Cut." Second prize went to two men who collaborated in the writing of the story "Minority Groups Monopolize Vote," written by Phil Brownell and Harry Foster. The story "Men Censor Test for 'Popularity'" won the third prize and was written by Jack Erickson. Honorable mention was given to Harry Foster, Laurence Hall, Phil Brownell, Joe Miller, Howard Alloway, and Dick Moran.

Nearly seventy-five students in journalism or members of the Daily Nebraskan staff and faculty members were in attendance at the banquet, which began about 6:30. At the beginning of the dinner Miss Jean Speiser, who is president of Theta Sigma Phi, welcomed the guests and introduced Jack Erickson who acted in the capacity of toastmaster and introduced the remaining speakers, who impersonated eminent political leaders of the country carrying out the election theme of the banquet.

Bernard Jennings, impersonating Dolly Gann was the first speaker introduced, who raised her hatchet in defense of the saloon, carrying out the impersonation in true Dolly Gann style. "Genesis of the Forgotten Man, or A New Deal from the Old Deck" was the theme of Howard Alloway's talk in his impersonation of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Herbert Hoover, represented by Phil Brownell was next in line, informing the guests that "Things Couldn't Be Worse."

Former Students at Cambridge and Oxford Say That English Students Are More Individual Than American

"English students are more individual than American," is the statement of Dr. G. W. Stafford, an Oxford graduate and a recent appointee to the pastorate of the University Temple in Seattle. Dr. Stafford feels that any advantage of a British college system over ours is owing to the closer coordination between major and minor subjects. Non-compulsory classes, English "pass, fail and honors" system of graduating, and the social and athletic activities within each college all contribute to creating individuality, greater degree of scholastic success, and greater student efficiency. War-time broke Dr. Stafford's Oxford career into two two-year pieces. After graduation in 1921 with degrees in arts and divinity, he came to the United States and headed the theology department at Rockford in Illinois.

O. C. Collins, instructor of mathematics, an Oxford graduate, when interviewed stated, "I suppose the statement is true. The situation is due to a different system operating the colleges, however, students here would develop in the same manner if given the same treatment. One cause lies in the fact that high schools of England are of high standards for preparing students for university, thus effecting a greater maturity in those entering college. However, I am not suggesting that these methods would necessarily be satisfactory in this country, for a workable theory in one country might easily be unsuccessful in another."

Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, Hitchcock Foundation lecturer from the University of Cambridge, visiting in Berkeley, Calif., recently told a reporter there that "people in England would be very shocked if they saw college men and women living in the same house as they do here at the International house." Examinations Longer. Commenting on his first impressions of college life at the campus of the University of California, Prof. Haldane stated that the rules of the university seemed more lenient than those at Cambridge. Our examination systems differ a great deal in that here the examinations are given quite frequently and are short in length; while in England they come with far less frequency but quite often last for several days. Instead of a theoretical honor system as there is in America the proctor system prevails at Cambridge and other large England educational institutions.

Another distinction between American and English colleges is that not so much stress is laid upon the co-educational system in England as in America. Only four of the twenty-one colleges there allow women to enter their classrooms.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON TWO RECORDS Thurs. - Fri. - Sat. RIALTO

FIFTY ATTEND PRACTICE Monday Night Rehearsal Is Held for Those Unable To Come Daily.

Fifty persons attended practice for the Messiah oratorio last Monday evening. Howard Kirkpatrick, the director, expects a larger attendance next Monday. Anyone interested in singing in the chorus is invited. The Messiah, under the direction of Mr. Kirkpatrick, will probably be presented Dec. 18. The place of presentation has not been definitely decided upon. Several soloists have been selected but the list is not fully completed.

Hall Wins First for News Story; Harry Foster For Feature.

The awards are announced by Prof. Gayle C. Walker, director of the school of journalism are: For the best feature story the first prize was awarded to Harry Foster for his story on "Spring Arriens." The second award went to George Round who wrote a story on the arrival of triplets among the lab colony at the agricultural college. Miss Ruth Schill was awarded the third prize for her story on the financial worries of a coed.

Honorable mention was awarded to Harry Foster, Howard Von-Holtzendorff, Oliver DeWolf, Ruth Schill and George Round. In the news writing contest Laurence Hall was awarded first prize with his story entitled "University Must Make Budget Cut." Second prize went to two men who collaborated in the writing of the story "Minority Groups Monopolize Vote," written by Phil Brownell and Harry Foster. The story "Men Censor Test for 'Popularity'" won the third prize and was written by Jack Erickson. Honorable mention was given to Harry Foster, Laurence Hall, Phil Brownell, Joe Miller, Howard Alloway, and Dick Moran.

Nearly seventy-five students in journalism or members of the Daily Nebraskan staff and faculty members were in attendance at the banquet, which began about 6:30. At the beginning of the dinner Miss Jean Speiser, who is president of Theta Sigma Phi, welcomed the guests and introduced Jack Erickson who acted in the capacity of toastmaster and introduced the remaining speakers, who impersonated eminent political leaders of the country carrying out the election theme of the banquet.

Bernard Jennings, impersonating Dolly Gann was the first speaker introduced, who raised her hatchet in defense of the saloon, carrying out the impersonation in true Dolly Gann style. "Genesis of the Forgotten Man, or A New Deal from the Old Deck" was the theme of Howard Alloway's talk in his impersonation of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Herbert Hoover, represented by Phil Brownell was next in line, informing the guests that "Things Couldn't Be Worse."

Former Students at Cambridge and Oxford Say That English Students Are More Individual Than American

"English students are more individual than American," is the statement of Dr. G. W. Stafford, an Oxford graduate and a recent appointee to the pastorate of the University Temple in Seattle. Dr. Stafford feels that any advantage of a British college system over ours is owing to the closer coordination between major and minor subjects. Non-compulsory classes, English "pass, fail and honors" system of graduating, and the social and athletic activities within each college all contribute to creating individuality, greater degree of scholastic success, and greater student efficiency. War-time broke Dr. Stafford's Oxford career into two two-year pieces. After graduation in 1921 with degrees in arts and divinity, he came to the United States and headed the theology department at Rockford in Illinois.

O. C. Collins, instructor of mathematics, an Oxford graduate, when interviewed stated, "I suppose the statement is true. The situation is due to a different system operating the colleges, however, students here would develop in the same manner if given the same treatment. One cause lies in the fact that high schools of England are of high standards for preparing students for university, thus effecting a greater maturity in those entering college. However, I am not suggesting that these methods would necessarily be satisfactory in this country, for a workable theory in one country might easily be unsuccessful in another."

Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, Hitchcock Foundation lecturer from the University of Cambridge, visiting in Berkeley, Calif., recently told a reporter there that "people in England would be very shocked if they saw college men and women living in the same house as they do here at the International house." Examinations Longer. Commenting on his first impressions of college life at the campus of the University of California, Prof. Haldane stated that the rules of the university seemed more lenient than those at Cambridge. Our examination systems differ a great deal in that here the examinations are given quite frequently and are short in length; while in England they come with far less frequency but quite often last for several days. Instead of a theoretical honor system as there is in America the proctor system prevails at Cambridge and other large England educational institutions.

Another distinction between American and English colleges is that not so much stress is laid upon the co-educational system in England as in America. Only four of the twenty-one colleges there allow women to enter their classrooms.

CHRISTMAS CARDS Until December first you will print your name on 25 or more cards for only 50 cents. Latsch Brothers 1118 O Street

Two-Color Frocks Arrive! $10 each The latest fashion exponents BROWN and gold; black and white; grey and blue; char- treuse and brown; green and black; grey and red; rust and black. STRIKING EFFECTS — contrasts accomplished in bod- ices, scarfs, bibs, detachable waistcoats and other treatments. WOOLS and ROUGH SILK CREPES. Sizes 11 to 17. Misses Shop—Second Floor. MILLER & PAINE

"For a NIGHT CAP" WHEN you're hungry around bedtime, there's nothing better than a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes, with milk or cream and fruit. Delicious. So easy to digest, you sleep better. Try it at the campus restaurant. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. The most popular cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include ALL-BRAN, PEP Bran Flakes, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krumbles, and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee — real coffee that lets you sleep.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON TWO RECORDS Thurs. - Fri. - Sat. RIALTO

THE LID IS OFF! CALL THE COPS! It's a Host of Fun and Laughter "Thrills and Chills" EVERYTHING FROM SPOOKS TO NUTS! The CROOKED CIRCLE SEN LYON ZASU PITTS JAMES BRADDOCK JOHN PULLER