COUNCIL TO PRESENT SCHOLARSHIP PINS AT CONVOCATION NOV. 16

Houses Plan a Series of Twenty Exchange Dinners.

Panhellenic scholarship pins, awarded annually to the sophomore, junior and senior girls who have made the highest averages during the previous year, will be presented at a music convocation Nov. 16, it was announced at the regular meeting of the Panhellenic council, held Monday afternoon at Ellen Smith hall. All sororities were requested to have representatives present at this convocation.

A plan was presented to the council at the meeting whereby there will be exchange dinners among the sororities, two members of each group being the dinner guests of another group each week.

The first of twenty such dinners will be given next week, and the last in the middle of May, a chart having been worked out by the council to avoid mid-semester, final, and other over-crowded weeks. This is the first time such a plan has been used on this campus. It was made at the recommendation of National Panhellenic council for sponsoring friendship among the members of the various Greek groups.

All Big Sisters and Little Sisters are expected to attend and it is planned that sorority mothers will use this opportunity to entertain their daughters and to become better acquainted with them.

Beside the dinner a program of entertainment is being arranged. "The purpose of the dinner will be achieved with the co-operation of all university girls with the Big Sister Board in its effort to promote friendship among girls," declared Calista Cooper, who is aiding in arranging the affair.

Sergeant Re-Enlists Following Discharge

Farmer at Douglas Finds 'N' Balloons

The air carried the news of Nebraska's touchdown against Kansas State college, at the Homecoming game Oct. 29 in more ways than one.

Boswell went over for a touchdown. The radio transmitter tubes relayed this welcome news to thousands of Husker fans thruout the state and into the air went several hundred red "N" balloons released from the hands of students in the cheering section of the stadium.

John K. Selleck, in charge of student activities, reported yesterday the receipt of a card from Charles H. Hull, Douglas, Neb., saying he found two of these balloons on his farm. Douglas is approximately thirteen miles from Lincoln.

PROFESSORS PREDICT DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

State Candidates Finish Their Campaigns With Monday Talks.

"My guess is, from all indications, that the democrats will win the presidency, carry the election of candidates in both houses of congress as well as carry the state of Nebraska," stated Prof. J. P. Senning, head of the political science department of the University of Nebraska Monday afternoon.

There are some, however, who believe the presidency will be won by the democratic candidate, but who are not so sure about the results of the other elective offices. Prof. L. W. Lancaster, also of the political science department, predicts the next president will be Roosevelt, yet is undecided as to the party which will secure the remaining elective positions. "I think Governor Bryan will be re-elected governor of Nebraska, but remain doubtful of his carrying Roosevelt thru with him," was his comment on the state of Nebraska going democratic.

Political managers for the state, according to calculations, expect a very heavy vote to be cast in the election today, unless unforeseen bad weather keeps many from the polls. Governor Bryan closed his campaign, according to his custom, with a night meeting at Fairbury, speaking during the afternoon at Osceola and Hebron.

Dwight Griswold, his opponent, had afternoon meetings at Ceresco and Gretna and was headed for Omaha to make several talks in the evening. He will be back in Lincoln to get the state returns this morning.

OPENING RALLIES FAIL TO AROUSE STUDENT SPIRIT

President of Corn Cobs Calls Meeting for Tonight.

Corn Cob uniforms decked the campus Monday as student spirit gave its first evidence of getting under way for Rally Week. The day closed, however, with Pittsburgh stock apparently rising, if Monday's rally attempts meant anything.

Slow to catch symptoms of spirit pushed by the Corn Cobs students were only half hearted in their "Beat Pitt" spurt in front of Social Sciences building between 9 and 10 o'clock classes.

There was some singing in classes Monday morning, but leaders of the movement were disappointed. William Devereaux, rally chairman for the Innocents, refused to make a statement late Monday afternoon.

In an effort to get the rally program under way more successfully, Bob Pilling, Corn Cob president, has announced the men pepsters will meet tonight at the Delt house at 7:30.

GRAHAM ANNOUNCES TUG OF WAR TEAMS

Frosh, Sophs Grooming Men for Struggle During Game.

Tentative lineups for the freshmen-sophomore tug of war to be held Saturday between halves of the Pitt game were announced Monday by Chalmers Graham, Innocent in charge. The event, which was won last year by the freshmen, will decide whether or not the freshmen are to continue to wear their red caps. All sophomores interested were also asked to report to George Koster at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. Koster will have the final choosing of the teams.

The lineups as reported by Graham include: Freshmen—MacFarland, Thompson, Shurtleff, Gallo-way, Yelkin, Wilson, Sattley, Williams, Reese, Heldt, Scarpa, Brackman, Thompson, Hunt and Elliot; sophomores—Sears, McBeth, Sorenson, Skewes, Miller, deBrown, Uptegrove, Fowler, Thomas, Delaney, Justice, Horchum, Parsons, White and Barnes.

Keen rivalry is reported for the event and both classes are grooming their biggest men in order to win. The contest will be decided by two out of three tugs, and weather permitting, a stream of water will be played upon the team being drawn across the dividing line. If the freshmen win they may discard their red caps, and in the event that the sophomores win the freshmen must continue to wear their caps until the first snow flies.

The struggle will take place between halves either on the practice field to the south, or on the north end of the playing field.

SALE OF DIRECTORY STARTS NEXT WEEK

Price of Publication Is Same as That of Last Year.

The 1933 edition of the Student Directory will probably be put on sale the first of next week, it was announced yesterday by James Crabill, business manager of the publication.

The book will be approximately the same size as in past years with the possibility of a slight reduction in the amount of material contained in the publication, according to Crabill. The cover will be blue with printing in black.

Sales booths will be maintained in the principal buildings on the campus, in the bookstores, and in the Y. M. C. A. office in the Temple, and it is probable that a canvass of the organized houses and dormitories on the campus will be made. The price of the directory will be fifty cents, the same as in previous years.

Encounter Delays.

Slight delays in the publication of the book occurred because of numerous corrections and changes and because of material coming in late. Dick Moran, editor of the publication, declared. However, all of the material has been given to the printer, and it will be off the presses in a few days.

The staff of the publication, in addition to the editor and business manager, consists of: Frank Crabill, Jack Potter and Frank Jenkins, associate editors; Bernard Jennings, advertising manager; and Stanley Brown and Thomas Naughtin, assistant business managers. The directory is published by the University Y. M. C. A. of which C. D. Hayes is general secretary.
