when books could be purchased at the $4.25 price," he said.

Due to a typographical error in Sunday's issue of the Daily Nebraskan, a misleading statement in regard to the extended sale was printed. Contrary to that statement the Cornhusker cannot be purchased at the special reduced price after this afternoon at five o'clock.

Starting tomorrow the regular price of $4.50 will go into effect. Skade declared that anyone wishing to take advantage of the opening campaign will have to act now. "Get your orders in today, either at the Cornhusker office or with a Corncob, Tassel or staff member," he urged.

D. A. WORCESTER TALKS AT SIGMA XI MEETING

Psychology Professor Says Custom Is Basis of Superstition.

Prof. D. A. Worcester of the educational psychology department was the speaker Monday evening at the meeting of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, in the auditorium in Morrill hall on the subject, "Testing Some Superstitions."

He defined a superstition as a belief which is founded upon custom rather than reason and not necessarily involving fear or the supernatural. His speech emphasized adult learning, physical traits in their relation to the intellect, the psychology of the only child, and the development of educational procedures.

Adult learning has been the field of much research and it has been discovered that the period of best learning is in the middle twenties. In general, he said, physical characteristics could not provide a basis upon which one could judge the intellect accurately.

In discussing the only child he said that as the result of recent experiments which he conducted in Lincoln he found that, contrary to the opinion of many prominent psychologists, in almost every case the only child was above the average. He attributed this to the fact that in general the only child comes from better homes and therefore receives better training. He stated that modern educational procedures were emphasizing natural philosophy rather than memorizing.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS AMUSE AUDIENCE IN MONDAY EVE OPENING

Paris prologue, two matrons from Dubuque saying their rather wintertinted farewells to a pair of European gigolos. But one of the gigolos, a suave Italian-French-Polish-Rumanian mixture, accompanies the rich widow Sykes back to Dubuque and the other, an English poet, promises to follow.

Ending Different.

When they arrive in Dubuque, the action of the play doubles. The attempt to pull the wool over the eyes of the husband, Charles Lingard, results in a fascinating ending, altho quite different from the usual ending of this type of romance.

The cast is headed by Mary Kay Throop and Augusta French who play the parts of Lucile Lingard and Emmie Sykes. Opposite them are Clifton Conaway and W. Zolley Lerner in the roles of Ronald Derbyshire, and Hippolitus Lomi Charles Lingard is played by Herbert Yenne, Lois Picking takes the part of Peggy Sykes, and Francis Brandt the part of Jake Canon.

Lingard, the husband, is a Duke, Ia., banker, an easy going, contented, companionable personage. Peggy Sykes, the rather tempestuous daughter of Emmie Sykes is the fiance of Jake Canon, a gangling, affable suitor.

Alleging that the Campus, undergraduate publication at the College of the City of New York, was too much under the control of the college's alumni, the staff of the paper resigned and began the publication of a rival sheet. The new paper sold about 400 more copies of its first edition than did the regular paper.

FOR YEARS and years Shredded Wheat has attended all the best colleges and never flunked a single exam. It's Nature's own energy food—100% whole wheat. It's just the thing before that "eight o'clock" : : : just the thing after an evening hitting the books.

Eat Shredded Wheat for wider-awake days. Eat it for sounder-asleep nights. Best of all eat it because it's one "sensible" food that knows how to taste good, too.

Begin the good habit today! Keep it up for a week, and see if it doesn't make you snappier and happier!

When you see Niagara Falls on the package, you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.
