PHI DELTS ANNOUNCE FORMAL YULE AFFAIR

Great Number of Xmas Events Fill Week's Social Calendar.

Formal Dinner Given.

Members of Phi Delta Theta and their guests will remain in Lincoln Wednesday evening to attend a formal dinner dance at the chapter house that night. The house will be decorated to represent winter scenes. Chaperones for the affair are Mrs. Dora Finch, housemother; Mr. R. C. Dein; Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Young, and Mr. Burke Harley.

A. O. Pi's Entertain.

Members of Alpha Omicron Pi held their annual Christmas party at the chapter house Monday night. Gifts were exchanged following the turkey dinner. Tuesday evening from 4 to 5 they will entertain children of Lincoln alumnae. Santa Claus will be at the party to distribute gifts as well as pop corn balls and candied apples.

Annual Event Given.

Members of Alpha Tau Omega gave their annual Christmas party Sunday evening at the chapter house. Parents of all members were invited to attend. Following refreshments served by the A. T. O. Mother's club, a short program was given by the active members of the fraternity.

Xmas Party Planned.

Teachers college high school students will hold an all-high school Christmas party Wednesday evening in the college. A program which will consist of a play, several solos, and numbers by the T. C. H. S. Girls glee club, directed by Miss Josephine McDermott. Refreshments will be served and Santa Claus will be present.

Dr. Gibbons Speaks.

Candles and sprigs of pine, not to mention a Christmas tree lent the proper "Christmas" air to the annual tea given Thursday by the faculty of the Home economics department.

Dr. Rebecca Gibbons in a red Kashmiri bride's gown, with a wreath of cloves and tinsel flowers described her Christmas a year ago in India where she helped give presents to the little Indian children who, contrary to popular belief, favor soap, clothing, puffed rice, and second hand greeting cards far above toys. The guests also took part in the program by singing four Christmas carols under the leadership of a special choir. Mrs. Angeline Anderson of the nursery school, announced the program, as chairman of the committee. Dean Burr and Mrs. Burr were special guests.

Pi Phi Visits Here.

Katherine Stephenson arrived in Lincoln Monday afternoon to be a guest at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house. Miss Stephenson was a student in the university last year and became affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. She is attending the University of Arizona this year.

Miller-Gallaher.

Norman Gallaher, Delta, Tau Delta, and Florence Miller, Kappa Kappa Gamma informally announced their engagement Friday night at the respective fraternity and sorority houses. Miss Miller is a senior in Arts and Science and lives at Crete. Mr. Gallaher is an innocent and prominent in student activities. His home is at Bassett.

F. A. Students Party.

"All members of the fine arts department are invited to a Christmas party with a Santa Claus, stunts, music, a tree, and 'everything.'" Miss Faulkner announces. The party is to be held Tuesday afternoon in Morrill hall at four o'clock.

Joint Party Held.

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. will hold a Christmas party at Ellen Smith hall Wednesday, Dec. 21, at 8 p. m. All university students are invited. Each guest has been asked to bring a 10c gift for the grab bag.

REGENT SECRETARY DALES TO RETIRE ON DEC. 31 FROM STAFF

believing that it was doomed," Secretary Dales continued. "Those who stayed had faith in its future and sacrificed much to insure its success."

His work as secretary prior to 1865 was done in his downtown law office, because the university office in U hall had not been completed. During that time he served as city judge and practiced law. During his long connection with the university he has acted as the legal adviser to the chancellor, the board of regents and the state legislature in all matters pertaining to the university.

Secretary Dales is familiarly known to hundreds of older alumni as "The Judge," a title given him during his early service to the university. A few years ago the board of regents honored him with the title of dean.

Mr. Dales' plans after his retirement are at present indefinite. He plans to stay in Lincoln for some time but will not be actively connected with the university or his former work.

For the most part, silent pictures are more effective than "talkies" as an educational medium, Prof. C. C. Clark of the New York University School of Commerce reported this week after a two year study. Silent films, however, he added, are in many cases as effective in teaching average students as the average college lecturer.

Marvin Robinson Draws Plans for Proposed Student Union Building

Editor's note—The following story was picked up from the architecture department by an enterprising reporter who encountered several difficulties in securing the information because of the playful antics of some of the members of the department. Hence the allusion to the department as a "veritable madhouse."

The university architectural department, aside from being a veritable madhouse, fosters ideals far beyond the scope of this impoverished institution. Marvin Robinson, one of Professor Cunningham's fond prodigies and graduate assistant in the department, has just completed the floor plan of a proposed student-union building, a structure which will provide for the housing of all extra-curricular activity offices, as well as recreational rooms.

Robinson's modest plan includes an oak-floored ballroom, an auditorium primarily for the showing

URGES RETURN OF PROOFS

Business Manager of Annual Asks Organizations to Arrange for Space.

Again stressing the request of Hauck's and Townsend's studios that proofs of pictures for the 1933 Cornhusker be returned before the Christmas vacation begins, R. W. Spencer urged that students attend to the matter at once. The request was made by the studios, he pointed out, so that prints of the pictures can be made during the holidays.

During the past few days the editor has been laying out space in the dummy contracted for by organizations. "There are many organizations that have not yet turned in their contracts," Business Manager Charles Skade said. These contracts, he declared, should be turned in at the Cornhusker office within the next few days and arrangements made for payment.

DISTRIBUTE SECOND BIZAD NEWS FRIDAY

Arndt and Bullock Write Feature Articles for Issue.

Distribution of the second issue of the Bizad News, college of business administration publication, was made Friday morning in the classrooms of the college.

A story by Prof. K. M. Arndt on "Bimetallism" and one by Prof. T. T. Bullock on "Specialization" are features of the paper. Others include "Marketing and Tax Studies of Nebraska," the economic conference held in November, new courses to be offered, scholarship recognition roll and a story on the new degree of distinction to be offered, together with various organization news.

Commercial Club Takes Trip Thru Gooch Plant

Members of the Men's Commercial club took a trip thru Gooch's mill and bakery last Saturday. Plans are being made by the club to go on similar inspection trips thru other Lincoln concerns soon.

Secretary Plans Mexican Dinner for Y. W. Cabinet

Members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet will be guests of Miss Bernice Miller at a Mexican supper at her home Tuesday night. A Christmas program will be given after the supper. Decorations will be in red and green.

School Orchestra Gives Concert at St. Paul's

The School of Music symphony orchestra, conducted by Prof. Carl Frederic Steckelberg, presented a classical concert Sunday night at St. Paul Methodist church. Prof. H. I. Kirkpatrick conducted the choir. The same program will be given at Joslyn memorial at Omaha and at Plattsmouth Jan. 8.

Financial aid for needy students at Columbia university this week was being planned by the student board. Collections will be taken up in classes and the money deposited in a student relief fund, to be administered by President Nicholas Murray Butler, it was announced.

of motion pictures, a cafeteria, grill, lounging rooms, telephone booths, private dining rooms, patios, all activity and publication offices, a grand lobby and a grand foyer. The edifice is of lime-stone, built in renaissance style, with a ceiling of marble mosaic.

The advisability of building an activity hall has often been considered, but the financial situation of the university is such that there are no immediate prospects of its realization.

Mr. Cunningham states that since Marvin has had this opportunity for his imagination and creative ideals to have full play his plan will be considered as merely a class-room project. He is also working on the plans for a student union building which might become a feasible actuality in the future, however.

Meetings, Research, Entertaining Included in Faculty's Holiday Plans

Dr. Louise Pound, department of English, plans to attend the meetings of the Modern Language association, the Linguistic Society of America, and the American Association of University Professors, all meeting at New Haven, Conn., during the holidays. If possible to arrange her time, she hopes to attend the meeting of the American Folklore society as well. She is a member of the advisory council of the latter group, and is a national councillor of the American Association of University Professors. She is preparing a paper to read before one of the sectional groups of the Modern Language association.

Dr. Esther Anderson, instructor in geography, will attend the national meeting of geographers in Washington, D. C., where she will present a paper on "Geographic Factors in the Development of the Sugar Beet Industry," at the meeting of the Association of American Geographers, December 30.

E. B. Lewis, research engineer in agricultural engineering plans to carry on an investigational research work throughout the vacation period.

Dr. D. A. Worcester, professor of educational psychology, will also remain in Lincoln and continue research work as will Prof. R. E. Cochran, department of history.

Prof. and Mrs. Gayle C. Walker will visit Professor Walker's mother in Indianola, Nebr., the fore part of the vacation, returning to Lincoln December 26.

Attending the American Association of Law Schools' meeting in Chicago, will be Prof. Lester B. Orfield, college of law. Professor Orfield is a member of the equity council and also the wrongs council. He will spend the balance of the vacation visiting his parents and other relatives in Minneapolis, Minn., and will also visit relatives in Aurora, Ill.

Several faculty members will remain in Lincoln where they plan to entertain friends and relatives from out of town. In this group are Miss Evelyn Metzger, assistant professor of design, who will entertain Miss Agnes Saunders of the University of Iowa; Mrs. Edna B. Snyder, department of home economics, who will have relatives from Kansas and western Nebraska as holiday guests; Catherine M. Dunn, instructor in social case work, who will be hostess to a family reunion during the holidays; and Dr. H. W. Orr, instructor in clinical surgery who will have as holiday guests Dorothy Grave Orr, Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, Douglas W. Orr, Northwestern university, and Josephine Orr, of the University physical education staff.

Dr. C. E. Rosenquist, assistant professor of agricultural botany, plans to spend part of the vacation visiting his mother in Fairbury. The balance of the vacation will be spent in Lincoln where he will continue research projects.

Matilda Peters, department of home economics, will spend the vacation period near Bancroft visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Peters.

The holiday vacation will find the members of the University of Nebraska faculty pursuing various lines of endeavor. Several will attend national meetings of organizations in the field with which they are associated, while others will remain in Lincoln to complete research work, write articles, or continue toward the completion of books now in progress.

Prof. Lawrence Vold, college of law, expects to attend the annual convention of the Association of American Law Schools, which meets this year in Chicago, Dec. 28, 29, and 30. At the business meeting of the association, Professor Vold will present his report for the year as directory supervisor for the organization's directory of teachers. He also plans to attend the round table sessions on law school objectives and methods, commercial law, business associations, and legislation.

Professor Vold will also utilize the opportunity while at the meeting of conferring with representatives of the West Publishing company regarding the progress of the work on the forthcoming new case book which he is preparing for publication by that firm.

Dr. J. O. Hertzler, chairman of the department of sociology, and Dr. J. M. Reinhardt, associate professor of sociology, plan to attend the meetings of the American Sociological society at Cincinnati. Dr. Hertzler will present one of the two major papers before the division of historical sociology, the title—"Sources and Methods in Historical Sociology and the History of Sociology." Dr. Reinhardt will preside at one of the sessions of the meeting.

Rudolf F. Vogeler, instructor of physical education and supervisor of intramural athletics, with his family and Mrs. Gilbert Doane and daughter, will drive to New York City where they will visit relatives. While in New York Mr. Vogeler will attend the national meetings of the Society of Directors of Physical Education in Colleges and also the American Student Health association and Swimming Coaches meetings.
