UNOFFICIAL FIGURES REVEAL ONLY SLIGHT REGISTRATION DROP

2,833 Total in Five Colleges Compares Favorably to Last Year.

Incomplete unofficial reports from college deans' offices Saturday indicated that early registration of resident students was running only slightly behind enrollment for the first semester.

Definite and final figures will not be available for some time, Registrar Florence I. McGahey declared, but the count made by the Daily Nebraskan Saturday pointed to a very small decrease by the time all college early registration reports are available.

The Arts and Science college had registered 1116 resident students by Saturday noon as compared with an early registration figure of 1,169 for the second semester of last year. The college of business administration listed 511 as compared with 583 last year.

Dental college had a total of 86 for the week, which is "about the same as last semester." One hundred two had enrolled at the end of early registration for the second semester of last year.

Laws Show Increase.

College of law showed an increase over last year's figure of 161 with a total of 165. Teachers college total for the second semester of 1931-2 was 955, and early registration this year was reported as "about the same."

Reports were not available from the colleges of agriculture, engineering, pharmacy and medicine. Graduate college registration does not start for some time.

Totals for the five colleges reached Saturday—Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Dental, Law, and Teachers—was 2,833. The same colleges for the second semester of last year reported an early registration of 2,970, a difference of 137.

DR. ALBERT BEAVEN IS CONVOCAION SPEAKER

Head of Rochester Seminary Will Address Meeting Tuesday at 11.

Under the joint auspices of the University of Nebraska's faculty committee on convocations and the religious welfare council Dr. Albert W. Beaven, president of the Colgate Rochester seminary of Rochester, N. Y., will speak at an all-university convocation on Tuesday, January 14 at 11 a. m. in the Temple theater.

Dr. Beaven has recently been elected president of the federal council of churches of Christ in America—a position held until recently by Bishop McConnell. He is also an author of note, having written five books, the best known of which are "The Fine Art of Living Together" and "Life's Eastern Window." He has also served as university preacher at Cornell, Yale, the University of Chicago and Wellesley.

He is being brought to Lincoln for the third annual Nebraska ministers' convocation, an annual meeting of an interdenominational nature for the ministers of the state, to be held here January 17 to 19.

Of the sponsoring groups for the all-university convocation, Dr. J. O. Hertzler, chairman of the department of sociology, heads the faculty convocation committee, and Dr. B. C. Hendricks, associate professor of chemistry, is president of the religious welfare council.

The subject of Dr. Beaven's address will be: "Youth of Tomorrow."

WILL HOLD STUDY SESSION

Miss Bernice Miller Plans Second Meeting for Devotion Hour.

Second session of the study groups instructed by Miss Bernice Miller, Y. W. C. A. secretary, will be held this week. One group meets Sunday from 9 to 10:30 o'clock. Miss Miller announces that there is room at these group meetings for a few more girls who are interested in a devotional hour such as Miss Miller is conducting. This series of group studies includes lessons on "Records of the Life of Jesus." There are to be fourteen meetings, the last meeting will be held on Easter.

Dean Thompson Lauds Football in Article

In an article appearing in the December issue of the Athletic Journal, Dr. T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs makes a plea for fair consideration of football, which he describes as "one of the finest contact games ever developed, a game in which the courage and skill and sportsmanship of young men are tried." The article is entitled "Bullyragging Football."

DECORATION AWARD IS ANNOUNCED FOR 'LEAP YEAR' PARTY

Mortar Board to Give Five Dollar Prize for Most Practical Plan.

A $5 prize will be given to the woman on this campus submitting the most attractive and least expensive plan for decorating the coliseum in preparation for the Mortar Board party, according to Gertrude Clarke, publicity chairman.

Girls wishing to try for this award may get further information concerning the color scheme and general requirements for entry from Jane Axtell, she said. All competitors are required to follow the directions according to an announcement made by the publicity chairman, Gertrude Clarke.

When queried further about the general plans for the party, Miss Clarke made the following statement: "The appellation by which this party is to be known is 'Mortar Board Party' rather than 'Leap Year party' as many have thought." This explanation was made in an attempt to clarify the ideas of those who believed it to be a post-leap year event.

This honorary organization on other camp has established the precedent so that each year the women students treat the men to dancing and a "sandwich" afterwards. The local Mortar boards hope to make this an annual affair at Nebraska.

BLUE PRINT APPEARS ON MONDAY MORNING

Clema, Rait Contribute Leading Articles in January Issue.

The January issue of the Nebraska Blue Print, publication of the college of engineering, will be distributed Monday morning, it was announced Saturday.

Several interesting articles are included in this month's magazine. Robert A. Rait, '33, is the author of an article, "Rockefeller Center," dealing with the problems encountered in the construction of the new Radio City in New York.

Another story, "Stimulating Plant Growth by the Use of Electricity," is written by John M. Clema, '30, who is now connected with Westinghouse Electric company. George L. Sullivan, '08, has also written an article, "California Paving." Mr. Sullivan is now a consulting engineer in Santa Clara, California.

All regular departments are included. "The Dean's Corner," written monthly by Dean O. J. Ferguson, explains the reasons for the cancellation of this year's inspection trips for engineering students.

Iota Sigma Pi to Hold Open Meeting Tuesday

Iota Sigma Pi, women's chemistry honorary, is sponsoring and open meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7:30. Dr. Mary Morse, of the chemistry department, will speak on "Vocational Opportunities for Girls in Chemistry."

All girls interested in any phase of chemistry are invited. The meeting is to be in room 208 Chemistry hall.

'OZ' BLACK SPEAKS ON CAMPUS SUNDAY

Cartoonist to Illustrate His Museum Talk With Crayons.

"Oz" Black, widely-read cartoonist whose page "Here in Lincoln" is a weekly feature of the Sunday Journal and Star, will be the feature at the Nebraska State museum's program Sunday afternoon at 4:15. His talk is entitled "Sunny Side Up" in which he does many illustrations with colored chalk and crayons.

For the children's program at 2:30 p. m., the feature is a talk by Miss Marjorie Shanafelt on "Arabs of the Black Hair Houses." The talk will be supplemented by two films, one "The Prodigal Palm" and the other, "Bedouins of the Sahara."

Y.W.C.A. 'SWAP SHOP' TO OPEN NEXT FRIDAY

Students Will Set Price of Books at New Exchange in Temple Building.

Students who have old textbooks to sell, may take them to the Y. W. C. A. "Swap Shop" on Jan. 20, it was announced yesterday. The new book exchange will be open from 1 to 6 o'clock on Friday to receive books and from 10 to 12 and 4 to 6 on the days following that until Jan. 30 when sales start.

The books will be graded according to condition and the student will set the price of his own books. The Y. W. C. A. will receive 20 percent of the sales price. "Ye Swap Shop" will be located at the south of the counter on the first floor of the Temple building. It will be decorated in red and cream, and with posters made by Miss Faulkner of the art department.

Although the shop is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. it is open to every student on the campus. Ruth Bernstein is in charge of publicity, Jean Alden, of personnel, and Ruth Cherny, of classification and bookkeeping.

REGENTS REMOVE MORSE TO LINCOLN FROM CURTIS JOB

At a meeting of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents Jan. 7, Supt. C. K. Morse, for a number of years in charge of the Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis, at his request was transferred to Lincoln to take up work in University Extension, effective Sept. 1, 1933. Mr. Morse has had this matter under consideration for some time, and the action of the board was wholly in accordance with his desires.

While a new superintendent has not yet been named, it is expected Mr. Morse's successor will be selected from someone now in service on the Agricultural College staff.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HONORING FOSSLER SCHEDULED SUNDAY

A memorial service in honor of the late Professor Laurence Fossler, head of the German department at the University of Nebraska, will be held this morning at 11 a. m. at the Unitarian church at 12th and H streets.

Professor Fossler, who was seventy-five years of age, died at his home on Jan. 7th after a lingering illness.

Dr. R. J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany, was elected first vice president of the American Microscopical Society at its annual meeting held recently at Atlantic City. Membership in the society is held by hundreds of specialists in microscopy in this country and abroad. The society publishes a journal known as the "Transactions," which is now in its fifty-first year.

DANCING CONTINUES TO TWELVE O'CLOCK AT FRATERNITY BALL

Extension Does Not Alter Usual 12:30 Night for University Coeds.

Dancing to the music of Husk O'Hare and his orchestra at the annual Interfraternity ball, which will be held on Saturday, Feb. 4, in the coliseum, is to continue until 12 o'clock, according to an announcement made yesterday by the committee in charge.

Special permission to continue the dancing a half hour beyond the customary time was obtained by the committee from the faculty subcommittee on student affairs. The dancing will start at 8:30 and continue until 12 o'clock with a fifteen minute intermission.

The extension on the time for dancing does not alter the rule that girls living in dormitories and organized houses must get in by 12:30, according to Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women. The same rule will hold for the night of the ball, she declared.

Tickets for the event will be checked out to members of the Interfraternity council at a special meeting of that body called for next Tuesday evening, according to Otto Kotouc, member of the committee in charge of the sale of tickets. Admission to the party will be $1.50 per couple.

The band will furnish the music for the event, Husk O'Hare and "His Genial Gentlemen of the Air," is a feature attraction of the Music Corporation of America. It is at the present time playing in the ballroom of the LaSalle hotel in Chicago.

SENNING INAUGURATES RADIO TALKS AT KFAB

Friday's Broadcast Begins Series of Addresses on Government.

A series of radio talks by Dr. J. P. Senning, chairman of the political science department, on current questions of government, which started Friday, will be continued indefinitely over radio station KFAB, it was learned yesterday.

The subject of Dr. Senning's talk Friday was "The Structure of the Nebraska Legislature from the Standpoint of the Basis of Representation." His topic next Friday, Jan. 20, will be "The Process of Organizing the State Legislature," and the subject for his talk Friday, Jan. 27, will be "The Process of Procedure in the State Legislature."

During the month of January, Dr. Senning will broadcast his talks on Friday from 5:15 to 5:30, while his talks during the month of February will be delivered between 5:45 and 6:00.

Dr. Senning gave a similar series of talks on current political questions and topics over station KFAB about four years ago.
