

INFECTED FOOT MAY KEEP STEVE HOKUF OUT OF SOONER TILT

Coach Browne Lays Stress On Scoring Techniques in Week's Workouts.

The injury and illness jinx is still hovering around the Husker camp, for Steve Hokuf turned up with an infected foot at basketball practice Monday afternoon, and at present it appears certain that he will see no action in the Oklahoma game this Saturday night at Norman.

Hokuf's absence will be keenly felt for he stands at present as Nebraska leading scorer in Big Six conference play with 36 points chalked up to his credit, and he also is the leader in on the defensive side of affairs.

Since a good many shots which he figured should have been converted into points were tossed away last Friday night in the Kansas game. Coach Browne is placing considerable stress on this phase of the game during workouts this week. Passing, pivoting and general floor work are also coming in for considerable attention in order that play might become smoother in preparation for the Sooner tilt this weekend.

With Hokuf on the sidelines the lineup going through the plays during the week is composed as follows: Paul Mason and Hub Boswell, forwards, Leland Copple, center, Walt Henrion and George Sauer, guards. George Wahlquist, Ken Lunney, and Bud Parsons are in reserve as forwards, Parsons also being available at guard along with Bob Belka, Walt Henrion and George Sauer having seen a good deal of service at center.

COLLEGE WORLD.

Reported irregularities in the management of the Stanford Bookstore this week were the subject of a student investigation. Charles Karl, student manager of the store, said he welcomed the investigation "to give the bookstore an opportunity to vindicate itself."

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university this week announced the appointment of Dr. David P. Barrows, former president of the University of California, as visiting Roosevelt professor to the University of Berlin during the 1933-1934 academic year.

Efforts to set aside a long standing rule which prohibits freshmen from living in fraternity houses were being made this week by fraternity leaders at the University of Michigan, "in view of the economic crisis affecting fraternities and sororities everywhere." Students now may not live in the Greek houses until their sophomore year.

University of Kansas faculty and student authorities this week were running down clues in the hope of apprehending the vandals who destroyed the Rock Chalk Cairn, stone monument on the campus, symbolic of the university's traditions.

Search was being made this week for a quartet of desperados who overpowered watchmen and robbed two safes of the University of Utah and escaped with loot estimated at $1,100 in cash, in addition to $4,500 in bonds.

CONFERENCE CATCHES

BY BURT MARVIN.

Old man tough luck has found his way into the house of Nebraska basketball again and has laid Steve Hokuf out with an infected foot with exactly half of the Big Six basketball season gone by the boards. And anyone realizing the skill with which the Crete athlete plays the cage game will grant that an event like that is considerable tough luck in a big dose. Steve's absence in the Oklahoma game this Saturday evening is going to mean that the Huskers will be forced to play quite a bit harder in order to set back the Sooners who have established a winning habit during the past few weeks.

It's been two years since the Oklahomans have dropped a home game, and they have lost only one conference tilt this winter, that to the cellar occupants, Iowa State, in the first game of the season. And this winter they are the only team to have set back the Kansas Jayhawkers. They trimmed the Kansans back about the middle of January at the Oklahoma field house, 25 to 23.

Browning, a sophomore guard, has proved to be the ace in the Sooner lineup this season, replacing Andy Beck and Anderson as the hot-shot scoring aces although the latter two men are expected to come around with a high scoring performance sometime in the near future, and as far as Coach McDermott is concerned, it would be the Sooner the better. Following is a description of Browning on the floor: "Browning can dribble with his head up, shoots goals a dozen different ways, and guards coolly and efficiently." Sounds something like our own Steve Hokuf doesn't it, and incidentally it is too bad that these two can't get together for a comparison this week. However they doubtless will meet on the floor when the Sooners come here, March 4. Maybe a change in government on that day will bring about a change in Husker basketball, although we're all for it coming sooner. In fact the Brownemen have put on exhibitions such as the ones in the Kansas State and Iowa State games where they looked very much like a basketball team.

Bernie Masterson certainly showed the public a nifty exhibition of splashing Saturday when he copped wins in both the 50 yard and 100 yard free style in the swimming squad tryouts for varsity positions. The time for the 100 yard free style was a fraction of a second over one minute, and for the 50 was 26 seconds. Masterson is the self-same Bernie who performs on the football team at halfback, and he is also a trackman. Bernie serves as lifeguard at the Muny pool here in Lincoln during the summer months.

HUSKER WRESTLERS MEET STRONG IOWA TEAM ON SATURDAY

Nebraska Opponents Have Defeated All Foes Up To Date.

In tackling Iowa State next Saturday, Feb. 11, the outlook for Coach Ecklund's wrestling squad is decidedly pessimistic. Coach Hugo Outopalik's crew has not only been defeating all its opponents but has been doing so by overwhelming scores, taking Minnesota by the score of 24 to 3 and overcoming Indiana to the tune of 23 to 8. And, incidentally, Indiana last year was rated one of the best teams in the United States in Intercollegiate competition.

Nebraska Minus Four Men.

To make matters worse, Nebraska has lost four men with the coming of the second semester. Don Shirley, a two year letterman in the 155 pound division, will not be available because of an injured shoulder and Cecil Ackerman, of the 165 pound class, also a letterman, is ineligible. Schluter, a heavyweight, and Neil Hill, 145 pounder, dropped out of school in mid-year. This leaves only two lettermen, Crowin Hulbert, heavyweight, and Adam Green, 135 pound class.

Iowa State on the other hand is very strongly represented by lettermen and in addition has Hess, 175 pounder, an excellent

ZOOLOGY PROFESSOR TAKES NEW POSITION

Dr. Ward Is Former Head Nebraska Medicine School.

At a recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Henry B. Ward, former dean of the University of Nebraska school of medicine, was elected permanent secretary of that organization.

Dr. Ward, at present the head of the department of zoology at the University of Illinois, will leave his position there in June to assume his new duties.

In 1895, Dr. Ward accepted a position as professor in zoology at the University of Nebraska, continuing his research in parasitology in which he had been active during his student days in Europe. Shortly thereafter he was chosen dean of the medical school, serving in that capacity until 1909, when he resigned to take a position in the University of Illinois.

In 1914, Dr. Ward founded the "Journal of Parasitology," the only American publication of its type. A past secretary of the society of Sigma Xi, honorary scholastic fraternity, he has also been president of the American Society of Parasitologists, the American Society of Zoologists, and the American Fisherman's society.

wrestler, having competed on the American Olympic team at Los Angeles a year ago.

Coach Ecklund has selected the team with three exceptions, the 135 pound class, the 125 pound class and the 118 pound class which are still in doubt.

Coach Ecklund is in a quandary yet as to whether Green, Stump, or Heigle should represent the 135 pound class, Katskee or Bishop the 125 pound class and whether McDaniel or Heady is best suited for the 118 pound division.

The lineup is as follows:

Crowin Hulbert	.....Heavyweight
Don Hulbert	.....175 lb.
Perry Meredith	.....165 lb.
Norris Eaton	.....155 lb.
Murle Wells	.....1145 lb.
Green, Stump, or Heigle	..145 lb.
Katskee or Bishop	.....125 lb.
McDaniel or Heady	.....118 lb.
