OKLAHOMA QUINTET NIPS HUSKER FIVE WITH 39-35 SCORE

Sooners Move Into First Place in Big Six Conference.

NORMAN, Okla.—Overcoming a Nebraska lead in the last four minutes of the game, here, last night, Oklahoma went ahead to nose out the Huskers, 39 to 35 and capture first place in the Big Six conference as Missouri turned in a surprise victory over Kansas. The Cornhuskers' lead held a four to six point victory up to the last minutes of the game. At the half the Brownmen were ahead, 23 to 19.

As high scorer of the tilt, Walt Henrion, Husker guard, turned in 14 points. He was the outstanding player, without doubt, on his team. Browning, Oklahoma guard, who was recently sick, played a fine game for the Sooners making four field goals and two free throws.

Main and Browning, guards for the Sooners, led their team in turn.

University Players Will Give Current Production Once More.

"Porgy," the current production of the University Players will be held over for one more performance Monday evening, according to an announcement by Miss Alice Howell, director of the organization.

Playing before packed houses all this week, the production has been unable to accommodate the crowds which have attended, Miss Howell said.

"Porgy" was written by Dr. Bose Hayward, and is the fourth drama of the year presented by the players under the direction of Miss Alice Howell.

PENNY CARNIVAL IS INSTITUTED ON NEBRASKA CAMPUS

Affair, Sponsored by Big Sister Board, to Be Annual Event.

A new and novel institution made its debut on the Nebraska campus Saturday afternoon when the Big Sister Board presented its Penny carnival. The carnival, inaugurated this year, will become an annual event and is a good start toward raising funds for the promotion of the work of the Big Sister Board.

Altho the carnival was not so much of a financial success as it could have been the girls are very well pleased with the results and hope to increase the interest and participation in the future.

In the lottery drawing for two boxes of candy Margaret Pomroy and Valentine Klotz were winners.

In a birds-eye view were seen: The Nebraska staff crashing thru the back door; a contest to see who could carry home the largest number of mirrors won by knocking over ten-pins; a plain clothes man reprimanding those who were unable to conduct themselves properly; flowers in coat lapels of teardrinkers; sickening looks on the faces of those who entered the "house of horrors;" many an angler coming in with a good catch; a song and dance act by a one-man cast; and a general hilarity of fun-makers enjoying the school-day pastime.

VALENTINE THEME FEATURES WEEKLY LITERARY MEETING

A Valentine theme was the feature of the regular weekly meeting of the Delian-Union Literary society held Friday, Feb. 10. The program was directed by Miss Wilma Bute, and each letter of the word valentine was represented by various entertaining features.

BARBOUR TO SPEAK AT MUSEUM MEETING

Professor Will Lecture on 'Museum Come Alive' Today.

Those who attend the regular Nebraska State Museum program Sunday afternoon at 4:15 will see the "Museum Come Alive," under the description of Dr. E. H. Barbour, chairman of the department of geology, who will be the speaker on the adult program. Dr. Barbour's talk will describe the recent mountings in the museum giving their historic backgrounds. His talk will be illustrated with pictures showing the history and life of the animals.

Miss Marjorie Shanafelt, in charge of the museum programs, will tell the children, at 2:30, about "Miss Mie of Japan." This story is based on the Japanese doll which was sent to the museum as a goodwill offering from the province of Mie in Japan. The children's program will close with the showing of the film, "Canned Thrills."

Professor Schramm Has Harrowing Experience on Expedition to Mexico

Following the rough and un-surfaced bed of the meandering Sonora River and fording its treacherous waters, in many places filled with quick sand, 72 times in 30 miles of travel was the dangerous and harrowing experience of Professor E. F. Schramm, head of the geology department of the University of Nebraska, in his recent expedition into the northern province of Sonora, Mexico.

Mr. Schramm has made previous trips into Central America and Mexico, where in the past few years he has been conducting a series of extensive geologic surveys.

Roads are a thing unknown to this particular province, Mr. Schramm explained, and are rough and rocky, necessitating slow travel, usually taking from six to seven hours to cover 75 miles. Since there are no bridges across the part of the Sonora River which Mr. Schramm traveled, native guides were used to find the best places to cross the swift and

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI PLAN CELEBRATION FOR CHARTER DAY

Graduates Will Observe Husker 'Birthday' Feb. 15.

The sixty-fourth "birthday" of the University of Nebraska will be celebrated Feb. 15 when Charter Day is observed by the university and by the alumni of the institution in various places over the state and nation.

The day is set aside for annual observance by the university and its alumni, in honor of the passage of definite legislation by the state legislature Feb. 15, 1869, for the establishment of the school.

As in former years, the institution is sending a limited number of faculty members from the university to address the local alumni gatherings in the scattered points over Nebraska. Only twelve county celebrations will be held this year, a slightly smaller number than usual.

turbulent waters of the river.

"The extremely provincial life led by the natives, was to me, one of the most interesting side-lights of the trip," explained Mr. Schramm, "and more particularly was the quaint method of building houses."

Using as their only material the adobe clay, the natives first sift the coarse pebbles from the clay by throwing it against a crude bamboo screen. They then mix the clay with straw in wooden molds and let it dry in the sun, using it later as bricks for the walls, and the adobe mud as plaster. To the observer from United States, the vegetation of this semi-tropical region is unusually interesting and extremely fascinating," continued Mr. Schramm, "and one never tires of looking at it or loses his fear and respect for the thorny plants and shrubs of this picturesque country."

The least useful, and most forbidding and highly feared cactus,
