

BASKETBALL SQUAD WILL MEET SOUTH DAKOTA SATURDAY

Game Is Last Tilt of Year Against Non-Conference Opponents.

In the first game outside of Big Six competition since Jan. 3 the Nebraska Cornhuskers will meet the South Dakota Coyotes Saturday evening at the Coliseum at 8 o'clock. This is the final tilt of the season with nonconference foes, and will be the first time the Nebraska and South Dakota fives have met for two years, when the Nebraskans set back the Vermillion crew.

Concerning the starting lineup, Coach Browne is undecided and he stated Thursday that he wouldn't

BIG SIX CONFERENCE RULE.

The following rule is being published today in order that none of the University of Nebraska athletic team aspirants endanger their intercollegiate athletic status by performing in the coming Y. M. C. A. amateur basketball tournament or in any other competition of this kind. It may be found in the Missouri Valley Athletic conference (Big Six) rules book.

4—Representation on non-intercollegiate teams. A student shall be ineligible to represent his college in athletic contests who engages in such contests unattached or as a representative of any athletic organization not connected with his college, whether in term or vacation time.

name the starting five until just before the game, when he would have some idea as to the height of the opposing team.

It is probable that the forwards will be picked from among Hub Boswell, Ken Lunney, Paul Mason and Walt Henrion. Henrion, Sauer or Copple will land the center assignment, and Steve Hokuf and George Sauer, Bud Parsons or Bob Belka will be at guards.

Defense Found Wanting.

Considerable attention has been given to defensive tactics during the brief practice period this week, this being the department of the game which showed the want of brushing up on the road trip last week. Defensive letdowns were responsible for the last minute spurts on the part of both Oklahoma and Kansas Aggies last week when the Huskers fell 39 to 35 and 36 to 30.

Fast offensive play featured the Nebraska play last week, and the shooting was above the quality which has been shown previously.

Early in the season the Huskers and Coyotes both engaged in contests with the Arkansas Razorbacks on their road trip. Both teams fell before the southerners' attack, the Huskers' 41 to 24 licking being somewhat worse than the one absorbed by the South Dakota pack. However, the play put on by the Brownmen in the initial tilt of the year was somewhat worse than any which has been exhibited since.

The game is to start promptly at 8 o'clock with Ernie Adams of Omaha refereeing.

B TEAM TO PLAY PERU Game Friday Night Will Be Third Tussle in Week For Seconds.

The third game of the week on the docket for the Nebraska B team is the tussle with Peru Normal, the leader in the N. I. A. A. league of Nebraska colleges. The tilt is set for Saturday night to be played on the Peru court. Probable starting lineup:

Nebraska B.—	—Peru.
Long, f.	Anderson
Bauer, f.	Rallsback
Hartley, c.	Carmichael
Snipes, g.	Fucher
Pailing, g.	Priefert

TANKSTERS TO MEET K-AGGIES SATURDAY

Huskers Favored as Result Of Showing Against Iowa State.

Nebraska swimmers will receive their second conference test of the year Saturday when they match strokes with the Kansas Aggie splashers at Manhattan. Coach Rudy Vogeler and twenty-four tanksters will leave by bus early Saturday morning accompanied by the wrestling team which is also scheduled to face the Kaggies.

Although the mettle of the Huskers' opponents has yet to be given a trial in actual competition, the Nebraska mentor expects a close skirmish with the edge possibly favoring Nebraska as a result of her showing against the strong Iowa State team last week. In that engagement the Cyclones were forced to come from behind to overcome an early lead in order to win 44-40.

Sands Wins Two Firsts.

Had it not been for the yeoman work of Iowa State's versatile Sands, the score in all probability would have favored the Huskers. Of the five first places which the Iowans copped, Sands personally accounted for two, and then capped his performances by swimming on the 300-yard medley relay team which established a new conference record. Since the Kansas splashers have no speed demon with the ability of Sands, the Huskers are counted upon to take the majority of first places.

If the issue of that recent melee is any indication, Nebraska bids fair to have at least two, possibly three conference swimming champions. Big Bernie Masterson's football activities seem not to have cramped his style as he flashed to easy triumph in the 50-yard free style and placed in two other events.

Minor Features In Diving.

Jack Minor's fancy diving performance was another feature, but the most gratifying accomplishment of the afternoon was perpetrated by Dan Easterday, a minor letterman of 1932. Easterday gained a well earned triumph from a fast field in the 440-yard event and finished second in the 220-yard free style.

The complete list of swimming entries for the Kansas Aggie meet as announced by Coach Vogeler: 200-yard breast stroke; Gallup, Minor, Rood, Fantle; 150-yard backstroke, Ray Gavin and Church; 50-yard free style, Masterson and Kelley; 440-yard free style, Easterday and Dahms; 100-yard free style, Masterson and Kelley; 220-yard free style, Easterday, Jack Gavin and Dahms; diving, Minor and Gallup; 400-yard relay, J. Gavin, Easterday, Fleisbach and Masterson; medley relay, Church, Minor and Kelley.

PLAY IN BASKETBALL LEAGUES NEARS END

Final Playoffs to Be Held During Next Two Weeks.

In the barb and church basketball leagues of the university, play is rapidly nearing culmination. Final playoffs will be run off during the next two weeks.

Among the barbs there are two leagues. In League I the Wildcats under the managership of Ted Toft are leading with four wins and no losses, while the Red Devils headed by Burt Marvin follow closely with 3 victories and 1 loss. These two teams are due to meet next Wednesday evening to decide the championship of the league and the winners are to meet the Porcupines managed by Ernie Gorr and Harold Bates for the barb championship.

The church group finds the Lutherans, First Presbyterians, and Trinity M. E. as champions of their leagues and due to play a round robin playoff for the pennant.

Y. W. National Secretary Arrives for Conference

Miss Stella Scurlock, national Y. W. C. A. secretary, arrived today to attend the student economic conference and to meet with a committee making arrangements for the Estes Park conference to be held in June. Miss Scurlock travels for the Y. W. C. A. in the Rocky Mountain district. She has not been scheduled as yet to speak at any special meetings. Further announcement of concerning this will be made later.

Students May File for Prom Girl and Orator

Filings for the positions of Prom Girl and Ivy Day Orator will be received at the student activities office until 5 p. m., Friday, Feb. 17. Candidates for either position must be of senior standing and be scholastically eligible according to the regular university rules. The four girls receiving the greatest number of votes for Prom Girl at the election Tuesday, Feb. 21, will be the candidates for that position.

M'COOK TROUNCES NEBRASKA B TEAM BY 41 TO 38 SCORE

Junior College Five Comes Back Fast to Overcome Husker's Lead.

Unusual accuracy on side shots enabled the McCook junior college five to trounce the Nebraska B team 41 to 38 Thursday evening on the Ag college floor. At the intermission the count favored the Nebraska crew 23 to 22 after a fast first period, but the visitors came back fast after the rest and sank a number of quick shots which clinched the contest.

The Huskers started fast but soon Coach Robb's men gained an 8 to 7 lead and from then on it was nip and tuck. In the first period Herb Hartley rang up fourteen points out of the Husker twenty-three total, and in the second half sunk a couple of field goals to take high point honors with eighteen.

Immediately after the start of the second half the invaders proceeded to do things up nicely and soon had the score in their favor 34 to 26, spot shots from the side accounting for most of the points. The closest Nebraska got after that was 36 to 38, but hope was short-lived for three more McCook points set the Scarlet 41 to 36.

Following Hartley in the Nebraska scoring ranks was Bauer who accounted for six field goals. Snipes and Pailing also put up nice games. Kailey led the visitors' scoring and was outstanding along with Stennett and Jones.

CONFERENCE CATCHES

BY BURT MARVIN.

Now with only four more games on the schedule for our cage warriors we either should begin moaning or getting optimistic about the future in Husker basketball circles. I guess a few weeks ago I set myself up in this column as being a pessimist, but its all in the viewpoint.

In the first game of the season, the Arkansas scrap, the Razorbacks gave our Huskers a 41 to 24 trimming, which meant that all prospects took on a black hue. From then until the start of the Big Six season the showing wasn't so good, but we staunch supporters claim that Coach Browne has had a mighty scrappy five on the floor in all of the conference games, and that the future for next year appears rosy. Injuries and sickness have beset the squad, but in spite of that the Nebraskans have set up an average scoring record virtually as good as that of any team in the league. However the defensive record is something else.

On the recent trip the Brownmen made 35 and 30 points against Oklahoma and Kansas State, but went down to defeat in both games. In both cases it was a let-down in the last few minutes which permitted the opposition to score.
