COLGATE FACULTY MEMBER SOUNDS ENCOURAGING NOTE

Cutten States Progress Grows During Hard Times.

By College News Service.
HAMILTON, N. Y., Feb. 23.—"Hard times are hot houses in which progress grows."

That was the encouraging note on the depression issued this week by President George Barton Cutten of Colgate university.

"This forced growth is not pleasant but it is valuable," he said. "Mankind has always had to be kicked upstairs. He is naturally lazy. You cannot coax him; you must drive him."

He declared that every great era of progress in the history of the race has been preceded by a great cataclysm in which men suffered and struggled in facing almost unconquerable conditions. The surviving profited and were stronger, he said.

Leisure Precedes Decadence.

"On the other hand," Dr. Cutten pointed out, "periods of decadence have been preceded by misused leisure on the part of the ruling classes, and easy times have made flabby races. We move along the lines of least resistance, but the law of growth and development is that we grow as we expect ourselves physically, mentally and morally."

"Prosperity kills itself. Selection, migration, mutation and change of habits brought about by adversity are the necessary conditions for advances."

A darker picture was painted, however, by Prof. Paul Jacobson of the university, who declared that "the United States is nearer a revolution than it ever has been since the Civil war."

Though urging poise and confidence, rather than alarm, he contended that certain fundamental changes must come about if the country is to avoid the evils of "abortive action."

Manifestations of the latter, he said, already are being witnessed in the middle west and other sections of the nation, where farm strikes and forcibly controlled foreclosure sales are becoming common.

was the title of the Gamma Phi Beta skit. Jeanette Arensberg, Harrie Daly, and Audred Whitman, comprising the Alpha Phi Trio appeared next on the program. Carrie Belle Raymond Hall presented "Darkies on Delta" following which Lois Rathburn gave a reading La Petite Valase.

Scene two of the fashion revue was followed by a stunt, "The Opera" given by Delta Delta Delta. The last number of the program was a French reading by Elsa Swift.

Miss Steel, junior in the college of Arts and Science, was selected as the best dressed girl from fifteen candidates who were seeking the position.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY TO PRESENT PLAYS

Club Will Give Three One Act Skits on March 1.

The presentation of the University Dramatic club's three original one act plays will be held at the Temple theater, March 1, according to Lee Young, president of the organization. All necessary arrangements have been completed and ticket sales have been progressing rapidly he stated.

The three plays chosen by the contest committee, were all written by University of Nebraska students, and are to be publicly presented for the first time on this campus. "Wise Guy," by Hal Easton; "The Winning of Harry Jones," by Margaret Deming and Dorothy Cook; and "Kaddish," by Zolley Lerner, are the three plays.

"The Winning of Harry Jones," has been cast and is being directed by its authors. Joe di Natalie will take the leading part of Harry Jones, and will be assisted by Jane McLaughlin and Bess Langford, who will supply the feminine interest.

The story is woven around the life of a circus barker at a state fair. Harry Jones, who is the barker, travels with the show and included among the troupe is the girl of his dreams, played by Bess Langford. When he returns to his home town, to put on the side-show, he finds himself in severe complications when his former sweetheart arrives on the scene, whose part is played by Jane McLaughlin. The situation which results has a light romantic and comedy touch to it.

The best play will be selected by the audience, according to Young.
