KOSMET KLUB STARTS WORK ON CHORUSES

Committee Issues Call for Music to Use in Spring Play.

With work on the choruses for the Kosmet Klub spring show starting last night, calls for lyrics and tunes for the production were issued yesterday by Joe Alter and Charles McCari, members of the Klub in charge of music for "The Bar-O Ranch."

Several students and local musicians are now at work writing music for the show, but material is needed immediately, Alter declared. Special consideration will be given to love songs and lyrics and rumbas, according to McCari. "The musical aspect of the show offers unusual possibilities for a great variety of tunes and lyrics," Alter declared last night after a meeting of the Klub, "and, in all probability, the choruses will employ as many tunes as are suitable for the character of the show."

Work on the choruses, under the direction of Ralph Ireland, started last night with a series of rehearsals to select the final groupings from the applicants chosen at the tryouts held last week. John Zeilinger, member of the Klub, is assisting Ireland in his work.

Jack Thompson, president of the Klub, asked that all students intending to write music for the show submit their material to him or at the offices of the Klub in the basement of U hall by Thursday afternoon.

Student Lawyers to Try Sensational 'Divorce Case' Friday and Saturday

The "little wife," charging her cruel husband with telling her to "go to the devil," is seeking a divorce. The cruel husband says "What of it?" Such is the sensational divorce case which has been filed on the docket of the Moot Court at Law college for Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Sitting in the court of his majesty, the austere bailiff Bill Darrah, law college students will listen to the trials and tribulations of a young married couple who "just couldn't get along."

The little woman "who went home to mother" is being played by Audrey Gregory and will be represented in the trial by two attorneys, Fred P. Olney and Earl Fishbaugh. Willis Hecht, the erring husband will be defended from the disgrace of a divorce by Bill Brown

MUSIC GROUPS ENTERTAIN

Glee Club and Quartet Give Program at Lincoln High School.

The University Glee club and the quartet gave a program at the Lincoln high school Tuesday. The groups were directed by Dean Parvin Witte.

A serenade from the "Student Prince" was among the selections sung by the glee club. The quartet composed of Russell Gilman, Alfred Reider, Ernest Gore and Kenneth Fulcher presented several numbers. Solos were sung by each of the members of the quartet.

GROUP MAKES FINAL PLANS FOR ANNUAL WINTER FUN FROLIC

Ag Festival Corresponds to Kosmet Klub Spring Show On City Campus.

Final preparations for the annual Coll-Agr-Fun winter frolic of Nebraska college of agriculture students are nearing completion. Manager Mark Hackman declared on Tuesday evening. Over 500 University of Nebraska students and Lincoln people are expected to witness the fun festival.

Those attending the show, which corresponds to the Kosmet Klub show on the uptown campus, are assured of a full evening's entertainment for 13 acts are scheduled to be given. Both fraternities, the Farm House and Alpha Gamma Rho, have skits entered as have numerous boarding clubs and other organizations on the college of agriculture campus.

Though plans for the dance to be given after the show were not yet complete Tuesday evening, Hackman said those attending the show are assured of dancing to a good band. He was in contact with a 12-piece band and is attempting to dicker with them about the evening's entertainment. Definite announcement of the orchestra is to be made Thursday morning thru the Daily Nebraskan.

Greth Dunn, senior in the college has been selected to act as master of ceremonies for the Friday evening's fun frolic. He replaces Ralph Canada, the earlier selection. Dunn is the "Ray Ramsey" on the Ag campus.

Ticket sales which started officially Tuesday were going over good, Elmer Parli, chairman of the committee in charge, said Tuesday evening. The sales will continue up until Friday noon, unless the seating capacity of the student activities building is sold out before that time.

Dress rehearsals for all acts are scheduled to be held both Wednesday and Thursday evening, it was announced also. It is important that those in all skits be present for the rehearsals, those in charge maintain. Since valuable cash prizes are being offered the winners, considerable rivalry has already developed on the campus over the different entrants.

GLEE CLUB WILL SING AT ST. PAUL CHURCH

Business Manager Young to Handle All Bookings for Organization.

With thirty-four voices, under the direction of Parvin Witte, the university glee club will sing Sunday evening, March 5, at St. Paul's Methodist church, business manager Lee Young, announced yesterday.

The Men's Glee club, which has made but few public appearances this year, is, according to Director Witte, one of the best with which he has been connected during the past several years. Bookings for the organization are now being handled thru Young who was appointed student manager by Witte and L. E. Gunderson. Formerly bookings were handled thru the Alumni association and the student activities office.

French Club Will Hear Review of French Book

The French club, a group of students interested in the French language, organized and directed by Prof. E. V. Telle, will meet Friday, Mar. 3, at 7:15 in Ellen Smith hall. A discussion of Daudt's celebrated book, "Tartarin de Tarascon," by Miss Clare Hallet will be the feature of the evening.

STUDENTS LIKE SYSTEM

Registrar States That Many Persons Have Called For Grades.

Students at the university have found the new method of distributing grades acceptable, if the number that have called at the registrar's office is any indication, according to Florence I. McGahey, registrar for the university.

With over half the grades called for the registrar said that the remainder will be kept on file until the first of May. Students who have left school the second semester will receive their grades by mail, if not called for by next week. The grade cards for the Ag campus will be placed on file in the Administration building after next Wednesday, according to Miss McGahey.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM TICKETS GO ON SALE THIS AFTERNOON

Lucile Reilly and Lloyd Loomis in Charge of Party Ducats.

Tickets for the 1933 Junior-Senior prom, to be held Friday night, March 10, in the Coliseum, will be placed on sale Wednesday afternoon for $1.50, according to an announcement by Lloyd Loomis and Lucile Reilly, committee in charge of tickets. Admission for spectators will be twenty-five cents.

Sale of tickets this year will be handled through a corps of salesmen selected from each fraternity house and from among barbs. In keeping with the idea that the prom is an upper class event, juniors have been selected to act as salesmen wherever possible. Salesmen will wear ribbons bearing the words "Junior-Senior Prom Ticket Salesman" to identify them to the student body.

The prom which closes the University of Nebraska formal season, will be an open affair which the public may attend.

Herbie Kay and his nationally famous orchestra are playing for the party. The committee feels very fortunate in being able to secure this orchestra and still offer tickets at the quoted price.

Chaperones and guest for the prom are now being chosen and will be announced this week end, according to Otto Kotouc and Margaret Buol, committee on chaperones.

Hunt Concludes Series Of Talks on Marriage

"We Become Parents" was the concluding topic of a series of talks by the Rev. Mr. Hunt on the general subject of Love and Marriage at the weekly vespers meeting yesterday. In answer to the question "How many children should parents have?" Mr. Hunt declared that they should have only as many as can be cared for educationally and physically.

Kosmet Tryouts Have Everything From Rumba Dancing to 'Tibbetts'

"Kosmet spring show tryouts, some of which were well worth admission charge, exhibited everything from rumba dancing men and snappy tap numbers to selections sung in Lawrence Tibbett style," stated Herbert Yenne, author and co-director of the next all male cast Kosmet show, "Bar Nothing Ranch."

He likened some of the groups of men organized in trios to barber shop trios. "Some sounded like professional trios while others sounded like groups of three men each singing a different song at the same time. Amusing but certainly not music. All in all the widest range of variation in the way of entertainment was offered by men for the show that has been offered for some time and much of it was real talent," added Yenne.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL PLAY CONTEST TONIGHT

Twenty-Five Dollars Will Be Awarded to Author of Winning Show.

Tonight at the Temple theater the Dramatic club will present its annual play contest, thus continuing one of its oldest traditions—that of presenting each year, plays produced by students of this school.

The three plays in order of their presentation are: "The Winning of Harry Jones" by Margaret Deming, a senior in the Arts and Sciences college and a member of Delta Delta Delta and Dorothy Cook, arts and sciences junior, also a member of Delta Delta Delta; "Kaddish" by W. Zolley Lerner, instructor in the dramatics department; and "Wise Guy" by Hal Easton, who was prior to his graduation two years ago prominent in the University Playgers. He is a member of Delta Sigma Lambda.

The contest is conducted every year and the best three of the plays plays submitted to the Dramatic club is selected by a committee of club members for the

COBS PLAN DINNER DANCE ON MARCH 24

Jungbluth's Orchestra to Play for Pep Group's Annual Party.

Members of Corn Cobs will honor their new initiates at an annual dinner dance at the Cornhusker hotel Friday, March 24, according to Lynn Leonard, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair and vice president of the organization.

Eddie Jungbluth and his orchestra will play during the dinner and for the party after the dinner. Last year the party was held at the Lincoln with Howie Christenson playing.

Spring initiation will be held on Wednesday, March 15. Each fraternity is required to initiate a man and five barbs will be initiated making a total of about forty. Those who were pledged last fall will be initiated and be actives for next year. This year's actives will drop out of the organization at the end of the year.

Failure to initiate a man will result in the fraternity being suspended from the organization, according to the constitution.

Chaperones for the party and further details are being arranged by the committee, which is composed of Lynn Leonard, chairman, Henry Kosman, Packy McFarland, Tom Davies and Harold Caster.

Spanish women offered a spectacle that was a rare treat," smiled Jack Thompson, president of the Kosmet Klub.

Doc Ireland, director of the show choruses, found that some of the men had difficulty in manipulating their "number tens." Some of these men trying out said that they discovered that watching a Spanish dancer throw her heels and then doing it themselves proved to be as different as black and white. One of the female spectators at the tryouts Sunday, assisted Ireland in helping those overly awkward aspirants practice Spanish numbers. Ireland discovered that many of the aspirants waltzed with their eyes half closed better than they could kick in the true snappy chorus routine style.
