At the meeting of the Nebraska Association of Architectural Engineers Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected: Henry Johnson, '33, Omaha, president; Kenneth Schmidt '33, Wahoo, vice president and Harold Bates, '33, Casper, Wyoming, secretary. The association, which has been recently recognized by the Student Council, was organized for the purpose of creating a spirit comradeship and to bring about the benefits of an organized group for its members.

BIZAD DEAN SPEAKS AT OPTIMISTS' CLUB

LeRossignol Uses Economic Question as Topic of Address.

J. E. LeRossignol, dean of the college of business administration, spoke Thursday noon at a luncheon of the Optimists' club at the Cornhusker. His subject "Economic Bunrum" included many of the theories and proposals dealing with economic questions which he considers unsound.

"Technocracy," he said, "is a piece of bunrum, since its principles are unsound economically." Also the idea that the introduction of labor saving machinery increases unemployment is incorrect. "True, it causes temporary unemployment, but in the long run it greatly increases employment" he pointed out. Labor saving machinery has not been the chief cause of any of the crises this country has gone thru," he added.

The proposal that prosperity will return with beer he termed as more bunrum. The more that is spent on beer, the less will be spent on boots and shoes, he stated.

"High wages will not promote prosperity. They are the result of prosperity, not the cause. The 'Buy American' campaign is another unsound theory, for, to buy American we must sell American and unless we consume foreign products we cannot continue foreign trade."

UNIVERSITIES USE KIRSCHMAN'S BOOK

Publishers Report Revised Edition Enjoying Good Sales.

The revised edition of Professor Kirschman's book "Principles of Investment" which recently came off the press, is selling good in many schools, according to word received by the author from the publishers. This new edition, Prof. Kirschman said has been adopted by about a dozen schools during the past month.

Among the schools where the book is now being used as a text in advanced economics classes are Yale and Duke Universities, Universities of Georgia and Mississippi, Hunter university, Texas A. & M., South Dakota university and Rhode Island Agricultural college.

In a review of the book published in the Boston Transcript the article said that the author had gone to great lengths to supply his readers with essential up to date information.

The old edition was first published in 1924 and had good sales in the leading schools, banks and business houses in the country. It was one of the early books of that title.

CREDIT BOOKS.

Students are requested to return their credit books to the registrar's office as soon as possible in order that the first semester grades may be entered.

PROFESSIONAL TO MAKE DECORATION PLANS FOR PARTY

John Gepson, Ruth Cherney Collaborate With Rex Werner.

Decorations for the Junior Senior Prom, to be held at the Coliseum, March 10, are to be entirely different from those used at former affairs, according to John Gepson and Ruth Cherney, committee in charge of decorations.

John Gepson and Ruth Cherney, who compose the decoration committee are working in collaboration with Rex Werner, a professional decorator from Nebraska City. Mr. Werner has had experience at decorating for university parties at Ohio State University, as well as numerous other Ohio schools. He has also worked at the Kansas City Art institute.

Having as its theme the spring motive, decorations will depart from the usual plans used in former years, and as a result the floor space for dancing will be cut down considerably.

The walls of the coliseum will be decorated with crepe paper in the form of lattice work of light spring colors. A striking innovation of this plan is the clever

COUNCIL MAKES FINAL PLANS FOR AG PARTY

All-University Affair to Be Held in Activities Building Saturday.

Final arrangements have been completed for the sixth all-university party of the year, to be held at the Activities building on the Ag college campus, Saturday, March 4, according to Jack Coupland, chairman of the Barb council, who is in charge of the affair.

Decorations for the event have been completed, and will be carried out in suitable colors. Chuck Ashlock and his orchestra have been secured for the party.

The feature of the evening will be the showering of balloons from the rafters to the floor. Prizes totaling fifteen dollars will be written on slips of paper found in balloons. There will be one prize of five dollars, five prizes of one dollar each, six awards of fifty cents each, and eight will contain twenty-five cent prizes.

In addition the orchestra has arranged for several novelties. The admission price will be forty cents for men, and twenty-five cents for women.

BOUWSMA TALKS TO GROUP

Professor Speaks on 'What Religion Means to Me' At Temple.

Dr. O. K. Bouwsma, professor in the department of philosophy, addressed the members of the university Y. M. C. A., upon the subject of "What Religion Means to Me," Wednesday evening at the Y rooms in the Temple.

Dr. Bouwsma is the second in a series of talks given by faculty members upon the subject of religion. Doctor Patterson was the first to speak.

Stressing the importance of religion in everyday life, Doctor Bouwsma said that religion should be the most important thing to each individual during his life.

Senator O'Furey Talks To Sociology Students

Senator O'Furey talked to the sociology majors at a luncheon at the Hotel Grand, Thursday noon. His talk pertained to the present sociological problems.

Miss Perkins' Selection To Cabinet Is Significant, Asserts Dr. Williams

"The selection of Miss Frances Perkins as secretary of labor in the new cabinet of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt is an especially significant achievement for women engaged in social welfare work," was the opinion of Dr. Hattie Williams, professor of sociology in the University.

Such was the comment of Dr. Williams upon hearing that President-elect Roosevelt had broken all precedents by selecting Miss Frances Perkins, New York commissioner of labor, as his secretary of labor. Miss Perkins is the first woman ever to be offered a post in the president's cabinet.

"I feel that the selection is especially desirable, not because she is a woman," she continued, "but because she is in every way qualified to fill the position in a competent manner."

Since Miss Perkins has had a broad academic background, as well as actual contact with social and economic conditions in her welfare work in New York she has

SCHULTE NOMINATES MEN TO COMPETE IN LAST DUAL CONTEST

Twenty-Six Will Participate In Track Meet With Kansas Aggies.

Twenty-six tracksters have been nominated by Coach Henry Schulte to carry the colors of the Scarlet and Cream in the concluding dual contest of their indoor track season with Kansas State college tomorrow. The meet will be staged on the indoor track beneath the east stadium and is scheduled to commence at 2:30.

Except for the fact that the Kansas Aggies will be missing Emmett Breen, their captain, both teams will have full strength, and it is expected that a number of fast times will be chalked up.

Kansas State defeated Missouri by a score of 64½ to 28½ in the only meet participated in thus far. However, according to the Aggie coach, Ward Haylett, this was not so much an indication of great strength on the part of the Wildcats as inexperience among the Tigers. Coach Haylett stated: "If at all possible we will try to make a better showing against the Huskers than Minnesota did."

Nebraska entries for Kansas State dual meet:

60 yard dash: Lambertus, Lee, and Lambertus.
60 yard high hurdles: Lambertus, Dolman and Meier.
60 yard low hurdles: Lambertus, Dolman and Meier.
440 yard dash: Roberts, McDonald, Smith, and McLaughlin.
880 yard run: Funk, Anderson, Storey, and Ayres.
Mile run: Funk, Storey, and Ayres.
Two mile: Blaser, Ayres, and Hoffman.
Pole vault: Roby and Skewes.
High jump: Toman, Gray, Lee, and Eschbatt.
Broad jump: Gray, Lee, Roby, and Werner.
Shot put: Mead, Hubka, and Reissner.

TAYLOR WILL HEAD GROUP OF PLEDGES

Class of Future Members In Military Society Elect Officers.

Dale Taylor, Fargo, N. D., junior in the college of business administration, was elected president of the pledge class of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity for students in the advanced course in military science, at a meeting of the organization last night.

Other officers elected by the group are: J. Allan Davis, Omaha, junior in the college of arts and sciences, vice president; and Louis Zinnecker, Lincoln, junior in the college of business administration, secretary.

Instructions concerning pledge duties and activities in the organization were given to the pledges by Charles Husband, captain of the local company of the organization. He also urged all members of the group to push ticket sales for the Officer's Hop, which is scheduled for Saturday evening at the Cornhusker hotel.

a more complete understanding of the underlying social conditions which are facing the country at this time; a thing which former secretaries have lacked, according to Dr. Williams.

Beginning her social work, following her graduation from Columbia university, in New York City, her remarkable successes were rewarded by former Governor Al Smith, who appointed her to the state labor commission, the position she held until selected by Mr. Roosevelt.

"Miss Perkins' appointment also marks the entrance of the specialist in government, and is certainly encouraging to the schools and the colleges over the country who yearly graduate many students, whose direct interest is in social work and conditions," she said.

Interesting is the fact that two former students of the University of Nebraska will be associated with Miss Perkins in her position as secretary of labor. Ruth Shall
