SKADE ANNOUNCES ADDITIONAL PRIZES

Every Student Selling Ten Yearbooks Will Be Given One.

Additional prizes to that of a trip to the 1933 World's Fair in Chicago, will be awarded salesmen during the final sales drive of the 1933 Cornhusker, according to an announcement made Thursday afternoon by Charles Skade, business manager.

Because the trip to Chicago, including transportation over the Burlington's Ak-Sar-Ben and a five days' stay at the Morrison hotel, can be won by but one salesman it has been decided to award a Cornhusker to each salesman who sells at least ten yearbooks.

Skade stated that there is still time to enter the contest and win a yearbook or a grand prize. Students desiring to do so are asked to report to a member of the business staff at the Cornhusker office.

The 1933 Cornhusker will maintain the same high quality of previous years, and will have a heavier cover and binding than that of former years. The cover will be of read heavy grained leather, as selected by student vote in the recent cover contest. It was designated as No. 2.

Students are again warned that this will be the last opportunity to purchase the 1933 yearbook, and are urged to see a salesman before the close of the drive next week. Skade said. The book is available at a cash price of $4.50, or in installments of $2 down, $1 on April 1st, and the balance of $1.75 on delivery of the book.
