

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL STEALS GAME FROM NELIGH BASKETEERS

Hastings Runs Up Startling Score Against Chadron Tossers Thursday.

In the first round of the twenty-third annual Nebraska high school basketball championships, Lincoln high stole the show with an impressive 56 to 21 triumph over Neligh in the final game on Thursday's card by scoring this victory the Ballermen established themselves as the outstanding favorites to cop the title.

The most startling score of the day was run up by Hastings, when the Thomas team shut out the Chadron tossers by a 36 to 0 count. In the first two tilts of the day the identical score was chalked by Columbus trimming Ord 32 to 9, and then Falls City winning from Bayard by the same margin.

Fremont walloped the Curtis Aggies 23 to 19 in one of the closest mixes of the day, and the defending champs, Crete, came through with a 34 to 8 win over Ainsworth.

Coach Ben Kellner's Seward tossers came through as expected and trimmed North Platte, 32 to 19, and in the other game of Class A Kearney eked out a close 23 to 21 decision over the fan's favorite, Pilger.

Following the first round skirmishes the fives remaining in the competition all hail from the southeast quarter of the state, the western and northern teams all meeting with defeat.

By virtue of their impressive wins Columbus and Crete stood as favorites in the upper bracket, and in the lower group Hastings and Lincoln appears to be the best, with the home boys looking the best of the remaining eight quintets.

Pairings for the second round are as follows:
Columbus vs Falls City . . . 11:30
Fremont vs Crete . . . 12:30
Seward vs Hastings . . . 1:30
Kearney vs Lincoln . . . 2:30
With the above quarterfinal games being played in the afternoon the semifinals are set for the evening hours, the first game coming at 8:00 o'clock. The finals are to be played Saturday night at 9 o'clock.

TRACKSTERS PREPARE FOR OUTDOOR SEASON

Coach Schulte Has Capable Performers in Almost Every Event.

Having laid off track duties for two weeks following their tie for the Big Six indoor championship with Oklahoma, the Husker tracksters are now back on the cinders training intensively for the outdoor season. With Oklahoma favored along with Nebraska to cop the outdoor laurels here on May 5, it seems that the Sooners will be a marked team in the eyes of Coach Schulte.

A well-balanced team is on hand to defend the outdoor title won last spring, with capable performers in virtually every event. Preceding the conference meet are the Drake relays, Kansas relays, and the dual meet with Minnesota, the last here on May 11. The Kansas affair is at Lawrence on April 22 and the Drake meet is scheduled for May 29 at Des Moines.

Heye Lambertus and Jerry Lee are the leaders among the sprinters on the squad, and great things are expected of both. Lambertus has established a place for himself at the top of the list of Big Six dash men, and Lee always runs him a close race.

In the hurdle events Lambertus is considered one of the best in the country and is given at least an even chance to set up a new world's record in the 220 yard low stick event. Dohrman took second place in the 30 yard high hurdle race at the Big Six indoor meet, and is being banked on for some points.

Howard Roberts seems to be the leader among the 440 yard dash aspirants, and has turned in some good times on the indoor path. A new man coming up fast is Harry Kaufmann, sophomore, who turned in the time of 54.3 on the indoor cinders Wednesday, and outdoors he is expected to cut off considerable time from that mark. The 440 was one of the few events in which Nebraska failed to garner points down at Columbia.

Glenn Funk, sophomore from David City, and Jim Storey, veteran from Oklahoma City, appear to be the leaders among the half-milers, and both have turned in times of a bit over 2 minutes. Roberts also runs the half mile and gives either of the other two men a good race.

The best performers in the mile and two mile are Jim Storey and Roy Blazer, both of whom are veteran cross-country men. Storey copped third place in both races at Columbia in the indoor mix, while last spring Blazer won the two mile event in the conference meet on the outdoor cinders here.

Washington Student Body Approves Athletic Head

SEATTLE, (CNS). Appointment of an athletic director at the University of Washington was assured this week, following approval by the student body of a constitutional amendment providing for the position. While he would be directly in charge of athletic affairs, the director also would supervise the student body's finances.

Fourteen New York City College students, who were suspended for more than a month for taking part in a mock trial of President Frederick B. Robinson, were back in classes this week. Norman Schrank, senior, who has completed all of his undergraduate work, has been refused a degree, however, for taking part in the trial, during which Dr. Robinson was charged with being a reactionary.

SPRING FOOTBALLERS SCRIMMAGE OUTDOORS THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Few Men in Togs Results In Most Unsuccessful Practice of Season.

Getting his footballers outdoors for the first time this week, Coach Bible ran the spring football candidates thru an hour and a half of dummy scrimmage Thursday afternoon. The customary chalk talk was not held.

With only about 30 of the 65 men out in togs, the drill was about as unsuccessful as any outside so far in the four weeks practice period. Various lineups were tried, but fumbling and mistakes were frequent.

At present the coaching staff is finding greatest difficulty in locating a tackle who can take the place left vacant by Corwin Hulbert, all-conference tackle last fall. Forrest McPherson and John Thompson look like the most likely men for this job, but neither one of them possesses the desired speed. Thursday afternoon McPherson was tried at the post, and was looking fairly good. Thompson has been working at the position for the past few days, but his lack of speed is against him. McPherson won a varsity letter two years ago at this line job, while Thompson is a former freshman griddler.

Things seem to be fairly well cleared up at the end spots, for a wealth of material is on hand. Before spring practice started it was said to be one of the difficulties for the coaches, the problem of locating an end to take Steve Hokuf's place. Present starting wingmen are Lee Penney, first team man last fall, and Bruce Kilbourne, who was regular end two years ago, when Hokuf was not in competition.

The first string was composed Thursday of Penney and Kilbourne at ends; McPherson and O'Brien, tackles; Clair Bishop, and Warren DeBus, guards; Ken White, quarterback; Ralph Eldridge and Jack Miller, halfbacks; and Johnny Williams, fullback.

COLUMBIA SPECTATOR SURVIVES 'SPANKING'

Investigating Committee Fails Adopt Plans for Revision.

NEW YORK, (CNS). In the language of the New York metropolitan press, the Columbia Daily Spectator at Columbia university this week was "spanked but not obliterated."

On recommendation of a special investigating committee, the paper changed the designation in its masthead to read, "The official newspaper of the students at Columbia college," rather than "of Columbia university," as it had formerly appeared. The college is one of the principal undergraduate schools of the university.

Spectator also accepted other minor recommendations of the committee, which, however, did not accept the proposal of Dean Carl W. Ackerman of the Columbia school of journalism that a professional newspaper under the jurisdiction of the Journalism faculty be substituted for Spectator.

While the committee found Spectator's attitude to be "courageous, liberal and intelligent in its tendencies" the report added that "it has often been mistaken, intolerant and ill informed in its expression."

In England, according to the Daily Cardinal, there is a college with a faculty of forty, and a student enrollment of eighteen.

TEMPLE ECHOES WITH PROTESTS

gether at the urgent request of several campus organizations, clearly reflected student opinion on the university campus. Immediately following the appearance of the speakers upon the platform the hall was submerged in the din of enthusiastic applause.

"Called together for the purpose of crystallizing student sentiment against the legislative slash of university funds, this meeting has that as its only purpose," declared Jack Thompson, president of Innocents Society, who presided over the meeting.

Students Show Dignity.

Stating that it was the dignified spirit and conduct of the student body in defending its worthy cause of scholastic hunger, Lawrence launched forth upon an inspiring and forceful talk, which inspired crowded hall of university students.

"I beg of you to respect these men who are sent down here for the purpose of performing a specific function—and a serious one. They are serious in their work and are attempting to carry out the will of the people in the way they best know how, continued the speaker.

Legislators are Victims.

Explaining that during this period of depression economies were necessary—to a degree, Mr. Lawrence stated that the present legislature has been the victim of a movement over the past four years. A movement that has made education and colleges its target of destruction.

"It should be significant that the university was the first spending agency in the state to voluntarily take a salary reduction, a thing which the legislature must have overlooked," the speaker stated emphatically. There was much applause.

Praises Governor Bryan.

Praising Governor Bryan for his budget recommendations for the university, and explaining that the regents had peacefully accepted his recommendations and were attempting to adjust themselves, Mr. Lawrence flayed the legislators for their unscrupulous additional cuts, which threaten the life of the institution.

"In the rash sentiment of the moment, the legislature is tearing down what it has taken years of toil, suffering and pride to build up.

The legislators forget that the young men and women who attend this institution will be the future builders of the state. They forget that it is here they form their opinions which are carried with them through life. That is why, my friends, this great injustice should not be committed."

Saying that in the state house many legislators have wanted the students who were "too good" to attend eastern schools was a destructive doctrine to the welfare of the state, the speaker roused the tense audience into a voluntary burst of applause.

"The dark days are over, and that is why we should and must protest this action. Give this noble institution air, give it freedom!" exclaimed Mr. Lawrence in concluding the talk.

The meeting was the climax of growing student and faculty sentiment regarding the recent special legislative committee's report of several days ago. Acting in the true spirit of their institution the students conducted a spirited but orderly meeting that was sprinkled with the youthful enthusiasm for the cause of "scholastic hunger."

PASTOR CONDUCTS LENTEN SERVICES

Rev. Johnston to Speak On 'What Is a Cross' March 21.

Rev. Paul Johnston, pastor of Westminster church, conducted the third of the Lenten services at vespers Tuesday, March 21. His topic was "What Is a Cross?"

Rev. Mr. Johnston accepted the invitation of the vesper staff to hold a series of four services during Lent. The last of the group will be given Tuesday, March 28.

The fifth of the Lenten meetings will be held at the University church. Both members of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. will take part in the service. The sixth meeting will be a recital given by the vesper choir under the direction of Marion Stamp. Songs appropriate for Easter will be featured.

Thirteen freshmen at the Stanford university face expulsion for entering a women's dormitory after a rally. For sixty years it has been a tradition of men students to attempt this, and for the first time it was successful.

PARENTS... seldom complain about this

Most pleasure costs money. Some pleasures cost so far out of proportion to their worth, it's no wonder Dads and Mothers sometimes say "go easy" to sons and daughters away at school.

But at last there's a brand of fun that doesn't cost much and about which parents won't complain because it's a pleasure they share too. We refer to the popular custom of telephoning home regularly.

Just give the operator your home number and say... "I want to reverse the charge" and let Dad take care of the rest!
