GREEKS MUST FILE FOR INTER-GROUP SING BY APRIL 10

Sororities Need Not Sing Original Melodies as in Former Years.

Greek women's clubs planning to enter the inter-sorority sing scheduled for Ivy day, May 4, must have application blanks in the hands of Miss Janet Winters, office of the dean of women, by April 10. This announcement was made by Lucille Reilly Saturday afternoon.

Rules for the sing are the same as in previous years with the exception that groups may use chapter songs while in the past, regulations have required that the melodies be original. Each sorority will be allowed to sing two songs.

President Appoints Committee. Jane Axtell, president of A. W. S. board, appointed Margaret Buol and Lucille Reilly to be in charge of all arrangements for the sing. This committee has mailed letters containing rules for the contest to possible entries. It is hoped, according to members of the committee, that all sororities will take part.

A silver cup will be awarded the group winning first place. Last year Gamma Phi Beta captured first place while in 1931 the honor went to Delta Delta Delta. The award will be made following the Ivy day oration.

Sing Begins at 1 O'clock. The sing will begin promptly at 1 o'clock. The sororities will sing in alphabetical order and any group not appearing when its name is called will forfeit the right to enter the contest. Judges will be allowed to ask any one or several groups to return and sing one song in case they have difficulty in deciding.

Sorority alumnae will not be allowed to take part in the competition whether it be vocal or instrumental. Each group may have an accompanist or director, or both, provided the positions are filled by members of the active chapter.

WHY AN HONORS CONVOCATION

By Dean T. J. Thompson.

The admonition to youth "to get knowledge," "to get wisdom," "to get understanding" is as old as history itself. It was Cicero, I believe, who said that once physical needs are cared for, man naturally desires to see, to hear, and to learn. It is this natural instinct to learn that has characterized mankind throughout history. Every educational institution, both ancient and modern, has been built in response to this instinct.

The University of Nebraska has its part to play in satisfying this desire for knowledge. To this end it seems to me that the development in the student of serious intellectual habits is the chief function of a college education. While there are individual differences among students as to their mental strengths, the intellectual habits and enlightenment that a student acquires are in general largely dependent upon his own efforts.

We at the University of Nebraska would like to make it a popular thing for students to vie with each other for intellectual excellence. That is why we urge our students to become acquainted with books, with the scholars who compose our faculty, and with life itself. That is why we urge the students to attend the address tomorrow morning by Dr. Frederick M. Hunter on the subject "The University and Social Change" an address which should stimulate our imaginations, challenge our thinking, and inspire us to new intellectual pursuits. That is why we have an Honors Convocation.

Classes are dismissed from 10 to 12 o'clock, and all offices, libraries, and laboratories will be closed during the Convocation.

Godtel, who has been in the employ of the J. I. Case Co., since graduation, most of the time in South America, recently returned from Argentina to complete plans for production of implements which he has helped develop to meet the conditions and needs of that country.

RIFLE CLUB DOUBTS ALL NATIONS SHARE U. S. PACIFIST AIM

National Headquarters of Organization Publishes Statement.

Asserting that there is a great amount of popular misconception pervading the country with regard to the student attitude toward pacifism, the national headquarters of Pershing Rifles Friday issued a statement of position to be taken by the organization toward recent pacifist movements.

The statement, maintaining that the true attitude of the student is that he realizes the necessity for the practice of preparedness as long as the fit outlive the unfit, declares that American disarmament will not be met with similar pacifist action on the part of the other world powers.

Lists Opposition. The organization in its statement expresses its opposition to the following:

1. Boycott of any nation, race, or creed, by any other.
2. Signing treaties or alliances depending upon the territorial integrity of any other nation.
3. The constant reiteration of not wanting to fight, because it only causes aggressive feeling in other nations.
4. Disarmament of the United States and abolition of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in universities.
5. The issuance of any literature which causes the misunderstanding of the true attitude of the college students of the United States.

ARMSTRONG SCORES 'REDS' AT UNIVERSITY

State Commander American Legion Says Communists At Work in Schools.

Declaring that many students and faculty members of the university were "reds" and were attempting to organize societies, Robert M. Armstrong, state commander of the American Legion, denounced the communistic efforts now taking place at Nebraska in an address before the Kiwanis club in Omaha, Friday noon.

"Communists are engaged in concentrated efforts to gain adherents among college undergraduates, and their work is being aided in some instances by international faculty professors," charged Commander Armstrong.

These activities, said Armstrong, are sufficiently menacing to American institutions and American educational ideals to warrant more than the casual attention of the board of regents and other college authorities.

At least one student agitator at the University of Nebraska has been quoted as boasting that "all his expenses are paid direct from Moscow," Armstrong said.

"The movement has been defended and has received protection on the ground that the principle of freedom of thought is involved. There can be no objection to discussion of communism by faculties and students, but teaching it or preaching it is something else," declared Armstrong.

The commander also pointed out that a group of communistically inclined students holds regular meetings on the campus.

Concerning the recent protests against compulsory military training in various parts of the country, Armstrong charged that "the agitation against military training in colleges and high schools is a part of the general communistic program of agitation. This agitation and the frequent over stressing of internationalism should receive careful attention."
