

TODAY ENDS SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE FOR HUSKER GRIDMEN

Plays to Receive Brushing Up in Final Scrimmage This Afternoon.

Tuesday afternoon is the final day of practice for the Nebraska spring football candidates. With the last scrimmage having been held last Saturday afternoon, Monday and Tuesday are days during which plays are receiving their last brushing up.

Saturday saw the Whites push the Reds all over the field and gain a 22 to 0 victory in a 32 minute game. The showing made by the players in the game was very encouraging to the coaching staff, and all around improvement was shown over previous performances by the whole squad. The Red eleven won the first game by a 6 to 0 score, with Ralph Eldridge scoring a touchdown in the last few minutes of play, and then in the second contest the Whites came back and downed the Red outfit by the same score. Glenn Skewes smashed the line for a last quarter tally in the second tilt.

Whites Outstanding.

The White jerseyed crew which has performed in these three mixes is the eleven which will probably be rated as the first team next fall, while a number of strong understudies are included in the other lineup.

During spring drill Head Coach Bible has been tutoring the backs, Coach Schulte has had charge of the linemen and Coach Browne has instructed the ends. A world of strength was shown in all three of these positions in the finale, and veterans will be back next autumn at every one of these spots.

Backfield Versatile.

The White backfield is as versatile a one as has appeared at Nebraska for several years, and the line presented a stone wall for the Reds to assault. Bruce Kilbourne and Lee Penney are a pair of fast ends, who play fine defensive games, and get down under punts in a hurry. The tackle candidates are about as heavy as any who have played for Nebraska for several years. Gail O'Brien, who packs 220 pounds of beef, is a veteran of two campaigns, and next fall should be one of the best tackles in the region. Russell Thompson, who will be a sophomore, looks like a regular player at the other tackle job. He weighs 224, is 6 feet 4, and almost impossible to take out. Forrest McPherson, Walter Plum, and Jim McFarland are three other very likely starters, the first two being lettermen, and the latter a last year's freshman player.

DeBus and Bishop Guards.

Warren DeBus and Clair Bishop seem to have things sewed up at guards, and each will be playing his third year at his post. They are comparatively light as guards go, weighing about 176 and 165 respectively, but they are fast and aggressive. Neal Mehring and Elmer Hubka appear to be next choices, and Jim Heldt and Bill Garnick are likely first year men.

Franklin Meier has the center job almost cinched, passing the ball back as well as the best of them. Dick Smith and Bill Horchman have been seeing quite a bit of action at the pivot post, and the former is one of the best punters on the roster.

Backfield Efficient.

The first team backfield which has been playing for the Whites is made up of Bernie Masterson, quarterback; Hub Boswell and Jack Miller, halfbacks; and George Sauer, fullback. All of these men carry the ball in efficient fashion, Masterson does the place-kicking, and Sauer does the punting and passing, thus rating as a triple-threatener.

Henry Bauer, Jerry LaNoue, and Ken White rank as other promising signal-callers. Bauer played as regular at this position in 1931, but has been out of spring practice with a sore shoulder. LaNoue is the fastest man on the squad, and played at this post for the freshman eleven last fall. Ken White has been calling signals for the Reds during spring drill.

Besides the above-named halves Ralph Eldridge, Fred Overstreet, Bud Parsons, Jack Thomas, Bob Benson, and Chet Beaver are likely performers.

Johnny Williams has stood out as a fullback during spring drill, and should be here right behind Sauer next fall. Two other fullbacks are Glenn Skewes and Everett Mead, both of whom have played considerably in spring session.

HORSE SHOW AND RIDING CONTEST TO FEATURE FAIR

Inter-Sorority Event Will Be Held at Annual Affair.

At home, spring vacation, varsity coeds will be practicing their horsemanship on the old family saddle horse, form Farmer's Fair board has announced that a Horse Show and Inter-Sorority Riding contest will be one of the big features of the fair this year. Saturday, May 6, Farmer's Fair day, the horsewomen on the campus will be demonstrating their ability in the saddle.

This contest was one of the events put on at the fair last year. This year more time and attention will be given to it. The winner receives the Faulkner cup which they keep in their possession for one year. Last year the cup was won by Zua Warner.

The entrance fee will be one dollar this year. There will be no limitations in the number of riders from each house unless the number exceeds twenty-five. If it does exceed twenty-five the number will be limited to three girls from each sorority. The chairman of the horse show committee, Bill Ralston, requests that the applications for the ride be in before April 20. The applications can be made by calling him at the Alpha Gamma Rho house.

Beside the Inter-Sorority Riding contest there will be a polo game held in connection with the Horse Show. This polo game will be a rather unusual event. Mules will be used instead of polo ponies. Broomsticks and a large beach ball will replace the mallets and the small polo ball. The names of the players will remain a mystery.

Ag Vesper Choir Will Feature Service Today

The Ag campus vesper choir will be featured at the Ag vespers today. The meeting will be held in the Home Economics parlors at 12:20 o'clock. The choir will sing special music appropriate for Easter.

The man who is superior to his clothing usually wears mighty poor clothes.

"Time is money," so says the proverb, yet lots of fools throw away money in order to kill time.

WATER PAGEANT TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Committee Arranges for Special Music and Dancing.

The water pageant "Mr. Bullfrog" will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock in the coliseum pool by members of the Tanksterettes, women's swimming club, and the men's swimming club.

The university pool will be changed to represent an old swimming hole located in the midst of the woods. It is called the Frog Pond. Mr. Bullfrog is the ruler. Nymphs, frogs, mermaids and fisherboys play prominent parts in the pageant.

Special dancing and music has been arranged. Diving will be featured. Several comedy skits are included on the program. The lighting effects have been especially worked out for the pageant.

Rudolph Vogler, men's swimming instructor, is the chairman representing the men's swimming club. Josephine Orr, physical education instructor and sponsor of the Tanksterettes, is acting chairman for the Tanksterettes.

Alice Brown and Bob Lackey compose the business staff. Jean Levy and Maxine Packwood are in charge of the advertising. Dorothy Whitney, Irene Melity and Don Easterday made the arrangements for rehearsals. The stage settings have been planned by Adela Tombrink and Hal Gish. Thelma Sterkel, Viola Vail and Helen Ledford have charge of the costumes. Marvin Witte planned the special music. The cast will consist of fifteen Tanksterettes and twenty members of the men's swimming club.

Tickets are 25c and may be purchased from any intramural representative at the organized houses, members of the men's swimming club, representatives of the men's intramurals and members of Tanksterettes.

LAWYER MAKES COMPLAINT

Needham Says Publication At Brown University Has 'Communist Plot.'

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (CNS.) Demands for a federal investigation of the "war against war" being conducted by the Brown university Daily Herald this week was demanded by William A. Needham, local attorney, who charged that the student paper's campaign was a "communist plot."

He made his charge before United States Attorney Boss, who said he would "look into the matter."

Following the pledge of 164 Brown students to refuse to bear arms "except in case of invasion of the mainland of the United States," the Daily Herald announced it would sponsor petitions containing this pledge, to be signed by other students throughout the country.

CONFERENCE CATCHES

BY BURT MARVIN.

Lawrence Ely has considered several professional football offers and has finally signed up with the Boston Braves for next fall's schedule. From what one hears of the big time football it seems that its a great game if you don't weaken. And it seems that it would be darned easy to weaken if one of those tough boys made at one lugging a ball. All in all, a person would surmise that in the big league football circles the he-men roam.

However, Ely should be able to take care of himself next fall, for he is big, rugged and agile, and he can take it and give it in good quantities. As center here at Nebraska he was named All-America by a majority of the pickers of these teams. Many writers lauded him as the greatest pivot man performing on college gridirons in several years.

Nebraska footballers who have gone on to the pro game following their play here include Glenn Presnell, Verne Lewellen, Ray Richards, Ed Weir, Clair Sloan and many others. All of these men have made good in a big way, and Richards is performing as a wrestler when he isn't playing the grid game. Fans in Lincoln often get a chance to hear him growl and grimace at the fair grounds.

It is Kansas University, I believe, which prides itself in the fact that no Kansans have ever gone to play professional football. Some people believe that Kansas players don't wait until they get out of school to play the pro game. Most of us remember back in 1930 when Jim Bausch was on the carpet, because it was rumored he was not a "simon pure."

Ed Weir, who is now on the Husker coaching staff, says that there are several safety men in professional football to whom no punters dare kick. The reason is that they are virtually cinches to score every time, so the punter kicks outside.

INTERFRAT CONTEST WILL CONTINUE SOON

Semifinals of Horseshoe Tournery Will Be Held After Vacation.

The semifinals in the Interfraternity horseshoe tournament are to be played after the spring vacation between the winners of the different leagues.

The Delta Sigma Phi's will play the Phi Kappa's while the Sigma Phi Epsilon's will contest the Farm House in the semifinal matches. The winners of these two contests will play each other in the finals for the championship.

League I was won by the Delta Sigma Phi's, and the Phi Kappa's won league II. Leagues III and IV were won by the Sigma Phi Epsilon's and the Farm House, respectively.

ELY SIGNS CONTRACT WITH BOSTON BRAVES

Husker Center to Report For Practice on Sept. 1.

Lawrence Ely, Nebraska's All-American center and football letterman of three seasons, has signed a contract for professional football next fall with the Boston Braves in the National league, he announced Monday. Ely returned the contract offered him, Sunday, and is to report for practice Sept. 1 to the Brave's training camp at an Indiana summer resort.

According to Ely the contract is binding upon him only as far as his playing football next fall is concerned. Should he desire to continue his studies in the law college here he will be free to do so. He said he would rather not comment on the salary arrangement.

The Boston team finished fourth last fall in the league which contains teams representing New York, Philadelphia, Newark, Pittsburgh and several other eastern cities.

Other outstanding members of the Brave aggregation include three other former all-Americans; MacMurdo, Pittsburgh, all-American in 1930; Edwards, member of the mythical eleven from Washington State in 1930, and Pinckert, Southern California halfback and all-American in both 1930 and 1931. Other stars in the lineup are Musick, Southern California; Shaloch, California university, shing light of the East-West game last fall, and Morgan, Oregon university and All-Pacific coast tackle.
