WORLD LOSING FAITH IN LIBERALISM, SAYS FERDINAND SCHEVILL

Talk at Convocation Opens Annual Convention of History Teachers.

Pointing to the remarkable rise of European dictatorships since the war, Dr. Ferdinand Schevill expressed the belief that the world was losing faith in liberalism, in his address before an all university convocation at the Temple theater Friday, which officially opened the twenty-first annual convention of the Nebraska History Teachers association.

In his talk, "Mussolini and Fascism," the speaker declared that the peace signed after the world war was only a mask behind which the war has been continuing for the past fifteen years. Referring to the disputes over reparations, debts, boundaries and disarmament, he said that the nations must come to an agreement if they expect to end the depression.

"In meeting the crises dictatorships have risen to power," declared Dr. Schevill in pointing out the example of Italy and Germany. Spirit Reflected Here.

"The spirit is even being reflected in our own lands," he explained, "for since the fourth of March we have seen a great governmental change. Congress has given extraordinary dictatorial powers to President Roosevelt."

Dr. Schevill criticized the nations of the world for their "Chinese-like" tariff barriers, stating that it was only drying up the natural flow of trade between countries.

"As Mr. MacDonald said in Washington the other day, it is the nations last chance to do something about these perplexing problems. Unless an agreement is reached, the question of fascism and dictatorships of a like nature will become pressing."

Oldfather Presides.
Dr. C. H. Oldfather, dean of the college of arts and sciences, presided at the convocation, and introduced the speaker. The Chicago educator, who is an intense student of European history, addressed a meeting of the Lincoln (Continued on Page 3.)

TWELVE GROUPS ENTER INTERFRATERNITY SING

Deadline for Entrance to Annual Affair Is Tuesday.

Twelve fraternities have sent in applications for participation in the Ivy day interfraternity sing on May 4, according to the latest reports received from Charles McCurt, in charge of the sing.

Several fraternities are undecided as yet, however, and it is believed that the number of entrants will increase before the day of the sing. The deadline for entrance is Tuesday, May 2, and fraternities that expect to enter must make application before that time.

A new trophy has been presented to the Kosmet Klub by Ben Simon and Sons to replace the one which was won permanently by Beta Theta Pi.

The fraternities which are now entered in the sing are: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Farm House, Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Upsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa and Chi Phi.

Pershing Rifles Will

A tryout for Pershing Rifles, basic military society, will be held Tuesday, May 2, at 5 o'clock in Nebraska hall.

PAINTINGS ARE DISPLAYED

School of Fine Arts Will Hold Program for Sunday, May 7.

Eighty-four watercolor paintings by prominent artists in various countries are now on display in Morrill hall gallery A, announced Prof. Dwight Kirsch, of the university school of fine arts. The collection was assembled by the College Art association and is circulated as "The Exhibition of International Watercolors." According to Kirsch, the exhibition is representative of the modern trend in water color painting. The program for Sunday, May 7, the day on which the exhibition closes.

A.W.S. GROUP LISTS BOARD APPOINTMENTS

Margaret Buol Has Charge Of Conferring New Positions.

At the A. W. S. installation held Tuesday, April 28, the appointments for board members were allotted. Jane Axtell, retiring president, and Margaret Buol, newly-elected president, had charge of conferring the positions.

Among the senior members of the board are Willa Norris, who has charge of date slips; Lucille Reilly, chairman of the co-ed follies; Lucille Hitchcock, sponsor of freshman activities; and Jane Boos is to be the new reporter and will also have charge of the Girl's Cornhusker party.

Junior members and their appointments are Marian Smith, vocational guidance; Bash Perkins, stamp sale; and Roma De Brown, office and room.

The sophomore members are Ann Pickett who will take charge of the point system; Madeline Raymond, chairman of the all activities tea and Alaire Barkes, social chairman.

These appointments are made for the entire year and cover some of the major activities on the campus.

MAY ISSUE OF LAW BULLETIN PUBLISHED

Dean Foster Writes for University Section of Journal.

Prof. Lester E. Orfield of the college of law and editor of the Nebraska Law Bulletin, official journal of the Nebraska State Bar association and the university college of law, announces the publication of the May issue of that journal.

Dean H. H. Foster of the college of law is the author of the leading article in the university section, which is entitled, "Nebraska Law of Adverse Possession." The leading article in the bar association section are "The Lawyer's Duty to the Public," by Will Shafroth, a prominent Denver, Colo., lawyer; and "When is Congressional Legislation in Violation of the Tenth Amendment?" the prize-winning essay in the 1932 bar association contest, written by Thelma G. Beedle of Peru State Teachers college.

RECEIVE NEW SPECIMENTS

Two Elephants Are Sent to Dr. E. H. Barbour of State Museum.

The Nebraska state museum has just received two new elephants, according to Dr. E. H. Barbour, director. The first is a shovel tusked with a very long jaw and was found in Garden county near Lewellen by Oran Glary. The other is a Stego-mastodon merrificus, also found near Lewellen. The latter was found and collected by Howard Pickard, of Lewellen. These specimens were procured for the university by Thompson Stout, '35, a museum assistant in paleontological work.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR IVY DAY COMPLETED BY MORTAR BOARDS

Committee Makes Plans for Annual Initiation Banquet.

Final arrangements have been made for the presentation of the May Queen and her attendants on May 4, by members of the Mortar Board society, senior women's honorary group, according to an announcement released yesterday by Miss Jane Axtell, in charge of arrangements.

Members of the society in charge of the several functions it performs on Ivy Day were also released by Margaret Upson, president of the organization, and includes: Eleanor Dixon, ivy and daisy chains; Delores Deadman and Margaret Upson, costumes for the May Queen attendants; Helen Baldwin, intersorority sing and Ivy Day poem contest; Gertrude Clarke, publicity.

Arrangements for the usual Mortar Board initiation banquet are being completed by a committee headed by Lucille Hitchcock. Margaret Upson is in charge of the masquing of the new members. Mrs. F. D. Coleman, president of the national organization of Mortar Board has been secured to speak briefly before the masquing.

ELECTRICAL STUDENTS TO ERECT STRUCTURE FOR ENGINEERS' WEEK

Jesse Cecil Is in Charge Of Work for Annual Affair.

Students in the electrical department of the Engineering college will erect the campus structure for Engineers' week according to George Swatek, general chairman for the affair. Jesse Cecil will be in charge of the work on the structure which consists of a photo-electric device for separating white from black balls and a novel three-way sign.

In using the photo-electric device, balls roll down a chute and pass under an intense light. A photo-electric cell is located near the light. These cells are sensitive to light and act like "electric eyes." When a white ball passes thru, sufficient light is reflected on the cell to operate it and cause the current to flow. This current is then amplified and made more positive in its action by means of amplifier tube and a thyrotron tube.

Current Operates Plunger.
This amplified current is then fed into a solenoid which operates a plunger and pushes the white balls off into another chute. Black balls do not reflect enough light (Continued on Page 3.)

GEN. J. J. PERSHING REVIEWS REGIMENT

Pathe News Photographer Takes Pictures of Parade.

Gen. John J. Pershing reviewed the regimental parade which was held Thursday afternoon by the university R. O. T. C. unit in his honor.

General Pershing was formerly commandant of the Nebraska unit and is the founder of the Pershing Rifles, national honorary basic military organization. It was with great pride that the general reviewed the regiment, for he is a former resident of Lincoln, and all that relates to the school is close to him.

A photographer of the Pathe News was at the parade to catch pictures of the general and the unit which he was reviewing.

INTERSORORITY SING JUDGES ANNOUNCED

Fourteen Group to Compete In Annual Contest Ivy Day.

Judges for the intersorority sing contests on Ivy day are: Oscar Bennett, music supervisor of Wesleyan university; Alma Wagner, voice instructor at the university; and Homer Compton, also voice instructor at this school. This announcement was released Saturday afternoon by Lucille Reilly who is handling publicity for the sing.

A further announcement indicated that the fourteen groups entering competition would be judged on basis of the following points: tone quality, 25; phrasing and interpretation, 30; ensemble, 25; selection of songs, 10; and appearance, 10.

The annual intergroup sing will begin at 1:00 o'clock sharply according to the committee in alphabetical order and any group not present when it is called on will not be allowed to compete.

JOURNALISM SENIORS TO EDIT NEWS-PRESS

Plan Supplants Idea of Two Weeks' Practice For Students.

The May 7 issue of the Nebraska City News-Press will be the exclusive editorial product of fifteen seniors from the university school of journalism who will take over the editorial duties of the publication for the one edition, according to Prof. Gayle C. Walker, director of the school.

This plan temporarily supplants the arrangement originated at the Nebraska school four years ago of assigning the entire graduating class in journalism to two weeks of practice on various Nebraska daily and weekly newspapers.

An "advance guard" consisting of half of the senior class will go to Nebraska City on Friday, May 6. The rest will follow on Saturday.

The News-Press, oldest active newspaper in the state, is published by J. H. Sweet, president last year of the Nebraska Press association. Arthur Sweet, managing editor of this daily publication, was graduated from the school of journalism in 1928.

TO LEAD WORSHIP SERVICE

Gertrude Clark Will Preside At Vespers on Next Tuesday.

Gertrude Clark will lead a worship service at this week's vesper services to be held in the tower room of Ellen Smith hall, Tuesday, May 2.

This service will be a time of worship and meditation, and because the coming week will be an unusually busy one, all young women should take advantage of the hour of quiet offered them.

Those who attended last semester's evening worship group are especially urged to attend since this will be Gertrude Clark's last service of this kind on the campus.

Marion Stamp will be in charge of the music for this program.

SUCCESSFUL RUN IS FINISHED BY KOSMET ANNUAL SPRING PLAY

Show Is Enthusiastically Received by Large Audiences.

Closing its fifth night of performance before a packed house, "The Bar-Nothing Ranch," Kosmet Klub's spring musical comedy, completed one of the most successful runs in the history of the Klub at the Temple theater last night.

The play, written and directed by Herb Yenne of the dramatics department and author of several previous Kosmet productions, was enthusiastically received by large audiences composed of both university students and faculty members and Lincoln residents.

A total of almost 2,600 persons saw the production, which was presented in the Temple theater Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights. An all-male cast was used in the show.

Leading Roles.

Leading roles were played by Duncan Sowles, male lead, Art Bailey, female lead, and Herb Yenne, female character lead. Comedy parts were taken by Neil McFarland, Eddie Fisher, Bernard Jennings, and Lee Young. Charles Schwager played the part of the antagonist.

"Kosmet Klub is sincerely grateful to the student body, the university, and the residents of Lincoln who have patronized the show," Jack Thompson, president of the Klub, declared last night. "The show was successful in every aspect, and we feel sure everyone enjoyed it."

"The Klub also wishes to extend its appreciation to the students and to all other persons who took part in the production of the show or contributed to it," Thompson continued. "Much of the success of the show was due to their support."

Outstanding Features.
