COMMITTEES START REORGANIZATION OF INTERFRAT COUNCIL

Lynn Leonard Names Byron Goulding Head of Group Formulating Plans.

Plans for reorganization of the Interfraternity council were set in motion at the council's regular meeting held in Morrill hall, on Tuesday night, when President Leonard appointed a committee to investigate proposed plans and report on them at the first fall meeting.

Byron Goulding, chairman, Joe Shramek, Robert Thiel and John Gepson, compose the committee on whose recommendations a lasting plan of organization is expected to be adopted.

General opinion of the council seemed to be that reorganization would work a decided improvement in the effectiveness of the council. Suggested plans were that the president of each house should be the fraternity's delegate, and a junior man be appointed by each group as its alternate, or that one senior and one junior man be selected as delegate and alternate respectively of each house, the junior man to become the senior member the following year. In both cases each fraternity would have but one vote.

A proposal to sponsor a student union building fund was adopted by the council, and a committee consisting of John Gepson, chairman, Dick Moran, Laurence Hall and Joe Shramek, was appointed to secure information and submit plans at the first fall meeting.

The council discussed rushing plans for next year and a committee on rushing was appointed for next fall's work. Members are Jack Fisher, chairman, Tom Davies, George Holyoke, Art Bailey, Howard White, and Frank Crabill. A new rule concerning broken pledges and repledging was adopted.

The question of a mentor system proposed by Dean T. J. Thompson, was referred to a committee to secure definite information as to functions and plan of operation. Committee members are Laurence Hall, chairman, Byron Goulding, Dick Moran and Lloyd Loomis.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL FAVORS BLANKET TAX

Harry West Named President Of Group; Erickson, Smith Chosen.

The inter-club council, representing the Barbs, decided in favor of the student activity tax, as outlined in the meeting Monday. The inclusion of the Daily Nebraskan was the deciding factor, according to Marlo Smith, newly elected treasurer of the organization.

"The council felt that this means of communication in the hands of every Barb would greatly aid in their organization," explained Smith.

Harry West, junior in the arts and science college was elected president for the coming year. Wilbur Erickson, sophomore in the business administration college and Marlo Smith, junior in the college of engineering will support West as secretary and treasurer respectively. The new chairman of the Barb council will automatically become the vice president according to the new constitution.

Council Members Must Check Tickets Today

All members of the Interfraternity council who have not yet turned in their Interfraternity banquet tickets must do so Wednesday afternoon at the Student Activities office in the Coliseum.

SENIOR TO GIVE RECITAL

Augusta French to Present Reading of "Another Language."

Miss Augusta French, senior in the school of fine arts, will present as her senior recital, a reading titled "Another Language," at the Temple theater, Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m.

Miss French is well known among campus and city theatrical circles for her work with the University Players during the past season. She is also a member of the dramatics department and is enrolled in the school of fine arts.

INSTITUTE TO CLOSE BUSINESS MEETINGS

Affair Will Be Held in Social Science Hall Wednesday.

The Merchants and Manufacturers institute to be held in Social Science auditorium, Wednesday morning and afternoon, will bring to a close a series of "Organized Business" meetings sponsored jointly by the college of business administration and a group of commercial organizations.

The institute will open at 10:30 with Professor O. R. Martin of the business administration college presiding. Dean J. E. LeRossignol will give the welcoming address. Gray Sterling, Kearney, president of Nebraska Dry Goods and Ready-to-Wear association; Clifford Crooks, Lincoln, research department of the Nebraska Farmer; and Allan P. Hupp, Omaha, secretary of Omaha Retailers association, will speak during the morning on subjects of interest to retailers.

A noon luncheon at the Lincoln chamber of commerce at which Burdette G. Lewis of Chicago, will discuss government control of business, will conclude the morning's program.

Prof. J. E. Kirshman, professor of finance in the university, will preside over the afternoon session. J. Roy Ozanne, Chicago, vice president, Continental Marketing Co.; W. H. Brokaw, director of agricultural extension at the university; and Frank T. Stockton, dean of the Kansas School of Business, will speak on the afternoon program.

Monday and Tuesday's meetings were devoted to special talks and round table discussions of credit and collection problems by representatives of the two groups.

The meetings have been held with a purpose of analyzing causes of the present economic depression and of seeking facts and methods of aiding business recovery. Professor F. C. Blood was general chairman in charge of the meetings.

Student Council to Meet This Afternoon

Dr. Fling to Examine Historical Archives in Europe This Summer

Going over the archives of history located in Paris, Vienna, Berlin, and other cities on the continent, as well as getting first hand observation of the latest developments in the political situation in Europe will be the summer occupation of Professor Fred M. Fling, of the department of history at the university.

Professor Fling, who has written several volumes on the French revolution, will spend the summer collecting information on European history, which will be combined into an additional work which is now in the process of preparation.

"During the latter part of the summer," explained Professor Fling, "I will attend the congress of historical sciences which will be held in Poland."

EICHELBERGER SPEECH BEGINS TRANSACTIONS FOR ALL STATE MEET

League Secretary for War Prevention Accompanies Speaker to Campus.

The appearance of Mr. Clark Eichelberger on this campus yesterday marked the beginning of negotiations of student organizations to secure for the university a statewide student conference to be held next February.

Mr. Eichelberger, who is mid-west president of the League of Nations Association, and editor of the League of Nations Chronicle, pointed out the advantages of a student conference at which problems of international relations are discussed by students. He was accompanied here by H. E. Terrell, secretary of the Council for the Prevention of War, from Des Moines, who explained in detail the purpose of student conferences.

Terrell Active in Work.

Mr. Terrell has been connected for six years with student conferences in Iowa, and is actively engaged in the formation of similar conferences in other states. He has visited recently the campus of the various colleges in Nebraska

FLANSBURG TO BE MEMBER OF BOARD

Toss of Coin Decides New Holder of Junior Position.

Charles Flansburg, Alpha Tau Omega, won a toss Tuesday which made him the new junior member of the publications board, from Wilbur Erickson following the tie of the two contestants in the recent student council election.

As another election did not seem possible, the two men agreed to let the new member be decided by chance. The flipping of the coin, which was held in the Nebraskan office, fell heads up after Erickson had called tails. One hundred and fifty-seven votes were cast for each candidate in the election. Members of the Nebraskan staff and Howard Allaway, student council member, witnessed the toss.

Classics Department Plans Picnic May 18

The Classics department of the university will entertain at a picnic at Pioneer's park Thursday, May 18 at 5 o'clock. All persons interested in Classics are invited to attend. Reservations may be made by placing names on the list posted on the bulletin board outside the classics library in Andrew's hall. Transportation will be arranged for all those requesting it.

The conferences are held every five years, stated Professor Fling, at which he is the official representative of the University of Nebraska. Professor Fling will read a paper at the congress, titled "Historical Synthesis."

While in Europe, Professor Fling will make a complete study of the European situation, devoting special attention to the recent controversy between Poland and Germany. With the material gathered Professor Fling will present a series of lectures during the fall and winter months.

The custom of going abroad every summer to study historical and political data was started by Professor Fling in 1894, and he has continued the practice to the present date.

LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS

Musical numbers were given by Wilma Bute, Mildred Putney and the D-U girls trio. Angelyn Evetensky presented a group of readings. Alice Doll reported on the poll of the characteristics of the boys. Dorothy Kepner offered an interpretative gypsy dance.

AG COLLEGE FACTIONS WILL CLASH THURSDAY

'New Deal' Election Follows Overthrow of Last Week's Results.

Today is pre-election day on the college of agriculture campus. Where quiet reigned over the scene last Wednesday prior to the annual spring election, the opposite is true this week. The Thursday election is a "new deal" since the last week's results were thrown overboard.

Petitions for candidates whose names will appear on the ballot were filed late Tuesday evening. All three factions—Barbs, Farm House and Alpha Gamma Rho—have put the men in the field again in what will be the final election of the year.

Overthrowing of last week's results came after Farm House and the Barbs protested the results and demanded a new deal. They charged fraud in the election and were sustained by both the Ag executive board and the faculty election committee. Both boards voted to hold the new contest.

Since all of the results were thrown out, balloting for student council representatives from the college will take place again since the student council is expected to ratify the decision tonight.

As in the other election, Farm House and the Barbs are aligned together against Alpha Gamma Rho in Thursday's contests. The other faction, Alpha Gamma Rho, has filed petitions for candidates for most offices. Names of those to be voted upon will appear in Thursday's Nebraskan.

PICKERING TALKS TO ADVERTISING GROUP

Gamma Alpha Chi Stages Meeting in Ellen Smith Hall.

Jimmy Pickering, display manager of Ben Simon and Sons, spoke to the members of Gamma Alpha Chi Tuesday night on "Art in Advertising." Mr. Pickering is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The meeting was held at Ellen Smith Hall at 7 o'clock, Margaret Reynolds, president of the chapter presiding.

The guests at the meeting were Pearl Cosgrave, Ruth Greenberg, Frieda Jessup, Frances Moore, Helen Selwyn, Katharine Howard, Alice Wideman, Mary Ode, Ruth Mallory, Rosalie Lamme, Aline Mumau, and Virginia Showalter.

INSTRUCTOR JUDGES ORATORICAL CONTEST

Herbert Yenne Attends Opening of His Play.

Herbert Yenne, assistant professor of dramatics in the college of fine arts, judged the annual high school oratorical contest at Syracuse, Monday.

The interest from some bonds left for the cause will be awarded to the winners. The selections must be original.

Yenne went to York last week end to be present for the opening of his three act play, "Three Sons West." It was presented by the senior class of the York high school.

THIRTEEN TO JOIN REGULAR TEACHING STAFF IN SUMMER

Registration Will Be Held June 9 and 10 in Coliseum.

Thirteen special lecturers and visiting instructors will join the regular teaching staff of the university to offer courses in specialized fields or to supplement the regular work by special lecturers at the summer session to be held June 9 to July 21. According to a bulletin issued this week by the registrar and R. D. Moritz director of educational service registration will be held Friday, June 9 from 8 to 12 and 2 to 5 and Saturday, June 10, from 8 to 12, in the Coliseum.

Two sessions will be held—a long session from June 9 until August 4, and a short session from June 9 to July 21. Major emphasis is to be placed on the long session, consequently a more extensive program, particularly in academic and graduate courses, is offered during this session. The two sessions will run concurrently.

The summer session offers a program of recreation and social activities. A definite and comprehensive social program is being developed for the participation in and enjoyment of the summer session students.

Students will be permitted to participate in social activities including parties, picnics, sports, and games. Other forms of group activity and competition are being offered. The interest displayed by the students last summer has given the management sufficient confidence to justify a program of social activity for recreation of summer school students, according to the bulletin. The program will be sponsored by Professor Lantz with the assistance of a committee selected from summer school students. Announcements will be made in the semi-weekly Nebraskan which is furnished all

3 DAYS REMAIN FOR SCHOLARSHIP FILINGS

Application Blanks May Be Obtained From Deans Of Colleges.

Students have but three days left in which to file for tuition scholarships, Saturday noon, May 20, being the deadline, according to an announcement made Tuesday at the office of the dean of student affairs.

Application blanks may be secured at the offices of the deans or directors of the various colleges, or may be obtained at Dean T. J. Thompson's office. They must be filed in the office of the dean of the applicant's school or college.

Scholarship Considered.

The university has awarded tuition scholarships each semester for the past five years on a basis of scholastic standing and financial need. A faculty committee selects the successful candidates each semester. Possibility that the awards would not be granted next semester is thought to have been removed following the recent favorable action of the legislature on university appropriations, although no definite announcement has been made to date.

Scholarships will include only tuition fees; non-resident fees must be paid by the student. As a rule, the awards are granted for one semester only, although they may be extended to one year upon student application and approval of the faculty committee.

Must Be Sophomore.

To be eligible to receive a scholarship, a student must have attained sophomore standing. Junior and senior applicants will receive first consideration.
