

Vacation and Study Trips Abroad Figure in Faculty Summer Plans

Many Also Teaching Here and Elsewhere for a Short Time.

Vacation and study trips to nearly a dozen foreign lands, motor trips in this country, attendance at various professional conferences, summer teaching here and at other schools in the United States and research in Lincoln and in the field—these activities will occupy Nebraska faculty members this summer. Many have already left Lincoln and more will leave during the next week. Many of those who will teach here during the nine weeks of summer school plan vacation trips during August.

Dr. C. H. Oldfather, dean of the college of arts and sciences, will teach in the summer session at the University of Colorado. His family will accompany him to Colorado and at the close of the summer term they plan to visit Chicago for the century of progress exposition.

Dr. G. E. Candra, director of the conservation and survey division, will be occupied with state surveys operating from the university and he expects to make a brief tour of the Universities of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Wyoming and Colorado to discuss co-operative studies being carried on jointly by the surveys of these states with their respective universities.

Dr. J. E. LeRossignol, dean of the college of business administration, plans to spend the summer with his family in Grand Lake, Colo., where he will devote much of his time to the preparation of his new book on economics.

Dr. T. M. Raysor, chairman of the department of English, plans to remain in Lincoln where he will complete his edition of Coleridge's "Miscellaneous Criticism."

Dr. J. O. Hertzler, chairman of the department of sociology, will teach two courses at the University of Pennsylvania this summer. Immediately after commencement at the university, Doctor Hertzler and his family will leave for Philadelphia where he will be engaged in research work in the museum and libraries of the Pennsylvania school. The return trip will be made by way of Boston, the Maine coast, White and Adirondack mountains, and the Chicago exposition.

Dr. R. G. Clapp, chairman of the department of physical education for men, with Mrs. Clapp and their daughter, Margaret, will leave the middle of the week for Estes Park, Colo. Another daughter, Mrs. Munro Kezer, expects to go out in August to spend the rest of the summer with them.

Dr. H. A. White, professor of English, expects to carry on some research in eastern libraries in connection with his regular teaching, and the work of the committee on debate of the National Association of Teachers of Speech of which he has been chairman since 1931.

Prof. Lawrence Vold, of the college of law, during the summer months will be occupied with special items of legal work. During the latter part of the summer Professor Vold and his family expect to go for an outing to their summer camp at Rainey Lake on the Canadian border of Minnesota.

Dr. Elda R. Walker, associate professor of botany, will teach courses in plant histology and cytology at the Colorado State Teachers college in Greeley during the ten-week summer session, June 19 to Aug. 26.

E. F. Schramm, professor of geology, expects to spend most of the summer in west central Mexico studying various types of ore deposits characteristic of that region.

Dr. N. A. Bengtson, chairman of the department of geography, will leave early in July for his summer engagement with the school of business at Columbia university. Following the Columbia summer session, Doctor Bengtson will remain in the east for several weeks finishing some library work begun last year.

Seven members of the department of home economics, who are planning to attend the convention of the American Home Economics association in Milwaukee June 26 to 29, are Prof. Margaret Fedde, chairman of the department; Dr. Ruth Staples, Miss Matilda Peters, Miss Mary Ellen Brown, Miss Leona Davis, Miss Gladys Winegar and Miss Martha Park. In August, Miss Fedde will attend the Hazen conference in Estes Park, Colo., Miss Winegar will spend part of the summer in Chicago where she will work in the textile exhibits at the Century of Progress. Miss Park also plans to spend some time at the world's fair.

After teaching in the summer session at the university, Miss Bess Steele, head of the design division, and Miss Grace Morton, head of the textiles and clothing division of the department of home economics, will drive east, visiting the world's fair, enroute to their respective homes in Pennsylvania. They also plan to go to Washington, D. C., New York City, and the New England states. They will spend some time studying sketching, painting and photographing on the coasts of Massachusetts and Maine. They will return to Lincoln by way of Canada.

Another member of the department of home economics, Miss Ruth Eloise Sperry, of the foods and nutrition staff, will teach this summer at Wittenberg college, at Springfield, Ohio.

J. M. Reinhardt, associate professor of sociology, following the summer session, plans to drive, with his family, thru the south and east.

Miss H. Alice Howell, chairman of the department of elocution and dramatic art, left Wednesday for France, where she will study the theater during the early part of the summer. She will later go to England to continue this work under a scholarship in the school of speech connected with the University of London.

Thomas A. Blair, United States weather bureau meteorologist and professor of meteorology, leaves soon for Chicago, where he will present a paper, "Weather Types and Pressure Anomalies," before the summer meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He and Mrs. Blair plan to attend the world's fair before returning to Lincoln the latter part of June.

Lester B. Orfield, who will go to Cambridge, Mass., as a Brandeis research fellow at Harvard university law school next year, will spend the summer in Minnesota.

Following summer school here, where he will teach classes in philosophy, Dr. W. H. Werkmeister will take a six weeks trip to Germany and Poland, his first visit to his homeland since coming to America in 1928.

Dr. Esther S. Anderson, instructor of geography, will teach during the summer session here and plans also to attend the Chicago session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the world's fair.

Dr. A. L. Lugin, assistant professor of geology, will spend June and July in geological field work on prehistoric formations in Nebraska. Later he will complete several manuscripts for publication and attend the world's fair with his family.

Katherine B. Faulkner, instructor in drawing and painting, left Lincoln recently for Detroit where she will view the murals of Diego Riviera at the art institute on her way to the home of her parents at Syracuse, N. Y., where she will spend about ten days. She will spend most of the summer at Gloucester, Mass., to study under Hans Hoffman, a German painter from Munich. She will visit New York just before returning to Lincoln in September.

Ramond H. Williams, instructor in sculpture and ceramics, left last week for Illinois and Wisconsin. He will spend several days studying art exhibits at the century of progress exposition and return to Lincoln for summer school.

Miss Evelyn Metzger, assistant professor of design in the home economics department, will attend the meeting of the American Home Economics association in Milwaukee, June 26 to 30, as a member of a committee studying housing. She will then visit the century of progress exposition to study housing and return to Lincoln following a visit with her parents in Iowa.

Dr. Clarence A. Forbes, assistant professor of classics, will vacation in New England in August following two months of study and research in Lincoln.

V. Calvin McKim, of the department of geology, will teach during the early part of the summer at the Ohio university, later visiting the century of progress exposition at Chicago and returning to Nebraska to continue his field work in geology.

Thomas F. Barton, graduate assistant in geography, will teach during the summer in the State Teachers college of Memphis, Tenn., later going to Washington, D. C., for library research in connection with his graduate work.

Clarence L. Dow, graduate fellow in geography, will spend the first part of the summer teaching at Kansas State Teachers college, Emporia, Kas., later returning for field work in western Nebraska.

Dr. R. A. Lyman, dean of pharmacy college, will teach during the summer session at the university, June 27 to 29 he will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the South Dakota State Pharmaceutical association at Rapid City, during August he will vacation in Colorado and from Aug. 28 to Sept. 2, will attend the annual meeting of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and American Pharmaceutical association at Madison, Wis.

Coach D. K. Bible and his family will leave about the middle of July and expect to be away until the middle of August. They will go first to Jefferson City, Tenn., for a visit with his parents and from there will go to Texas. Mrs. Bible and the children will visit her relatives at Fort Worth and he will teach at a coaching school at San Antonio.

Prof. and Mrs. F. C. Blood and family expect to take a motor trip thru the east and into Canada. They plan to leave about Aug. 6 and will drive east, stopping first to visit the world's fair and next at Boston for a visit with Professor Blood's father. They will return home by way of Quebec and expect to spend four or five weeks on the trip.

At the annual meeting of the American Dairy Science association in Urbana, Ill., June 26 to 29, the University of Nebraska will be well represented. Among the speakers at the convention sessions will be Prof. H. P. Davis.

Sergeant Regler Says Parking Unrestricted

Only parking regulations on the campus this summer, according to Sergeant Regler, campus police officer, will be prohibitions against parking on red lines and in front of fire hydrants. Sergeant Regler said that increased parking space around the new central mall makes restricted space for faculty cars unnecessary this summer. He believes there will be plenty of room for all cars. There is no time limit on campus parking; students may leave their cars parked on university streets all day.

Prof. C. C. Weidmann, I. L. Hathaway and R. F. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ferguson plan to leave for their summer home on Madeline island about July 1. Their grandson, Billy, will accompany them to spend the summer.

Harold Gish plans to leave about June 12 to attend the summer session at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Rev. and Mrs. Garth Sibbald expect to spend part of the summer in the Rocky Mountain National park, Colorado, and in Wisconsin.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET HERE

University Students May Attend Council at Epworth Park.

Two district superintendents, Dr. B. L. Story of Holdrege, and Dr. Bernard Johansen of Hastings, will take an active part in the Older Young People's Council being held at Epworth Lake Park, Lincoln, June 10-14. Rev. Story was educated in the Nebraska schools and is a graduate of both Wesleyan and Boston University School of Theology. He has held pastorates in Holdrege, Lexington and Omaha. Dr. Story has been outstanding in his work among young people and has, perhaps, one of the strongest young peoples' organizations in the state at the present time.

Rev. Johansen was a leader in the German Methodist work before it united with the English speaking conference. He took his post graduate work in Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston and was recently pastor of the Lexington Methodist church, where he had one of the largest young peoples' constituencies of any church in the state. A large young peoples' chorus was a feature of the services.

Any person over 18 years of age, a high school graduate or college student, are eligible to attend, and
