Autumn garden flowers formed the decorations for the all university tea given by Miss Amanda H. Heppner, Dean of Women, yesterday at Ellen Smith Hall. In the receiving line were Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, Dr. Elizabeth Williamson, Mrs. Ada Westover, Miss Bernice Miller, and Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson. Delta Omicron, musical sorority furnished the entertainment for the tea which lasted from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

BURNETT URGES DEVELOPMENT OF VARIOUS PROGRAMS

Dr. George E. Condra, chairman of the conservation and survey department, spoke briefly on the hope and expectation of the university officials for the new members of the student body. He then explained the Cornhusker oath, to which every member of the freshman class subscribed.

New students were excused from their 11 o'clock classes to attend the ceremonies, which are held annually shortly after the opening of school. The R. O. T. C. band, led the parade from the west side of Social Science hall to the coliseum. Members of Corn Cobs and Tassels, pep organizations, assisted the innocents society in conducting the affair.

After the close of the initiation both moving and still pictures were taken to form part of a permanent record of the class for the university.

In between the speeches, Ed Fisher, member of last year's squad of cheerleaders, led the crowd in school yells, and at the close of Dr. Condra's speech the students sang "The Cornhusker," accompanied by the R. O. T. C. band.

Church Night.

All university church night is being observed tonight. Receptions are being given by all the churches for freshmen and new students.

students to the Nebraska campus Chancellor Burnett offers this advice: "Accuracy, precision of thought and expression, coupled with a sound understanding of engineering theory and its practical application should be the goal of every engineering student, be he freshman or upper classman."

Dean T. J. Thompson, in his article "Adventures Ahead," sets forth reasons why a college education is a valuable asset. "I know of no way whereby a young man or a young woman can quicker or better fit himself to take part in the great adventures ahead than by acquiring the best possible training."

Dean Explains Engineers Work.
O. J. Ferguson, dean of the College, explains what it takes to be an engineer and what his real job is. "If a lad would be an engineer, he must have more than a boyish interest in tinkering with machinery, radio and electric bells. The 'How' is only the first objective of his curiosity. The 'Why' is his real goal."

For many years J. P. Colbert has been freshman advisor. In an article "The Freshman Year" he stresses the importance of the engineering student's first year, setting forth the things that he will encounter during the next four years.

Other articles written by the chairman of the various departments in the Engineering College offer an opportunity for the new student to become well acquainted with the various lines of instruction offered in engineering.

FRESHMAN PHOTOS, LITTLE USED DURING COLLEGE, ARE VALUABLE AFTER SCHOOL AS VISUAL IDENTIFICATION FOR POSITION.

Richard Hufnagle, a former student at the University of Nebraska, will have completed the development of this year's pictures by the end of this week, but they will not be distributed until the expiration of at least ten days' time, due to the necessity for sorting and indexing pictures in the administration building.

The campus studio, under the maintenance of the conservation and survey department, not only takes care of freshmen pictures and group pictures of organizations for campus publications, but handles all photographic work for the university, including field trips, soil surveys, Nebraska crops, rock formations, natural resources, campus activities, etc.

The year 1933-34 will see changes made in the photographic department in that Mr. Hufnagle is now being employed on a full time basis to take care of the steadily enlarging scope of work, a solid roof now replaces the former glass one on the campus studio, and a new and more efficient lighting system will be employed.

Much has been printed about tobacco
"cool" "burns slowly"
"doesn't smoke hot" "don't bite"
And all of these things can be said about Granger—the tobacco that's made to smoke in a pipe.
Granger is made of White Burley Tobacco—it's made by Wellman's Method, the right process—it's packed right. Folks seem to like it—just try it.
