Affair Will Be Started With Parade From Temple at 7 O'clock.

SCHEDULED FOR STADIUM

Members of Coaching Staff And Team to Give Speeches.

Stirred by thoughts of the coming inter-sectional football game between Nebraska and Texas, followers of Cornhuskers will give vent to their enthusiasm tomorrow night in a gigantic rally at the scene of the game Saturday—the stadium.

Plans for the first pep meeting of the year, requiring the support of the entire student body, were released yesterday afternoon by Lloyd Loomis, member of the Innocents society in charge of arrangements for all rallies, who issued an appeal for student support.

"The Huskers are facing one of their toughest games in opening the season," he said, "and they need the backing of everybody in school. If a demonstration of whole-hearted support can help the team, I'm sure we can give it to them. Every student is behind the team and should be at the rally tomorrow night to show it."

The rally will start promptly at 7 o'clock from the Temple building, and after a parade and pep meeting in the stadium, will march downtown to greet the Texas team and stage a short demonstration, during which the Texas outfit will be introduced.

At the stadium members of the Nebraska coaching staff will give brief pep talks and members of the team will be introduced. At the hotel, the Texas coach will give a short talk, and several of the members of the Texas squad will be introduced also.

Members of Corn Cobs and Tassel pep organizations, will stage a house to house rally before the meeting in the stadium, and the R. O. T. C. band will lead the parade to the stadium.

FIRST PLAYERS' PRODUCTION OF SEASON MONDAY

University Actors Present Three-Act Comedy All Of Next Week.

With a cast featuring Ray Ramsey and Dorothy Zimmer, the University Players open their season next Monday in the Broadway success of last winter, "The Late Christopher Bean." New York critics hailed this three-act comedy as one of the smartest of the past few years.

Supporting the leads will be a cast including Phyllis Sandin, Mae Posey, Clara Christensen, Louren Gilbert, Armand Hunter, Irving Hill and Joel Epstein. The production is being directed by Miss Alice Howell, head of the dramatics department.

The play was adapted by Sidney Howard from a French comedy by Rene Fauchois, but has its setting in New England with the characters being natives of that region. The excellence of its dialogue and construction of the plot makes the play one of the outstanding comedies to be produced by the players.

Action of the play centers about a scramble on the part of art critics and commercial buyers for a number of paintings, which remained in the home of a country physician after the death of the artist. The canvases of Christopher Bean did not become famous until after his death, and he died in the physician's home practically unknown.

FROSH REMINDED THEY SHOULD DON THEIR RED CAPS

First Year Men Have Shown Lack of Spirit by Not Wearing Emblem.

RULES TO BE ENFORCED

Wearing of Caps Would Help Freshmen Unit as a Class Group.

"A most outstanding lack of school spirit has been noted on the part of the male representatives of the freshman class in their seeming disinterest in wearing their freshman caps," according to John Gepson, member of the Innocents society in charge of freshman caps. "Although a great many were purchased, very few are being worn on the campus. This refusal by some of the members is a reflection on the class as a whole."

The Innocents society which conducts the freshman cap sale, last week established a set of rules for the observance of the freshman cap tradition which have gone unobserved by many. The same set of rules as set down by this organization is as follows, and it is asked that they be observed:

1. Every male freshman shall wear a freshman cap.
  2. The cap shall be worn immediately after the freshman initiation and continuously thereafter.
  3. Caps shall be worn at all university events, and on all school dates except for week end dates.
  4. Caps shall be removed at such a date as the Innocents society shall designate and not until then.
- John Gepson, innocent, and head of the freshman cap sale, stated that since the preserving of such a tradition rests entirely with the individual the whole hearted co-operation of every member should be uppermost in the mind of every freshman. Gepson declared, "There is really no reason why the freshmen should not wear the caps, and there are a great many reasons (Continued on Page 4.)"

CHEST CAMPAIGN RECORDS REVEAL DRIVE IS SUCCESS

Faculty Heartily Supports Community Project by Donations.

STRIVE TO REACH GOAL

Chancellor Urges Response To Demand for More Subscriptions.

Following the lead taken in the city of Lincoln in the community chest campaign, the leaders of the university teams have been obtaining excellent results during the first three days of the drive.

The faculty members of the community chest drive are divided into seven teams, in the first regiment of Division D. Captains of the seven teams are C. O. Swayze, team No. 210; H. C. Kock, team No. 211; J. P. Colbert, team No. 212; L. E. Gunderson, team No. 213; H. J. Gramlich, team No. 214, and R. B. Scott, team No. 215.

Reports late yesterday afternoon revealed that the half way mark had been passed in striving for the goal set for the drive. Results of the employee divisions show that on the average wage earners are supporting the drive more vigorously than was the case last year.

The drive was undoubtedly given impetus by a letter sent by Chancellor E. A. Burnett to members of the faculty. "I consider the Community Chest one of the most worthy enterprises in the city in caring for the needs of the poor and unfortunate," he said. "The university has always responded well to the demand for subscriptions in aiding this enterprise."

"While I am aware that the salaries of people connected with the university have been severely cut, I hope you will feel impelled to give as liberally as you did last year, perhaps in some cases more liberally. Our total contribution should not be decreased," he declared.

Kosman urged contributions from outside sources of ideas for songs, rallies and cheers, stating that they had already received a song that promises to become popular.

Tassels Pass Last Year's Record in Number Sold Up to This Stage.

SELL THROUGH SATURDAY

Drawing for Reserved Seats Postponed Till Thursday Afternoon at 5.

Tassel athletic ticket sales are over the mark set by the early days of last year's drive, but because many students have not had the opportunity to purchase season books in the intensive three day campaign, the canvass will be extended until Saturday, it was learned at Wednesday's noon pep meeting.

The first check of sales to date shows 930 student tickets sold, as compared with 400 in the first four days of last year's campaign, which lasted for almost three weeks.

Hand in hand with the determination to extend the sales until Saturday was the decision to defer the drawing for reserved seats until Thursday afternoon at 5. Also the lottery was scheduled for Wednesday, calls to the athletic office from organized houses indicated that many of the groups had not completed their arrangements.

Beginning their fourth day of selling Thursday morning, the Tassel organization will be aided by booths, which have been placed in Social Science, Andrews and Law buildings and on the ag campus.

Wednesday's pep luncheon featured Coach Henry F. "Indian" Schulte and Heye Lambertus, who spoke to the pepsters briefly.

A check of team standings Wednesday night showed Capt. Mary Edith Hendricks' group leading, with teams headed by Florence Buxman and Jean Brownlee second and third. Roma DeBrown continued to lead individual saleswomen with a total of ninety-five tickets sold.

UNIVERSITY REGULATION

Students and Faculty Voice Opposition to Order Prohibiting Sale.

Recent orders to department heads of the university, issued by Operating Superintendent Seaton in regard to petty sales of eatables by employees of the school have evoked a number of protests from students and faculty members as well.

Paramount among these are complaints by basic drill students, Col. F. A. Kidwell in charge of the R. O. T. C. quartermasters' department of the university had in former years displayed a few boxes of candy bars on the counter of his office, to which drill students were welcome, making their own change in a cigar box at the side. Monday, the candy bars vanished and in their place was an order from the operating superintendent.

Departments Receive Letter. To Chairman of Departments: University.

It has recently been called to the attention of the university authorities that some of its employees have been conducting sales of various kinds to students, included in the items mentioned were apples, candy, popcorn, etc. Merchants complain that this cuts down the revenue of legitimate dealers and have requested that the practice be discontinued.

The university does not sponsor such policies, and in consequence of the complaint it will be necessary for anyone engaged in activity of this sort on the campus to cease operations.

Your co-operation will be appreciated. Very truly yours, L. F. Seaton, Operating Superintendent, Student Protests.
