TWO

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

TUESDAY. NOVEMBER 14, 1933.

The Daily Nebraskan

Station A, Lincoln, Nebraska OFFICIAL STUDENT PUBLICATION UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

> Associated Collegiate Press = 1933 (Marina (- 21m) (metanal) 1934 =

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice in incoln, Nebraska, under act of congress. March 3, 1879. Ind at special rate of postaage provided for in section 103, act of October 3, 1917, authorized January 20, 1922. THIRTY-THIRD YEAR

Published Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday mornings during the academic year. SUBSCRIPTION RATE

$1.50 a year Single Copy 5 cents $1.00 a semister $2.50 a year mailed $1.50 a semester mailed Under direction of the Student Publication Board. Editorial Office-University Hall 4. Business Office-University Hall 4. Telephones-Day: B-6591: Night: B-6652. B-3333 (Journal) Ask for Nebraskan editor. EDITORIAL STAFF Editor-In-chief Laurence Hall Managing Editors Bruce Nicoll Violet Cross News Editors Jack Fischer

Margaret Thiele Society Editor Irwin Ryan Burton Marvin Virginia Selleck... Sports Editor BUSINESS STAFF Business Manager Bernard Jennings Assistant Business Managers George Holyoke Dick Schmidt

Wilbur Erickson

Election Day---Once More.

INIVERSITY men will go to the polls today to select a Nebraska Sweetheart, whose identity will remain unknown until her formal presentation at the Kosmet Klub annual fall revue, November 25. Filings for the position, which closed Friday afternoon, revealed one of the largest number of women candidates filing in the past few years, seven women having entered the race.

Today's election represents the third addition to the long list of the Nebraska campus' royalty to be elected this fall by students of the university, the Queen of the Farmer's Formal and the Honorary Colonel having been previously elected. As students march to the polls to perpetuate the long and successful line of Nebraska Sweethearts, there occurs, at the same time, a continuation of an unsuccessful and sadly overworked idea.

University students have long been the target for "queen" and "sweetheart" elections, and all the numerous additions have built up a superfluous royalty none too representative of the student body. Taking advantage of what might once have been a good idea, student organizations have outworn the real effectiveness that might come as a result of true student expression.

Too frequent calling of students to the polls to elect university women to positions of little significance has resulted in a waning enthusiasm, even to the point of total indifference or distinterest in some cases. Certainly student patience has been taxed severely, what with the innumerable queens and goddesses who make their yearly advent upon the campus. Perhaps campus-wide interest might be obtained by other and less time-worn methods.

Until other methods are agreed upon, however, there remains but one thing to do-get out the vote and help to make today's Sweetheart as representative as possible. And should your favorite be defeated, don't grieve for there'll be another election along.

Decorating.

The Decorations.

WITH the serious business of having a good time in the Homecoming fashion disposed of for another year, the campus can turn its attention again to continuing the ordinary course of university life. But before the memory of Homecoming has faded, and now that the "gaiety" is not as dominant, an outstanding feature of the celebration remains important-that is the party itself, in the transformed coliseum Advance glimpses of the new drapes, before they had been seen in actual use, had given rise to considerable favorable comment, and Saturday night those advance predictions were not belied. The coliseum was transformed-it was an entirely new place, thoroly in keeping with its use as a ballroom.

There remains, perhaps, minor improvements to be made, but they will take time, and further contributions to the decorations fund. For the present the fact that the decorations have more than justified all their early ecomiums is the outstanding factor. The coliseum is no longer the barren expanse of the pre-decoration days, and a party has been held in the new ballroom. Student activities, more specifically the Innocents society, which sponsored the campaign for funds, have achieved a notable success. And sharing in that success is the man without whose active cooperation the decorations could not have been otained-Director of Activities Selleck. His work should be appreciated by the campus.

Laurels, indeed, are very much in order, for at last the long-standing deficiency of the campus has been removed. There is now a place for all-university social events, and it is, furthermore, an extremely satisfactory and presentable place. The campus has a ballroom.

Feverish

Work.

 $A_{\rm have \ gone \ on \ record \ as \ opposing \ the \ attempt}^{\rm LIVE \ to \ their \ responsibilities \ Lincoln \ ministers$ to get a new armory on the campus. Passage of a resolution to that effect by the Lincoln Ministerial association adds to the rapidly growing list of objectors to the movement that has seen a nucleus of dissenters on the campus gain support thruout the city and the state.

The campaign, to be sure, has not been waged without considerable heckling. Antagonism from within and without the limits of the campus committee has slowed work of those who have been endeavoring to present a case designed to block the federal grant. A great deal of work has been done, however, and the members of the peace committee deserve commendation for their efforts.

All this is not to say that their task has been successfully completed, for it is only the crucial stage of the opposition that has been reached. If there has been pressure, it must be increased; if there has been speed it must be doubled, for it is uncertain-now that the administrative committee has gone to Washington-how much time for opposition may be left.

Work, you objectors, you must act now!

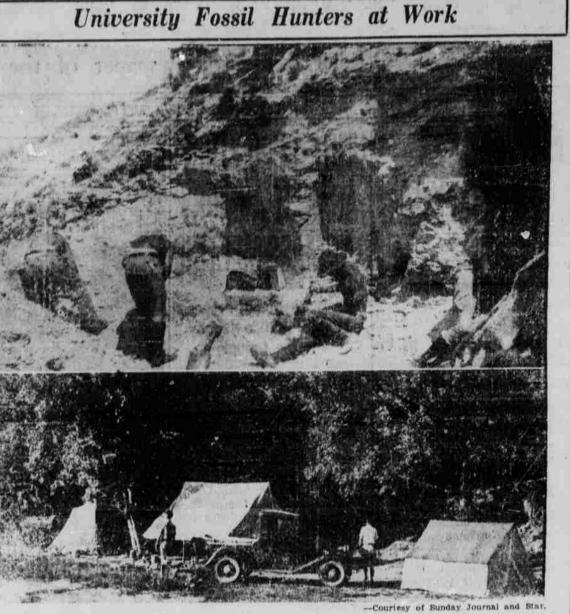

go through college and get to know

All the business at that Coll-Ag-but

fraternity did help to swing that out a sports program. In such acelection, but...." And so it goes, tivities as these lies excellent rea-if there is any dirty politics, it is son for barb clubs.

If there is any dirty politics, it is son for barb clubs. admittedly kept very well con-cealed. There is seldom if ever any definite thing that the gripers can lay hands on as evidence. But

University of Nebraska youths are shown here excavating elephant bones, utensils, and weapons near Crawford in northeastern Nebraska. From the looks of things there will be no secrets in the past of the state when these students stop "digging up the past." On page one of the Daily Nebras-kan appears an account of the summer expedition of these twelve men.

LOOMIS REVEALS + Contemporary Comment + (Continued from Page 1.)

Now at

Princeton. Leagues for the development of this or the prevention of that are honesty," and urges that mere by no means unknown at Yale. The promises to refrain from propalatest development in this line, however, has not originated at short, "it is absolutely insane to New Haven, but on the rurally grant diplomatic immunity to the peaceful Princeton campus. A Student League for the Non-Rec-ognition of Soviet Russia last week announced its naissance in a letter to the Daily Princetonian.

This, indeed, is something of a prone to have objectives which the safe and sane graduate of the class of 1899 regards as uncomfortably liberal, if not dangerously radical. the ideals of the latest Princeton triots. And, at the same time, the phenomenon.

Russian recognition is that the the boon that all editors pray for soviet government is "controlled -a raging battle in the communiby the third international whose cations columns .- The Yale Daily avowed purpose is" to undermine the capitalistic system. By way of supplement, it denounces Russion statesmen for their "disganda would mean nothing. In agents of that country and thus allow them to continue unhamp-ered in their purpose to overthrow full support to the team," he addthe existing institutions in this ed. "We want that rally to be the country.' largest and best of the year, we Yale, unfortunately, has not want to show that team that we novelty, for student leagues are been subjected to any such 100 know they can win back at Pittspercent Americanism as a result of burgh. The Thursday morning Maxim Litvinoff's embarkation for rally will no doubt inconvenience western shores. We shall gladly let Princeton cope with the flag But the most rock-ribbed conserv-ative could not take exception to ican principles, the hysterical pa-will adjust their plans so that they will adjust their plans so that they may be present at both rallies and News rejoices that its Princeton help maintain a winning team." The league's basic objection to colleagues has been blessed with

DINNER AT EIGHT' SCORES SUCCESS (Continued from Page 1.)

TENTATIVE PLANS

left Lincoln and a miserable hand-

FOR PITT RALLY

other memoers of the cast acquitted themselves commendably. The Cast. H. Ance Howell Harold Sumption Mat Porcy Herbert res. Dorothy Zimts r Hving fall Jane McLaught Virgene McBinge Francis Brandt Joruan. Max Kane. Kitty Packard..... Larry Renault. Carlotta Vance.... Custave Paula Jordan Oliver Jordan. Francis Brandt Joseph di Natale Hatti Loomis. Miss Copelan I Byivin de Vilmer Schael Maurice Tibb Copelan I. Packard Jack Epstei Beth Langfor Lauren Gilber Ted Cruis Tina Dr. J. Wayne Talbot Mr. Hatfie'd Miss Alden Mrs. Wenfall. Mr. Fitch. ... Ed. Loomis. Bell Boy.... Lucy Talbot. Walte

DEAN HEPPNER TALKS to a. w. s. council

Explains Active Scholarship Groups on Campus; Anne Bunting Presides.

Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of romen, spoke on "Scholastic women, spoke on "Scholastic Ideals Which Should Prevail in All Organized Houses" at the annual scholarship meeting of the A. W. S. council held at 5 o'clock Monday at Ellen Smith hall.

Martha Hershey, president of the panhellenic council, gave an explanation of that group, Willa Norris, president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society. told about that body, and Earbara Barber explained Alpha Lambda Delta, freshmen scholastic sorority. All of these groups recognize high scholarship on the campus. List Organizations.

Lists of all the honorary organizations on the campus were given to everyone attending the meeting. Anne Bunting presided at the meeting of the council, which in composed of the presidents of all organized houses.

The class in pickling at Oregon State college is making sauerkraut and canning cucumbers which will later be made into sweet and dill pickles, according to E. H. Wie-gand, professor of horticultural products.

WHAT ARE YOU WEARING TO THE NEXT PARTY?

We can be of service to you. Let us pep up that Party Gown or Tuxedo - your Gloves, tco.

HAVE YOUR GARMENTS MODERN CLEANED-

The Old Reliable

Modern Cleaners SOUKUP & WESTOVER CALL F2377 FOR SERVICE

ful of rooters was on hand to see them off. Our team that year took the worst beating a Cornhusker team has ever undergone. We must not let it happen again through lack of spirit on our part. Students Have Duty. "Wednesday night it is the duty of every student to racrifice for versity are welcomed by this ni, under the usual restrictions of sound newspaper practice, which excludes all libelous matter and personal attacks. Letters must be signed, but names will be with-reld from publication if so desired.

The Student Pulse

Brief, concise contributions perti-

Striking Farmers. TO THE EDITOR:

"Nebraska Farm Picket Is Kill-ed." "Iowa Picket Picket Is Kill-"Iowa Pickets Use Rail Ties To Blockade Roads." "Farm Situ-ation Threatening." So run the scareheads on the latest newspapers. Already the farm strike has left death as well as destruction in its wake. What good are such itics, and there are others just as high-handed tactics going to do anyone? Where a situation is It's getting awfully tiresome, hear-dominated by mob violence no ing the same old arguments hashed good can result. When one class and re-hashed. Why don't the of men starts interfering with the fundamental rights of others trouble is bound to be the outcome. It has been generally agreed that strikes defeat their own aims, that griping? they hurt everyone and benefit no

Is the farmer any worse off than anyone else? Usually he has enough to eat if nothing else. The farmer, the laborer, the man with the white collar job and the capitalist are a four horse team that should be pulling together to get the national recovery wagon out of the ruts. This is no time for one of the horses to start kicking and biting its mates. Nothing can be accomplished if the farmer will not aid the recovery program to the best of his ability.

Nothing is ever accomplished by violence. The only sane way to iron out difficulties is by arguing them out over the table of debate, not by attempting to silence them by clubs in a hand to hand dispute. Why can't the farmers talk over their problems intelligently?

-R. K. A. The Final Word.

There seems to be an increasing number of individuals who give vent to their pet peeve by griping audibly or in editorial form as to the difference in the amount of "push" and the amount of "pull" that it takes to get places on the campus. In almost every classthe argument inevitably arises as to whether it is political pull or personal push that really gets a person to the top of the activities heap. Personally, it doesn't make a bit of difference which it they is, but this continual griping and stick together for political reasons. argument is getting awfully bor- Fraternity men, in their attempts disgruntled because they hance the prestige of the "house," thought they could come to college for from that they in turn draw and be Nebraska sweetheart or their own prestige. president of the Innocents? Have they any real proof that it is dirty politics that has kept them from becoming prominent? Or are they ashamed to admit that it might be

On the other hand, the people who are "in," are just as vocifergether who are "in," are just as vocifer-ous in defending campus politics as those on the outside are in de-nouncing them. The Mortar Board or Innocant will hasten to assure you that it is their own hard work which has won them their prom-imence. "Of course, maybe the if campus politics is really the hily- perhaps twenty-five such small Dead leaves whirled and hissed white organization it is supposed so loud and so ready and so fre-quent in its defense? Are they that true where the clubs involve dust, stepped in front of a car in really sincere, or are they merely membership on both campi. The number of Ag students who throwing up a smoke-screen to hide the true facts?

practically no one in other col-There are two sides to any situleges is far too large. One definite ation and there are certainly two value in these barb clubs is that sides to this, and plenty of room they pave the way for a number for argument. And plenty of ar-gument there seems to be. The of Ag college men to get acquainted with more students in other gripers take every opportunity to colleges air their grievances on campus pol-Additional value-and for the ready to defend the organization. many Ag students to meet a number of men in other colleges and perhaps form an occasional lasting gripers either take some definite steps to clean up the politics they in barb organization is small, inconsider so unfair, or else stop deed; but the social possibility is tained. -H. K. large TOUGH GOING.

The Coll-Agri-Fun committee is Ag College having a hard time getting started. After the Coll-Agri-Fun show last By Carlyle Hodgkin year-Ag faculty and upperclass-

THIS BUSINESS OF BARBS.

Tonight in Social Science audiabout it as the second semester torium is the "mass meeting" of approaches-the committee met, all Barb men. Their motive, laid some definite plans for the cording to Chairman Wilber Erickpresentation this year, and effectson, is to set up permanent organed some major revisions in the orization for this year, hear Profesganization's constitution. sor Lantz explain the advantages of membership in Barb clubs, and ri-Fun committee meeting was work out an athletics program. It is probably safe to say that written into the minutes, strangely enough the constitutionin no other college is the proporal amendments were never written tion of Barb men as large as it is into the constitution. Now a probat Ag. And if that is true, then it lem arises that calls for the minis reasonable to suppose that Ag utes of the meeting, and they are men will have an important part in nowhere to be found. most any barb activity. Doubtless Mark Hackman and Elmer Parli, a good representation of Ag stu-

the two men elected on the Colldents will attend the mass meeting Agri-Fun committee last spring tonight. are neither one back in school.

This business of barb organiza-Two more men have to be selected, tions is perennial on the campus. and without the minutes of that Every year one hears about how last meeting no one knows whether the barbs had ought to organize, those two men have to be elected how unaffiliated men could get or whether they can be appointed somewhere in college activities if by the surviving members of the organized barbs were backing board. them, how if barbs would only pull meeting are not to be found. together they could put the per-Dorothy Luchsinger, now holdsons they wanted into campus ofing an institutional management fices. And all that is true-if . . . position in California, was secre-No doubt unaffiliated men could tary last year. Committee memcontrol offices and important posibers have written her to find out tions if they would organize, but they won't. That is, they won't the fate of those minutes. If the minutes of that meeting last year can be found, then the vacancies Have the gripers any real basis for their point of view, or are they merely discruption because they have a common purpose: they have the Fraternity men, in their attempts on the committee can be filled, and the Coll-Agri-Fun can get going. It is early in the year yet, how ever, and there is plenty of time for the group to get to work. It is good sign to see them alive and putting their machine in shape But barbs have no such reason well in advance of time to go to for concerted action. No one stands work on the show, NOTHING LIKE THAT BEFORE. Few students, I venture, remema lack of personal ability, and so speak of "dirty politics" as a means of airing their grudge and blaming their failure op something their failure op something that barb men will not pull toleast as warm as September. Then the wind came up, got stronger So the talk one hears about what and stronger, but the temperature clubs on the campus. The social The wind shrieked around the corusefulness of these small clubs is ners of buildings. Two men were in which the driver couldn't see for dust; the other, in Iowa, was blown down with the scaffold on which he was working.

The storm reached its worst about dusk. One could not see a car more than two hundred yards ahead in the road. The wind grew stronger and stronger. It began to get cold. By midnight the dust had all blown away-all but what was same reason-lies in the barbs' in people's eyes, ears, and nosessports program. They will enable the sky was clear as a crystal, and it was cold. Monday morning it was again warm and bright. A most unusual storm had passed, friendship. The political possibility and Nebraska's reputation for variety in its weather was well main-

UNIT OPPOSITION AGAINST ARMORY AT MASS MEETING

(Continued from Page 1.)

and that exemption for the sincere an administrative policy with each men will remember it as perhaps the best in the show's history, and freshmen will be hearing more of the land grant colleges. Admitting that one member of the board was opposed to the compulsory element on the campus, Burnett stated that the majority of the body, however, felt the drill did not incur a "militaristic spirit," objectors was administered reasonably and sympathetically. Inglis Calls for Action.

In the principal address of the Rev. Ervine R. Inglis afternoon, asserted that action for peace is imperative. "Mere talking about peace accomplishes nothing," he claimed. "Signing petitions is not You must demand peace enough. and work for it. It is necessary to work hard, because we pacifists don't seem able to work as skillfully as the militarists. Sincerity of belief in the cause for peace is essential. I believe the committee is started in the right direction and should be encouraged."

Working for peace does not de And the minutes of the note a lack of patriotism, according to Inglis. He himself is willing to do anything for his govern-ment but "kill people." The ma-jority of persons do not want war, differing only as to the methods of obtaining peace. There is, however, a sinister group of arms manufacturers who threaten world peace. This ring must be broken up for the war which will result if their propogandistic activities are successful will mean the ruin of even mighty Britain. Breta Peterson, chairman of the Nebraska Committee on Peace Action, introduced the speaker of the afternoon and Morton Spencer presided over the forum following the address.

A University of Washington survey shows that the average college student carries more money in his pocket than the average profesor does, and that the professor's secretary carries more than the two of them combined.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN

All students organizations or facolity groups desiring to publish notices of meetings or other information for members may have htem printed by calling the Daily Nebraskan office.

AT THE STUDIO. Innocents society, Monday, Nov. 13, 9:30 a. m. Kosmet Klub, Tuesday, Nov. 14, 11:30 a. m. A. W. S. Board, Thursday, Nov. 16, 12, noon. Barb Council, Wednesday, Nov. 19, 5 p. m. Motar Board, Friday, Nov. 17, 12, noon.

Corn Cobs.

Corn Cos meeting tonight at 7:30, Room 203 Temple building. Every member must be present This will be the permanent meeting place for Corn Cobs.

> Henry Kosman, President. Y. W. C. A.

W. C. A. cabinet will meet Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall.

Professors Meet.

Three will be a meeting of the American Association of University Professors Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Social Science hall, room 101.

Lutheran Bible Class.

Rev. H. Erck will conduct Bible class with Lutheran students Wednesday evening, Nov. 15 in room 203, Temple building at 7 p. m.

FILLEY ADDRESSES AG Y. M. C. A.

H. C. Filley, chairman of the Department of Rural Economics, will speak at the Ag Y Freshman council Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in room 303 of Ag hall. His topic will be "War and Peace."

Cornhusker Salesmen.

All Cornhusker salesmen mus turn in their receipt books Tuesday afternoon at the office.

Faton's

25 Envelopes 90^c

In the New Sized

Correct Stationery

Drug

B3771

65 Sheets

14th & S

is man's greatest energy food, blessed by Nature with all the vital elements . . . proteins, vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates, and bran. All of these come to you in Shredded Wheat. Nothing has been added,

CHREDDED WHEAT

J helps you go places and do things. And that's easily explained. Shredded Wheat is whole wheat. And whole wheat ( draw up a chair in your favorite campus eating place, order Shredded Wheat. When the crispbaked, golden brown biscuits are placed in front of you, just pour on plen-) ty of milk or cream and top with your favorite fruit. And enjoy the best-tasting bowlful of energy that ever brightened your day.

When you see Niagara Falls on

Vellum

Highland

nothing taken away.

The next time you

HERE'S

Energy

FOR YOU

