

HAWKEYES RATED IN HIGH PLACE IN FOOTBALL WORLD

Iowa U Will Meet Huskers Next Saturday Afternoon Here in Lincoln.

DEFEATED PURDUE 14-6

Two Spark Plugs of Hawks' Game Are Dick Crayne and Joe Laws.

Purdue's mighty football team, which was conceded to romp to a tie with Michigan to capture Big Ten honors, was completely routed 14 to 6 by a powerful Iowa line and a sensational Iowa backfield last Saturday afternoon before an awe-stricken crowd of 20,000.

Next week-end Coach Ossie Solem's rampaging scoring machine again plays away from home but this time it is not in Big Ten circles but on Big Six ground. Iowa plays Nebraska here in the Memorial stadium next Saturday afternoon for the last sixty minutes of football that the Iowa gridgers intend to participate in during the rest of the season.

Hawkeyes Very Strong.

Now considered to possess one of the country's best defenses, the Hawkeyes will battle the Nebraska crew for a high place in Midwest honors. At the present time Iowa has one of the best teams in a decade, an eleven with a great line and powerful attack.

Joe Laws, nicknamed by many sports writers as the "human dynamo," is one of the shiftest and cleverest broken field runners in the country. It was Laws who galloped down the field on two occasions to register scores against the previously undefeated Purdue Boilermakers. Not only is he a clever ball carrier but he lugs the ball with a fearless abandon which opposing tacklers find difficult to halt. When he is pocketed by Pardoner of Purdue on the Boilermaker's 5-yard line, after making a long run, he did not even hesitate but hurled his body into the air and smashed into Pardoner with such terrific force that both men slid over the goal line.

Fine Scoring Run.

On his second scoring gallop in that same sensational tilt Laws received a Purdue punt on his own 40-yard line and, reversing his field, he swept over to the right side of the field and zigzagged, plunged and sped sixty yards until he crossed into the desperate Boilermaker's end zone for the second time that day.

Laws directs the Iowa attack, returns punts, gains consistently from the line of scrimmage and passes left handed.

Crayne is Fine Back.

Dick Crayne, the other sensational back on the Hawkeyes' eleven, is a big, driving fullback weighing 190 pounds, who has made more than one-third of the team's total yardage this year. Crayne has averaged four and one-half yards per play from the line of scrimmage and his quick spinners and wide end sweeps make him an exceedingly dangerous man for any opposing eleven to try to stop. In addition to being a fast runner, Crayne is also a long distance punter, getting his kicks off high and deep into enemy territory. A sophomore, Crayne has rapidly been improving with every game played.

Coach Bible, in speaking of the Iowa tilt this coming Saturday, made the comment that the Huskers will be preparing for a conflict with an opponent quite as worthy as the Panthers. In fact the Hawkeyes will outweigh Nebraska considerably, even outweighing the Pittsburgh line which the Huskers faced last Saturday.

Sauer is Injured.

George Sauer, who was the superb defensive back of the Pitt-Nebraska battle, sustained such a terrific beating at the hands of the Panthers that there is doubt as to whether he will be able to see action this coming Saturday. Sauer played such a magnificent game Saturday that he earned praise from almost all the sport scribes of the east who proclaimed him to be the outstanding defensive back they have seen in action this year. Sauer spent Monday afternoon in the infirmary.

SOLVENT POWERS OF ACETAMIDE ARE HIGH

That Substance Said to Have Greater Solvency Powers Than Any Other.

PRINT RESEARCH RESULT

(From the Oregon Emerald.) Prof. O. F. Stafford, head of the chemistry department at Oregon and chairman of the science group, has just discovered that acetamide, long familiar to chemists, has a wider range of solvent powers than any other known substance. Since all life processes occur in solution, and because many industries are dependent on solubility relationships, the discovery is considered an important contribution to science.

Acetamide, Professor Stafford found, is superior to both water and ammonia as a solvent. To test his discovery the approximate solubilities of some 400 organic and 200 inorganic substances were ascertained.

Relationships Numerous.

Working on the theory that it is generally true that a substance is soluble in another substance closely related to it chemically, Professor Stafford found that acetamide is so constituted that it bears this chemical relationship to an unusually wide range of other substances. It is this fact which gives it its extraordinary solvent powers.

Acetamide is a solid substance at ordinary temperatures but melts at about 50 degrees centigrade to form a mobile liquid. It contains a methyl group that gives it solvent power for hydrocarbon; its carbonyl group relates it to ketones, esters and acids; its tautomeric hydroxyl group gives it kinship to water and the alcohols; its amino group brings it into line with ammonia and its derivatives, while the ease with which it yields nitrite suggests a relationship to cyanogen compounds.

Practical Uses Many.

Acetamide is obtained from acetic acid and ammonia and is not difficult to manufacture. Its practical application may be found in the making of many substances not possible at present, it is pointed out.

Results of the research have just been published by the Journal of the American Chemical Society and have aroused wide interest among chemists throughout the country. Professor Stafford is well known for his contributions in chemistry, and is the inventor of the Stafford process of wood carbonization. A large plant using his wood carbonization process is in operation at Iron Mountain, Mich. Stafford received his P. A. degree at Kansas in 1900, his M. A. in 1908, and is a graduate student of the Nerst laboratory, Berlin, in 1908-09. He has been on the Oregon faculty since 1900 and has been head of the chemistry department since 1902.

KANSAS AGGIES COP SECOND IN BIG SIX GROUP

Russell Scores on Runs of 39 and 49 Yards for 14-0 Triumph.

MISSOURI LOSES AGAIN

Kansas and Ames, Tied for Fourth After Jayhawk 20-6 Victory.

With Doug Russell assuming the role of hero and registering two touchdowns for Kansas State to give them second place in the Big Six, the highest rating the Wildcats have received since the conference was organized six years ago, the McMillenn defeated Oklahoma 14 to 0 Saturday afternoon in the Aggies last game of the season.

Russell Breaks Loose.

With the battering ram Capt. Ralph Graham crashing thru the Sooners line the opportunity soon presented itself for the elusive Russell to break loose on an off-tackle jaunt to cover forty-nine yards for a touchdown. This scoring run was made in the second period of play. Later in the last quarter Russell broke loose on the other scoring play of the day. This time he made a wide end sweep of thirty-nine yards for the second and final scoring thrust of the afternoon. Stoner converted both kicks into extra points and the game ended with the score 14 to 0 and the Wildcats capturing second place in the Big Six conference race.

Oklahoma Finishes Third.

Oklahoma, by losing to the Kansas Aggies, was thrust into third place in the conference race. Iowa State and Kansas are tied for fourth place with Missouri occupying the cellar.

Kansas is most likely to capture the fourth position, the Jayhawks defeated Iowa State and they have only to defeat Missouri to head off the Cyclones and capture the fourth position for themselves.

Kansas Scores First Win.

Kansas, presenting an improved offense for the first time this season, scored their first conference victory over the Iowa State Cyclones. Bob White, sophomore quarterback, was substituted into the game by Coach Ad. Lindsey, and from then on the Jayhawk's chances improved considerably. Tallying for the first time since September 30, the Jayhawkers ran up a 20 to 6 score over the Cyclones before the whistle was blown announcing the end of the game.

Both by air and by ground the Jayhawkers found that yardage could be made. Within two minutes after the opening kickoff, Manning, who performed so spectacularly against the Huskers, faded back and rifled a pass to Earnest Casini for twenty yards on the Ames 10 yard line and Casini continued his journey into the end zone. Allender of Ames made their only touchdown on a sixty yard run after breaking thru the center of the Jayhawk line.

Missouri Defeated.

Missouri encountered hard luck again when they failed to defeat the Washington Bears before a homecoming crowd and were routed 33 to 7. Coach Frank Carideo's eleven scored their only touchdown on a long pass from Lochner to Grenda, which produced fifty-one yards of a ninety yard march for the long Tiger touchdown late in the second quarter.

IDEA OF OREGON STATE TILT HAS FALLEN THRU

Western Team Can't Play Says Wire Received By Coach Bible Monday.

WOULD HAVE LONG WAIT

A telegram from C. A. Lodell, manager of athletics for Oregon State university, yesterday stated that his team would not be able to participate in the contemplated Thanksgiving day football game with the Cornhuskers. The wire for Coach Bible which was received upon his return from the Pittsburgh trip revealed that the faculty at Corvallis had denied permission for a post-season game. Lodell's message read: "Administration requests return home without any additional games on trip. Regret very much that our negotiations are to be terminated this way. Good luck Saturday."

Would Have Long Stay.

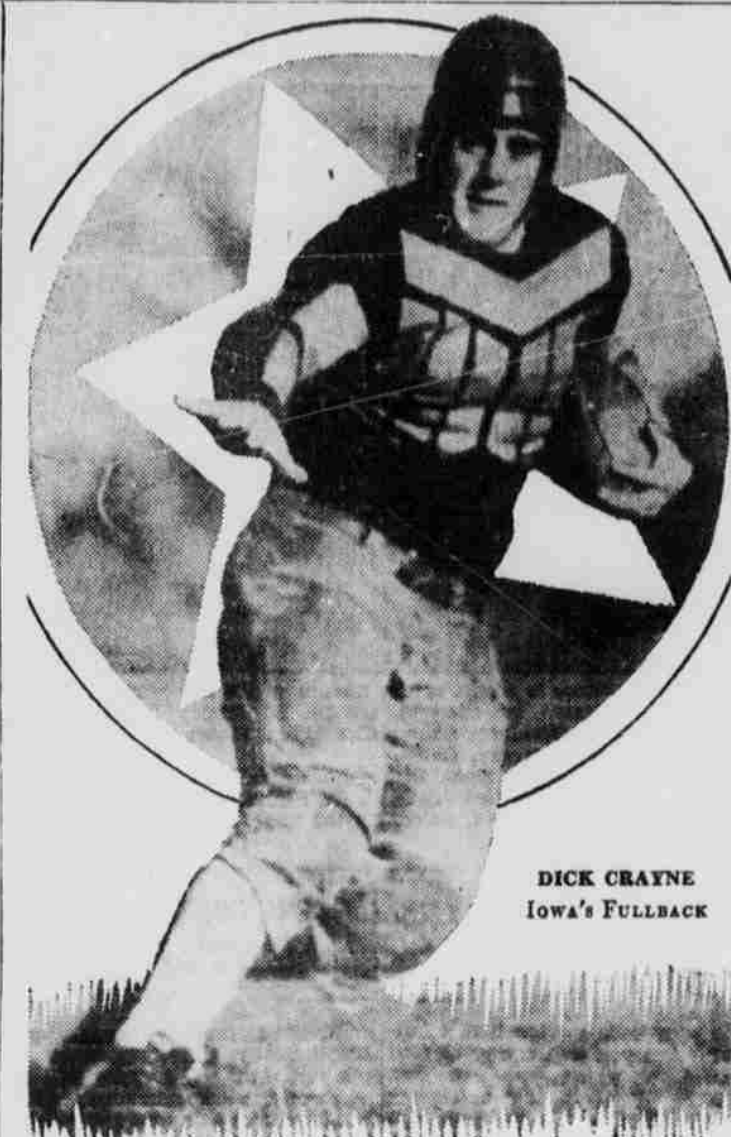

Lonnie Stiner's Beavers, who Saturday scored a victory over Jimmy Crowley's Fordham Rams, would have been required to stay over an additional twelve days besides time required for the trip from Lincoln to Corvallis, Ore.

Coach Stiner's team which has been defeated only by Oregon is in line for the western Rose Bowl invitation, although Stanford stands possibly a better chance, especially if the team from Palo Alto is able to trim California next Saturday.

No Other Plans.

D. X. Bible indicated that there are no other plans for post-season games but that the important question at the present time is the game next Saturday with Iowa and the problems of stopping those two Hawkeye backfield aces, Dick Crayne and John Laws.

Unusual distinction was accorded two John Hopkins university students when Willard E. Bleich obtained a position with Dr. Albert Einstein and F. Alton Wade sailed with Rear Admiral Richard F. Byrd to the south pole.

MILLER STATES MEN ENJOY GYM CLASSES

Instructor in Phys Ed Gives Special Courses in Gymnastics.

TOURNEY WILL BE SOON

Gymnastic classes conducted by Charles Miller in the coliseum on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, are being accepted with enthusiasm by male students of the university, according to Mr. Miller.

"The purpose of these specially conducted classes, open to all university students, is to furnish the student who is not participating in athletics an opportunity to exercise without devoting time to one of the regularly established sports. We are attempting to rebuild the physical education department of the university to the position it formerly enjoyed, believing, as we do, that it is beneficial to the students as well as to the school," stated Mr. Miller.

Various Causes of Attendance.

Mr. Miller went on to say that many of his pupils attend for the purpose of overcoming some physical defect by exercise, or to develop themselves physically. Others attend because they find enjoyment in gymnastics.

It has been definitely decided that the gymnastic championship tournament will be held again this year. Prizes will be offered to those placing in the numerous events open to competition, and the best all around athlete will receive a special award. Students who are interested should see Mr. Miller at once.

SCHLEUTER IS INELIGIBLE

Former Gridder Here Played Under Assumed Name At Arkansas.

Ulysses "Dutch" Schleuter, former Husker tackle, had been declared ineligible to play football at the University of Arkansas. Arkansas officials, who believed Schleuter to be a direct transfer from a Missouri junior college, discovered that he had played football at Nebraska in 1932 when an official of Southern Methodist university requested an investigation into his eligibility. The Fremont gridder has been playing under the name of Stivey while at the Razorback institution.

A Columbia university professor predicts that by 1980 colleges will have abandoned required courses, and all students will be able to take whatever subjects they wish, ignoring those that they do not want.

Yearling Gridders Will Play Today in Preparation For Later Game.

Freshmen football players will scrimmage this afternoon in Memorial stadium, according to Ed Weir, freshman football coach.

The purpose of the scrimmage is to acquaint the freshman reserves with plays in preparation for the Frosh game. This game will be played soon, and will give every Freshman player a chance to play. The coaches will then have the opportunity to watch the prospects for next year's team in action.

CHOOSE BASKETBALL TEAMS

Freshmen League Squads to Be Selected Next Week In Coliseum.

Freshman basketball teams will be chosen for the newly formed league next week in the coliseum every afternoon from 4 to 6 p. m.

Six teams, five from the main buildings and one from the Agricultural college, will compete among themselves this year owing to the suspension of Nebraska from the High School Athletic association.

Up to date there are about twenty-five freshmen registered and the coaches urge more material to turn out for the present building-up period. All interested report to the coliseum any afternoon after the coliseum any afternoon.

Formal Season..... A Symphony in Twilight

Just as twilight is the most alluring time of the day, so is the formal season the most entrancing time in the social whirl.

Formal Season---the season of intrigues. The time when party-goers are at their best. The time when feminine charm and grace are spoken in words of extravagance. And less than a month away.

Lovely Nebraska ladies will be looking to you for things to make them even lovelier. For the formal season requires a complete wardrobe. A wardrobe of things that are fine and soft and exquisite.

Slippers that Cinderella would chose. Costume jewels like those of the royalty of Europe. Dainty lingerie to go with other things of finery. And formals---the kind that are conversation in themselves.

And with at least two formal parties booked for each week-end, there will be plenty of places to go. And plenty of places to go means plenty of new clothes. So why not invite Nebraska in!
