Bible Releases Schedules For Tank, Mat, and Cinder Teams.

TRACK OPENS FEB. 17
Competition in Wrestling And Swimming Under Way Already.

A heavy all-around slate for winter sports has been arranged by Athletic Director Bible of this university at the I. C. department. Schedules for indoor track, swimming, and wrestling were released by the director Wednesday.

Two indoor track meets have been arranged besides the Big Six indoor event which will be held again at the Missouri stadium in Columbia. On Feb. 17 the Husker cindermen will meet Kansas here in Lincoln, and a week later, Feb. 24, Kansas State will appear on the stadium indoor track in competition with the Scarlet.

Swimming season was officially opened Tuesday when Coach Sutherland's tankmen eased out a win over the highly-touted Gustavus Adolphus mermen, the score being 43 to 41. Other meets slated for the Nebraska men are Feb. 10, Kansas State at Lincoln; Feb. 16, Iowa State at Ames; March 3, Grinnell at Lincoln; March 10, Big Six conference meet at Lincoln.

Coach Jerry Adams has slated four additional meets for his wrestlers. On Feb. 12 the matmen will tussle with Cornell college at Mt. Vernon, Ia.; on Feb. 13 comes the annual meet with Iowa State at Ames; on Feb. 26 is the competition with Kansas State at Lincoln, and the final meet is the Big Six maffest at Columbia, Mo., on March 2 and 3. The mat squad lost to the Kaggies at Manhattan Saturday.

Coach Sutherland's swimming team formally opened their 1934 season against the strong invaders from Gustavus Adolphus. The prospects of the Nebraska mermen look bright if results of this meet mean anything. Several newcomers came thru with flying colors for the Scarlet cause and Bernie Masterson lived up to his type of performance by taking the short splashes.

Harry Kuklin and Dan Easterday were the other stars for the Husker swimming squad. Kuklin chalked up first place in the diving performance with a flawless exhibition which thrilled the audience. His defeat of Helvig, the crack diver from Minnesota who rates high in the mid-west circles, proved that he is capable of filling the vacancy of Jack Minor in a very suitable manner.

BROWNE BANKING ON SOPHOMORES IN KAGGIE GAME

Sorenson Will Get Call at Center and Widman at Guard Saturday.

With the Husker cagers concentrating their efforts on their battle this week end with the Kansas Aggies, who edged them out of a victory by a lone point margin, Coach Browne is depending upon two sophomores to carry the burden for the Husker outfit. These men are Harry Sorenson, lanky center who has been relieving Cople at the pivot position, and who will now replace him and Harvey Widman, stellar defensive man who was the bright spot on the Scarlet team against Oklahoma last week. Cople graduated at midsemester.

There is a possibility, according to a statement made by Coach Browne, that Widman might be promoted to the center post in which case Paul Mason will take the guard post with Bud Parsons, Boswell and Lunney will continue to occupy the forward stations.

However, if Mason's injured ankle does not sufficiently heal to permit this to take place, Sorenson will continue as center and Widman will remain at guard.

Tentatively speaking the starting lineup will run as follows: Kenneth Lunney and Bud Parsons, forwards; Sorenson, center; Harvey Widman and Bud Parsons, guards.

Husker Tumblers Inaugurate New Sport at Iowa City Feb. 10.

Tumbling has come into its own here with the scheduling of intercollegiate meets by Coach Charles Miller for his Husker gymnastic aspirants, the first being a triangular affair with the University of Illinois and the University of Iowa at Iowa City on Feb. 10.

This is the first year that the tumblers have ever entered into intercollegiate competition, and Coach Miller has high hopes for a successful beginning. In previous years only an all-university meet has been held for the gymnasts, but now regular workouts are conducted every day under Miller's direction. The prospects who are now turning out regularly are Batie, Green, Herman, Reynolds, Barnes, Dean, Dignell, Travers, Morris, Harris, Kelly, and Kuklin.

In the second engagement of the year the Cornhuskers will match their ability against Missouri at Columbia on Feb. 24, and following two days later, is another triangular meet with Minnesota and Iowa City. They will wind up the season with the all-university gymnastic championship meet on March 22, also Coach Miller hopes to send a few men to the National Collegiate championships at Chicago, April 7.

There is no attempt to take the control of elections away from the Student Council but merely to set up a completely disinterested committee able to vouch for the validity of votes."
"I believe that the petition is meeting with the general approval of the campus," commented Young upon the student response, "as shown by the action of the Interfraternity Council in its last meeting when it voted in favor of both of the petitions presented to the Council."

VOLLEY BALL AND HANDBALL NEXT IN GREEK ATHLETICS

Twenty Fraternities Begin Play in Each Event Next Week.

With the start of a new semester, athletically-inclined fraternities will have two new sports to occupy their time during the next month, handball and volleyball.

Beginning next week, these two sports will be played at the same time in order that more outdoor sports may be played in the spring. Twenty teams had signed for places on the handball schedule at the close of registration yesterday noon. The schedule will be made out as soon as possible and mailed to the competing fraternities. Teams will be bracketed and will be eliminated after one loss. There will be an upper and lower bracket, so that games will be played consistently thruout the tournament. The two bracket champions will meet for the university championship. No definite time will be given for the playing of any one game.

Volley Ball in League.

Volleyball captured the fancy of twenty teams, and will be played the same way as the basketball tournament was run off. Leagues will be formed, and the champions of the various leagues will meet for the university championship. Schedules of the games will be made out and mailed within a few days, and it is urged by the Intramural office that fewer forfeits and postponements take place than have in the past, or drastic measures will be taken to prevent them.

The teams entered in handball are: Sigma Nu, Phi Kappa Psi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta, Alpha Gamma Rho, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, Delta Upsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Chi, Delta Sigma Lambda, Sigma Alpha Mu, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Sigma, Farm

Huskers and Iowa Trade Basketball Players This Week

Iowa and Nebraska universities seem to be negotiating an unprecedented exchange. In the Wednesday morning Daily Nebraskan came the news that Bob Lencox, sophomore basketball player at the Hawkeye school, was changing to Nebraska to try his prowess in the cage game. Wednesday it was announced that Max Zentz, ineligible Husker sophomore cager, had quit school and is contemplating attending Iowa university.

Zentz performed on the Nebraska freshman team last year at center and forward positions, and was slated to be a star performer for Coach Browne, but this year couldn't manage to keep eligible.

Iowa university is favorite along with Purdue to capture the Big Ten basketball crown this year. The Hawks have dropped one conference game and annexed three wins, while the Boilermakers stand with four wins and no defeats. In the biggest upset of the Big Ten season, Minnesota trimmed the Iowa City five two weeks ago by the score of 39 to 28.

SOONERS FACE TOUGH GAMES THIS WEEKEND

Missouri Offers Real Test For Leading Big Six Conference Team.

NORMAN, OKI.—With final examinations and the rigors of their first road trip behind them, the University of Oklahoma basketball team, which has won all seven basketball games it has played this season by margins of from 8 to 23 points, will work hard all this week in preparation for its first crucial contests of the year, the games against powerful Missouri here Friday and Saturday nights.

"We weren't in real good condition at Manhattan and Lincoln," was the way one Sooner put it. "Because of final examinations we weren't able to practice longer than thirty minutes any day last week. Also Bud Browning hasn't gained back his strength since his injury at Stillwater and we won't be at our best until he gets back to par."

Browning played half the Kansas State game Friday night and all but ten minutes of the Nebraska game Saturday night, scoring seven points each game and recovering considerable of the stuff he lost while lying on his back five days in the university infirmary with five stitches in his groin.

Hoss Munson's ability to control the tip-off in both the Kansas State and Nebraska games was a big factor in both Sooner victories.

Altho they scored 30 points against Kansas State and 44 against Nebraska, the Sooners missed lots of set-ups in each game and against the Cornhuskers gave a particularly poor exhibition of free goal shooting, bucketing only 4 of 15 throws. Oklahoma's inaccuracy at the foul line apparently was infectious, the Nebraska team itself netting but 4 of 13 free throws.

Elated over the team's showing on the road, Sooner fans will eagerly watch their team in action against Missouri, which has won three of four "Big Six" conference games and hasn't been defeated by more than four points this year, even against strong teams like Creighton of the Missouri Valley conference and Illinois of the "Big Ten" loop.
