Scholarship Lecture Group Meeting Monday, Educational Fraternity Dinner Tuesday and Conference of Nebraska Colleges Precede Birthday.

Social activities on the campus are accelerated this week by the approach of Charter Day Thursday and its celebration. Dinners have been planned by various organizations to attract professors and former students. A university scholarship lecture group banquet, including all faculty members on its guest list, will be held Monday evening, Feb. 12 at 6 p. m. at the University club. Dean C. B. Oldfather of the college of arts and sciences will speak on "Rediscovering the Classical Civilization."

KLUB ANNOUNCES 'THE CAMPUS COP' AS SPRING SHOW

Yenne Wins Annual Kosmet Play Contest for Third Year.

CAST OF 41 CHARACTERS

Tryouts for Production Will Be Held Within Next Two Weeks.

"The Campus Cop" will cop the stage for Kosmet Klub's spring show this year.

Selection of the musical comedy of that name as the prize-winning entry in the annual contest was announced yesterday by Frank Musgrave, president of the Klub and chairman of the committee in charge of judging of entries. The play was written by Herb Yenne of the dramatics department, author of several Kosmet Klub hits of past years.

Tryouts for the parts in the cast and choruses will be held within the next two weeks, Musgrave stated. The play calls for a cast of forty-one characters, including the male and pony choruses. There are twelve female-speaking parts and ten in the pony chorus, author Yenne said.

All Action on Campus.

All of the action in "The Campus Cop," which is a two-act musical comedy, takes place on the campus of Ak-Sar-Ben college, and most of the characters and events in the show will be familiar to Nebraska students, members of the Klub indicated.

The main character, the campus cop, is a former student and football player who was expelled from school for scholastic reasons. Other characters include gamblers, campus cokes, fraternity and sorority alumni, and a number of students. All of the action of the play takes place in the lounge of the new Student Union building on the afternoon and evening preceding the homecoming game with Kansas university.

VESPERSS WILL STRESS RACIAL FRIENDLINESS

Devotionals To Be Led By Miss Coffee; Wetherly To Speak.

The theme for the Vespers next Tuesday will stress inter-racial friendliness. As an expression of one of the aims recently set up for the year, this service will endeavor to promote a better understanding of racial differences.

Devotionals will be led by Roberta Coffee, former leader of the International staff and new social director at the C. W. A. community center. An address will be given by Rev. Arthur Wetherly on "What Constitutes Each Race."

PROF. SCOTT TO LECTURE BEFORE PHI BETA KAPPA

Customs in Ireland Prior To Twelfth Century Are Subject of Talk.

KESNER WILL PRESIDE

Next Meeting of Group to Be Held Jointly With Sigma Xi.

Dr. R. D. Scott, professor of English drama and in charge of freshman English instruction, will address members of Nebraska Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at the University club, Tuesday, Feb. 13, at 6:15 p. m. on the subject "Culture in Ancient Ireland." Dr. Scott will discuss living conditions and customs in Ireland prior to the twelfth century.

The meeting will be the society's last this year with the exception of its joint spring meeting with Sigma Xi which will be held sometime during the latter part of March. New members of both societies will be announced at the joint spring meeting, the first of which was inaugurated last year. Previously, Sigma Xi, honorary scientific scholastic fraternity, had announced its members separately from Phi Beta Kappa, and at a different time.

To Hold Initiation.

Preliminary announcement by the society set Monday, April 30, as the date for initiation of new members who will be announced in March. The initiation ceremonies.

FILING DEADLINE FOR W. A. A. LOANS WILL BE FEB. 14

Small Number Applications Causes Change From January 26.

Filings for the W. A. A. loans will close Feb. 14, according to members of the committee in charge. The original deadline was set for Jan. 26, but due to such a small number of applications having been received the deadline was set up till next Wednesday.

Two loans of $75 each are being offered by the association to junior and senior women for the second semester of this school year. This is the second time such scholarships have been given, the first offering having been made last year.

Not Subject to Interest.

Girls receiving the loan will be selected on a basis of scholarship, financial need, personality, and interest shown in the W. A. A. According to the committee in charge these loans are not subject to interest until one year after the girl has graduated from the university when they will be charged 4 percent annually.

References as well as applications must be in by the deadline. Blanks may be obtained at the women's intramural athletic office and must be turned back in by Wednesday. Before getting a blank each girl should have a conference with Miss Josephine Orr.

ELECTRIC COMPANY'S AGENTS VISIT CAMPUS

Men Interview Engineering And Bizad College Seniors.

Interviewing seniors in the college of business administration, and in the college of engineering, on the campus last week were M. L. Frederick, director of the school of business training for the General Electric company at Shenectady and M. M. Boring, director of the personnel department for the same company.

Talking to some fifty men on Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. Frederick was preparing records for future use in bizad students who would be likely candidates for study and work with the concern. Mr. Boring in much the same capacity, was interviewing engineering students from the mechanical and electrical departments. Last year two men went from the college of business administration, and three from the engineering college to the General Electric plant.

SPEAKS TO PI MU EPSILON

David G. Brubaker Lectures Mathematics Honorary On Determinants.

David G. Brubaker, assistant in the physics department, addressed the meeting of Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics organization, Thursday on the subject of determinants. The meeting was held at 7:30 in the Mechanic Arts building.

The only business being transacted was a vote on whether to grant the University of Georgia a chapter in the Pi Mu Epsilon. The Nebraska chapter voted in favor of this question.

President Richards being absent, Vice President Walla presided.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM GROUP MEETS FRIDAY

Music Committee Working With Selleck to Get Good Orchestra.

The Junior-Senior Prom committee met Friday afternoon to budget expenses and arrange for music and decoration for the annual party. The decorations committee requests students with ideas for presenting the Prom girl at the dance to discuss them with Arlene Bors or Charles Galloway. The most novel and attractive plan will bring the author a ten dollar prize. The plans should be submitted to the managing editors of the Daily Nebraskan.

The orchestra for the dance has not yet been chosen but the music committee working with Mr. Selleck is preparing a report on this portion of the entertainment.

STATE COLLEGES HERE WEDNESDAY FOR CONFERENCE

Holds Three Sessions Heads of Nebraska Schools Meet Here to Discuss Mutual Problems.

HOLD THREE SESSIONS

Drs. Kelly and Rosenlof Will Address Assemblage on Education Problems.

Opening with a welcome address by Chancellor E. A. Burnett the first annual conference of Nebraska colleges and universities will be held Wednesday, Feb. 14, on the university campus. Presidents and deans from schools throughout the state will be here to discuss the administrative and personnel problems of their institutions.

Dr. Fred J. Kelly, chief of the division of colleges and professional schools in the United States office of education at Washington, and Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, state director of secondary education and teacher training, have been announced as the principal speakers on the program.

Burnett Welcomes Group. After the welcoming address by Chancellor Burnett the morning session, with Dean F. E. Henzlik presiding, will get under way with a conference and round table discussion. Some of the questions for discussion, suggested by heads of the respective schools, are: "Aims and Significant Phases of Higher Education," including the philosophy of education, and "Educational Institutions."

At the close of the opening session the Lincoln chamber of commerce will be host to the visiting

FRATERNITY BALL ATTRACTS CROWD OF 450 COUPLES

Second Major Party of Year Features Music of Jimmie Joy.

A crowd, estimated at between 450 and 500 couples danced to the favorite songs of Nebraska fraternities in the university coliseum Saturday evening.

Music for the ball, the second of the three major social functions on the campus was furnished by Jimmy Joy and his orchestra, who have been playing at the Hotel Lowry in Minneapolis and Friday night played for the Junior-Senior Prom at Creighton university. Featured on the program was a group of fraternity songs, especially arranged for the engagement here.

In addition to the permanent decorations, placards bearing the Greek letters of each fraternity with a brief characterization of each were hung on the walls of the ballroom.

Chaperons for the affair were Chancellor and Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Dean and Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Dean Amanda Heppner, Col and Mrs. W. H. Oury, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Korsmeyer, Miss Mae Pershing and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Eager. Housemothers of all fraternities were entertained as guest of honor.

GIVES COLLINS PORTRAIT

Wife of Deceased Curator Of Museum Presents Large Picture.

Mrs. F. G. Collins has recently presented the university museum in Morrill hall with a large portrait photograph of the late F. G. Collins, who was until his death assistant curator of the museum. The picture will hang in the office so long occupied by Mr. Collins, room 107. Afterward it will hang in one of the galleries of the building with portraits of other benefactors of the museum.

BEST AG COLLEGE SHOW SKITS WILL RECEIVE AWARDS

Nearly All Students Will Be Represented in Coll-Agri-Fun.

PERFORMANCE IS FRIDAY

James Matzder Will Be the Master of Ceremonies For Varieties.

Three prizes will be awarded the winning acts of the Agricultural College's annual fun show, Coll-Agri-Fun, and according to the sponsors it promises to be a close contest. The students of the college are all well represented in the array of skits on the program. Mildred Tickler is the sponsor of an old-fashioned melodrama entitled "Curses Foiled Again" and the Farm House skit harks back to "Ye Olde School Days."

"Walkathon Marathon" by the Hirsch Brothers organization and the "Radio Racket" by the Agricultural College boarding club will lend a modern air to the program. The Farm Operatives who won first prize last year come back with an act which they declare better than last year's. Alpha Gamma Rho, National C.L.M.P., Ag College chorus, and Ag College Cafeteria boarding club will also be represented in the show.

James Matzder has been selected as master of ceremonies for the variety show and will introduce the acts and curtain skits at the performance Friday evening, Feb. 16 at 8 o'clock at the Activities building on the Ag campus. The prizes of fifteen, ten and five dollars will be awarded the winners immediately following the show.

In an effort to keep the program running smoothly and to sustain interest in each act, they have all been limited to ten minutes in length. The dress rehearsal will be held Wednesday evening and it is believed that the program will run about one and a half hours when the practice is finished.

Wesley Dunn will stage manage the vaudeville show and James Warner will take care of the business end. The committee in charge with Bill Waldo as chairman is: Mildred Tickler, Catherine Agnew, Elmer Heyne, Philip Henderson, and Helen Steffensmeyer.

MANY REGISTER FOR UNION

Approximately 150 Students Will Receive Credit This Semester.

Approximately one hundred and fifty students have registered for Choral Union according to Howard Kirkpatrick of the University school of music.

Choral Union offers one hour credit for two mixed chorus rehearsals a week. It is one of the oldest institutions on the campus, being thirty-eight years old.

No Leap Year, Full Moon, As Rare Coincidence Leagues Calendar and Lunar Authorities Against Women

In league against the women during February are both the calendar and the lunar authorities. From the calendar they gain no extra day for the excuse of leap year, and from the moon they shall get only quarters. No full moon is scheduled for the month of February, 1934, according to O. C. Collins, university astronomy instructor, whose work makes moon watching part of his profession.

Such a phenomenon rarely occurs through the years, and is now an accident rather than any special arrangement for the benefit of depression-stricken males. Mr. Collins explains that from full moon to full moon is 29 1/2 days, and it is merely a coincidence that that period straddles the month of February which is forced to limit itself this year to 28 days.

Planets Move Around. Neighboring planets to the earth have been doing some rather interesting things, declares Mr. Collins, and he believes most of their actions may be seen by persons

Official approval for university authorities to proceed with their plans to aid university students here thru part-time work provided by federal funds was granted Friday by Rowland Haynes, federal relief administrator for the state of Nebraska. Employment for some 454 students at Nebraska at an average salary of $15 a month is expected as a result of the action.

University authorities have been receiving student application for part time work since the first of the week in anticipation of federal approval of the scheme to provide funds to aid needy students throughout the nation. A special faculty committee spent Friday and Saturday checking eligibility of the many students whose applications for employment had been filed during the week. No official count of the number of applicants was available Saturday night.

List Requirements. Three major requirements concerning individuals who desire to receive aid through the plan, as set forth by federal ruling are: 1. The student's financial status must be such that his attendance at college would be impossible without this aid.

2. The student shall be of good character and shall be judged by the usual methods of determining ability that are used by the particular college.

3. The student shall possess such ability as to give assurance that he will do high grade work in college.

A second faculty committee will be entrusted with the work of approving work projects which will employ students in various capacities. Administration officials voiced their belief that the committee's work might be completed within one or two days and that students might actually be at work by the middle of next week.

Action Immediate. Action on the university application for aid was almost immediate. Thursday Chancellor Burnett filed a formal application for federal aid for part-time jobs for students here to the extent of $27,240, with State Relief Administrator W. H. Smith and approval was granted Friday. The university's application was made in accordance with regulations specified by Harry L. Hopkins, national CWA administrator under which all institutions of collegiate or university character which are non-profit making concerns, may file for part-time jobs for college students on the basis of their full-time enrollment as of Oct. 15, 1933. Jobs to the extent of 10 percent of the enrollment as of that date may be granted. Full time students, university officials said, are those carrying twelve or more hours of college work. Exclusive of the medical college in Omaha, full-time enrollment at Nebraska Oct. 15 was listed at 4,545 by university authorities.

25 Percent New Students. No less than 25 percent of the students receiving aid must be those who were not regularly enrolled in some college in January of this year. Seventy-five percent of the students receiving work under the grant, may be those who were in attendance last semester. Jobs will be allocated between boys and girls in the university in proportion to the enrollment of each. In addition to the foregoing regulations, university officials declared their intentions of dividing the jobs, so far as possible, among

Dr. R. A. Lyman, dean of the University college of pharmacy, left Thursday evening for Washington, D. C., where he will represent the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy at a called meeting of the American Council on Education.

In Appreciation for Service to Science, 'Alumnus' Is Dedication To Memory of Dr. R. H. Wolcott

In appreciation of Dr. Robert H. Wolcott for his valuable services to science and for his splendid record in connection with the university, the February issue of The Nebraska Alumnus is a dedication to his memory. The deep regrets of those who were associated with him are reflected in the words of L. G. Worley, F. A. Cornell and R. J. Pool in that publication.

Brief excerpts from the tributes paid Dr. Wolcott by these three men reveal his character, his ideals and interesting incidents of his life. "Professor Wolcott was primarily a teacher and his biological activity was largely devoted to this phase of his profession, especially during the later years of his life."

"He excelled in this capacity for not only did he possess a broad and thorough knowledge of the field of Zoology, but he was also endowed with the rare quality of being able to stimulate enthusiasm among students for their work." L. G. Worley, former student of Dr. Wolcott stated.

Interest in Nature. His keen interest in nature is shown by an incident cited by Worley. "I recall a stormy night in late winter when Dr. Wolcott, spotting an abandoned bird nest in a plum thicket some 600 feet across a muddy plowed field from the road, stopped the car in which we were riding, and ran the whole distance to the place, retrieved the specimen and then ran the entire distance back so that we in the car would not be delayed in reaching our destination."

Dr. Wolcott was an unusually energetic man, always busy, able to keep a pace or two ahead of men many years his junior when hunting specimens called him to the field. An authority on wild animal life of all kinds, he made an exceedingly interesting companion for outdoor study. "He was perfectly at home in the field; he
