

FROSH TRACKMEN RUN OFF FOURTH TRICOLOR EVENT

Varsity Men Due for Light Workout on Cinders Wednesday.

M'GARRAUGH STILL OUT Cardwell, Chapman, Francis, McDonald Expected to Perform Well.

Varsity track will give way to the freshmen Wednesday afternoon, when first year men run off their fourth Tri-Color meet of the year at 4 p. m. in Memorial stadium.

Practically the same men will compete Wednesday who formed the three teams in the past. There will be one major change, however, Jack McGarraugh, all-around man from San Antonio, Tex., will be unable to compete.

Varsity men will be given but slight workouts Wednesday, and tapering off drills Thursday. Coach Schulte feels that his men have already attained the point where any more tryouts would have a disastrous effect for their participation in the Drake relays.

Hurdles Race Battle. Lloyd Cardwell, star of the Scarlet and Cream freshmen this year, is expected to turn in excellent times in the high and low hurdles, and to win the broad jump.

Lester McDonald is the latest "find" among the frosh, his specialty being the high jump. At one time the lanky Grand Island youth cleared 6 feet 1 inch, and again 5 feet 8 inches, tying with his fellow townsmen Bill Rupp at this height.

Sam Francis, national high school shot put champ, will provide the fireworks in this feature, as well as in the discus throw.

The Tri-Color meet will help the coaches determine the Husker freshman team that will compete in the annual Big Six Telegraphic relays for freshmen held May 7 to 12.

Entrants and their teams: 100 yard dash: Reds—Kelly, Turner, Zoesch; Greens—Elsner, Chapman; Whites—Fischer.

High hurdles: Reds—Cardwell; Greens—Chapman; Whites—Meier, Griffen.

Low hurdles: Reds—Cardwell; Greens—Chapman; Whites—Meier, Griffen.

High jump: Reds—Herschner, Lorischer, McDonald, Rupp, Sawyer; Greens—Zuspan, Sparrer, Whites—Beatty, Justice.

880 yard run: Reds—Schwegman, Plummer; Greens—Morris, Mohler; Whites—Beatty, Ralls.

Nebraska Laboratories Test Safety Glass For State Law

In spite of all the little cracks, the glass is whole. And that's what the legislature decreed. Tests have done their best, but an artistic pattern, unspattered, is the only result.

The steel test ball, left, is resting on the laminated glass. When it strikes the glass plate in the tests, it bounces several feet. Six drops in the same place produced the result on the right. The ball has gone through the glass and is resting on the base beneath. The glass was so flexible the hole made by the steel ball is not discernible.

Sixteen feet from the floor a shiny steel ball, weighing exactly half a pound, is suspended by the holding force of a small electric magnet. Directly below is a sheet of glass, a foot square in size supported only five-sixteenths of an inch on all four edges by a wooden frame, solidly mounted on a thick iron base.

Everything is ready. The director calls to his assistant on the platform above to turn off the current and release the ball from the magnet. A switch snaps as the magnet is shut off. The steel ball begins to fall.

Those watching are silent and attentive for they believe that such a thin sheet of glass unsupported in the center will certainly be smashed to bits by the swiftly falling eight ounce ball. As their eyes follow the descending steel sphere, they see it strike the exact center of the glass.

Instead of the expected familiar sound of shattering glass, they hear a single solid thump; instead of seeing the ball plunge on thru to the floor, they see it not merely checked in its fall, but, astounded, they watch it bounce back from the glass where it is caught several feet above the floor by the director.

Such is part of the action as observed in the materials testing laboratory of the University of Nebraska during the recent tests of safety-glass.

Law Effective Jan. 1. It all began last spring when senate file No. 403 of the last Nebraska legislature became a law. In that law, the legislature decreed that no motor vehicle shall be operated on any public highway or street in this state, any motor vehicle manufactured or assembled after said date, designed or used for purpose of carrying passengers, unless such vehicle be equipped in all doors, windows and windshields with laminated safety-glass.

The term "laminated safety-glass" is defined in the law to mean "any product composed of two or more sheets of glass separated by and completely adhering to a dividing layer or layers of pyroxylin plastic material, the resulting composite sheet so manufactured or fabricated as substantially to prevent shattering and flying of the glass when struck or broken." The law also says that the owner or operator of such a vehicle equipped other than with the approved kinds "shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or sentenced to ten days in jail or both."

Many Different Conclusions Reached by Investigators About Vocabulary of College Students

Los Angeles Junior Collegian. If you were asked to define the word "well," and replied, "It is a place where you get water, and if, after a pause the instructor said, "Uh-huh, what else?" then marked off three-quarters of the question when you failed to give the verb, adjective and adverb definitions, would you feel mistreated? If so, you should consider some of the fundamental questions relative to vocabulary tests.

The humor of the whole situation is that after the vocabulary scope of a student is found, not much can be done with it. For one thing, the written vocabulary is more fundamental than the reading vocabulary and the two do not have a very marked correlation. Tests have shown the reading vocabulary to be considerably larger.

BROWNE PUTS CAGE SQUAD THRU LONG PRACTICE TUESDAY

Out-of-Bounds and Tip Off Plays Are Stressed by Husker Mentor.

Husker spring basketweavers were given a long drill in plays by Coach Browne Tuesday afternoon in preparation for the practice game to be held Wednesday in the Coliseum at 4 p. m.

Out of bounds plays and tipoff plays were stressed mostly, with one team of Green clad men and another of White working against each other. Defense was dropped for the time being as Coach Browne prepared his men for the scoring end of the game.

No definite teams were named by the Husker mentor for the game, with the idea in mind that every man will have a chance to show his prowess on either of the teams. As in the first game, played last Friday, the Greens and Whites will oppose each other Wednesday.

The Greens, composing most of the varsity men of last year's quint, easily won the opener from the weaker Whites, but since last Friday several new men have been added to the Whites. It is to be expected, however, that the Greens boasting Whitaker, Sorenson, A. P. Sorenson and Widman, all letter men, will ride over the Whites.

Only a small squad reported for Tuesday's practice, but full strength is expected out for the game.

Practice will continue with Thursday afternoon being devoted to a detailed study of defensive formations and some work on the offense, and another game will be played Friday afternoon. Two days of practice will take place next week, and the spring sessions will wind up with a game played a week from today.

At the present time indications for a successful season on the maps are plentiful. Coach Browne has a full team of lettermen returning, Dwight Loder, Henry Whitaker, Harry Sorenson, Harvey Widman, and Bud Parsons. Aiding these men will be several frosh stars including Leland Hale, Bill Rupp, Jack O'Sullivan and Howard Baker. Men who earned B team letters out for the team include Marion Scott, Don Durfee, and Forrest Bauer.

TWO CHANGES MADE IN BASEBALL LINEUP

Kansas Aggie Diamond Men Come Here Friday for Doubleheader.

Two changes were made in the baseball lineup by Coach Knight Tuesday in preparation for the double header with the Kansas Aggies to be played here this week end.

Forrest Bauer has been placed back on third base for the fray, Graham has been put on first, and Spurlock, one of the twirling staff, has improved so much that he will undoubtedly pitch one of the Aggie games.

A practice session was held Tuesday on the Ag college diamond, and things looked much better to the Husker baseball mentor after the session than before. The hitting improved considerably since the disastrous 29 to 13 trouncing administered to the Knight-coached lads by Concordia college.

At the present time the Huskers and Aggies have split the only two games they played, Kansas taking the first and the Huskers turning the tables on them in the aftermath.

FEW CLOSE GAMES IN SOFT BALL TOURNAMENT

Leagues 3 and 4 Open Play In Intramural Event Tuesday.

Leagues III and IV opened their play in the interfraternity soft ball tournament Tuesday afternoon on the diamonds behind the coliseum. A few hotly contested games and even more run-arays featured the day's play.

Phi Kappa Psi trounced Delta Sigma Lambda in a one-sided game by the score of 14-4. Delta Sigma Phi turned back Phi Sigma Kappa decisively, the final score being 15-3. In the third game played in League III Phi Alpha Delta routed Chi Phi 21-5 to complete the day's play in that league.

Strong competition marked the playing in two of the three games played in League IV. Sigma Alpha Epsilon nosed out Theta Xi in a well fought battle by the score of 9-7. Delta Tau Delta came from behind to defeat Phi Kappa Epsilon 15-10 in one of the best played games of the afternoon.

Acacia ran up the huge score of 31 against Alpha Tau Omega who only managed to scrape up six runs in a game that stopped in the sixth inning to prevent too great a slaughter.

Weather conditions were very favorable for the day's play, and great enthusiasm was shown by the contestants and a few fans who turned out to watch the games. Although the playing had been ragged, it is believed that the teams will tighten up as the tournament wears on.
