BARBS ARE URGED TO GET INTO ACTIVITIES

All Students Must Vote For Good Government Says Coleman.

Declaring that lethargy on the part of unaffiliated students is largely responsible for poor student government in many schools, Dr. David A. Coleman, prominent educator and youth leader, urged that Barbs students throughout the nation take a more active interest in student activities.

"To insure the best possible student government in any educational institution every student must vote," declared Coleman in an address before the Promotion of Student Government club at Columbia university, April 10.

Dr. Coleman asserted that it has been his experience to observe that these colleges in which so-called independent students take as lively an interest in student affairs as do fraternity members who have the most efficient student governments.

It was the famous educators' opinion that if the students in a school take advantage of their voting privileges and the chance they are given to participate, they would have much to say about the policy of an institution.

Police Nab Kosmet Klub 'Heroine' as Art Bailey Steps to Street Attired For Feminine Lead in Spring Comedy

It may be all right for members of the Kosmet Klub show to walk on the stage in women's attire, but when they appear in public in such costume, things aren't the same. At least this was Art Bailey's experience yesterday afternoon.

Art plays the leading feminine role in Kosmet Klub's spring musical comedy "The Cam-cop Cop," now playing at the Temple theater. And patrons of the show seem to be agreed that Art is a very good looking heroine—on the stage.

Yesterday afternoon he donned his costume to have his picture taken for some publicity material in connection with the presentation of the show in Omaha next Friday evening. He put on his dress in the Temple and started for the studio.

Just as he left the building, he was nabbed by two members of the local police force. It seems that there had been some complaint to the effect that a man impersonating a woman was at large near the campus, and the policemen were looking for this individual.

Unluckily, Bailey didn't know about this situation, and in spite of his objections and explanations he was marched off to the police station in short order. It was some time later before he had established his identity and explained his attire.

In the meantime they had fingerprinted Bailey and taken his picture for the rogues gallery, not for publicity purposes. He was not freed until he had appeared before a police judge and Frank Musgrave, president of Kosmet Klub, appeared and obtained his release.

Art was out in time to play his part in last night's performance.

FACULTY VETO IS PUT ON VARSITY PARTY PROPOSAL

Committee Brings in Report Against Plan Drafted By Council.

SEVERAL MEETINGS HELD

Group Takes Such Action Because of Existing Deadlock.

Faculty veto of the Varsity party plan was voted by the faculty senate judiciary committee Wednesday afternoon, according to announcement made by Dean T. J. Thompson Thursday evening. Due to the fact that no satisfactory agreement could be reached between the supporter and opponents of the plan, the faculty committee deemed it advisable to do away with the idea of establishing the new plan at present.

Since early in the fall the varsity party plan had been discussed in the student council, and finally on Feb. 15 the plan was definitely approved by that body.

The plan provided for a committee of eight members to conduct all-university parties, that committee to be made up of four Barbs and four Greeks. There would be two members from each of these organizations; The Interfraternity council, the Barb council, the Interclub council, and the Panhellenic council. This committee would be selected by the student council from a group of sixteen candidates proportionately divided among these four groups. Parties would be conducted under the supervision of the student council.

Following the student council approval of the plan, Barb representatives on Feb. 29 presented a petition to the faculty senate demanding that the control of the parties remain in the hands of the Barb council as it now is.

A faculty committee was appointed to look into the problem. Members of this special varsity party plan committee were Prof. E. S. Fullbrook, chairman; Dr. S. M. Corey, Prof. E. F. Schramm, dean of women, Amanda Heppner, Miss Mabel Lee, Mr. John Selleck, and several others.

Several meetings of the opposing forces were held before this faculty committee, and the whole problem was given a thorough going over by all those convening. A deadlock resulted, and because of this the special committee advised the judiciary committee to set the plan aside for the present.

Journalist Thinks World Not as Bad As It Is Pictured

Is the world that university seniors will be thrown into for the first time this June really as bad as it has been pictured? Charles Edward Russell, famous journalist and Pulitzer prize winner, doesn't think so. In a recent article, "This Mad-House World is Getting Better" in Scribner's magazine he says, "From time to time among us arise sad-voiced prophets, who assure us that mankind is hopelessly wicked, that the world grows always worse instead of better, all attempts to reform it are ridiculous futile, and all is lost. As a matter of fact however, it is impossible for this old reporter, looking about him now and recalling conditions fifty years ago, to escape the conclusion that the world does not grow worse, but slowly grows better."

In proving his statement, Reporter Russell refers to the Chicago of today with its black and terror-symbolic name. The Chicago of 1880 thrived in crime and ill-fame with no loud objections. Today the fact that the city is so branded is proof that people are against these conditions.

The author goes on to refer to the Chartist movement in England—failure seemed to be the only logical outcome, and yet, the clauses the Chartists have stood for have since been adopted.

Mr. Russell says that the wonder of the matter is not that we are so bad but that we are not immeasurably worse. If mankind, (Continued on Page 3).
