300 Teachers Expected For Conclave

FIGURES SHOW 1,665 STUDENTS ENROLLED IN SUMMER SESSION

1934 Registration Is Only 77 Below That of Last Year.

Final registration figures released Monday by the university registrar's office show 1,665 students enrolled in the 1934 summer session as compared with an enrollment of 1,742 students in the 1933 session, a drop of 77. Those included in the final figures are both graduate and undergraduate enrollments, in addition to the engineer's summer camp.

Predictions made at the beginning of the term by Dr. R. D. Moritz, director of the summer session, who felt that there would be little, if any, decrease in registration this summer, were borne out by the figures released Monday.

There was a feeling, however, before the opening of school that enrollment this summer might be less due to drought conditions and extremely warm weather, but unofficial first day registration figures dispelled all fears.

Altho no exact figures as to what proportion of the total registration was in the graduate college, it was felt that the raise in standards for secondary schools recently voted by the North Central association of Colleges and Secondary Schools might have increased enrollment in that college.

The final figures were held up because of the fact that graduate students were given until June 16 to finish registration and that many undergraduates came in by paying a late registration fee. For undergraduates an additional fee of $3 was charged to those who enrolled after the regular registration period and a fee of $1 for each additional week after classes started. Those registering after June 14 were allowed to do so only after receiving written permission from instructors and the summer session director, and no registrations for credit were accepted after June 22.

Coach D. X. Bible Speaks at Dinner Meeting on Monday

Nebraska school administrators and coaches heard D. X. Bible, athletic director of the university, discuss the "American Football Rules Committee" Monday night at a dinner meeting at the Grand Hotel.

Following Coach Bible's talk motion pictures of the University of Iowa and Oregon Aggies games of last fall were shown.

The meeting was the second of a series of open dinner meetings and round table discussions of athletics being held during the university summer session. The meetings are open to anyone interested, especially high school superintendents, and have as their purpose to stimulate good fellowship among those interested in high school athletics.

The third meeting, to be held July 2, features J. K. Selleck, of the university athletic department, who will speak on "Problems in Advertising and Financing Athletic Contests."

The July 9 meeting, includes W. H. Brown, head basketball coach, who will speak on "Basketball: The International Sport and the Sport of Millions." Track will hold the spotlight at the last meeting July 16, when Henry Schulte, university track coach, will speak on "Track and Field Athletics in the Future." All the lectures will be followed by motion pictures of general interest.

Several To Go To N.E.A. Meet At Washington

A number of Nebraska educators are planning to attend the annual convention of the National Education Association at Washington, D. C. June 30 to July 6, according to a report from the Nebraska State Teachers association. The meeting holds a special interest for this state inasmuch as Mr. J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the National Education Association and Mr. Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the "Journal" of the N. E. A., are both former Nebraskans. Miss E. Ruth Pyrtle, principal of Bancroft school, Lincoln, is a former president of the organization.

In addition to Miss Pyrtle, and Mr. G. F. Knipprath of Technical high school, Omaha, who is N. E. A. director for Nebraska, official delegates will be: Supt. M. C. Lefler, Lincoln; Supt. John Speedie, Alexandria; Miss Mary Sturmer and Miss Bertha Starn, Beatrice; Supt. Robert Pullen, Bingham; Supt. Don R. Leech, Albion, and Miss Chloe C. Baldrige, state director of rural education, department of public instruction, Lincoln.

A convention feature will be Admiral Byrd night, June 30, when a special radio message will be sent by Admiral Byrd from Little America. Some of the nationally-known leaders who will speak at the conference, include: Dr. John K. Norton, Columbia University; President Glenn Frank, University of Wisconsin; President Aurelia H. Reinhardt, Mills College; Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, Washington, D. C.; Stuart Chase, economist of New York City, and Edward A. Hayes.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS INVITED TO PICNIC

All Lutheran students are being invited to attend a picnic Friday evening, June 29, at Van Dorn park, Ninth and Van Dorn streets, where facilities for games and a lunch will be provided by a student committee.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Erck and Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Rangeler will be chaperones. The group will assemble at the Temple building at 5:30 o'clock, and those with cars are asked to bring them to assist with the transportation. Students of all synods are invited.

PHI DELTA KAPPA TO HOLD THIRD MEETING

Howerton and Norton Are Speakers for Affair June 26.

The third meeting of the summer session sponsored by Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity, will be held Tuesday June 26, at 6:30 p. m. The meeting will be held at the Grand hotel.

The open meeting for all men will be in the nature of a discussion, under the direction of Prof. George R. Howerton and Prof. William W. Norton. Both men are here at the university in connection with the special four week all state high school chorus and orchestra course.

Over 700 Attend Second Summer Session Party

Over 700 persons attended the second all university party of the summer session held last Friday night in the coliseum. Dave Haun's ten piece orchestra again furnished the music for the dancing, and during intermission the crowd was entertained by tap dancing furnished by the Butler Barron studios.

Wendell Dodd had charge of the entertainment for the evening. Estel Anderson, Goldia Bauer and Jane Robb, members of the student recreation committee, acted as hostesses, and Professor and Mrs. E. W. Lantz were chaperones.

Committee members expressed great enthusiasm over the large attendance of these first parties, and they hope that these crowds will continue, in order to keep the price of admission at 10 cents, thus making it possible for each student to attend.

"We want each student to feel free to report any criticisms or suggestions that he may wish to make in regard to the parties, to the hostesses," said Mr. Lantz, advisor to the committee.

For those students who did not read the announcement in the last issue of the Nebraskan, the committee again wishes to announce that the hostesses at each party may be identified by their red ribbon badges.

CONFERENCE DINNER SCHEDULED JUNE 28

Affair Is Part of 3-Day Education Conclave On Campus.

Plans for the conference dinner of the state educational conference being held on the campus this week are being pushed to completion. R. D. Moritz announced Monday. It will be held at the Student Activities building on the Ag college campus, Thursday, June 28, at 6:30 p. m.

The dinner is open to all summer session students, men and women, conference guests, and administrators of the state. The ticket sale for the dinner has been placed in the hands of the student recreation committee. Those desiring to get tickets may get in touch with Wendell Dodd or Prof. E. W. Lantz at Teachers college. The price is 50 cents a plate.

Committee To Start Work on School Picnic

Members of the student recreation committee will meet Wednesday noon at Mr. Lantz's office in Teachers college. All members are urged to be present, as plans for the ticket sale for the all university dinner will be outlined at that time.

In addition the committee will commence preparations for the first summer school picnic of the season, according to Mr. Lantz.

Golf scores should be turned in immediately, either to Lowell De Voe or Mr. Lantz, committee members stated yesterday. The flights for the summer session golf tournament will be posted just as the drawings are made. Both Mr. De Voe and Mr. Lantz urged those desiring to participate to get their qualifying scores in early.

Playground baseball has been progressing rapidly, the committee stated yesterday. It was felt that the enthusiasm was greater this year than in the past, and that an unusually large number of men have been turning out for the sport. The formation of teams and possibly a tournament are being taken into advisement by the committee.

It was also stated yesterday that provision is being made for those students who do not desire to play in the regular games, but who want to play for the benefit of the exercise.

3-DAY CONFERENCE SCHEDULED TO OPEN ON CAMPUS JUNE 27

Complete Program Is Built Around Problems of Social Sciences.

Nearly three hundred Nebraska school administrators and teachers from all over the state are expected to be on hand Wednesday for the opening day of the three day educational conference being held on the university campus June 27, 28 and 29. Prof. R. D. Moritz, director of the university summer session, stated Monday.

"Indications at present seem to reveal a large general attendance from all over the state," Professor Moritz stated, "and from all appearances the conclave should attract many elementary and high school instructors."

May Dismiss Classes.

Mr. Moritz indicated Monday that classes during the three day convention would be dismissed. He added however, that this practice would be left entirely up to the instructors, as to whether summer session students would be dismissed for the lecture.

Essentially the conclave is being planned for those interested in the methods of teaching in both elementary and high school grades. Current problems of education including those of school finance, improvement of instruction, curriculum adjustment, social and economic problems of the new deal, and the rural school and its problems will be discussed.

Consider Social Sciences.

The complete program for the three day convention, appearing elsewhere in this issue, are built around the problems of the social sciences and present trends in society. Special methods of class room teaching, supervision and selection of subject matter, will also be touched upon by the special lecturers secured by the university for the convention.

Y Conference Leaders Emphasize Fact That Life Can and Should Be Planned

That life can be planned and should be planned was the opinion emphasized by the group of nationally known leaders at the annual Estes student conference held at Estes par, Colorado, June 8 to 15. An increase of about 100 over last year's attendance was noted, 360 delegates being present at the gathering. Students from numerous colleges and universities in Nebraska, Kansas, and Colorado convened at the Association camp in the conference which is sponsored by Rocky Mountain region student division YMCA and YWCA organizations.

With sixty delegates in attendance the University of Nebraska broke all previous delegation records for the Estes conference and set a mark second to the national all time record, according to Mr. David Porter, national student secretary of the YMCA. Mr. Porter attended the conference for the first five days, and then continued on his national tour to a similar gathering in the state of Washington.

At this annual conclave of students a survey of present systems, economic, social, and religious, was made by the leaders, all of whom are well-known in their fields. After surveying present standards of living, both social and individual, the leaders and delegates discussed defects and favorable points, and then outlined possible lines of planning which could reasonably take place in the several fields taken up.

Leaders at the conference had their schedules so arranged that students could sign up for interviews with them, and thus work toward a solution of their personal problems relating to fields specialized in by the leaders.

Each morning at 8:45 a platform hour was devoted to an address by a leader. Several of the topics dealt with by the speakers were "Can Life Be Planned," "Life as It Is," "The Student and the Campus," "Campus and Society," "Plans for General Economic and Social Improvement," "Responsibilities of Citizenship," "A Progressive Philosophy of Life," and "The Significance of Jesus."

Among the numerous leaders and directors present at the conference were Dr. Arthur E. Holt, Chicago, rural economics specialist; Dr. Ben Cherrington, Denver university, authority on international relations; Prof. A. D. H. Kaplan, Denver university, one of the country's outstanding economists; Margaret Quayle, New York City, eminent psychologist, and psycho-analyst, leader of individual problems groups; Dr. Harry Kingman, University of California, leader in campus problems; Dr. Hornung, Wichita, philosophy of life; Rev. Ervins Ingles, Greeley, (Continued on Page 3.)
