STUDENTS SOLIDLY BACK SALES DRIVE

Athletic Tickets Sell Surprisingly Fast on Opening Day Despite Fact Real Drive Headed by Tassels Does Not Start Until Tuesday.

REPORTS INDICATE A FAVORABLE CAMPAIGN

Six Home Games on Husker Grid Slate Provides Most Attractive Schedule in Years; Basketball, Swimming, Track Also Included.

Husker students apparently are solidly behind Nebraska athletic activities this season, according to first reports of the annual student season ticket sales drive which came in Monday afternoon.

Even before Tassels' pep organization in charge of the drive, had started off their campaign, John K. Selleck, business director of athletics, announced that sale of the student books was surprisingly brisk for the opening day.

The real drive, headed by Louise Hossack, Tassel president, got underway at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, and the list of students who have purchased is expected to grow by leaps and bounds all through the week.

"Although Nebraska athletics offer the best 'buy' in years, the opening day's sale was surprisingly brisk," said Selleck, while members of Tassels confidently predicted that with such a start the drive would top all expectations.

The books, which sell for six dollars, not only admit purchasers to the six big home games on the football schedule, but also cover admission to all basketball games and to other athletic events as well.

According to athletic officials the six home games on the Husker grid slate provide the most attractive home schedule in recent years, with "Dutch" Witt's Wyoming Cowboys invading Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon for the opening game and Iowa, Ames, Pittsburgh, Missouri and the Kansas Aggies following in order.

The drive, the second annual campaign headed by Tassels, is scheduled to last throughout the week, and is expected to reach its height Wednesday or Thursday, when seats will be assigned to organizations desiring blocks of seats.

Those locations will be assigned by lot at a drawing at 5 p. m. Thursday, and tickets will be ready for delivery the following day.

Tassels are expected to make their first report at noon Tuesday, when they meet for the first of their daily luncheon pep meetings (Continued on page 2.)

Smiling John Uhl Celebrates Golden Wedding Anniversary; Has Served as Custodian of University for 42 Years

By SARAH LOUISE MEYERS. When John "Jack" Uhl held open house on his seventy-sixth birthday and golden wedding anniversary last Sunday, there was much reminiscing of the "good old days" when the university, a flourishing, twenty-three year old institution, first hired the services of the beaming host.

Among those present was Prof. L. E. Aylesworth of the political science department, who presented Mr. Uhl with fifty brand new one-dollar bills, in recognition of the faculty's appreciation for his thirty-two years of loyal, willing service as custodian in various university buildings.

Prof. Aylesworth Explains. Jack's first position with the university, which he held for twenty years, was that of custodian of Grant Memorial hall, then joint gymnasium for men and women.

PLAYERS TICKET CAMPAIGN ENDS; 1512 DUCATS SOLD

Officials Enthusiastic Over Result; Promise Greater Season to Students.

MISS HOWELL ELATED Plans for First Performance Oct. 8 to 13 Are Pushed Rapidly Forward.

Climaxing the most successful University Players student season ticket drive since 1930, members of the Tassels, women's pep organization, reported 607 additional season tickets sold Monday, bringing the campaign total to 1,512.

The goal of 1,500, set by Players officials for the drive, was passed with 12 tickets to spare.

Glady Klapp was the high individual salesman for Monday, reporting 57 season tickets sold. Several girls sold 30 or more tickets Monday.

Officials of the Players were enthusiastic over the results of the campaign and promised a greater season to students as a reward for their continued support of the Players.

"The finest season the Players have ever presented is not only an ambition, but an assured fact now that we have adequate financial support," Director Harold "Pete" Sumption said Monday night.

Miss H. Alice Howell, head of the speech department and supervisor of all Players' productions, was reported to be very much elated over the results of the campaign.

Players' officials pushed forward their plans for the opening production which will be shown in the newly decorated and renovated Temple theater during the week of Oct. 8-13.

Postmaster General Farley Pleased At Interest Shown by Young People From Nebraska in Political Affairs

By MARY QUIGLEY. "I am most happy to see the interest being taken by the young people of Nebraska in political affairs. It is natural that such should be the case as the present organization of government and the 'new deal' are managed and supported by the youth of the country." Such were the words of Postmaster General Farley as he returned to me and said: "They certainly start them young out here, as practically all the candidates were comparatively young men. He seemed more than pleased at the prospects for the state of Nebraska. On Friday we met him in Sioux Falls, S. D., and together with a group of prominent South Dakota democrats proceeded to Minnesota. At 1 o'clock the partially completed postoffice building in Minneapolis was dedicated (Continued on Page 2.)

NOYES AWARDS OPEN AGAIN TO STUDENTS

Scholarships Available to World War Veterans or Descendants.

La Verne Noyes scholarships, open to all World War veterans or their blood descendants, are once again open to university students, it was announced by William C. Harper, assistant to the Dean of Student Affairs.

The awards were previously offered until three years ago, and have just been re-established.

The scholarships are maintained by a trust fund, and will care for all or part of the tuition needs of deserving students, according to Mr. Harper. All details of the awards may be secured from him at the office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

The awards, open to veterans or to blood descendants of veterans who are still in either the army or navy, or whose service was terminated either by death or honorable discharge, are made "in gratitude and partial reward for those who ventured the supreme sacrifice, and to keep alive, for generations to come, the spirit of patriotic devotion which they displayed without which no nation can long endure."

Only those students, however, who fulfill the requirements of blood relationship to veterans of the late great war need apply for recognition, it was emphasized by Harper. Re-establishment of the awards will be a great aid to the deserving students but unless the grants are confined strictly within the allotted limits the possibility of revoking them is very probable.
