FACULTY WORKS DURING LAST TWO YEARS PUBLISHED

Recent Writings by Teaching Staff Compiled by Librarians.

In sixty-eight pages of small type a list of writings by faculty members at the university was published last week, covering the two year period from July 1931 to June 1933.

The index of departments lists more than 70, and the appendix carries more than 700 names of professors and instructors who became authors in the short period.

Books, monographs, and magazine articles made up the bulk of the list of writings. Some eight faculty members published books during the two years. Dr. Leunis Van Es, chairman of the department of animal pathology and hygiene, published a volume under the title "Principles of Animal Hygiene and Preventive Veterinary Medicine."

Lawrence Vold, professor of law, was the author of "Cooley's Cases on the Law of Sales," "Handbook of the Law of Sales," and "Woodward's Cases on Sales." Dr. H. W. Orr, instructor in dental surgery, has published two technical books in his field.

Articles written by professors during the two years have been published in magazines from "American Mercury" to "Literary Digest," and from foreign periodicals to American technical publications.

SPORTSING

By LLOYD HENDRICKS

We see now that experience will out. Our sophomores from Nebraska did not have the cool headed attack which marked the Minnesota offense although Minnesota did show signs of faltering quite a few times in the first half.

Ten men of the Minnesota team were last year's regulars. They were led by "Pug." The name needs no explanation. There is a "Pug" for every sport and Lund is certainly football's.

Kostka, a rather small man, 210 pounds to be exact, crashed and crashed through the Nebraska line until he had them wondering if they ever could stop him. He played a fine game of fullback for the Gophers.

Rather amused were we to see what Dizzy Dean had to say for them when he woke up after being knocked out in the Tiger-Cardinal game Saturday. The Dizzy one, smiled and said, "You never will hurt me much hitting me on my head."

Of interest is the fact that Bill, the navy goat mascot at many football games with the Army was peacefully destroyed this fall because of old age. He left behind a large family of young Bills and on one of them will fall the cherished job of mascot.

Repetition seems to be the byword at Iowa City this year. Iowa beat Northwestern 7 to 0 last year. This year they did somewhat better and plastered the Purple a 20 to 0 score. Grayson and Simmons, Iowa's two great bids for All-American, led the attack. It was Grayson this and Simmons that until Northwestern did not know which way to turn for help.

Minnesota did not appear to be at all frightened by the aspects of the Scarlet and Cream invasion from the plains of Nebraska, judging from last Wednesday's issue of the Minnesota Daily Gopher student publication. Not once in the entire issue was the coming game with Nebraska even mentioned.

The Princeton Tiger sunk its fangs far and deep into the little college of Amherst Saturday afternoon and did not give way until the game ended with a score of 75 to 0. This is the worst and most lopsided score that has ever occurred in any football game played between the two schools.

Texas true to its spirit, beat Notre Dame 7 to 6. We think that part of the victory as due to the moral and psychological effect of having the Texas band present at the game. The organization was able to make the trip with the team. People will now wonder "where is this school, Texas."

Claude did not recuperate until Thanksgiving. On Thanksgiving day he was able to be in the game against Kansas.

When we think of LaNoue's collar bone injury it reminds us of a similar injury sustained by Half-back Claude Rowley six years ago.

MISS ETHEL OWEN, Miss GARNETT MAYHEW and Miss HILDA CHOWINS presented a musical program.

At that time Rowley was a junior and was counted on to carry the Huskers through a successful season. Rowley's recovery was termed as speedy at that time. With good luck behind him, game little Jerry LaNoue may be able to recover in time to be in the all important Kansas Aggie game on Turkey Day. If there were anything known to hasten his recovery it would be the first to suggest it in this column. But it takes time to heal such a fracture. More time than it takes to fix a broken arm, as Lee Penney could probably substantiate.

MUSICAL SORORITY ENTERTAINS AT TEA Rushees and Alumnae Are Guests Delta Omicron Saturday.

Rushees and alumnae were entertained by Delta Omicron, musical sorority, at a tea held at the Alpha Chi Omega house Saturday from three to five. During the first hour Mrs. H. J. Lehoff poured and during the second hour Mrs. Arthur L. Smith. In the receiving line were Mrs. Theodore Diers, president of the alumnae club; Ruth Johnson, president of the active chapter; Mrs. Martin Springer, former national vice president; and Mrs. Viola Erickson, office secretary at the school of music.

During the afternoon musical numbers were played by Ruth Dean and Jeanette Arnesberg, pianists, and Sally Paltier and Kathryn Bernsher, violinists. Miss Bernice Rundin was in charge of arrangements.

NUBBINS DROP CLOSE COUNT TO WAYNE 6-2 Husker B Grid Squad Unable To Unleash Strong Offense.

Unable to unleash anything in the way of a scoring attack, the Husker B football squad lost a close decision to Wayne Normal on the Wildcats' field Friday night, 6 to 2. The Nubbins broke thru the Wayne defense in the third quarter to garner a safety and two points, but could not carry the ball across the goal themselves. A sweeping end run by Retzlaff, former state interscholastic dash champion from Pierce, gave Wayne the only touchdown of the game. Beaver was outstanding in the Nebraska's lineup while Lulow of Wayne gave the spectators an exhibition of speed. The Wildcats took advantage of their opportunities at the right times to push over their lone tally. They outgained the nubbins, 12 to 4 first downs. The summary: Nebraska B—Owens, Scharr, Fischer, Beckwith, James, Gregson, Kunkle, Remyer, Manning, Borden, Gatt, Lulow, Jones, Coffey, Lunda, Burnhoff, Retzlaff. Substitutions: Wayne—Cook, Lulow, Nebraska B—Used entire team. Officials: Referee, John Pucelik, Nebraska; umpire, Joe Weir, Nebraska; headlinesman, Robert Gibb Westway. A course in weaving has been inaugurated at the University of Kansas.
