

CAMPUSOCIETY

ALREADY THE WOMEN ON THE campus are beginning to worry about costumes for the annual Cornhusker costume party which will take place in the Armory Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock. At the last year's affair there were many little girls with books and dolls under their arms, hair bows perched on curly heads, and some even on roller skates. "Skippy" was there, too, straw hat and all and there was one girl whose costume looked just like a tomato can. Minnie and Mickey Mouse greeted the guests and two girls in beautiful old fashioned gowns glided across the floor. Prizes were presented and pictures were taken for the "Cornhusker." Besides, there were favors, entertainment, and refreshments. Who will wear the prize costumes this year? Even though you don't, it will be fun to see who does so let's all go to the Cornhusker party.

YESTERDAY afternoon at four o'clock Helen LeRossignol, daughter of Dean and Mrs. J. E. LeRossignol, was married to Lincoln Frost, jr., son of Judge and Mrs. Lincoln Frost. The wedding took place at the home of the bride with Miss Jane Everett and Carl DeVoreck acting as attendants. The couple will live in Omaha.

AT A RECENT initiation ceremony Bill Baldwin of Riverton, Ia., and Ben Ewing of Lincoln became members of the active chapter of Alpha Tau Omega.

PLAYERS OPEN IN THIRD DRAMA OF YEAR ON MONDAY

 ing in New York.
 Blanche Carr in Cast.
 Blanche Carr, brilliant Lincoln student actress who will be remembered by University Players audiences for her performance in "The Curtain Rises" produced by the Players last season, will take the role of Kathryn Phillips, mother of Bobby.

The role of Ray Phillips, father of Bobby and husband of Kathryn, will be taken by Irving Hill, also of Lincoln. Mr. Hill is national president and national oratorical champion of Alpha Zeta Alpha, Jewish young men's organization, as well as being president of the Corn Cobs, university men's pep organization.

The tale, written with the feeling that Atlas always manages to get in all his writings, concerns the life of Bobby Phillips, after his parents are divorced and he is packed off to military school.

Six Children Make Debut.
 Six other Lincoln youngsters, in addition to young Ager, will make their debut in this production. All are students at Irving Junior high school. They are Donald Albin, Jack Clarke, Norman Yule, Jimmy Yule, Ralph Batty, and John Carr.

Scenery and settings for the play have been constructed under the supervision and direction of Donald Friedly.

Miss H. Alice Howell, head of the speech department, is supervising production of the drama.
